Church Commissioners'-Office,
July 17, 1834.

THE following is a copy of an Order of His Majesty in Council, assigning to the chapel of St. James, in the parish of Enfield, in the county of Middlesex, a district under the 16th section of the 59 Geo. 3, c. 134:

At the Court at Brighton, the 9th of December 1833, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his or their consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his or their hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain, and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if thereupon His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided; and whereas by the said Act it is further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish or extra parochial place into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts, as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendance of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described, and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division." And whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," it is enacted, "that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapels already existing, or to any chapel built or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendance and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate, and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelries shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament or law or laws to the contrary notwithstanding; and by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled, "An Act to amend the Acts for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the 1st and 2d year of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes,'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the 2d and 3d years of His said Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes; further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in Council, stating that in the year 1831, when the last census was taken, the parish of Enfield, in the county of Middlesex and diocese of London, contained a population of 8312 persons; that there is besides the parish church, one chapel in the said parish, lately built by the said Commissioners, and called Saint James's Chapel, which contains accommodation for 1012 persons, including 516 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor; and that divine service is regularly performed therein:

That having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending the parish, it appears to the said Commissioners to be expedient, that a particular district shall be assigned to the last-mentioned chapel, under the provision of the 16th section of an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," and that such district should be named St. James's District, with boundaries as follows:

St. James's District to consist of that part of the parish of Enfield which lies to the east of a line supposed to be drawn from the southern boundary to the northern boundary of the said parish, at a direct distance, in all its points, of 150 yards from the western side of the turnpike road leading from London to Ware, beginning nearly at the stone which marks the eighth mile, and ending nearly at the stone which marks the eleventh mile, measured from the church of St. Leonard, Shoreditch, by which line the said district is bounded on the west; to be bounded on the north by the parish of Cheshunt, in the county of Hertford; on the east by the Old River Lea and the parish of Waltham Holy Cross and Clingford; on the south by the parish of Edmonton, in the county of Middlesex, as the same is delineated in the accompanying plan:

That baptisms, churchings, and burials should be performed in the said chapel, and that nine tenths of the fees for the same should be paid to the Minister of the said chapel from and after the next avoidance of the parish church:

That the consent of the Lord Bishop of London has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third; and humbly praying, that His Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into His royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to His Majesty shall seem meet;

His Majesty, having taken the said representation into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed division be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

C. C. Greville.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Dock-Office, Liverpool, July 8, 1834.

THE Trustees of the Liverpool Docks and Harbour hereby give notice, that the under-mentioned additions and alterations for the better guidance of the mariner, into and out of the port, will be exhibited on and after the 1st day of August 1834, viz.

FORMBY LIGHT-HOUSE.—This building (hitherto known as Formby S. E. Landmark) will present a steady yellow light, ranging 12 miles in a western aspect, between the points of S. W. and N. N. W. $\frac{3}{4}$ W.; which limits indicate respectively, when a vessel is westward of Mad Wharf, and when she ought to shape the fairway course of S. by E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E. up Crosby Channel.

The most brilliant portion of the said Light will be shown down the New Channel, in concert with a Floating Red Light, exhibited from a single-masted vessel (painted red, with a red flag to distinguish her by day), moored, in 16 feet at low water, $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles W. $\frac{3}{4}$ N. from Formby Light house, $\frac{1}{8}$ of a mile southward of Jordan Flats, and $\frac{1}{2}$ a mile westward of the Spit of Formby Bank. These Lights, brought in a line, lead direct from seaward, upon a course E. $\frac{3}{4}$ S. to the entrance of and through the New Channel (which carries 12 feet at low water, spring tides, over its outer and shoalest part) up to the Floating Light. Both the above Lights may be discerned, in clear weather, as far as two miles westward of the N. W. Light Ship.

The New Formby Red Light Vessel likewise serves (when brought in a line with the Black Rock Light) to lead through Jordan Flats, in 17 feet water at half tide, upon a S. by E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E. course; and the narrowest part of this Swashway is distinguished by two Nun Buoys (white with a black vertical stripe), $\frac{1}{4}$ of a mile apart, and about $\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile northward of the vessel, the passage being between the said buoys.

An additional Red Can Buoy is also placed on the western side of the Crosby Channel, to denote the easternmost elbow of Great Burbo. This buoy lies in 16 feet, close to the Bank, and bears from the Black Rock Light-house N. by W. 3 miles; it is the southernmost Red Buoy in Crosby Channel, and must always be left on the western hand.

The Helbre Swash Marks will be removed on the day above mentioned from Helbre Island, one to the small Islet called the Eye, and the other to the flat shore immediately eastward, and at $\frac{1}{4}$ of a mile from Helbre Island; so that, when brought in a line, they lead direct from the N. W. Light Ship up Helbre Swash, upon the course of S. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. to the first Log Buoy on the S. W. elbow of the East Hoyle Bank.

And to afford the clearest illustration how the foregoing arrangements contribute to open the navigation into and out of the port, at all hours of tide, the Dock Trustees have published a chart thereof, in conformity with the recent Admiralty survey, by Lieutenant Henry Mangles Derham, R. N. (under sanction of the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty), upon a scale of four inches to the mile; which may be had of all the chartsellers in Liverpool.

Note.—All bearings and courses in the above imply by compass.

By order of the Committee,

William Foster, Secretary.

CONTRACT FOR BEES WAX.
