Office of the Vice-Chamberlain to the Queen, Queen's-House, St. James's, June 6, 1832.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Queen will hold her last Drawing-Room for the season, at St. James's-Palace, on Thursday next the 14th instant; and those Ladies who purpose attending, or of having the honour of being presented to Her Majesty on that day, are requested to send in their cards to the Office of the Queen's Vice-Chamberlain, before two o'clock on Wednesday the 13th instant.

AT the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 11th day of June 1832,

By the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, or any two or more of them (of whom the Lord President of the Council, or one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State for the time being, shall always be one), by any Order or Orders to be by them from time to time made, to establish, and again, from time to time, by any such Order or Orders, to revoke, renew, alter, or vary all such rules and regulations, or to substitute any such new rules and regulations, as to them may appear necessary or expedient, for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the spreading of the said disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England or Wales, or any part thereof, or for the relief of any persons suffering under, or likely to be affected by, the said disease:

And whereas it is further enacted by the said Act, that all and every the expences which may be reasonably or properly incurred, in carrying into effect any Order of the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, made as aforesaid, shall, under and by virtue of an order in writing of one justice of the peace, dwelling in or near the parish or division (and which said order any such justice is thereby empowered and directed to make), commanding the churchwardens, overseers, or guardians of the poor, for the time being, to pay a certain sufficient sum of money for such purpose, be defrayed out of the rates for the relief of the poor of the parish, township, or extra parochial place maintaining its own poor, in which the same shall be incurred, and, in other extra parochial places, out of the poors' rate of the parish nearest adjoining:

And whereas the said disease hath extended to different parts of Great Britain, and other parts thereof may be affected by the same:

And whereas by an Order, made on the sixth day of March last past, by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council was one), it was, amongst other things, ordered and directed that every Board of Health, constituted by an Order of the Lords of the Privy Council for cities, towns, districts, or divisions of England and Wales, should and might apply to the select or parish vestry of every parish or place within such city, town, district, or division, for authority and powers to carry into effect the purposes of the Act before recited, and the measures of precaution in the said Order described, and to provide a certain sufficient sum of money for the discharge of the necessary expences thereof, of which the amount should be declared and fixed by the said vestries:

And whereas it hath been shown, to the satisfaction of their Lordships, that application for such powers and provisions as aforesaid, together with an estimate and statement of all the necessary expences, and a request for the funds to meet them, amounting in the whole to the sum of one hundred pounds, hath been made by the Board of Health for the chapelry of Burnley to the select vestries of the respective townships of Burnley, Habergham Eaves, Briercliffe with Extwistle, Worsthorne with Hurstwood, and Cliviger, such vestries being duly convened in the manner in the said Order of the sixth day of March directed, when the select vestry of the township of Burnley consented to grant to the said Board of Health the sum of thirty-eight pounds twelve shillings and one penny farthing, being its proportionate share of the said sum of one hundred pounds; and the select vestry of Habergham Eaves consented to grant the sum of thirty-four pounds nineteen shillings and nine pence, its like proportion; but the vestry of Briercliffe with Extwistle declined or avoided to comply with the application of the said Board for nine pounds and eight pence farthing; and the sum of four pounds fifteen shillings and eleven pence farthing was refused by the vestry of Worsthorne with Hurstwood; and the sum of twelve pounds eleven shillings and six pence farthing by the vestry of Cliviger; such several sums being applied for by the said Board of Health to provide for the expences of carrying into effect the purposes of the before-recited Act, and of their Lordships' Order thereon:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one), in pursuance of the powers vested in them by the before-recited Act, that so much of the Order of the sixth day of March last past, as requires the amount of the sum to be defrayed in discharge of the necessary expences to be fixed and declared by such vestries as aforesaid, be, and it is hereby revoked and altered so far as respects the said townships of Briercliffe with Extwistle, Worsthorne with Hurstwood, and Cliviger, all in the chapelry of Burnley, and the said several sums of nine pounds and eight pence farthing, four pounds fifteen shillings and eleven pence farthing, and twelve pounds eleven shillings and six pence farthing:

