AT the Court at St. James's, the 21st day of June 1837,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, intituled "An Act for carrying into effect the reports of the Commissioners appointed to consider the state of the Established Church in England and Wales, with reference to ecclesiastical duties and revenues, so far as they relate to episcopal dioceses, revenues, and patronage," reciting, amongst other things, that

His late Majesty was pleased, on the fourth day of February, and on the sixth day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, to issue two several commissions to certain persons therein respectively named; directing them to consider the state of the several dioceses in England and Wales, with reference to the amount of their revenues, and the more equal distribution of episcopal duties, and the prevention of the necessity of attaching, by commendam, to bishoprics, benefices with cure of souls; and to consider also the state of the several cathedral and collegiate churches in England and Wales, with a view to the suggestion of such measures as might render them conducive to the efficiency of the Established Church, and to devise the best mode of providing for the cure of souls, with special reference to the residence of the clergy on their respective benefices; and reciting, that the said Commissioners had, in pursuance of such directions, made four several reports to His late Majesty, bearing date respectively the seventeenth day of March one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, the fourth day of March, the twentieth day of May, and the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six; and reciting, that the said Commissioners had in their said reports, amongst other things, recommended that commissioners should be appointed by Parliament for the purpose of preparing and laying before His Majesty in Council, such schemes as should appear to them to be best adapted for carrying into effect, amongst others, the following recommendation; and that His Majesty in Council should be empowered to make Orders ratifying such schemes and having the full force of law; and that out of the property of the see of Durham provision be forthwith made for the completion of those augmentations of poor benefices which the late bishop (meaning thereby the late Right Reverend William Van Mildert) had agreed to grant, but which he left uncompleted at the time of his death:

It is, amongst other things, enacted, that the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury for the time being, the Lord Archbishop of York, and the Lord Bishop of London for the time being, John Lord Bishop of Lincoln, James Henry Lord Bishop of Gloucester, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, the Lord President of the Council, the Lord High Treasurer or the First Lord of the Treasury, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer for the time being respectively, and such

one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State as shall be for that purpose nominated by His Majesty under His royal sign manual (such Lord Chancellor, Lord President, Lord High Treasurer or First Lord of the Treasury, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Secretary of State being respectively members of the United Church of Great Britain and Ireland), the Right Honourable Dudley Earl of Harrowby, the Right Honourable Henry Hobhouse, and the Right Honourable Sir Herbert Jenner, Knight, should, for the purposes of the said Act, be one body politic and corporate, by the name of "the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England," and by that name should have perpetual succession and a common seal;

And it is further enacted, that the said Commissioners should, from time to time, prepare and lay before His Majesty in Council such schemes as should appear to the said Commissioners to be best adapted for carrying into effect the thereinbefore recited recommendations, and should in such schemes recommend and propose such measures as might, upon further inquiry, which the said Commissioners are thereby authorised to make, appear to them to be necessary for carrying such recommendations into full and perfect effect; provided always, that nothing therein contained should be construed to prevent the said Commissioners from proposing, in any such scheme, such modifications or variations, as to matters of detail and regulation, as should not be substantially repugnant to any or either of the said recommendations:

And it is further enacted, that when any scheme, prepared under the authority of the said Act, should be approved by His Majesty in Council, it should be lawful for His Majesty in Council to issue an Order or Orders ratifying the same, and specifying the time or times when such scheme, or the several parts thereof, should take effect, and to direct in every such Order that the same should be registered by the registrar of each of the dioceses the bishops whereof might or should be in any respect affected thereby:

And it is further enacted, that every such Order should, as soon as may be after the making and issuing thereof by His Majesty in Council, be inserted and published in the London Gazette:

And it is further enacted, that, so soon as any such Order in Council should be so registered and gazetted, it should in all respects, and as to all things therein contained, have and be of the same force and effect as if all and every part thereof were included in the said Act, any law, statute, canon, letters patent, grant, usage, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding:

