Whitehall, April 15, 1833.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto the King, that, on the 2d day of April instant, a small box, loaded with gun-powder, was sent, through one of the coach offices in Sheffield, to Messrs. Waterhouse, Hodgson, and Co. silver-platers, of that place; and that on Mr. Edward Hatfield, resident partner of the firm, proceeding to open the same, a violent explosion took place, by which both his hands were nearly blown off and his head severely wounded;

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the felony before mentioned; is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person who actually contrived, planned, and carried into effect the said offence) who shall discover his accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

MELBOURNE.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of TWO HUNDRED POUNDS is hereby offered by Messrs. Waterhouse, Hodgson, and Co. to any person (except as aforesaid) who shall discover the said offender or offenders, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted of the said offence.

Parish of St. John, at Hackney.

WE, the undersigned, being the Churchwardens of the said parish of St. John, at Hackney, do hereby give public notice, that we have carefully examined the votes to us delivered, on the 14th, 15th, and 16th days of the month of March last, under the Act of Parliament of the first and second years of the reign of His present Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act for the better regulation of vestries, and for the appointment of auditors of accounts in certain parishes of England and Wales;" and we have compared the said votes with the last rate made for the relief of the poor of the said parish, and, after a full and fair summing up of the said votes, we do hereby declare, that two thirds of the votes so given have not been given in favour of the adoption of the said Act; and that the number of votes given for and against the adoption of the said Act are as follows, that is to say; 812 votes for the adoption thereof, and 494 votes against the adoption thereof.—Dated this 10th day of April 1833.

H. Dennis, Geo. Clarke, Churchwardens.

Manor of Hackney, commonly called the Lord's Hold, in the County of Middlesex.

To the Right Honourable Earl Harrowby, William Amory, Samuel Berger, William Hurst Ashpitel, John Musgrove, and Thomas Wright, being six of the Copyholders of the said Manor named in the Act of Parliament hereinafter mentioned, and to all and every the Copyholders of the said Manor entitled to rights of common of pasture in and over the Lammas Lands appertaining thereto.
