VICE-CHANCELLOR.—Thursday the 9th day of June, in the sixth year of the reign of His Majesty King William the Fourth, 1836, between Richard Dawkins, Plaintiff; William Overend, Defendant.

FORASMUCH as this Court was this present day informed by Mr. Wellecock, of Counsel for the plaintiff, that it appears by the affidavit of William Spinks, that on the 23d day of March last, he personally served the defendant with a true copy of a subpoena, issued out of this Court, to appear and answer in the suit; and that in consequence of the defendant not having entered an appearance, the deponent caused a writ of attachment to be sued out against him for such contempt, and delivered the same to William Willis, an Officer of the Sheriff of Middlesex; that it appears, by the affidavit of the said William Willis, that he did, on the 6th day of April last, receive the said writ of attachment, and that he did call at No. 35, Cambridge-Street, Hackney-Road, in the County of Middlesex, where the deponent ascertained the defendant usually resided, and that he, the deponent, although he discovered that some person was in the house, was unable to gain admittance or any answer whatever, although he repeatedly knocked at the door and remained a considerable time; that the deponent afterwards called on several persons in the neighbourhood and made many enquiries about the defendant, and endeavoured to ascertain when and where he was likely to be met with, but all the information he could obtain was that the defendant usually resided at No. 35, Cambridge-Street aforesaid, but that they had not then seen him for some time, and the deponent verily believes, from the information he obtained respecting the defendant, that he keeps out of the way to avoid being taken upon an attachment in this cause.—Whereupon, and upon hearing the said affidavits read, it is ordered, that the defendant do appear to the said bill, on or before the 2d day of July next.