And whereas the said Commissioners, pursuant to the authority vested in them by the said Act, duly prepared and laid before His late Majesty in Council, a scheme, bearing date the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, in the words and figures following, that is to say:

To the Kings Most Excellent Majesty in Council,

We the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, appointed and incorporated by an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, intituled "An Act for carrying into effect the reports of the Commissioners appointed to consider the state of the Established Church in England and Wales, with reference to ecclesiastical duties and revenues, so far as they relate to episcopal dioceses, revenues, and patronage," have, in pursuance thereof, prepared, and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council, the following scheme, for carrying into effect that part of the said Act which directs, that out of the property of the see of Durham, provision should be made, for the completion of those augmentations of poor benefices, which the late William Bishop of Durham had agreed to grant, but which he left uncompleted at the time of his death.

We humbly recommend and propose, that the several sums, which, in the schedule marked (A.), hereunto annexed (which schedule we recommend and propose shall be considered and taken as part of this scheme), we have set opposite to the respective names of the perpetual curacies of Esh, St. Helen's Auckland, Etherley, Shildon, and Escomb, all in the diocese of Durham, and in the patronage of the Bishop of Durham, be forthwith paid by us, out of the moneys now standing to our credit and account at the Bank of England, to the several persons who were incumbents of the said curacies respectively on the twenty-first day of February now last past, as and for one whole year's payment, to the amount agreed to be granted, in each case respectively, by the said William late Bishop of Durham, from the twenty-first day of February one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, the day of the death of the said Bishop, to the said twenty-first of February now last past.

And we further recommend and propose, that a fixed annual sum, to the same amount, in each case respectively, shall be paid by us, out of the moneys which shall be from time to time standing to our credit and account as aforesaid, to each of the incumbents for the time being, respectively, of the said several perpetual curacies, by equal half yearly payments, on the twenty-first day of February and the twenty-first day of August in each year, the first of such payments to be made on the twenty first day of August now next ensuing; and that whenever a vacancy in any of the said several perpetual curacies shall happen on any other day than the twenty-first day of February or the twenty-first day of August, the next half-yearly payment shall in every such case be apportioned, between the incumbent making the vacancy or his representatives, and the incumbent succeeding to the perpetual curacy so becoming vacant, according to the time which shall have elapsed from the last day of payment to the day of the vacancy inclusive, and such proportions shall be paid to the respective parties accordingly.

And we further recommend and propose, that, in addition to the payment herein before recommended and proposed to be made to the incumbent of the perpetual curacy of Etherley for the time being, the lands, tenements, and hereditaments purchased and set apart for the purpose by the said William late Bishop of Durham, and particularly described in the schedule marked (B.), hereunto annexed (which schedule we also recommend and propose shall be considered and taken as part of this scheme), shall be permanently annexed to and become and be for ever part of the property and endowment of the said perpetual curacy of Etherley, and of the incumbent thereof, and his successors perpetual curates of Etherley for ever.

And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing the augmentation of Trinity Chapel, in the parish of Stockton-upon-Tees, whenever the conditions required by the said William late Bishop of Durham shall have been complied with.

All of which we humbly recommend and propose to Your Majesty in Council.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our common seal this first day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven.

And ten private Acts.

St. James's-Palace, July 12, 1837.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, and Officers, of the city of London, waited upon Her Majesty, when the Honourable Charles Ewan Law, the Recorder, made their compliments of congratulation and condolence in the following Address, which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive on the Throne.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor and Aldermen of the city of London, most humbly approach your Majesty, for the purpose of giving expression to our feelings on occasion of the demise of our late Most Gracious Sovereign, and of the accession of your Majesty to the Throne.

Long and justly as the House of Brunswick has been endeared to the nation, we deem it a privilege to be permitted to sympathize in their afflictions; and we most sincerely condole with your Majesty, the Widowed Queen, and the Royal Family, under the bereavement by which an All-wise Providence has been pleased to remove from this transitory state a Sovereign who lived and reigned in the affections of His Family and people.