And that the said Board of Health for the chapelry of Burnley shall and may, and they are hereby authorised and empowered to make application, by their chairman or secretary, to some justice of the peace living in or near the parish or division, to make his three several orders, in writing, one upon the parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens of the said township of Briercliffe with Extwistle, commanding them to pay the said sum of nine pounds and eight pence farthing; one upon the parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens of Worsthorne with Hurstwood, commanding them to pay the said sum of four pounds fifteen shillings and eleven pence farthing; and one upon the parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens of the township of Cliviger, commanding them to pay the said sum of twelve pounds eleven shillings and six pence farthing, for the purposes aforesaid, out of the rates levied or next hereafter to be levied, for the relief of the poor of such townships respectively; which said several orders such justice of the peace is hereby required and enjoined to make, in pursuance and exercise of the powers vested in him by the before-recited Act; and the said parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens, are hereby ordered and commanded to pay such several sums of money in obedience to the orders of such justice, in the manner therein directed, or they will incur the penalties consequent upon disobedience to such before-recited Act, and to the present Order:

And the Lords and others of the Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one) do hereby declare, that for all acts, deeds, matters, and things properly done by any such Board of Health, justice of the peace, overseers, churchwardens, district churchwardens, guardians of the poor, and others of His Majesty's subjects, in execution and furtherance of this present Order of the Lords and others in Council, or of any order so to be made by any such justice as aforesaid, this Order shall be their full and sufficient warrant.

W. L. Bathurst.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 30th day of May 1832,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

IT is this day ordered by His Majesty in Council, that his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury do prepare a form of prayer and thanksgiving to Almighty God, to be used in the churches and chapels of all places now free, or as they shall hereafter become free, from the grievous disease with which this kingdom hath been lately visited: and it is hereby further ordered, that His Majesty's Printer do forthwith print a competent number of the said form of prayer, that the same may be forthwith sent round and read in all the cathedral, collegiate, and parochial churches and chapels throughout those parts of the United Kingdom called England and Ireland, in which it is appointed to be used.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 30th day of May 1832,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

IT is this day ordered by His Majesty in Council, that the Ministers and Preachers, in all places now free, or as they shall hereafter respectively become free, from the grievous disease with which this kingdom hath lately been visited, do, on account of such deliverance, offer unto Almighty God their prayers and thanksgivings, at some convenient time during the performance of Divine Service, in all churches, congregations, and assemblies, as well of the Established Church, in that part of Great Britain called Scotland, as of the Episcopal Communion protected and allowed by an Act passed in the tenth year of the reign of Her late Majesty Queen Anne, chapter 7.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

St. James's-Palace, June 6, 1832.

This day the following Addresses were presented to His Majesty at the Levée, and graciously received:

From the Inhabitants of Sheffield, in the county of York, in public meeting assembled, signed by the Chairman, representing the inexpressible disappointment they have experienced at the resignation of Ministers, and praying His Majesty to recall them to his Councils, and by the immediate creation of Peers enable them to secure the success of a Constitutional Reform.

From the Inhabitants of the town of Kingston-upon-Hull and the neighbourhood, whose names are signed, praying His Majesty to exercise his prerogative in creating Peers to such an extent as will secure the fulfilment of the great measure of Parliamentary Reform.

From the Inhabitants of the royal burgh of Stranraer, whose names are signed, expressive of loyalty to His Majesty's person, and gratitude for the introduction into Parliament of the Reform Bill.

From the Inhabitants of the town and neighbourhood of Otley, in the west riding of the county of York, whose names are signed, agreed upon at a public meeting, imploring His Majesty to call to his Councils such persons only as will carry into effect, unimpaired in all its essential provisions, that Bill for a Reform in the Representation of the People which has already received the almost unanimous approbation of the People and their Representatives.

From the Inhabitants of Holmfirth and its neighbourhood, in the west riding of the county of York, whose names are signed, entreating His Majesty to be pleased graciously to recall to his Councils and support, by the exercise of his royal prerogative, the only Ministers who enjoy the confidence of His Majesty's subjects, or would promote an efficient Reform.

