

tion and report from such barristers, definitively approve the division of such borough into wards in manner thereinbefore mentioned: and it is thereby further enacted, that the said barrister or barristers should, after the division of the borough into such number of wards as is directed by the said Act, apportion among the several wards of such borough the number of councillors mentioned, in conjunction with the name of such borough, in the said schedule: provided always, that the number of councillors assigned to each ward should be a number divisible by three, and a copy of the particulars of the number of councillors so assigned to the several wards of the borough should be forthwith transmitted to one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and (subject as aforesaid, to the approval of his Majesty, by the advice of His Privy Council) should be published in the London Gazette, and the number of councillors so assigned to each ward of such borough should, after such publication as aforesaid, be the number to be elected in such ward, and should so continue until the same should be altered by authority of Parliament; provided always, that if His Majesty, by the advice of His Privy Council, should not approve the number of councillors so assigned to each ward, such publication should nevertheless be made, and the number of councillors so assigned to each ward of such borough by such barrister should be the number to be elected in each ward at any election of councillors under the said Act, until such time as His Majesty should, by advice of His Privy Council, upon further information and report from such barristers, definitively approve such assignment in manner thereinbefore mentioned: and it was thereby further enacted, that it should be lawful for His Majesty (if he should think fit by the advice of His Privy Council) to order any days and times, before the first of February next, for doing the several matters required and authorised by the said Act to be done, in lieu of the several days and times for the present year thereinbefore specified, or any of them: and, in such case, all matters mentioned in such order should be done on and within such days and times as should be mentioned respectively in that behalf in such order, as if the days and times mentioned in such order had in every instance been mentioned in the said Act, instead of the days and times thereinbefore respectively mentioned in that behalf; and whereas, by an Order in Council, dated the thirtieth day of September last, His Majesty (by advice of His Privy Council) did order, that it should be lawful for the barrister or barristers, appointed in pursuance of the provisions in the said Act contained, to determine and set out the extent, limits, and boundary lines of the wards into which it is provided, by the said Act, that certain boroughs of large population should be divided, and what portions of such boroughs should be included therein respectively, within the space of sixty days next after the passing of the said Act, instead of the space of six weeks next after the passing of the said Act; And whereas Fletcher Raincock, Esq. and William Gray, Esq., the barristers appointed, in pursuance of the provisions of the said Act, to revise the burghers' and councillors' lists of the borough of York, in the present year (the said borough of York being one of the boroughs included in the said schedule), did, within sixty days next after the passing of the said Act, determine and set out the extent, limits, and boundary lines of the wards of the said borough, and what portions of the said borough shall be included therein respectively: and the said barristers, after the division of such borough into such number of wards as is directed by the said Act, and within the said period of sixty days, did apportion, among the several wards of such borough, the number of councillors mentioned, in conjunction with the name of such borough, in the said schedule: and the said barristers have duly transmitted a copy of the particulars of such division, and of the particulars of the number of councillors so assigned to the several wards of the said borough, to one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, in the words following, that is to say:

BOROUGH OF YORK.

York, 20th Oct. 1835.

“MY LORD,

“We, the undersigned Barristers at Law, having been appointed by the Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas to execute the duties required by the Municipal Corporation Act in the boroughs in the North Riding of Yorkshire, certify to your Lordship that we have visited York for that purpose, and having heard evidence upon the subject, have divided, the city into six wards, to consist of the several parishes and places mentioned in conjunction with the names of each ward, or of such parts of the same respectively as are situated within the municipal boundaries of the said city as in the annexed schedule: And we further certify to your Lordship that we have assigned to each of the said wards six councillors, and that in making the said division into wards, as well as in assigning the number of councillors to each ward, we have, to the best of our judgment, had regard as well to the number of persons rated to the relief of the poor in each ward as to the aggregate amount of the sums assessed.

We are, my Lords,

Your Lordship's humble servants,

(Signed) Fletcher Raincock.
William Gray.”

“To the Right Honourable The Secretary of State for the Home Department.”
