TUESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1834.

Lord Chamberlain's-Office, August 14, 1834.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Majesty will hold a Levee at St. James's-Palace, on Wednesday next the 20th instant; which will be His Majesty's last Levee till further orders.

St. James's-Palace, August 15, 1834.

THIS day His Majesty proceeded in state from St. James's-Palace to the House of Peers, where he arrived about half past two o'clock; and was received, on alighting from his state coach, by the Lord Chancellor, the Lord President of the Council, the Lord Privy Seal, the Lord Elphinstone, acting as Great Chamberlain, in the absence of the Marquess of Cholmondeley, the Earl Marshal, the Lord Steward of the Household, the Viscount Melbourne, Clarenceux King of Arms, in the absence of Garter, and Black Rod, and proceeded to the robing-room in the customary manner.

His Majesty was there robed, and having put on the imperial crown, the procession moved into the House in the usual order;—the sword of state was borne by the Viscount Melbourne, and the cap of maintenance by the Earl of Shaftesbury, in the absence of the Marquess of Winchester.

His Majesty being seated upon the Throne, the Great Officers of State and others standing on the right and left, Sir Augustus Clifford, Knt. the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a message from His Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their attendance in the House of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, His Majesty was pleased to deliver the following most gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

THE numerous and important questions which have, in the present as in the two preceding years, been submitted to your consideration, have imposed upon you the necessity of extraordinary exertions; and it is with a deep sense of the care and labour which you have bestowed upon the public business that I at length close this protracted session, and release you from your attendance.

I continue to receive from all Foreign powers assurances of their friendly disposition.

The negotiations, on account of which the conferences in London upon the affairs of the Low Countries were suspended, have not yet been brought to a close; and I have still to lament the continued postponement of a final settlement between Holland and Belgium.

On the other hand, I have derived the most sincere and lively satisfaction from the termination of the civil war which had so long distracted the kingdom of Portugal; and I rejoice to think that the treaty, which the state of affairs in Spain and in Portugal induced Me to conclude with the King of the French, the Queen Regent of Spain, and the Regent of Portugal, and which has already been laid before you, contributed materially to produce this happy result.

Events have since occurred in Spain to disappoint for a time the hopes of tranquillity in that country which the pacification of Portugal had inspired.

To these events, so important to Great Britain, I shall give my most serious attention, in concert with France and with the other powers who are parties to the treaty of the 22d of April; and the good understanding which prevails between Me and My allies encourages Me to expect that Our united endeavours will be attended with success.

The peace of Turkey remains undisturbed; and I trust that no event will happen in that quarter to interrupt the tranquillity of Europe.

I have not failed to observe with approbation that you have directed your attention to those domestic questions which more immediately affect the general welfare of the community; and I have had much satisfaction in sanctioning your wise and benevolent intentions by giving My assent to the Act for the amendment and better administration of the laws relating to the poor in England and Wales. It will be My duty to provide that the authority necessarily vested in Commissioners nominated by the Crown be exercised with temperance and caution; and I entertain a confident expectation that its prudent and judicious application, as well as the discreet enforcement of the other provisions of the Act, will by degrees remedy the evils which at present prevail, and whilst they elevate the character will increase the comforts and improve the condition of My people.

The amendment of the law is one of your first and most important duties, and I rejoice to perceive that it has occupied so much of your attention.

The establishment of a Central Court for the trial of offences in the metropolis and its neighbourhood will, I trust, improve the administration of justice within the populous sphere of its jurisdiction, and afford a useful example to every other part of the kingdom.

To the important subjects of our jurisprudence and of our municipal corporations your attention will naturally be directed early in the next session. You may always rest assured of My disposition to cooperate with you in such useful reformatations.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I thank you for the readiness with which you have granted the supplies.

The estimates laid before you were somewhat lower than those of former years, although they included several extraordinary charges which will not again occur. The same course of economy will still be steadily pursued.

