Marseilles, July 14.

BY a Vessel arrived from Leghorne we have advice, that the Chevalier de Tourville arrived there the third Instant with four French Men of War, four Gallies, and three Armed Barks, under his command, and that having taken in Water, he would go and Cruise off of Genouz. The Militia of Provence is in Arms to secure the Coasts against any attempt of the Spanish and Genoese Gallies, which are abroad.

Venice, July 15. On Saturday last the Count de la Torre, the Imperial Ambassador, had an Audience of the Colledge to give them an account of the Victory which the Duke of Lorrain obtained upon the Turks the 27th of the last Month near Vaccia, and of his having taken that place on discretion; and the next day Te Deum was sung in the Church of St. Mark. The Count de Porto raises a Regiment of Cuirassiers to serve in Dalmatia, and will in a short time have it compleat. We have Letters from Constantinople which tell us, that the approach of the Venetian Fleet filled that City with fear and consternation, the Turks not being in a posture to oppose their designs. From Corfu we have advice that General Morofini having taken on board several Troops in Dalmatia, was sailed for the Levant to joyn the Siquir Molino; So that we may now expect to hear in a short time of their having undertaken some great Enterprize. The Senate have hired two great Ships, which will make very stout Men of War; and a great many Vessels are lading with Ammunition and Provisions for the supply of the Fleet.

Vienna, July 17. By an Express that passed through this place, we have an account that the Imperial Army had repassed the Danube and was advanced to Buda, the Turks that were posted near that place, having upon the approach of the Christians abandoned their Quarters, and retiring in great confusion. The Count de Vecchi will part from hence in few days with the rest of the Gallies and Brigantins; and the Count de Thaun has received orders to march immediately with his Regiment, which is now in Garrison here, to joyn the Imperial Army; And it's reported that General Leslie is marching towards the Duke of Lorrain with the Troops under his command. The Prince de Croy, General of the Artillery, arrived here the 15th Instant, and will part again to morrow to continue his journey for Hungary. Count Teckelej begins to be abandoned even by those he had greatest confidence in; and what adds to his trouble, is, that he cannot obtain any assistance from the Turks.

Lintz, July 19. Yesterday arrived here an Express from Hungary, who brought an account that the Imperial Army had passed the Danube near Vaccia, and having forced the Turks from the several Camps they had on this side Buda, they advanced to that City, and besieged it, being when this Express came away, Masters of the Lower Town, and lodged in the Ditch of the Upper Town, against which they had raised several Batteries; It is added that 600 Dalmatians, who were in the Turkish Army, had deserted them, and taken Service among the Christians. And from Hun- gary they write that the Baron de Sapostark had surprized the strong Castle of Monatz, having intelligence with the Officer that commanded there, And that he had taken Prisoner the Princess Ragoszt, Wife to Count Teckelej, with their Children and their whole Treasure, which is valued at 13 Millions; It is likewise reported that the Imperialists have defeated Count Teckelej's Troops that besieged the Castle of Ungwar, but both these advices will need a Confirmation. The Elector of Bavaria is expected here very suddenly, and we are assured that his Electoral Highness will send part of his Troops for Hungary.

Hamburg, July 21. The King of Denmark hath withdrawn his Troops out of the Dutchies of Mecklenbourg and Saxe Lawenbourg, having received satisfaction concerning the Quarters which were formerly assigned his Majesty upon those Countries by the Emp. ror.

Brussels, July 28. On Wednesday last Monsieur de Breteil, Intendant of the French Army, came hither, and being conducted to Court, was very kindly received by the Marquis de Grana, and yesterday his Excellency entertained him at Dinner, and this morning he parted again from hence; He came not, as is said, upon any publick business, but took the opportunity of this Cessation to make his Excellency a visit. The Marechal de Schomberg is encamped with part of the Army that was at Leffines, at Chastelet near Charleroy; Monsieur de la Trousse is with the Troops under his command on the side of Nivelle; and Monsieur de Boufflers near Chievre in the Province of Hainault. The Spanish Troops in the mean time continue in the Neighborhood of this City, though they suffer very much for want of Forage: A reform of 40 Troops of Horse is much spoken of, but not yet put in execution. They write from Liege that part of Monsieur de Crequi's Army is come into the Province of Limburg to take there Quarters of refreshment, and that they have with them Horses for a Train of Artillery though they have no Train, but many Wagons with Ammunition and Fireworks; and it is believed these Troops will joyn with those of the Elector of Cologne, which increase daily: On the 25th Instant, being St. James's day, the Burgers of Liege chose their new Burghermasters, the Election having been carried on very peaceably, and pursuant to the orders of their Prince. The Letters from Lintz confirm the account we gave you in our last of the Duke of Lorrain's being advanced to Buda after having forced the Turks from their several Camps; and we hope our next Letters will tell us that Buda is taken.

Hague, July 28. The States General being informed that six Dutch Merchant Ships, which were bound for Thoulon, have been taken by the Spaniards and carried into Cadiz, they have sent orders to their Ambassador at Madrid to make Complaint thereof, and to demand reparation, seeing the said Ships were laden with Goods and Merchandizes, which according to the Treaty of Commerce concluded between the Crown of Spain and this State in the year 1650, ought to pass free and unmolested: And have likewise directed their Deputies for Maritime affairs to make a like representation to the Marquis de Cassel Moncayo, the Spanish Minister here.
