Milan, fune 28.

TWo thoufand men are raifing in this Country for the Service of the Republick of Genous; and a Levy is making at the fame time of 2000 Swiffers. We are told from Turin, that they have advice from Lyon that 8000 Foor and 2000 Horle were ordered for Catalonia, to reinforce the Army commanded by the Marefchal de Belfonds.
Genour, fune 26. On Sunday laft the Senate received an aniwer to the Letter they had written to the King of Spain upon the prefenc juncture of Affairs; And we are told that his Catholick Majefly does allure them that he will affift them with all his Forces, and that he hath fent orders to $C_{a-}$ diz and other Ports of Spain, to fit out a coufiderable Squadron of Men of War. By a Felucca arrived here from the Couft of Catalonis, we have advice that the French Fleet commanded by Mionpheur du Quefne was in the Bay of Rofes; and that the Freach Army was encamped near the Sea fide not far from that place which it's believed they intend to befiege. The Senate have given out Commiffions to raife men, and we are told they have refolved to encreafe the number of their Galleys to 3.5, and to give the command of themto Don Am. trofor Imperiale.
Venice, fuly r. According to our latt advices from Lefline, General Morofni was ftill there, the Soldiers he was to take on board not being ready to embark; but they would be in two or three days. The Sieur Cornayo and the Sieur Molino arr in the mean time failed for the Levant with the Ships and Galleys under cheir command, fo that we may expect in a thert time to have an account of fome action from them. The Poprs Galleys and phofe of Maltba are at Me/fina, from whence they will not depart till the 15 th of this monthe to joyn with General Morgini at Corfu. We have adr vice from Dalmatia, that the Proveditor General Mocenigo was drawing his Troops together in order to attack $C$ lin; and that in the mean time the Morlaques contil ue to fpoil the Turkilh Territories with their Incurfions. The Prince of Parma General of the Foot in the Service of this State is at Verona, having almolt compleated the Levy of 3000 Foot, which he hath undertaken to raife for the Republick. The Dulse of Mintua is now here.
Lixtz, July 9. Yefterday arrived here an Officer, who came Poll fiom Hungary, being fent by the Duke of Lorrain to actuaint rine Emperor that the Imperial Army having, after the defeat of the Turks near Vaccia, advanced with great diligence to $\bar{P}^{\prime} e j$ t, and begun to bitter the place as wel! with their Cannon as Bombes, the Turks in great fiar and diforder retired with the beit of their Goods to Buda, having fet fire to a great many Houfes, as like wife to the B!idge to hinder the Chriflians from following them; but thefe entring immediately extinguifhed the Fire, and without the lofs of a min became Ma-fters of a place, which had the Enemy had Cousrage to defend $i t$, might have colt both time and men. And that the Duke of Larrain having given the neceffary orders for the putting this important Poft into a pollure of defence, marched with the Army to pais the Danube over a Bridge of Boats near the llle of St. Andrew, in order to befiege Buda. What was faid of Count Lefly's having burnt the Bridge of $E / f i c k$ is not confirmed.

Francfors, fuly 7. The Lecters we had by the Iaft Polt, from Fienna, Lintz, and feveral other places, give us an account of the defeat of 25000「urks near Vacciap of which 3000 were killed, and t 500 Janifariss taken Prifoners, with feven Pieces of Cannon: That the Vifer of Buda and two or three Baffa's were among the flain. That the Imperialifts in the heat of this Action attacked Kaccia, and made themfelves Malters of it, the Turks yielding themëlves Prifoners; and that the Duke of Lorrain, ta purfue this fuccefs, was marching towards $P e f t$, and had, fent orders to Count $V_{f f o b i}$ to adyance thither with his litrle Fleet of Gallys and other Veffels, to hurn the Bridge between $P_{e} \rho$ and Buda, thereby to cut of the communication between thefe Places. We are told that the Emperor has written to the Elepctors and Princes of the Empirf, concerning the Trpce with France, which his Imperial Majelty feems yery much enclined to, that he may turn his whole Force againft the Turks.
Raturbonne, fuly 1o: The Electoral Colledge having long fince accepted the Truce propofed by the moft Chriftian King, the Colledge of the Princes have now likewife accepted it, upon condition it be General.

Famburgh, Fuly II. . Two. Companies of the Elector of Brandeuburgb's Troops, are, we are informed, entred into Domitz, according to whit hath been agreed gn between his Electoral Highnefs and the Princes of 'Lunenburg. They write from Gluck $\beta$ zdr that two Danilh Men of War which have on board a more than ordinary number of Soldi.rs, fail d from thence the lalt week for Hey ligblant, with defign, as is believed, to land upoq that Illand. The King of Denmark continues at Itzeboe, whither the Magiffrates of this City fent feveral Deputies to complemefnt his Majeliy upon his firft arrival there. The Letters from Poland tell us, that their King was not yet gone from Fawarow to the Arayy ; and that the Marquis de Ber tbune arrived there the $13^{\text {th }}$ of the laft month from France.

Cologne, fuly II.