The continued increase of the revenue, notwithstanding the repeal of so many taxes, affords the surest proof that the resources of the country are unimpaired, and justifies the expectation that a perseverance in judicious and well-considered measures will still further promote the industry and augment the wealth of My people.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It gives Me great gratification to believe, that in returning to your several counties you will find a prevalence of general tranquillity and of active industry amongst all classes of society. I humbly hope that Divine Providence will vouchsafe a continuance and increase of these blessings; and in any circumstances which may arise, I shall rely with confidence upon your zeal and fidelity, and I rest satisfied that you will inculcate and encourage that obedience to the laws, and that observance of the duties of religion and morality, which are the only secure foundations of the power and happiness of empires.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by His Majesty's command, said:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It is His Majesty's royal will and pleasure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Thursday the twenty-fifth day of September next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Thursday the twenty-fifth day of September next.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 15th day of August 1834,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the third and fourth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to regulate the trade of the British possessions abroad," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that no goods shall be imported into, nor shall any goods, except the produce of the fisheries in British ships, be exported from, any of the British possessions in America by sea, from or to any place other than the United Kingdom, or some other of such possessions, except into or from the several ports in such possessions called free ports, enumerated or described in the table in the said Act in that behalf contained :

And it is thereby provided, that if His Majesty shall deem it expedient to extend the provisions of the said Act to any port or ports not enumerated in the said table, it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by Order in Council, to extend the provisions of the said Act to such port or ports; and it is thereby declared, that from and after the day mentioned in such Order in Council, all the privileges and advantages of the said Act, and all the provisions, penalties, and forfeitures therein contained, subject, nevertheless, to the limitations and the restrictions hereinafter provided, shall extend, and be deemed and construed to extend, to any such port or ports respectively, as fully as if the same had been inserted and enumerated in the said table at the time of passing the said Act :

And it is by the said Act further enacted, that the several ports therein mentioned shall be free warehousing ports for all the purposes of the said Act; and it is thereby further enacted, that it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by Order in Council, from time to time to appoint any port in His Majesty's possessions in America, to be a free warehousing port for all or any of the purposes of the said Act; and that every such port, so appointed by His Majesty, shall be, for all the purposes expressed in such Order, a free warehousing port under the said Act, as if appointed by the same :

And whereas His Majesty in Council doth deem it expedient to extend the provisions of the said Act, so far as relates to free ports and to free warehousing ports, to the ports of Yarmouth and of Liverpool, in the province of Nova Scotia; now, therefore, in pursuance of the said Act of Parliament, and in exercise of the powers thereby vested in His Majesty in Council, His Majesty doth, by and with the advice of the Lords and others of His Most Honourable Privy Council, by this present Order in Council extend the provisions of the said Act, so far as relates to free ports, to the said ports of Yarmouth and Liverpool, in the province of Nova Scotia, and doth hereby declare, that, from and after the fifteenth day of August in this present year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, all the privileges and advantages of the said Act of Parliament, and all the provisions, penalties, and forfeitures therein contained, subject, nevertheless, to the limitations and restrictions therein provided, shall extend, and be deemed and construed to extend, to the said ports of Yarmouth and Liverpool respectively, as fully as if those ports had been inserted and enumerated in the said table of free ports at the time of passing the said Act :

And in further pursuance of the said Act of Parliament, and in further exercise of the powers thereby vested in His Majesty in Council, His Majesty doth, by and with the advice aforesaid, by this present Order in Council, appoint the said ports of Yarmouth and Liverpool, in Nova Scotia, to be free warehousing ports for all the purposes of the said Act :

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, and the Right Honourable Thomas Spring Rice, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

C. C. Greville.

Westminster, August 14, 1834.

This day, the Lords being met, a message was sent to the Honourable House of Commons by the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, acquainting them, that The Lords, authorised by virtue of a Commission under the Great Seal, signed by His Majesty, for declaring His Royal Assent to several Acts agreed upon by both Houses, do desire the immediate attendance of the Honourable House in the House of Peers to hear the Commission read; and the Commons being come thither, the said Commission, empowering the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, and several other Lords therein named, to declare and notify the Royal Assent to the said Acts, was read accordingly, and the Royal Assent given to

THE following is a copy of an Order of His Majesty in Council, for dividing, under the 21st section of the 58 Geo. 3, c. 45, the parish of St. Mary, Carlisle, into ecclesiastical districts :

