At the Court at St. James's, March 17, 1837.

A CHAPTER of the Most Noble Order of the Garter having been summoned for this day, the following Knights Companions, in their mantles and collars, assembled in the Entrée-room; viz.: the Marquess Camden, the Duke of Rutland, the Duke of Wellington, the Duke of Dorset, the Marquess of Exeter, the Duke of Richmond, Earl Grey, the Duke of Norfolk, the Duke of Grafton, the Duke of Buccleuch, and the Marquess of Lansdowne, attended by the under-named Officers of the Order, viz. the Lord Bishop of Winchester, Prelate of the Order; the Lord Bishop of Oxford, Chancellor of the Order; the Honourable and Reverend the Dean of Windsor, Register of the Order; Sir William Woods, Knt. (Clarenceux King of Arms); Deputy to Sir Ralph Bigland, Knt. Garter Principal King of Arms; and Sir Augustus-William-James Clifford, Knt. Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod.

At two o'clock, the Knights Companions were called over by Deputy Garter, and, with the Officers of the Order, proceeded into the presence of the Sovereign, in the Royal Closet; the Chancellor of the Order going no further than the door, his Lordship not having been sworn.

The Sovereign, being seated in the chair of state, the Knights Companions, by His Majesty's command, took their respective seats at the table, the Prelate standing on the right hand of His Majesty, the Register, Deputy Garter, and Black Rod at the bottom of the table.

The Register then announced to the Sovereign, that the Honourable and Right Reverend Dr. Richard Bagot, Lord Bishop of Oxford, attended at the door, and humbly prayed to be admitted to take the oath of office as Chancellor of this Most Noble Order. By his Majesty's command, the Chancellor, in his mantle over his episcopal habit, was then introduced between Deputy Garter and Black Rod (Deputy Garter carrying, on a crimson velvet cushion, the purse, gold chain, and badge); the Lord Bishop kneeling on the left hand of the Sovereign, the oath was administered to him by the Register. His Lordship was then invested by the Sovereign with the gold chain and badge, and having received from His Majesty the purse, had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, and withdrew to his place on the left hand of His Majesty.

The Chancellor then signified to the Chapter, the Sovereign's royal will and pleasure, that the vacant stall in the Royal Chapel of St. George at Windsor be filled; and as by the statutes no other but a Knight can be elected, the Earl of Carlisle was introduced by Deputy Garter and Black Rod, and knighted by His Majesty with the sword of state, after which his Lordship, having kissed the Sovereign's hand, retired.

The Knights Companions then proceeded to the election, and the suffrages having been collected by the Chancellor, were by his Lordship presented to the Sovereign, who was pleased to command him to declare, and he accordingly declared, that the Right Honourable George Earl of Carlisle had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

Then, by the Sovereign's command, the Earl of Carlisle was received at the door of the Chapter-room by the Duke of Buccleuch and the Marquess of Lansdowne, the two junior Knights Companions present, and conducted between them to His Majesty, preceded by Deputy Garter (bearing the ensigns of the Order upon a crimson velvet cushion) and by Black Rod. The Earl of Carlisle, kneeling near the right hand of the Sovereign, and Deputy Garter presenting on his knees the Garter, His Majesty, assisted by the Marquess Camden and the Duke of Rutland, the two senior Knights Companions present, buckled it on his Lordship's left leg, the Chancellor pronouncing the usual admonition.

Deputy Garter next presented, in like manner, the ribband with the George, and His Majesty, with the assistance of the aforesaid two Knights Companions, put the same over the Earl of Carlisle's left shoulder, the Chancellor pronouncing the admonition; after which the Earl had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, and received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions.

The Chapter being ended, the Knights Companions were, by command of the Sovereign, again called over by Deputy Garter, and, with the Officers of the Order, retired from the royal presence, with the usual reverences.

At the Court at St. James's, March 17, 1837.

