THE following is a copy of an Order of His Majesty in Council, dividing the parish of Alfreton into ecclesiastical districts, under the 21st section of 58 Geo. 3, c. 45:

At the Court at St. James's, the 6th of May 1835, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is amongst other things enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his or their consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his or their hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of tithes, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits, which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if thereupon His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and whereas by the said Act it is further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary, for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels, to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein; the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:" and whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the 1st and 2d year of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th year of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the 2d and 3d year of His said Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'"

further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in Council, stating that, when the last census was taken, the parish of Alfreton, in the county of Derby and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, contained a population of 5691 persons; that the parish church affords accommodation for 566 persons; and that there is in the said parish, besides the parish church, one chapel built by your Majesty's said Commissioners, which affords accommodation for 928 persons, including 622 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor; that the said chapel has been consecrated and divine service is regularly performed therein:

And whereas the said Commissioners have further represented to His Majesty, that having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient, that the said parish should be divided into ecclesiastical districts, under the 21st section of the said Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third; and that one of the said districts should be assigned to the said new built chapel, called St. James's Chapel, at Riddings, in the said parish, for the purpose of affording accommodation for attending divine service to the persons residing in the said district, and for enabling the spiritual person serving such chapel, to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the district attached to such chapel, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the moral habits of the persons residing therein, and that such district should be named the Riddings District, with boundaries as follows:

The boundary to commence on the south-easterly side of the turnpike-road from Alfreton to Derby, on the border of Butterley-park, then proceeding on the south-easterly side of the said turnpike-road until it arrives at the middle of the village of Swanwick, where the four roads leading to Derby, Pentridge, Alfreton, and Somercotes meet; thence proceeding on the southerly side of the road to Somercotes, bounding the lawn adjoining the northerly side of the house of the Reverend John Wood, at Swanwick, and so forward, leaving the school-house at Swanwick, Delves, on the south, until it arrives at the three lane ends at Ley-brook; thence, leaving the road to Greenhill-lane, the boundary proceeds up the easterly side of Ley-brook-lane, passing on the same side of the said road until it reaches the turnpike-road leading from Alfreton to Nottingham; the boundary then crosses the turnpike road, including within the district the house of John Cartledge, and a few others; it then proceeds in a north-easterly direction until it passes Penny town, at present within the township of Alfreton, leaving Penny-town within the Riddings district; it then passes in a north-easterly direction until it joins the boundary of the parish of South Normanton, west of Muckram Noll; then it passes on the boundary of South Normanton parish until it arrives at the road from South Normanton to Birchwood; it then crosses the said road, and passes on the boundary of Pinston until it crosses the Pinston-canal, and then joins the boundary of the parish of Selston, in the county of Nottingham, following the course of the River Erewash unto the point where the said river enters the liberty of Codnor-park, in the county of Derby; thence it proceeds on the boundary of Codnor-park, including Iron-villa, to the north, until it reaches the road leading from Newlands-lane to Butterly, crossing the said road it passes on the boundary of Butterly-park until it arrives at the Alfreton and Derby turnpike-road, at which point the boundary commenced, as in the plan annexed to the said instrument of representation is particularly delineated:

That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act of the 58th year of His Majesty King George the Third; and, in testimony of such his approbation, the said Lord Bishop has put his signature and seal at the foot of the instrument of representation so made by the said Commissioners; and it is thereby humbly prayed, that His Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into His royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto, as to His Majesty's wisdom shall seem meet:

His Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as is hereby ordered, that the proposed division be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