At the Court at St. James's, the 27th of June 1832, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his or their consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his or their hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain, and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if thereupon His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" And whereas by the said Act it is further enacted "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish or extra parochial place into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendance of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:" And whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in Council, stating that in the year 1821, the parish of St. Mary, Carlisle, in the county of Cumberland and diocese of Carlisle contained a population of 9592 persons, which has since considerably increased; that there was in the said parish no other place consecrated for divine worship, according to the rites of the Church of England, but the parish church, which afforded accommodation for 500 persons, including 250 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor; that His Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches have caused a new chapel to be built in the said parish, which affords accommodation to 1004 persons, including 399 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor; that the said chapel has been consecrated and divine service is regularly performed therein:

That the said Commissioners have further represented to His Majesty, that having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient, that the said parish should be divided into ecclesiastical districts, under the 21st section of the Act passed in the 58th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, for the purpose of affording accommodation for attending divine service to the persons residing in the said district, and for enabling the spiritual person serving the said chapel to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the district attached to the said chapel, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendance of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the moral habits of the persons residing therein; and that such district should be named the Trinity District, with boundaries as follows:

The boundary to commence at the junction of the Rivers Caldew and Eden, and, proceeding southward along the centre of the River Caldew, to include the west side thereof as far as where the parish of St. Mary joins the parish of Dalston; then proceeding westward along the line of boundary between the parishes of St. Mary and Dalston to Newby-cross, where the parish of St. Mary joins the parish of Orton; then westward and north westward along the line that separates the two last-named parishes to the road leading to Baldwin Holme; from thence following the same boundary north eastward till it again turns north westward, and continuing along the same north westward to where the parish of St. Mary joins the parish of Kirkandrew; then turning north eastward to follow the boundary between the parishes of St. Mary and Kirkandrew to where the parish of St. Mary joins the parish of Grimsdale; from thence following the boundary between the two last-named parishes eastward to the point where the said boundary turns to the north; thence to take the same direction and line with said boundary till it meets the River Eden, and then to follow the south bank of said River Eden easterly till it meets the point of junction of the Rivers Eden and Caldeu at which the boundary commenced, as is more particularly delineated in the map therewith annexed and therein coloured:

That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Carlisle has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act of the 58th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third; and humbly praying, that His Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into His royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to His Majesty shall deem meet:

His Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed division be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

Church Commissioners'-Office,
August 14, 1834.

THE following is a copy of an Order of His Majesty in Council, for dividing the parish of St. Martin, Birmingham, into three separate and distinct parishes, under the 16th section of the 58 Geo. 3, c. 45:

At the Court at St. James's, the 14th of May 1834, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is amongst other things enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his or their consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his or their hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue and remain and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits, which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if thereupon His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," and by another Act, made and passed in the 1st and 2d year of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes,'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the 2d and 3d year of His said Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes,'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in Council, stating that upon a representation from the said Commissioners, His Majesty was pleased, by an Order in Council of the 19th of July, in the year 1830, to order that the parish of St. Martin's, Birmingham, in the county of Warwick and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, should, under the provisions of the 16th section of the first above recited Act, be divided into two separate distinct parishes, and that the said parishes should be named respectively the parish of St. Martin and the parish of St. George; and the boundaries of the said parish of St. George were, in and by the said Order, defined, and a division was thereby made of the glebe land, tithes, moduses, and endowments belonging to the said parish, whereby seven acres, taken from nineteen acres of glebe land at Summer-hill (the same being one seventh part of the glebe land belonging to the said parish), and one twentieth part of the tithes, moduses, and endowments, such one twentieth part being within the said parish of St. George, were assigned to the said parish of St. George:

And whereas the said Commissioners have further represented to His Majesty, that the said parish of St. Martin, from which the said parish of St. George has been separated, contains a population amounting to 86,144 persons; that there were in the said parish (previous to the erection of the two chapels of St. Thomas and Nineveh hereinafter mentioned), the parish church and three chapels, which together afford accommodation to 5800 persons, of which 500 only are in free sittings; that the chapel of St. Thomas, which has been erected by His Majesty's said Commissioners, affords accommodation to 626 persons in pews, and 1423 persons in free seats appropriated to the use of the poor; and the chapel at Nineveh, which has also been erected by His Majesty's said Commissioners, affords accommodation to 506 persons in pews, and 668 persons in free seats appropriated to the use of the poor:

And whereas the said Commissioners have further represented to His Majesty that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient that the said parish should be divided into three distinct and separate parishes, under the 16th section of the said Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third; and that the said parishes should be named respectively the parish of St. Martin, the parish of St. Thomas, and the parish of All Saints; and that the said chapel called St. Thomas's Chapel should be the parish church of the said new parish of St. Thomas; and that the said chapel at Nineveh should be the parish church of the said new parish of All Saints:

That the boundaries of the said parish of St. Thomas should be as follows: the boundary commences at the toll-gate at the five ways on the turnpike road leading from Birmingham to Hayley, and proceeds thence in a north easterly direction down the centre of the said turnpike road along Islington Broad-street to the top of Suffolk-street; and thence in a south east direction down the centre of Suffolk-street, the Horsefair, and Bristol-street, to the termination of the parish of Birmingham, and there adjoining to the parish of Edgbaston; and thence branches out to the said street called Bristol-street in a westerly direction by the boundary separating the parishes of Birmingham and Edgbaston, to a certain bridge over the Worcester Canal, near to a public road called Wheely's-lane, and from the said bridge along that part of the road leading up Islington-row to the other turnpike-gate erected across the said road and in connection with the said gate at which the boundary of the said parish of St. Thomas begins, which lies within the parish of Birmingham; and the whole of the district intended to be assigned to the parish of St. Thomas, out of the said parish of St. Martin, in Birmingham aforesaid, is included in and more particularly described in the accompanying plan and coloured blue:

That the boundaries of the parish of All Saints shall be as follows: the boundary commences in the centre of the turnpike road leading from Birmingham to Dudley at the turnpike or toll-gate situate at the Sand Pits, and thence proceeds westward along the centre of the said turnpike road, including the north or right side thereof, to the termination of the parish of St. Martin, in Birmingham, near a place called the Cape of Good Hope, where the parish of Birmingham adjoins the boundary of the parish of Harborne; then northward along the boundary which separates the said parishes of Harborne and Birmingham to the parish of Handsworth; thence eastward along the boundary which separates the parishes of Handsworth and Birmingham, through a pool there called Great Hocklèy-pool to the Wolverhampton and Birmingham turnpike road at Hockley-bridge; and proceeding from the said bridge along the centre of the said turnpike road last mentioned in a south eastwardly direction to a place called the Trees at Hockley-bank, and there uniting with the district parish lately allotted or set out to St. George's church, including the right or west side of the said road; and from thence down the centre of the road leading from the Trees at Hockley-bank aforesaid to the Icknield-street-road, near Little Hockley-pool; thence along the centre of the said Icknield-street-road, and including the western side thereof to the said Birmingham and Dudley turnpike road at the said turnpike or toll-gate at the Sand Pits aforesaid, and where the said boundary commenced; and which said district is more particularly described in the plan thereunto annexed and therein coloured pink;

That the whole of the glebe land, with the ground rents and all other profits arising therefrom, and all the tithes, moduses, and endowments situate and arising within the said parishes of St. Thomas and All Saints, together with the rectory house, gardens, and appurtenances, now belonging to the said parish of St. Martin, should continue to belong to the said parish of St. Martin, and for ever hereafter be received and enjoyed by the Rector of the said parish of St. Martin and his successors; that one twentieth part of the glebe land, now belonging to the said parish of St. Martin, will accrue to the said parish of St. Thomas; and one eighth to the said parish of All Saints; that the above-mentioned one twentieth and one eighth parts of the glebe should be taken out of twelve acres of glebe land situate at Summer-hill, which now belong to the said parish of St. Martin; and that two acres thereof should belong to the said new parish of St. Thomas, and five acres to the said new parish of All Saints; that the proportion of the estimated amount of the value of the fees, oblations, offerings, and other ecclesiastical dues and profits which will accrue to the said parish of St. Thomas, will be three twenty-one parts of the whole, and that the proportion which will accrue to the parish of All Saints will be two twenty-one parts of the whole, and that the remaining sixteen twenty-one parts will remain with the parish of St. Martin:

That the consents of the Lord Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry, and of Richard Moseley, Thomas Walker and Elizabeth his wife, and William Moseley, the patrons of the said parish church of St. Martin, Birmingham, have been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act of the 58th year of His Majesty King George the Third, and in testimony of such approbation, the said Lord Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry, and the said Richard Moseley, Thomas Walker and Elizabeth his wife, and William Moseley, have set their hands and seals at the foot of the said instrument; and humbly praying that His Majesty would be graciously pleased to take the premises into His royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to His Majesty shall seem meet:

His Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed divisions be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

I Sir Henry Boynton, of Burton Agnes, in the county of York, Bart. an owner of lands, tenements, and hereditaments, situate at Winton cum Barnston and Barnston, in the parish of Barnston, in the east riding of the county of York, out of which certain sums of money, by way of corn rent in lieu of tithes, are now issuing, under or by virtue of an Act of Parliament passed for inclosing lands at Winton cum Barnston and Barnston aforesaid, and the award made in pursuance thereof, do hereby give notice, that I do intend, by writing, under my hand, to apply to the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace to be holden in and for the said east riding, on Monday the 13th day of October now next ensuing, to order and direct the Clerk of the Peace for the said riding, or his Deputy, to ascertain the average price of a Winchester bushel of good marketable wheat within the county of York, as returned in the London Gazette for the term of fourteen years last past, in order that such alteration may be made at the following Quarter Sessions in the amount of the said corn rent as the Court, in pursuance of the said Act may direct.

As witness my hand this 11th day of August 1834,

Henry Boynton.

Guildhall, London, August 5, 1834.

NOTICE is hereby given, that application is intended to be made to Parliament in the next session, for an Act for enlarging the market for the sale of live cattle now and heretofore held at Smithfield, in the parish of Saint Sepulchre, in the city of London; for purchasing such houses, build- ings and land, in the parish of Saint Sepulchre, partly in the city of London and partly in the county of Middlesex, and in the parish of Saint Bartholomew the Great, in the city of London, or in any of the liberties or precincts thereof, or extra-parochial places within or adjoining to the said parishes, or either of them as may be wanted for that purpose; and for the better regulation of the said market. In which Act it is intended to take power to raise part of the money required for effecting the aforesaid purposes upon the credit of an additional toll or tolls which by the said Act will be authorised to be received or levied upon all cattle, horses, sheep, calves, pigs, and other live animals; also upon all hay and straw, and all other articles brought into the said market for sale.

Edward Tyrrell, City Remembrancer.

CONTRACT FOR IRISH BEEF AND PORK.

Department of the Comptroller for Victualling and Transport Services, Somerset-Place, August 1, 1834.

THE Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, do hereby give notice, that on Thursday the 25th of September next, at one o'clock, they will be ready to treat with such persons as may be willing to contract for the supply of a quantity of

Irish Salt Meat, equal to 6,500 Navy Tierces of Beef, and 8,500 Navy Tierces of Pork, in separate tenders, all to be cured in the ensuing season; their Lordships reserving to themselves the power, when the tenders are opened, of contracting either for the whole or for such part thereof only as they may deem fit, or of not contracting for any part.

The said meat is to be delivered, seven eighth parts thereof in tierces, and the remaining one eighth part thereof in barrels, into His Majesty's Victualling Stores at Deptford, Portsmouth, Plymouth, and Cork, in such proportions as shall hereafter be directed - one half thereof by the 28th day of February, and the other half by the 31st day of May 1835, and to be paid for by bills payable at sight.

The conditions of the contract may be seen at this Office, or by applying to the Agent for the Victualling at Cork; or to the Collectors of His Majesty's Customs at Limerick, Belfast, Waterford, and Newry, or to the Secretary of the Postmaster-General at Dublin.

No tender for a less quantity than shall be equal to 300 tierces of beef, or to 300 tierces of pork, will be admitted; but all tenders for such small quantities will be accepted, if at a lower price than that for which larger quantities are offered.

No tender will be received after one o'clock on the day of treaty, nor any noticed unless the party attends, or some person on his behalf, duly authorised in writing; and it is to be expressly understood, that the tenders must contain a separate price for the beef and a separate price for the pork; and that every tender must also specify the prices both in figures and words at length, or the tenders will be rejected.

Every tender must be delivered at the above Office, and be accompanied by a letter addressed to the Secretary of the Admiralty, at Somerset-place, and signed by two responsible persons, engaging to become bound with the person tendering, in a sum equal to £25 per cent. on the amount of the contract, for the due performance of the same.

Admiralty, Somerset-Place,
August 9, 1834.

THE Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland do hereby give notice, that on Tuesday the 2d of September next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the Captain Superintendent will put up to sale, in His Majesty's Dock-yard at Plymouth, several lots of