While with feelings of the deepest and most affectionate interest we contemplate your Majesty, thus early called to wield the sceptre of this mighty empire, we rejoice that your Majesty is no stranger to your people, nor to their institutions; "born and bred a Briton," your Majesty has been trained to admire and venerate our glorious constitution in Church and State, while your Majesty's former associations with those who are now your Majesty's liege subjects, must have convinced your Majesty of their devoted loyalty to your Majesty's Illustrious House, and their no less devoted attachment to the institutions of the country, both sacred and civil.

We pray your Majesty to be assured, that our supplications will ascend to that Gracious Being by whom "Kings reign and Princes decree justice;" that, "wisdom profitable to direct," may be imparted to your Majesty in the performance of the duties of your exalted station; that your Majesty's reign may be long and prosperous, that it may be eminently distinguished by a zealous defence on the part of your Majesty of that reformed Church of which your Majesty is, under God, the head; and by the continuance to all classes and denominations of your Majesty's subjects of that protection in the exercise of the rights of conscience, which has so long and so happily prevailed in this highly favoured land; and further that a wise, a just, and merciful administration, by your Majesty, of the laws may be met by affectionate and loyal obedience on the part of a free, a happy, and a grateful people.

Signed, by order of the court,

Henry Woodthorpe.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

"I receive, with much satisfaction, this loyal and dutiful Address.

"I partake in the sorrow which you feel for the loss the nation has sustained by the death of His late Majesty.

"In the congratulation which you offer to Me upon My accession, you estimate justly My love for My people, and My reverence for the Constitution of My country.

"I fervently join in the prayers which you offer up for the prosperity of My reign, and for the welfare of My subjects; and you may securely rely upon My determination to maintain the Reformed Church, to protect the rights of conscience, and to administer the law in justice and in mercy."

They were all very graciously received, and had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.

St. James's-Palace, July 12, 1837.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Recorder, Sheriffs, Common Council, and Officers of the city of London, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address, which was read by the Honourable Charles Ewan Law, the Recorder, and which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive on the Throne.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty:

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, approach your Majesty with feelings of the deepest grief and sympathy upon the occasion of the loss your Majesty and the Nation have sustained, in the death of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, a Prince whose warm attachment to the liberties and privileges of a free and loyal people, and whose constant solicitude to improve the institutions of His country, and to advance the interests and happiness of all classes of His subjects, secured to him while living, and will attach to His memory for future ages, the respect the gratitude, and the affections of a great nation.

While we bow with resignation to the inscrutable dispensations of Providence, we acknowledge its mercy in prolonging the life of our late beloved Monarch to a period when your Majesty, under the maternal care of your illustrious Parent, became qualified to fill the Throne of this great empire.

We hail with heartfelt gratification your Majesty's auspicious Accession to the Throne, and have received with the liveliest satisfaction your Majesty's most gracious declaration and assurance, that it will be your Majesty's unceasing study to maintain the reformed religion as by law established, securing at the same time to all the full enjoyment of religious liberty; and that your Majesty will steadily protect the rights, and promote, to the utmost of your Majesty's power, the happiness and welfare of all classes of your subjects. And we earnestly pray, that your Majesty's life may be long spared to realize the just expectations of a free, loyal, and devoted people.

Signed, by order of the court,

Henry Woodthorpe,

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

"It gives Me great pleasure to receive this loyal Address from the Common Council of My city of London.

"The grief, which you express for the loss of His late Majesty, and the just tribute which you pay to His virtues, are alike in accordance with My opinions and congenial to My feelings.

"I receive your congratulations with the most lively satisfaction, and you may rely upon My adherence to the declaration with which I commenced My reign, and upon My determination to maintain the Reformed Religion as by law established, and at the same time to secure to all the full enjoyment of religious liberty.

"I trust that I may be permitted, by Divine Providence, to promote the happiness of all classes of My subjects, and to fulfil the expectations of My free and loyal people."

They were all very graciously received, and had the honour of kissing Her Majesty's hand.
