Office of the Vice-Chamberlain to the Queen, Queen's-House, St. James's, January 14, 1833.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Queen will hold Drawing-Rooms, at St. James's-Palace, on the following days :

Thursday, March	21.
Thursday, April	18.
Thursday, May	16.
Tuesday, May	23.	} Being for the celebration of the King's Birth- day.

St. James's-Palace, February 22, 1833.

THIS day the Archbishop of Canterbury and Bishops, with the Prolocutor and Members of the Lower House of Convocation of the Clergy of the province of Canterbury, waited upon His Majesty to present the following Address; which was received by His Majesty upon the Throne:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful servants, the Archbishop, Bishops, and Clergy of the province of Canterbury, in Convocation assembled, most humbly desire permission to express to your Majesty our sentiments of loyal and respectful attachment to your Majesty's Throne and Person.

Since last we had the honour of addressing your Majesty, the disposition to violence which, in some parts of the island, had shewn itself in tumults and outrages of a highly criminal character, has given way to better feelings; and the cessation of these alarming enormities affords reason to hope that, through the blessing of Divine Providence on the paternal cares of your Majesty, progressive relief may be obtained from the evils which still continue to act with injurious influence on the peace and morals of the community.

But, Sir, we cannot dissemble that, whether from the peculiar complexion of the times, or from some fault in our social economy, the country does not reap all the advantages which might be expected from the purity of our national religion, and the zeal and ability of its Members.

Among the various causes which disappoint the hopes of the Pastor, and counteract the effect of his example and precepts, we venture to specify the intemperate use of intoxicating liquors, the assiduous distribution of immoral and impious writings, and the neglect and profanation of the Lord's day. The distresses of the poor are thus greatly increased, their passions inflamed, and their feelings embittered; while the day, set apart by the Commandment for the public worship of God and instruction in his holy word, affords more unlimited scope for the indulgence of vicious pleasures and the propagation of wicked principles.

In making these representations to your Majesty, we are actuated, not so much by the desire of vindicating ourselves from unmerited censure, as by a sense of our duty to your Majesty, as the supreme Governor, under Christ, of our Church. We do not imagine that, for evils so great and extensive, an immediate cure can be found in mere legal provisions, since laws will have little effect, if they are not in accordance with the prevailing sentiments of the community. Yet, we humbly conceive, that much might be done for the protection of the ignorant from error and vice, and for the encouragement of piety and virtue, by discreet legislation, ad-visedly directed to the improvement of the public morals, more especially if seconded by that reverence for religion and regard to propriety of conduct, on the part of the higher orders, which are prescribed alike, by duty and interest, to men of all classes in society.

The obligations peculiarly incumbent on us, to lead the way in all that is good, in all that is holy, not confining ourselves to the bare discharge of our professional duty, but assiduously seeking opportunities of fulfilling the will of our Lord, we feel and willingly acknowledge. And we venture to assure your Majesty, that we shall be anxious at all times to concur and assist in any safe and effectual measures which, on mature consideration, shall appear to be calculated to advance the great work for which the Church was established, by removing whatever impediments may be found to obstruct the free course of our Ministry, and by enlarging the channels through which the benefits of our pure and holy religion are distributed to the several portions of the community.

By our conduct we desire to be tried; if we shrink from the performance of our duties, we give up our title to the character of faithful Ministers of Christ, or useful Servants of the State; if, in spite of discouragements, we labour in our calling with zeal and fidelity, we humbly venture to hope for the continuance of that protection and countenance which we have hitherto so largely received from your Majesty's favour, and which at present are more than ever required for the preservation of the Church.

We avail ourselves of this opportunity of respectfully offering our grateful acknowledgments for the concern which has been evinced by your Majesty for the distresses of our brethren in Ireland, who, from no fault of their own, are exposed to the most grievous calamities. Your Majesty's goodness to these exemplary Ministers of our united Church, will not only contribute to the relief of their sufferings, but will operate as a cordial to their sorrows.

That your Majesty's Councils may be directed at all times by the spirit of wisdom, which cometh from above; and that your Majesty may long be preserved in the full and uninterrupted enjoyment of every blessing, is, Sir, our earnest prayer.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

" My Lords, and the rest of the Clergy,

" I thank you for this loyal and dutiful Address.

" I repose entire confidence in your expression of attachment to my Throne and Person.

" I deeply lament that any principles or practices, which tend to counteract the effect and example of your Ministry, should prevail amongst any portion of my people; but no effort shall be wanting on my part, to repress and discountenance licentiousness and immorality, and to promote throughout my dominions the true spirit of piety and the observance of the precepts of the Holy Gospel.

" I rely securely upon the fidelity and zeal with which you exercise the duties of your sacred calling. In the fulfilment of those duties you will always experience from me every protection and encouragement; and it is with great satisfaction that I receive upon this occasion, the assurance of your anxiety to concur and assist in any safe and effectual measures which, on mature consideration, shall appear to be calculated to advance the great work for which the Church was established, by removing whatever impediments may be found to obstruct the course of your Ministry, and by enlarging the channels through which the benefits of our pure and holy religion are distributed to the several portions of the community."
