

do we assure your Majesty of our unfeigned attachment, and of our readiness at all times to sacrifice our lives and property in protecting the Monarch and maintaining the dignity of his Crown. But it is our unalterable persuasion, that, if any circumstance can enhance the lustre of your reign, or increase the endearments of your people, it is the parental zeal and unconquerable determination of your Majesty to support your patriotic Ministers, in complying with their just and reasonable supplications, convinced that, without your royal aid, they would in vain have looked for those happy events which constitute the maturity of the British Constitution.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Provost, Baillies, Treasurer, and Councillors of the burgh of Paisley, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty with renewed assurances of our devoted attachment to your Majesty's person, family, and government.

Appreciating as we do the many blessings we enjoy, under the constitutional sway of a just and beneficent Monarch, we cannot avoid expressing the indignation we have felt, at the treasonable attack lately made in public upon your Majesty's sacred person.

And we pray that your Majesty may continue to experience the protecting care of the Almighty, and may long be spared in the enjoyment of every earthly blessing to reign in the affections of a free, a loyal, and happy people.

Signed and sealed in our name, and in our presence by William Gilmour, Provost.
Paisley, 3d of July 1832.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the borough and parish of Totnes, and Inhabitants of the manor of Bridgetown, in the county of Devon, beg leave to offer our warmest congratulations on your Majesty's late providential escape from the attack of a vile and desperate assassin.

The uniform anxiety which your Majesty has evinced, to promote the welfare and happiness of your people, gives you a just claim to our loyal and sincere attachment, and it was with feelings of the utmost abhorrence that we heard of the crime, intended to be perpetrated against your Majesty's royal person. We trust, however, that Almighty God, who has so manifestly protected your Majesty in the present instance, will continue to defeat the designs of your enemies, that He will preserve your Majesty in health, and that you may long reign in peace and happiness, over a loyal and grateful people.

Totnes, 25th of June 1832.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects of the town of Ross and its vicinity, in the county of Hereford, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the offering of our sincere congratulations, while we are thankful to heaven for the preservation of your valuable life from the late wicked and atrocious assault committed on your Majesty's most sacred person.

We should be devoid of all feeling of gratitude did we not hasten to express to your Majesty that the late God-like act, unparalleled in the annals of the world, by which your Majesty was graciously pleased to restore the happy constitution of this country to its pristine vigour, has fixed most firmly your Majesty's Throne in the hearts of the people.

We pray the Almighty disposer of events to preserve your Majesty long to reign over your loyal and loving subjects.
