

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Inhabitants of Kirriemuir.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, Inhabitants of the burgh of barony of Kirriemuir, county of Forfar, in public meeting assembled on this day of jubilee, beg leave most humbly to approach your Majesty to express our gratitude and joy at the successful termination of the reform measure, which, under the sanction of your Majesty, has now become the law of the land; and, in doing so, we would humbly entreat your Majesty to continue your support to those patriotic and illustrious Statesmen, by whose instrumentality this mighty nation has been preserved from the direful consequences of those intestine commotions, which the aspect of the late struggle at one time but too plainly indicated.

Considering the lustre which this act has added to your reign, and anticipating the benefits which, national and personal, will flow from it, we cannot deny ourselves the opportunity now afforded us, of expressing our loyalty and affection for your Majesty's Person and Government; and that your Majesty, together with your Royal Consort, may long continue to sway the sceptre of these realms over a free, a loyal, and a happy people, is the most ardent and sincere prayer of your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects.

In name and in presence of the meeting,
James Angus, Chairman.