From the Inhabitants of the borough of Evesham, whose names are signed, in public meeting assembled, imploring His Majesty to call unto his Councils such men only as (aided by the full exercise of His Majesty's undoubted prerogative of creating Peers) will carry into effect, uninjured and unimpaired, that Bill for the Reform of the Representation of the People which has recently been passed by the House of Commons.

From the Magistrates, Town Council, and Inhabitants of Kilmarnock, whose names are signed, expressing their gratitude for the progress already made in the passing of the present Reform Bill, and imploring His Majesty to consummate, by every means in his power, this great national measure, on a speedy settlement of which they conceive to depend the peace and prosperity of the empire.

From the Inhabitants of Hebden-bridge, in the parish of Halifax, in the county of York, whose names are signed, beseeching His Majesty to call to his Councils the patriotic Administration upon whom the nation had fixed its hopes, and to exercise his prerogative in such a way as may secure the passing of the great measure of Parliamentary Reform.

From the Burgesses and Inhabitants of Bridgnorth, whose names are signed, imploring His Majesty to call to his Councils such men as, from their characters and numbers, will ensure, fully and effectually, all the objects contemplated in the Reform Bill.

From the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the county of Devon, signed by the High Sheriff, on behalf of a county meeting, thanking His Majesty for having recalled his present Ministers to his Councils, and expressing their hopes that His Majesty would exercise his royal prerogative, if necessary, to secure the passing of the Reform Bill.

(Signed Richd. Downs, Churchwarden.)

KEY, Mayor.

A Court of Mayor and Aldermen, held in the Inner Chamber of the Guildhall of the City of London, on Tuesday the 29th day of May, in the year of our Lord 1832, and in the second year of the reign of William the Fourth, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith.

WHEREAS in and by an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to hackney carriages, and to waggons, carts, and drays used in the metropolis, and to place the collection of the duties on hackney carriages, and on hawkers and pedlars in England, under the Commissioners 'of Stamps,'" it was, amongst other things, enacted, that it should and might be lawful for the Court of Mayor and Aldermen of the city of London, from time to time, to appoint proper places in the said city of London, and liberties thereof, and in the borough of Southwark, where hackney carriages might stand and ply for hire, and to make such orders for regulating the number of such hackney carriages to stand in such places respectively, and the distances at which they should stand from each other, and the times at and during which they might stand and ply for hire, and such other orders and regulations for the better ordering and regulating the said hackney carriages, and the drivers or other the person or persons having the management thereof respectively, as to the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen should seem proper; and from time to time to alter, amend, or repeal such rules, orders, and regulations, and to make others in the room thereof; and that the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen should cause all the orders, rules, and regulations to be made by them, as aforesaid, and every alteration, amendment, or repeal thereof respectively, to be advertised in the London Gazette, and in any two or more newspapers circulated in the said city of London, and a copy thereof to be hung up for public inspection in the Town Clerk's Office, at the Guildhall of the said city, before the same or any them should be carried into effect, or be considered as repealed by the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen:

And whereas the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen of the said city of London, did afterwards, on the 3d day of January, in the said year of our Lord 1832, by virtue and in pursuance of the said Act of Parliament, make certain rules, orders, and regulations, whereby, amongst other things, they appointed certain places in the said city of London, and liberties thereof, and in the borough of Southwark (then deemed by the said Court to be proper places) for the standing and plying of hackney carriages for hire; and did also by the said rules, orders, and regulations, regulate the number of such hackney carriages to stand in such places respectively, and the distances at which they should stand from each other, and the times at and during which they might stand and ply for hire, in the manner therein particularly set forth:

And whereas the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen did, by one of the said rules, orders, and regulations, appoint that part on the east side of the street or place called St. Paul's-church-yard, in the said city of London, extending from opposite St. Paul's school to within fifty feet of the entrance into Cheapside, next the iron railing of the said church-yard, to be a proper place for four hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other, and in the mode particularly pointed out and directed by the said rule:

And whereas the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen did, by another of the said rules, orders, and regulations, appoint the street, called King-street, Cheapside, in the said city, in the middle of the said street only, to be a proper place for six hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other, and in the mode particularly pointed out and directed by the said last-mentioned rule:

And whereas the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen did, by another of the said rules, orders, and regulations, appoint that part of the street, called Cornhill, in the said city, which extend from opposite Birchin-lane to White Lion-court, in Cornhill aforesaid, in the middle of the said street only, to be a proper place for six hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other, and in the mode particularly pointed out and directed by the said last-mentioned rule :

And whereas the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen did, by another of the said rules, orders, and regulations, appoint that part of the street, called Aldersgate-street without, in the liberties of the said city, extending from opposite to Edmund-place, in Aldersgate-street aforesaid, to within thirty feet of that part of the same street opposite to Long-lane, in the middle of Aldersgate-street aforesaid only, to be a proper place for eight hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other, and in the mode particularly pointed out and directed by the said last-mentioned rule :

And whereas the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen did, by another of the said rules, orders, and regulations, appoint that part of the street, called Aldersgate-street, extending from opposite Little Britain, in Aldersgate-street without, in the liberties of the said city, to that part of the same street opposite Bull and Mouth-street, in Aldersgate-street within, in the said city, in the middle of the said street only, to be a proper place for four hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other, and in the mode particularly pointed out and directed by the said last-mentioned rule :

And whereas the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen did, by another of the said rules, orders, and regulations, appoint that part of Aldersgate-street within, in the said city, extending from opposite Bull and Mouth street aforesaid, to that part of the street continued therefrom towards Newgate-street, as far as opposite to the north side of the portico of the New Post-office, formerly called St. Martin le-grand, in the middle of the said street only, to be a proper place for four hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other, and in the mode particularly pointed out and directed by the said last mentioned rule :

And whereas the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen did, by another of the said rules, orders, and regulations, appoint that part of the continuation of Aldersgate-street within aforesaid, in the said city, leading to Newgate-street, and formerly called St. Martin-le-grand, extending from opposite the south side of the portico of the said New Post-office, to the lamp-pillar next Newgate-street aforesaid, in the middle of the said street only, to be a proper place for four hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other, and in the mode particularly pointed out and directed by the said last mentioned rule :

And whereas the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen did, by another of the said rules, orders, and regulations, appoint that part of the street or road, called Waterloo-road, in the said borough of Southwark, extending from the Obelisk there, to the turnpike in the middle of the said street or road only, to be a proper place for twenty hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other, and in the mode particularly pointed out and directed by the said last mentioned rule :

And whereas the said several rules, orders, and regulations above set forth were (together with others) forthwith advertised in the London Gazette, and in the Times, and the Morning Advertiser newspapers, circulated in the said city of London, and a copy of them hung up for public inspection in the Town Clerk's-office, at the Guildhall of the said city, pursuant to the directions contained in the said Act of Parliament for that purpose :

And whereas in and by a certain other Act of Parliament, made and passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to enable His Majesty's Postmaster-General to extend the accommodation by post, and to regulate the privilege of franking in Ireland, and for other purposes relating to the Post-office;" it was amongst other things enacted, that no hackney carriage of any description whatsoever should at any time thereafter stand or ply for hire in front or opposite the General-Post-office, in St. Martins-le-grand, or any part thereof, under a certain penalty not exceeding five pounds, to be recoverable as therein mentioned.

And whereas doubt have arisen as to the power of a Justice of the Peace to impose the said penalty under the said last-mentioned Act, by reason that the two several rules herein before set forth, which expressly appoint and allow certain standings for hackney carriages in front of, or opposite the said General-Post-office, in St. Martins-le-grand, have not, nor has either of them been repealed :

And whereas, as well for the purpose of removing such doubts, as for other purposes of public convenience and accommodation, it seems proper and expedient to the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen, to repeal the said several rules, orders, and regulations herein before set forth, and to make certain alterations and amendments in the room thereof :

This Court of Mayor and Aldermen of the said city of London, now here holden, that is to say, on this 29th day of May, in the said year of our Lord 1832, at and in the Inner-chamber of the Guildhall of the said city, doth therefore and by virtue and in pursuance of the said first mentioned Act of Parliament, hereby repeal the said several rules, orders, and regulations, herein before set forth, and the same are hereby repealed accordingly.

