At the Court at Brighton, the 4th day of December 1835,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the sixth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act

" to provide for the regulation of municipal corporations in England and Wales," which received the Royal assent on the ninth of September last, after reciting that it was expedient that certain boroughs of large population should be divided into wards, before any election of councillors for such boroughs should take place, it was, among other things, enacted, that every borough in the schedule (A.) to the said Act annexed, should be divided into the number of wards mentioned in such schedule, in conjunction with the name of such borough; and that it should be lawful for the barrister or barristers, appointed in pursuance of the provisions therein before contained, to revise the burgess and councillors' lists of any borough in the present year, and he and they was and were thereby required, within the space of six weeks next after the passing of the said Act, to determine and set out the extent, limits, and boundary lines of such wards, and what portions of such boroughs should be included therein respectively, and the copy of the particulars of such division should be forthwith transmitted to one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and (if His Majesty, by the advice of His Privy Council, should approve such determination) should be published in the London Gazette, and every such borough should, after such publication as aforesaid, be deemed to be divided into such wards as should be so determined and set out as aforesaid, and such division should continue and be in force until the same should be altered by authority of Parliament: and it is thereby further enacted, that the said barrister or barristers should, after the division of the borough into such number of wards as is directed by the said Act, apportion among the several wards of such borough the number of councillors mentioned, in conjunction with the name of such borough, in the said schedule: provided always, that the number of councillors assigned to each ward should be a number divisible by three, and a copy of the particulars of the number of councillors so assigned to the several wards of the borough should be forthwith transmitted to one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and (subject as aforesaid to the approval of His Majesty, by the advice of His Privy Council) should be published in the London Gazette, and the number of councillors so assigned to each ward of such borough should, after such publication as aforesaid, be the number to be elected in such ward, and should so continue until the same should be altered by authority of Parliament: and it was thereby further enacted, that it should be lawful for His Majesty (if he should think fit, by the advice of His Privy Council) to order any days and times, before the first of February next, for doing the several matters required and authorised by the said Act to be done, in lieu of the several days and times for the present year therein before specified, or any of them: and, in such case, all matters mentioned in such order should be done on and within such days and times as should be mentioned respectively on that behalf in such order, as if the days and times mentioned in such order had in every instance been mentioned in the said Act, instead of the days and times therein before respectively mentioned in that behalf: and whereas, by an Order in Council, dated the thirtieth day of September last, His Majesty (by advice of His Privy Council) did order, that it should be lawful for the barrister or barristers appointed, in pursuance of the provisions in the said Act contained, to determine and set out the extent, limits, and boundary lines of the wards into which it is provided, by the said Act, that certain boroughs of large population should be divided, and what portions of such boroughs should be included therein respectively, within the space of sixty days next after the passing of the said Act, instead of the space of six weeks next after the passing of the said Act: and whereas, John Boscawen Monro, Esq. and Frederic Gunning, Esq. the barristers appointed, in pursuance of the provisions of the said Act, to revise the burgess and councillors' lists of the borough of King's Lynn, in the present year (the said borough of King's Lynn being one of the boroughs included in the said schedule), did, within sixty days next after the passing of the said Act, in due manner, determine and set out the extent, limits, and boundary lines of the wards of the said borough, according to the provisions of the said Act, and what portions of the said borough shall be included therein respectively: and the said barristers, after the division of such borough into such number of wards as is directed by the said Act, and within the said period of sixty days, did, in due manner, apportion among the several wards of such borough the number of councillors mentioned, in conjunction with the name of such borough, in the said schedule: and the said barristers have duly transmitted a copy of the particulars of such division, and of the particulars of the number of councillors so assigned to the several wards of the said borough, to one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, in the words following, that is to say:

" We the undersigned, John Boscawen Monro, and Frederic Gunning, being the barristers appointed, in pursuance of the provisions contained in an Act of Parliament, passed in the present year of the reign of His Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled " An Act to provide for the regulation of municipal corporations in England and Wales," to revise the burgess list of the borough of King's Lynn, in the county of Norfolk, do hereby determine and set out the extent, limits, and boundary lines of the three wards, into which the said borough is, under the said Act, to be divided, and what portions of the said borough shall be included in each of such wards, in manner hereinafter mentioned, that is to say; we do hereby determine, that the boundary line of one of the said three wards shall commence at the westernmost extremity of the said borough, opposite the centre of the Purfleet-fleet, and shall thence proceed, in a northern direction, along the outer boundary line of the said borough till it comes round to a point on the eastern side of the said borough, opposite to the centre of Littleport-street, and shall proceed thence westward along the centre of Littleport and Norfolk-streets to a point in the centre of High-street, opposite the centre of Norfolk-street; thence southward along the centre of High-street to a point opposite the southern side of Purfleet-street, then westward to the western side of the house No. 97, High-street; then in a southerly direction, past the said house, and immediately at the back of the premises known as No. 98, High-street to the centre of the Purfleet-fleet; thence westward along the centre of Purfleet-fleet to the point at the westernmost extremity of the said borough first described. And we hereby further determine, that so much of the said borough as is comprised within the boundary line we have herein-before set out, being the wards within the said borough hitherto and now called North-end Ward, Kettlewell Ward, Jew's-lane Ward, and Chequer Ward, shall be included in, and form the first or northern of the three wards into which the said borough is, by the said Act, directed to be divided; and we do further determine, that the boundary line of another of the three wards into which the said borough is, by the said Act, directed to be divided, shall commence at the point herein first described at the westernmost extremity of the said borough, opposite the centre of the Purfleet-fleet, and shall proceed thence eastward, along the centre of the said Purfleet-fleet to the said premises known as No. 98, High-street; thence in a northern direction, immediately at the back of the same premises, and by the western side of the said house, No. 97, in the High-street to the southern side of Purfleet-street; thence eastward to the point herein-before mentioned in the centre of High-street, opposite the south side of Purfleet-street; thence northward along the centre of High-street to the point before mentioned, opposite the centre of Norfolk-street; thence eastward along the centre of Norfolk and Littleport-streets to the eastern extremity of the said borough, next Gaywood; thence southward along the outer boundary line of the said borough to a point opposite the centre of the New-walk on the east; thence westward along the centre of the said walk to a point in the centre of the London-road, opposite the centre of the said walk on the west; thence northward along the centre of the said London-road to a point opposite the centre of Saint James-street; thence westward along the centre of Saint James-street, and across the Saturday-market, to a point opposite the centre of College-lane; thence westward along the centre of the said lane to the western extremity of the said borough next West Lynn, and thence northwards along the boundary line of the said borough to the point at the westernmost extremity of the said borough opposite the centre of the Purfleet-fleet, first described; and we do hereby further determine, that so much of the said borough as is comprised within the boundary line we have lastly herein-before set out, being the wards within the said borough hitherto, and now called Paradise Ward, New-conduit Ward, Trinity-hall Ward, and Sedgford-lane Ward, shall be included in and form the second or middle ward of the three wards into which the said borough is, by the said Act, directed to be divided; and we do hereby further determine, that the boundary line of the third of the three wards into which the said borough is, by the said Act, directed to be divided, shall commence at the westernmost extremity of the said borough, opposite the centre of College-lane, and shall thence proceed eastward to and along the centre of the said lane, and across the Saturday-market, and along the centre of Saint James-street into and to the centre of the London-road; thence southward to the point before mentioned, opposite the centre of the New-walk on the west; thence eastward along the centre of the said walk to the eastern extremity of the said borough, next Graywood, and thence along the boundary line of the parish of South Lynn, or All Saints, Southgate, and the outer boundary line of the said borough, till it reaches the point at the westernmost extremity of the said borough, opposite College-lane, herein-before mentioned; and we do hereby determine, that so much of the said borough as is comprised within the boundary line lastly herein-before set out, being the wards within the said borough hitherto and now called Stonegate Ward and South Lynn, or South Lynn Ward, or Southgate All Saints; and also all such lands in any other parish which are surrounded by the contents of the parish of South Lynn, or Southgate All Saints, and which, under an Act of Parliament, passed in the third year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to settle and describe the division of counties and the limits of cities and boroughs in England and Wales, in so far as respects the election of members to serve in Parliament," are considered as included within the said borough, for the purpose of the election of members to serve in Parliament, shall henceforth be included in, and form the third or southern of, the three wards into which the said borough is, by the Act herein-before firstly mentioned, directed to be divided.—As witness our hands this 31st day of October 1835.

(Signed)

*J. B. Monro.
F. Gunning.*

Whereas we, the undersigned, John Boscawen Monro and Frederick Gunning, being the barristers appointed, in pursuance of the provisions contained in an Act of Parliament, passed in the present year of the reign of His Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to provide for the regulation of municipal corporations in England and Wales," to revise the Burgess list of the borough of King's Lynn, in the county of Norfolk, have divided the said borough into three wards, as is directed by the said Act. Now, we having regard, as far as in our judgment we deem it to be practicable, as well to the number of persons rated to the relief of the poor in each of such three wards, as to the aggregate amount of the sums at which all the said persons are so rated, do hereby apportion the number of councillors mentioned, in conjunction with the name of the said borough, in the schedule (A.) to the said Act annexed, being eighteen, in manner following, that is to say;—we hereby assign six councillors to each of the said three wards. Witness our hands this 31st day of October 1835.

(Signed)

*J. B. Monro.
F. Gunning.*

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by advice of His Privy Council, doth hereby approve of such determination of the said barristers, and of the number of councillors so assigned to each ward of the said borough, and doth order the same to be published in the London Gazette accordingly.
