HALF-PAY AND RETIRED-PAY TO NAVAL OFFICERS AND OFFICERS OF THE ROYAL MARINES.

NOTICE is hereby given, that on the receipt in the Wages Department at the Admiralty-office, Somerset-place, of the affidavit or certificate of identity required from each Officer by His Majesty's Orders in Council, a bill for the amount of the half-pay or retired-pay due will be made out in this Department, which will be payable by the Treasurer of His Majesty's Navy, on the following days, viz.

On the 10th and 11th of October, to Masters, Surgeons, and Purser, and their Attorneys.

On the 13th, 14th, and 15th of October, to Lieutenants at 5s. a day and under, and their Attorneys.

On the 16th and 17th of October, to Lieutenants at 7s. and 6s. a day, and Chaplains, and their Attorneys.

On the 20th, 21st, and 22d of October, to Admirals, Lieutenant-Generals, Major-Generals, Colonels, Lieutenant-Colonels, Majors, Captains, Commanders, and Retired Commanders, and their Attorneys.

Great inconvenience having been experienced by the claims of Officers, who have not chosen to receive their half-pay or retired-pay on the days fixed for their rank, being brought forward on the days appointed for the payment of half-pay and retired-pay to Officers of different ranks; notice is hereby given, that no such claims can in future be attended to on the days not appointed for Officers of those ranks; but for the accommodation of such Officers, and also for the convenience of those who may not have transmitted their affidavits or certificates sufficiently early to admit of payment on the above-mentioned days, a recall will take place on the 24th and 25th of October.

After which the half-pay and retired-pay will be payable on the first and third Wednesday in every month, excepting during the general payment.

Officers residing in or near London, and wishing to receive their half-pay or retired-pay in person, are requested to deliver their affidavits or certificates into the Wages-office at the Admiralty, Somerset-house, or transmit them to the Secretary of the Admiralty, immediately on the expiration of each quarter; and those employing agents are also requested to furnish their agents with their affidavits or certificates, as promptly, for unless such documents are early delivered into this Office, delay in the payment must unavoidably ensue.

It sometimes happens that Officers apply personally for their half-pay or retired-pay, without having previously sent in their affidavits or certificates as required by the usual advertisement; any delay or inconvenience to which they might be subject by this oversight, it is in the power of the Officers themselves to prevent, by an adherence to the existing regulations.

Under the authority of the Statutes relating to the pay of the Navy, besides the above-mentioned modes, Officers may receive their half-pay or retired-pay in any of the following ways, viz.

- 1st. By drawing a bill for the amount, on a form to be transmitted from this Office
- 2d. By a remittance bill, or permanent remittance bill, payable to them at or in the neighbourhood of their residence, by the Collector of Customs or Excise.
- 3d. By extract or permanent remittance bill, at a Dock-yard, where there is an establishment of Pay Clerks.

If they wish to receive it by bill of exchange, they are to give notice thereof, by letter, to the Secretary of the Admiralty, marked, in the corner, "Half-pay, or Retired-pay, Accountant-General," and thereupon the proper form will be sent to them.

If they wish to have it remitted to them, they must give a like notice to the Secretary of the Admiralty, marked in the same manner, and a bill will thereupon be made out and transmitted to them.

In all cases, the Officer signifying his desire of payment is to state at the foot of his letter, his Christian and surnames, his rank, and a full description of his residence.

MEM.—Bills of exchange drawn under or by virtue of the Act of 11 Geo. 4, cap. 29, are not liable to the stamp duty.

No persons residing out of His Majesty's dominions are entitled to the privileges of this Act.

Church Commissioners' Office, September 22, 1834.

THE following is a copy of an Order of His Majesty in Council, assigning a consolidated district to the church of St. Thomas, Brampton, of parts of the parishes of Brampton and Chesterfield:

At the Court at St. James's, the 1st of August 1832, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his or their consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his or their hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain, and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if thereupon His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" And whereas by the said Act it is further enacted "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish or extra parochial place into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service; according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:" And whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;" after reciting, that "a considerable population is frequently collected together at the extremities of and locally situate in parishes, or extra parochial places, contiguous to each other, at a distance from the respective churches or chapels of such respective parishes or extra parochial places, it is enacted that it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners with such consent as is required by the said recited Act in the case of district parishes, to unite and consolidate any such contiguous parts of such parishes and extra parochial places into a separate and distinct district for all ecclesiastical purposes, and to cause such district to be named, ascertained, and marked out by described bounds, and such name and the description of such bounds, when approved of by His Majesty in Council, to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the Office of the Registry of the diocese to which such district shall belong under the provisions of this Act, and to make grants or loans for or towards the building of, or to build any chapel or chapels, with or without cemeteries, in and for the use of the inhabitants of any such district, in such manner and under such regulations as may in the judgment of the Commissioners appear from the circumstances to be most expedient; and to constitute any such district a consolidated chapelry, and every such chapelry shall be under the superintendence of such spiritual person, as shall be appointed under the provisions of this Act to serve any such chapel, and such spiritual person shall have cure of souls in such district; and the right of presentation and appointment of such spiritual person shall thenceforth belong to such person or persons, and be exercised in such manner as may be agreed by the several patrons of the churches or chapels of such parishes and extra parochial places respectively with the approbation of the Commissioners, and banns of marriage may be published, and marriages, christenings, church-