And this Court doth hereby appoint that part on the east side of the said street or place, called St. Paul's-church-yard aforesaid, in the said city, extending from opposite St. Paul's-school to within fifty feet of the entrance into Cheapside, next the iron railing of the said church-yard, to be a proper place for eight hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other; and doth hereby order and direct, that the said eight hackney carriages, or any less number than eight that shall happen at any time to be upon the said standing, shall stand in a direct line following each other, next the iron railing of the said part of the said Church-yard; and that each of four of the said eight hackney-carriages, or any less number than four which shall happen at any time to be upon the said standing, next to each other, shall stand at the distance of two feet from the horse or horses attached to the next succeeding hackney carriage upon the said standing; and that after the first four of such carriages which shall be upon the said standing, there shall be left a clear space of ten feet from the horse or horses attached to the fifth of such hackney-carriages being upon the said standing; and that the whole of such eight hackney-carriages allowed to stand and ply for hire upon the said standing, may stand and ply for hire upon the said standing during the whole of every day and night.

And this Court doth hereby further appoint that part of the street, called King-street, Cheapside, in the said city, commencing at the end thereof next Cheapside, and extending from thence along King-street aforesaid to and opposite to the southern end of Trump-street, leading out of King-street aforesaid, in the middle of the said street of King-street only, to be a proper place for three hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other; and doth hereby order and direct that the said three hackney carriages, or any less number than three that shall at any time happen to be upon the said last-mentioned standing, shall stand in a direct line following each other, in the middle of the said street of King-street; and that every of the said three hackney carriages, or any less number than three which shall at any time be upon the said last-mentioned standing, next to each other, shall stand, in a direct line, at the distance of two feet from the horse or horses attached to the next succeeding hackney carriage upon the said standing; and that the said three hackney carriages allowed to stand and ply for hire upon the said last-mentioned standing, may stand and ply for hire upon the said standing during the whole of every day and night.

And this Court doth hereby further appoint that part of the said street, called King-street, Cheapside aforesaid, nearest to the Guildhall of the said city, commencing from opposite the south end of Cateaton-street, and extending southward along King-street aforesaid, in the middle of the said street only, to be a proper place for five hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other; and doth hereby order and direct that the said five hackney carriages, or any less number that shall at any time happen to be upon the said last-mentioned standing, shall stand, in a direct line following each other, in the middle of the said street; and that every of four of the said five hackney carriages, or any less number than four which shall at any time be upon the said last-mentioned standing, next to each other, shall stand at the distance of two feet from the horse or horses attached to the next succeeding hackney carriage upon the said standing; and that after four of such hackney carriages which shall be upon the said standing, there shall be left a clear space of ten feet from the horse or horses attached to the fifth of such hackney carriages being upon the said standing; and that the whole of such five hackney carriages allowed to stand and ply for hire upon the said last-mentioned standing, may stand and ply for hire upon the said standing during the whole of every day and night.

And this Court doth hereby further appoint that part of the street, called Cornhill, in the said city, which extends from opposite White Lion-court to Newnman-court, in Cornhill aforesaid, in the middle of the said street only, to be a proper place for three hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other; and doth hereby order and direct that the said three hackney carriages, or any less number than three that shall at any time happen to be upon the said last-mentioned standing, shall stand, in a direct line following each other, in the middle of the said street; and that every of the said three hackney carriages, or any less number than three which shall at any time be upon the said last-mentioned standing, next to each other, shall stand, in a direct line, at the distance of two feet from the horse or horses attached to the next succeeding hackney carriage upon the said standing; and that the said three hackney carriages allowed to stand and ply for hire upon the said last-mentioned standing, may stand and ply for hire upon the said standing during the whole of every day and night.

And this Court doth hereby further appoint that part of the street, called Bishopsgate-street within, in the said city, opposite the King's Arms Inn, and extending from thence for the space of fourteen yards northwards, in the middle of the said street only, to be a proper place for two hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there; in a direct line following each other; and doth hereby order and direct that the said two hackney carriages upon the said last-mentioned standing, shall stand, in a direct line following each other, in the middle of the said street; and that of the said two hackney carriages which shall at any time be upon the said last-mentioned standing, next to each other, the one shall stand, in a direct line, at the distance of two feet from the horse or horses attached to the other hackney carriage which succeeds it upon the said last-mentioned standing; and that the said two hackney carriages allowed to stand and ply for hire upon the said standing, may stand and ply for hire upon the said standing during the whole of every day and night.

