

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Borough of Great Yarmouth, in the County of Norfolk, in Common Council assembled.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the borough of Great Yarmouth, in the county of Norfolk, are anxious to be amongst the foremost, in expressing our abhorrence of the late atrocious and traitorous attack upon your Majesty's sacred person, and our unfeigned joy at your Majesty's preservation from the fatal consequences, which might have resulted from so daring and violent an outrage.

Acknowledging, in your Majesty's safety, the merciful interposition of Almighty God, we ardently pray, that, by a continuance of the Divine protection, your Majesty may long possess the throne of your illustrious ancestors, and that the nation may feel and recognize, in the exercise of the Kingly authority, your Majesty's unceasing and anxious desire to further the happiness and prosperity of your subjects, and that they may unite in loyalty to your royal person, in sincere attachment to your august family, and in dutiful submission and obedience to the laws.

In conclusion, Sire, we humbly beg to offer you our ardent and dutiful veneration and esteem; and to assure your Majesty, that we will, to our utmost, faithfully and zealously, support your Sovereign power, and our happy and glorious constitution, in church and state.

Given under our common seal, at our Tollhouse-hall, this 25th day of June 1832.

John Preston, Mayor.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Sire,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, Inhabitants of the town of Northampton, in public meeting assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty, with feelings of the most devoted attachment to your Majesty's person and government, and to express our unfeigned sorrow and indignation that any one of your Majesty's subjects should be found so abandoned and depraved as to attack your Majesty's sacred person, and endanger the life of your Majesty, endeared to the whole of the British people, not only as the King of these realms, but as the beloved Sovereign, under whose auspices so many wise and salutary measures have been promoted, tending to engage the affections of your Majesty's subjects, and to establish your Majesty's throne, by consulting the general welfare of the people.

While, therefore, we express our utter abhorrence of the atrocious attack on your Majesty, permit us most confidently to assure your Majesty, that the attack on your Majesty is not to be falsely and slanderously attributed by any party to a spirit of disaffection among any portion of your Majesty's subjects, who are, on the contrary, deeply attached to your Majesty's person and government, and conscious of the great blessings derived from your Majesty's liberal and paternal sway. And we beg most cordially to congratulate your Majesty on your happy escape from the attack of an assassin, and trust that your Majesty may long be preserved to reign over a free and grateful people.

And your Majesty's most dutiful subjects will ever pray for the stability of your Majesty's Throne.
Signed on behalf of the meeting,

John Phipps, Mayor.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty of the city of Coventry, in Council assembled, your Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, beg leave humbly to approach your Majesty, with the expression of our sorrow and indignation at the recent outrage committed upon your sacred person; we entreat your Majesty to accept our earnest and heartfelt congratulations, that, under Providence, your Majesty sustained no serious injury from that wicked and atrocious attack.

We are deeply sensible of the blessings and freedom which we, in common with all our fellow-subjects, enjoy under the mild and equal sway of your Majesty's Government; and we will pray that your Majesty may long continue to exercise your just and royal authority, supported by the attachment of a dutiful and loyal people.

In testimony whereof we have hereunto affixed our common seal, this 27th day of June, 1832.

T. Morris, Mayor.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

Sire,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor and Burgesses of the borough of Christchurch, in the county of Southampton, and the Inhabitants thereof, and of its neighbourhood, humbly beg leave to express to your Majesty the horror and indignation we feel at the late flagitious and treasonable attack on the person of your most sacred Majesty, and to offer our most sincere and hearty congratulations upon your Majesty's providential escape.

We feel deep concern that a person capable of performing an act so detestable and atrocious should be found in your Majesty's dominions, and it is our earnest prayer that Almighty God may long preserve the life of a Sovereign, so justly dear to all classes of your Majesty's subjects.

[Here follow the signatures.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble, dutiful, and loyal Address of the Wardens and Court of Assistants of the Goldsmiths' Company of the City of London.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and faithful subjects, the Wardens and Assistants of the Company of Goldsmiths of the city of London, most humbly beg to approach your royal presence, to offer our sincere and heartfelt congratulations upon the providential escape your Majesty has recently experienced, and to express our indignation at the atrocious and treasonable attack made on your Majesty's sacred person.

Devotedly attached to your Majesty, as we ever have been to the members of your illustrious house, who for a series of years have, happily for this nation, swayed its sceptre, we cannot refrain from expressing the peculiar interest we feel in every event connected with your Majesty's safety and happiness,