

cessary for the purposes therein specified, and that such regulations could not, without great inconvenience, be made, except by the respective governors, councils, and assemblies, or other local legislatures of the said respective colonies, or by His Majesty, with the advice of His Privy Council, in reference to those colonies to which the legislative authority of His Majesty in Council extends; and it is, therefore, by the said Act enacted and declared, that nothing in the said Act contained should extend, or be construed to extend, to prevent the enactment, by the respective governors, councils, and assemblies, or by such other local legislatures as therein mentioned, or by His Majesty, with the advice of His Privy Council, of any such Acts of General Assembly, or Ordinances, or Orders in Council, as might be requisite for making and establishing such several rules and regulations as aforesaid, or any of them, or for carrying the same, or any of them, into full and complete effect:

And whereas it is by the said Act further enacted, that no part of the said sum of twenty millions of pounds sterling should be applied or be applicable to the purposes therein aforesaid, for the benefit of any person entitled to the services of any slave in any of the colonies therein aforesaid, unless an Order should have been first made by His Majesty, with the advice of His Privy Council, declaring that adequate and satisfactory provision had been made by law in such colony for giving effect to the said Act, by such further and supplementary enactments as therein mentioned; nor unless a copy of such Order in Council, duly certified by one of the Clerks in Ordinary of His Majesty's Privy Council, should, by the Lord President of the Council, have been transmitted to the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, or to the Lord High Treasurer, for the time being, for their or his guidance or information; and every such Order should be published three several times in the London Gazette, and should be laid before both Houses of Parliament, within six weeks next after the date thereof, if Parliament should be then in session, and if not, within six weeks from the then next ensuing session of Parliament:

And whereas, in order to carry into effect the objects of the said recited Act, several Acts have been passed by the Governor, Council, and Assembly of the island of Barbadoes, intituled "An Act for the abolition of slavery, for the government of

"apprenticed labourers, and for ascertaining and enforcing the reciprocal duties between them and their employers;" and also "An Act for the temporary establishment of a rural police;" and also "An Act to repeal certain clauses of an Act, intituled 'An Act for the abolition of slavery, for the government of apprenticed labourers, and for ascertaining and enforcing the reciprocal duties between them and their employers,' and to substitute other clauses in the place of certain of such repealed clauses;" and also "An Act for continuing in force and amending an Act; intituled 'An Act for the temporary establishment of a rural police for this island:'"

And whereas it is considered by His Majesty in Council, that adequate and satisfactory provision hath been made by law in the said island of Barbadoes, by the said several Acts so passed in the said island, for giving effect to the said recited Acts of Parliament, according to the true intent and meaning of the said Act:

His Majesty is, therefore, pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to declare, and it is hereby declared, that adequate and satisfactory provision hath been made by law in the said island of Barbadoes, for giving effect to the said recited Act of Parliament, by such further and supplementary enactments as aforesaid:

And the Right Honourable the Marquess of Lansdowne, the President of His Majesty's Privy Council; and the Right Honourable Lord Glenelg, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Wm. L. Bathurst,

At the Court at St. James's, the 30th day of September 1835.

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

5th and 6th Wm. 4, c. 76, s. 140.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifth and sixtieth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to provide for the regulation of Municipal Corporations in England and Wales," it was,