And this Court doth hereby further appoint that part of the street, called Aldersgate-street without, in the liberties of the said city, extending from opposite to Edmund-place, in Aldersgate-street aforesaid, to within thirty yards of that part of the same street opposite to Long-lane, in the middle of Aldersgate-street aforesaid only, to be a proper place for eight hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other; and doth hereby order and direct, that the said eight hackney carriages, or any less number than eight, that shall at any time happen to be upon the said last-mentioned standing, shall stand, in a direct line following each other, in the middle of the said street; and that each of four of the said eight hackney carriages, or any less number than four which shall at any time be upon the said last-mentioned standing, next to each other, shall stand at the distance of two feet from the horse or horses attached to the next succeeding hackney carriage upon the said standing; and that after the first four of such hackney carriages which shall be upon the said last-mentioned standing, there shall be left a clear space of ten feet from the horse or horses attached to the fifth of such hackney carriages being upon the said standing; and that the whole of such eight hackney carriages allowed to stand and ply for hire upon the said last-mentioned standing, may stand and ply for hire upon the said standing during the whole of every day and night.

And this Court doth hereby further appoint that part of the street, called Aldersgate-street, extending from opposite Little Britain, in Aldersgate-street without, in the liberties of the said city, to that part of the same street opposite Bull and Mouth-street, in Aldersgate-street within, in the said city, in the middle of the said street only, to be a proper place for two hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other; and doth hereby order and direct, that the said two hackney carriages upon the said last-mentioned standing shall stand, in a direct line following each other, in the middle of the said street; and that of the said two hackney carriages which shall at any time be upon the said last-mentioned standing, next to each other, the one shall stand in a direct line, at the distance of two feet from the horse or horses attached to the other hackney carriage which succeeds it upon the said standing; and that the said two hackney carriages allowed to stand and ply for hire upon the said last-mentioned standing, may stand and ply for hire upon the said standing during the whole of every day and night.

And this Court doth hereby further appoint that part of the street or road, called the Borough-road, in the said borough of Southwark, commencing at the west end of the said road, near the Obelisk, in Saint George's-fields, and extending from thence eastward along the said street or road for the space of one hundred and forty yards, in the middle of the said street or road only, to be a proper place for twenty hackney carriages to stand and ply for hire there, in a direct line following each other; and doth hereby order and direct, that the said twenty hackney carriages, or any less number than twenty that shall at any time happen to be upon the said last-mentioned standing, in the said Borough-road, shall stand, in a direct line following each other, in the middle of the said street or road; and that every of four of the said twenty hackney carriages, or any less number than four which shall at any time be upon the said last-mentioned standing, next to each other, shall stand at the distance of two feet from the horse or horses attached to the next succeeding hackney carriage upon the said standing; and that after every four of such hackney carriages which shall be upon the said last-mentioned standing, there shall be left a clear space of ten feet from the horse or horses attached to every fifth, ninth, thirteenth, and seventeenth of such hackney carriages being upon the said standing; and that the whole of such twenty hackney carriages allowed to stand and ply for hire upon the said last-mentioned standing, may stand and ply for hire upon the said standing during the whole of every day and night.

And this Court doth hereby further direct and order the standing for four hackney carriages in that part of Aldersgate-street within leading to Newgate-street, as far as opposite to the north side of the portico of the New Post-office, formerly called Saint Martin-le-grand; and also another standing for four hackney carriages in that part of the continuation of Aldersgate-street within leading to Newgate-street, and formerly called Saint Martin-le-grand, extending from opposite the north side of the portico of the said New Post-office to the lamp pillar next Newgate-street aforesaid, to be forthwith altogether removed. And this Court doth hereby further direct and order, that from and immediately after the passing of these present rules, orders, and regulations, no hackney carriage, of any description whatever, shall stand or ply for hire in front or opposite the said General Post-office, in Saint Martin-le-grand, or any part thereof. And this Court doth hereby further order and direct, that no greater number of hackney carriages than is or are hereinbefore allowed to stand and ply for hire upon the several and respective standings hereinbefore appointed for that purpose, shall, at any one time, stand or ply for hire upon the said several and respective standings, or any of them.