Lot 2. Also all those two respectable stone fronted and substantially built dwelling-houses, adjoining the last lot, and situate in Leicester-street aforesaid, each containing two cellars, two low rooms, and three lodging rooms, replete with cupboards and tenants' fixtures, with the warehouse and workshops thereto adjoining, consisting of seven hearths' cutting shops, and other useful rooms, and forming the residences and file manufactory of Messrs. Thomas and Joseph Stevenson, the tenants thereof, but are very eligible and well adapted for a manufacturer in any of the Sheffield trades, are plentifully supplied with water, and the ground plot thereof is part of the plot of ground which was demised to the said John Teasdale and George Atkinson Swales by a certain indenture of lease, dated on or about the 25th day of September 1835, for the term of ninety-nine years, at a low ground rent.

Lot 3 is also a very compact lot, consisting of twenty-two very superior tradesmen's dwelling-houses, situate in Leicester-street aforesaid, adjoining lot 2, substantially built, and neatly fitted up with convenient and suitable fixtures, with the spacious yard, all of which dwelling-houses are supplied with water, and let to William Moor, John Stacey, William Wragg, William Bagshaw, and other respectable tenants, producing a rental of £141 5s. and the site or plot of ground thereof is the other part of the plot of ground demised in the said indenture of lease mentioned in lot 2, for the term of ninety-nine years, at a low ground rent.

Lot 4. All that beer-house, known by the sign of the Harp, (for business) desirably situate in Moorpett street and Hoyle-street, in Sheffield aforesaid, in the occupation of James Bradbury; also five other dwelling-houses adjoining thereto, and two of which are double houses; likewise the foundation of two other dwelling-houses fronting to Hoyle-street, the site of which, with the spacious yards thereto, contains a ground plot of 350 superficial square yards, and are held under an indenture of lease, dated the 31st day of January 1835, and made between Henry Clarke of the one part, and John Sykes of the other part, for the term of 487 years, at a moderate ground rent, and which dwelling-houses (now finished) produce a rental of £47 8s.

Lot 5. That substantially brick-built public house, and grocer's shop, known by the sign of the Union Tavern, most eligibly and advantageously situate at the corner of Chester-street, fronting also to Eldon-street, containing two low rooms, two cellars, and four lodging rooms, being most admirably adapted for public business, on account of the very populous and improving neighbourhood; likewise, adjoining and near thereto, five other substantially and newly erected dwelling-houses, each containing two cellars, one house-room, a parlour, and three lodging-rooms, all neatly finished and fitted up with requisite fixtures, and plentifully supplied with water, as the same are in the possession of William Smith, John Blakely, and others, as tenants thereof, and producing a rental of £58 13s. 3d., containing, with the yard, a ground plot of 269 superficial square yards, and demised to the said John Teasdale and George Atkinson Swales, by a certain indenture of lease, dated the 2d day of October 1834, for the term of ninety-nine years, paying a low rent of £3 15s. 2d.

Lot 6 consists of a plot of ground situate in Eldon-street, in Sheffield aforesaid, opposite to lot 5, containing a ground plot of 737 superficial square yards, and demised by a certain other indenture of lease, dated the 2d day of July 1835, for the term of ninety-nine years, at the low ground-rent of £9 14s. 2d.; and also all those expensive stone foundations erected on the said plot of ground, intended for eighteen double and single dwelling-houses; and which are with great judgment arranged and calculated, and are well situate for retail shops; and this plot of ground is of great importance to builders.

The rentals from the tenants of the above estates, as above quoted, are very low, and the estates are in some of the best situations in Sheffield for commanding respectable tenants; and for investment of capital to produce a great rate of interest, it seldom occurs that estates so calculated for prudent investment are offered for public competition.

1. The first step in the process of identifying a problem is to define the problem. This involves identifying the symptoms of the problem and determining the scope of the problem. Once the problem has been defined, the next step is to identify the causes of the problem. This involves identifying the factors that are contributing to the problem and determining the underlying causes. Once the causes have been identified, the next step is to develop a plan of action. This involves identifying the steps that need to be taken to solve the problem and determining the resources that will be needed to implement the plan. Finally, the last step in the process is to implement the plan and monitor the results. This involves putting the plan into action and tracking the progress of the solution. Once the problem has been solved, the final step is to evaluate the results and determine if the solution was effective. This involves comparing the results of the solution to the original problem and determining if the problem has been solved. If the problem has not been solved, the process may need to be repeated.