ings, and burials may be solemnized and performed in any such chapel immediately and at all times after the consecration thereof, and the pew rents in such chapel shall be fixed, and salaries to the minister and clerk assigned therefrom, in such manner as is directed in such recited Act, or in this Act concerning pew rents and salaries in separate or district parishes, and all fees and offerings which may arise and accrue within such chapelry according to such table of fees as the Commissioners shall make, with the approbation of the Bishop, may be demanded, received, sued for, prosecuted and recovered by the spiritual person having cure of souls therein, and by the clerk and sexton of such chapelries, in like manner as if every such chapelry was a distinct parish; and it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, and they are hereby required in every such case, to ascertain and make compensation in manner directed in like cases under the said recited Act, for any loss which may be sustained by the incumbent of any contiguous parish or extra parochial place, which shall form part of any such district by reason of any fees, oblations, and offerings being transferred to the spiritual person serving any such chapel; and all such chapelries shall be deemed to be benefices, and be subject to the jurisdiction of the Bishop and Archdeacon within whose diocese and archdeaconry, the altar of such chapel shall be locally situate, and to all the laws in force concerning presentation and appointment to benefices and churches, and lapse, and all other laws relating to the holding of benefices and churches, and by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the 1st and 2d years of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the 2d and 3d years of His said Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in Council, stating that in the year 1821, when the census was taken, the parish of Chesterfield, in the county of Derby and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, contained a population of 9,190 inhabitants, and the perpetual curacy of Brampton, in the same county and diocese, contained a population of 2,317 persons, which populations have since then respectively considerably increased; that the parish church of the said parish of Chesterfield, and two chapels in the same parish, afford accommodation for about 2,000 persons only; and the parish church of the said parish of Brampton affords accommodation for about 515 persons only; that your Majesty's said Commissioners have caused a new chapel to be erected at the extremity of, and situate in, the said parish of Brampton, which affords accommodation to 724 persons, including 380 free seats, appropriated to the use of the poor; that such chapel has not yet been consecrated; that, that part of the said parish of Chesterfield which lies contiguous to that part of the said parish of Brampton in which the said new chapel has been so erected and is delineated in the accompanying plan, is distant from the nearest point thereof from the said parish church of Chesterfield about half a mile, and from the furthest point about four miles and a half; and from one of the said chapels, in the same parish, from the nearest point thereof about two miles and a half, and from the farthest point thereof about six miles and a half; and from the other of the said chapels, in the same parish, from the nearest point thereof about three miles and a half, and from the farthest point thereof about seven miles and a half; and that the said part of the said parish of Brampton, also delineated on the accompanying plan, is distant from the said parish church of Brampton from the nearest point thereof about half a mile, and from the farthest point thereof about three miles; and that the said contiguous parts of the said parishes of Brampton and Chesterfield contain together a population of upwards of four thousand persons:

And the said Commissioners have represented to His Majesty, that having taken into consideration all the circumstances above mentioned, it appears to them to be expedient to unite and consolidate the said contiguous parts of the said parishes of Chesterfield and Brampton into a separate and distinct district, and to be assigned to the said new chapel for all ecclesiastical purposes, and to constitute such district a consolidated chapelry, under the 6th section of the said Act passed in the 59th year of the reign of His said late Majesty King George the Third, for the purpose of affording accommodation for attending divine service to the persons residing in the said district, and for enabling the spiritual person serving such chapel to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the said district attached to such chapel, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the moral habits of the persons residing therein; and that such district should be named the Consolidated Chapelry of Saint Thomas, Brampton, and that the boundaries thereof shall be as follows:

The boundary to commence at the southern extremity of the Pot-house-lane (which forms in part the eastern boundary of the township of Newbold), and thence to proceed westward along the middle of the high road from Chesterfield to the Griffin foundry, and including the north or right side thereof; then southward along and including the west side of the Boythorp-lane to where the parish of Brampton joins the township of Walton; then continuing along the boundary which separates the township of Walton and Hasland, to the point where the township of Walton joins the parish of Wingerworth; then westward along the boundary which separates the township of Walton from the parish of Wingerworth, to the point where the township of Walton joins the township of Beoley; then westward and northward along the boundary which separates the townships of Walton and Becley to the River Hipper, which divides the township of Walton from the parish of Brampton; then westward and north westward along the boundary which separates the parish of Brampton from the township of Becley to a certain building, called Harewood Cupola; thence, proceeding north eastward, along the middle, and including the south side of the high road from Becley to Holy-moor-side, to where the said road joins the Moor-edge road; then northward and north eastward along the middle and including the east side of the said road to where it meets a certain lane, called the Hall-cliff-lane; then proceeding eastward along the middle and including the south side of the Hall-cliff-lane, to where the said lane meets the new road from Baslow to Chesterfield; then continuing eastward along the middle, and including the south side of the said new road, to where it meets a lane, called the Westick-lane; then, proceeding in a north eastern direction, along the middle, and including the south eastern side of the Westick-lane, to where it meets a certain lane, leading from Broomfield to Ashgate, in the parish of Brampton; then proceeding eastward and north eastward along the middle, and including the south side of the said lane, to where it falls into the old road from Baslow to Chesterfield; thence proceeding westward along the middle of the said old road to where it meets a certain lane leading to Woodnock, in the parish of Brampton; then northward along the middle of the said lane to Woodnock; and thence eastward along the north fence of a certain field, in the occupation of Widow Cumlin, and called the Backside, to where the said fence joins the boundary of the parish of Brampton and the township of Newbold; then proceeding eastward and northward along the said boundary to where it meets the high way from Baslow to Chesterfield; thence continuing in a south eastward direction along the middle, and including the south side of the said high way, to where it crosses the boundary of the townships of Chesterfield and Newbold; then proceeding southward along the said boundary to the Pot-house-lane, and then along the middle of the said lane to the point in the high road from Chesterfield to the Griffin Foundry, where the boundary commenced; which district is more particularly described in the annexed plan, and therein coloured green, pink, and yellow:

That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act of the 59th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third; and humbly praying, that His Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into His royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto, as to His Majesty shall seem meet:

His Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed union and consolidation be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

THE following is a copy of an Order of His Majesty in Council, assigning a district, under the 16th section of the 59 Geo. 3, c. 134, to the chapel of St. John's, Paddington:

At the Court at St. James's, the 6th of November 1832, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is amongst other things enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his or their consent to make such division; and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his or their hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue and remain and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits, which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if thereupon His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and whereas by the said Act it is further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary, for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches and chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein; the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:" and whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the 1st and 2d year of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the 2d and 3d year of His said Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in Council, stating, that in the year 1831, when the last census was taken, the parish of Paddington, in the county of Middlesex, and diocese of London, contained a population of 14,540 persons; that there is besides the parish church only one consecrated chapel in the said parish, which was lately built by His Majesty's said Commissioners, and is called Saint John's chapel; that the parish church affords accommodation for 500 persons, of which 50 are free, and the said chapel for 1,500 persons, of which 533 are free, and divine service is regularly performed therein:

That the said Commissioners have further represented to His Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient that a particular district should be assigned to the said chapel, called St. John's chapel, under the provisions of the 16th section of an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His said Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be named Saint John's District, with boundaries as follows:

Saint John's district; the boundary to commence in the centre of the road, called the Edgware-road, where the parish of Paddington joins the parishes of Saint Mary-le-bone and Saint George's Hanover-square, Westminster, and to proceed northward along the centre of the said road as far as the street called Praed-street; thence to proceed westward to the east end of the basin of the Grand Junction canal, and along the south side of the basin to its junction with the canal; thence southward along the east side of the canal to the termination thereof; thence westward, in a straight line, running along the centre of a proposed road, to be called Bayswater-brook-road, as far as the brook called Bayswater-brook; thence southward along the east side of the said brook to the centre of the road, called the Uxbridge-road; and thence to return eastward along the centre of the Uxbridge-road to the south west corner of Saint George's Burial-ground; and thence round the outside of the said burial-ground re-entering the Uxbridge-road at the east end of Saint George's-terrace; thence to proceed eastward along the centre of the Uxbridge-road to the centre of the Edgware-road, where the parish of Paddington joins the parishes of Saint Mary-le-bone and Saint George, Hanover-square, Westminster, at which place the boundary commenced; the whole of which is more particularly described in the accompanying map of the parish of Paddington, and is surrounded with a red line:

That the consent of the Lord Bishop of London has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act passed in the 59th year of His Majesty King George the Third; and humbly praying that His Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into His Royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to His Majesty shall seem meet:

His Majesty, having taken the said representation into consideration, together with the map thereunto annexed, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed divisions be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