And this Court doth hereby further order and direct, that no hackney carriage shall stand or ply for hire upon such part of any of the standings hereinbefore appointed as shall be directly opposite to the entrance of any street, lane, or alley leading to or from the streets or places wherein such standings are so appointed, to be but a width or space upon each such standing equal to the width of the entrance to any such street, lane, or alley shall be left open, in order that no obstruction may be given to any other carriage whatever passing or repassing from or into such streets, lanes, or alleys leading to or from the said several streets and places wherein such standings are appointed to be, as hereinbefore mentioned.

And this Court doth hereby further order and direct, that the said several rules, orders, and regulations made at the said Court of Mayor and Aldermen of the said city of London, on Tuesday the said 3d day of January 1832 (except so far as the same, or any of them, are hereby repealed, altered, or amended), shall be of the same force and effect as if they were expressly re-enacted and incorporated in these amended rules, orders, and regulations.

And this Court doth hereby further order and direct, that these amended rules, orders, and regulations be forthwith advertised in the London Gazette, and in the two newspapers circulated in the city of London; called the Times and the Morning Advertiser; and that a copy of these amended rules, orders, and regulations be forthwith hung up for public inspection in the Town Clerk's Office, at the Guildhall of the said city, pursuant to the directions contained for that purpose in the said Act of Parliament hereinbefore first mentioned.

And this Court doth hereby further order and direct, that these amended rules, orders, and regulations shall be in full force from and immediately after the same shall be advertised, and a copy thereof hung up in the Town Clerk's Office as aforesaid, in pursuance of the directions of the said Act of Parliament.

Public Vendue of Coffee Estates, in Berbice.

ON Wednesday the 12th of December 1832, and following days, will be sold, at public vendue, by order of John Alves and John Downer, Esqrs. Curators to the estate of Richard Clarke Downer, deceased, as thereto specially authorised by his Honour Charles Wray, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of British Guiana;

The coffee estates Belle Vue and Lust-tot-Rust, with slaves, cultivation, buildings, &c. viz.

Plantation Belle Vue, known on the general chart of the Colony as lot No. 8, on the east bank of the River Berbice, containing, as per grant, 500 acres of land, bounded by the sugar estate Everton on the north, and the coffee estate Rotterdam on the south. The cultivation consists of 220,000 coffee trees and extensive plantain walks, and the requisite buildings and machinery for taking off a large crop, all in perfect repair, consisting of a large logie, of the best materials, tiled droghery, mosse logie, with a four horse power steam-engine, pulping and stamping mills, with plaquaire, dwelling-house, hospital, creole and yaws' houses, with extensive and comfortable negro houses, and the slaves (200 in number), a healthy, well-disposed, able set of people.

Plantation Lust-tot-Rust, known in the general chart as lots Nos. 30 and 31, west bank of the River Berbice, containing, as per grant, 1,000 acres. The cultivation of this estate consists of 160,000 coffee trees, with plantains sufficient for the gang; the buildings and requisite works for taking off the crop are all in good order, and the number of 155 slaves, not surpassed by any equal number of labourers in the Colony.

These estates are well known as some of the most fertile lands in British Guiana. Belle Vue is only four miles from New Amsterdam, to which there is a capital public road, and from its situation, on a turn in the river, commands the most beautiful and extensive views, on the one hand of the entrance of the river, with the town and shipping, and on the other (both sides of the river studded with estates) to the distance of eight or ten miles.

The drainage of both properties is perfect, and every facility attends the shipping of produce or landing supplies.

The slaves will be provisionally sold in families, and again set up with the lands, in the hope of inducing some person to purchase in the properties as they stand.

The terms of sale will be made known on application at the Vendue-Office of Berbice, and at the Counting-House of Messrs. Davidsons, Barkly, and Co. London, where also inventories of the estates and registered lists and description of the slaves may be seen.

(Signed) CHARLES KYTE, Deputy Vendue Master.
