

and earnestly pray that your Majesty may, under Divine Providence, be long permitted, together with your illustrious Consort, to reign over a free, loyal, and happy people.

Henry Blanshard, Pimè Warden.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Sire,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council, and Livery of the town and county of the town of Nottingham approach your Majesty to express our abhorrence of the atrocious attack recently made upon your Majesty's sacred person, by a desperate and infatuated individual, and our ardent congratulations upon your Majesty's preservation from more serious personal injury.

We pray your Majesty to accept the renewed assurances of our devoted attachment to your Majesty's person and family; we feel that the country is deeply indebted to your Majesty for the gracious sanction given by your Majesty to the great measures of national amelioration, which have long absorbed the public interest, and we rejoice in the many blessings which, under the British constitution, and your Majesty's benign and just government, we enjoy.

May the Supreme Disposer of human events continue to protect your Majesty's life, and grant your Majesty a long reign, glorious to the nation from the advanced state of its domestic and foreign policy, and happy to your Majesty in the devoted affections of a free and loyal people.

Given under our common seal, at the Guildhall, the 3d day of July, in the year of our Lord 1832.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Reading.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Reading, in the county of Berks, beg leave to approach your Majesty with renewed expressions of duty and loyalty, in consequence of the late atrocious attack upon your Majesty's royal person.

We congratulate your Majesty and the country upon your escape from a vindictive and wicked attempt upon the life of the Chief Magistrate of these realms, and we pray that a most merciful Providence may continue to watch over and protect the sacred person of your Majesty, and the safety and the interests of this favoured nation.

Done under our common seal this 3d day of July, 1832, Wm. Elundy, Mayor.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Deputy-Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Carnarvon, in the Common Hall assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Burgesses and Inhabitants of Carnarvon, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, beg to approach your Majesty's throne, for the purpose of expressing our horror at the flagitious and treasonable attack lately made upon your Majesty, affil of mingling our unfeigned and most enthusiastic congratulations with those which rise simultaneously from thousands and tens of thousands of British hearts on your Majesty's having escaped without serious injury.

We avail ourselves of the present opportunity to lay at your Majesty's feet the renewed assurances of our affectionate unshaken attachment to your Majesty's person and royal house; and it is our fervent prayer that your Majesty may long live to be the guardian of that free constitution under which we are ourselves so happy, and the praises of which are resounded in all tongues and from all quarters of the globe.

Signed by order and in behalf of the meeting,

William Roberts, Deputy Constable, and as such Deputy Mayor; Edward Parry, O. O. Roberts, Bailiffs of the borough.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Dean of the Collegiate Church of Saint Peter, Westminster, together with the Lord High Steward, Deputy High Steward, High Bailiff, Deputy High Bailiff, Chief Burgesses, Burgesses, High Constable, and Burgesses' Assistants of your ancient city of Westminster, and liberty of the same, most humbly approach your royal presence, with our renewed assurances of loyalty and attachment to your Majesty, and to the constitution of our country, in church and state.

Strongly impressed with these sentiments, we deem it our duty to express to your Majesty our feelings of sorrow and indignation at the atrocious attack by which your Majesty's sacred person has been recently endangered; and it fills us with astonishment and shame, that there should be found, among our fellow-subjects, an individual so wicked, ignorant, or deluded, as to be insensible to the substantial benefits derived to the nation, by the just and mild administration of its government by your Majesty.

We earnestly pray that your Majesty's valuable life, which has been so providentially preserved, may long be spared to your people; the solicitude which your Majesty has constantly manifested for their welfare and happiness, has impressed them with the strongest conviction, that no greater calamity could befall them than that of being deprived of your Majesty's fostering and paternal protection.

Given under our common seal, this 3d day of July, 1832. Jno. Robson, Town Clerk.

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Governors of the Scottish Hospital, of the foundation of King Charles the Second, re-incorporated by King George the Third, of ever-blessed memory!

Sire,

WE beg to approach your Majesty with the expression of our deepest horror, at the treasonable attack recently made upon your Majesty's sacred person, while we are penetrated, at the same time, with sentiments of sincere gratitude to that pro-
