ARGYLL, Lord Steward.

Buckingham-Palace, July 17, 1837.

THIS day Her Majesty proceeded in state from Buckingham-Palace to the House of Peers, where she arrived about two o'clock; and was received, on alighting from her state coach, by the Lord Chancellor, the Lord President of the Council, the Lord Privy Seal, the Deputy Lord Great Chamberlain, the Earl Marshal, the Lord Steward of the Household, the Lord Viscount Melbourne, Clarenceux King of Arms, in the absence of Garter, and the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, and proceeded to the robing-room in the customary manner.

Her Majesty was there robed, and the procession moved into the House in the usual order;—the imperial crown was borne by the Duke of Somerset, K. G. the sword of state by the Lord Viscount Melbourne, and the cap of maintenance by the Marquess of Winchester.

Her Majesty being seated on the Throne, the Great Officers of State and others standing on the right and left, Sir Augustus Clifford, Knt. Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a message from Her Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their attendance in the House of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, Her Majesty was pleased to deliver the following most gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I HAVE been anxious to seize the first opportunity of meeting you, in order that I might repeat in person My cordial thanks for your condolence upon the death of His late Majesty, and for the expressions of attachment and affection with which you congratulated Me upon My accession to the Throne. I am desirous of renewing the assurance of My determination to maintain the Protestant Religion as established by law, to secure to all the free exercise of the rights of conscience, to protect the liberties, and to promote the welfare of all classes of the community.

I rejoice that in ascending the Throne I find the country in amity with all Foreign Powers; and while I faithfully perform the engagements of My Crown, and carefully watch over the interests of My subjects, it shall be the constant object of My solicitude to preserve the blessings of peace.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I thank you for the liberal supplies which you have granted for the public service of the year, as well as for the provision which you have made to meet the payments usually chargeable upon the Civil List.

I will give directions that the public expenditure, in all its branches, be administered with the strictest economy.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

In taking leave of this Parliament, I return you My thanks for the zeal and assiduity with which you have applied yourselves to the public business of the country.

Although your labours have been unexpectedly interrupted by the melancholy event which has taken place, I trust that they will have the beneficial effect of advancing the progress of legislation in a new Parliament. I perceive with satisfaction that you have brought to maturity some useful measures, amongst which I regard with peculiar interest the amendment of the criminal code and the reduction of the number of capital punishments. I hail this mitigation of the severity of the law as an auspicious commencement of My reign.

I ascend the Throne under a deep sense of the responsibility which is imposed upon Me, but I am supported by the consciousness of My own right intentions, and by My dependence upon the protection of Almighty God. It will be My care to strengthen our institutions, civil and ecclesiastical, by discreet improvement, wherever improvement is required, and to do all in My power to compose and allay animosity and discord, Acting upon these principles I shall, upon all occasions, look with confidence to the wisdom of Parliament and the affections of My people, which form the true support of the dignity of the Crown, and ensure the stability of the Constitution.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by Her Majesty's command, said:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It is Her Majesty's royal will and pleasure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Thursday the tenth day of August next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Thursday the tenth day of August next.

By the QUEEN.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham-palace, this seventeenth day of July one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, and in the first year of Our reign.

the advice of Our Privy Council, issue forth this Our Royal Proclamation, strictly charging and commanding all the Peers of Scotland to assemble and meet at Holyrood-House, in Edinburgh, on Friday the twenty-fifth day of August next ensuing, between the hours of twelve and two in the afternoon, to nominate and choose the Sixteen Peers, to sit and vote in the House of Peers in the said ensuing Parliament, by open election and plurality of voices of the Peers that shall be then present, and of the proxies of such as shall be absent (such proxies being Peers, and producing a mandate in writing, duly signed before witnesses, and both the constituent and proxy being qualified according to law), and the Lord Clerk Register, or such two of the Principal Clerks of the Session as shall be appointed by him to officiate in his name, are hereby respectively required to attend such meeting, and to administer the oaths required by law to be taken there by the said Peers, and to take their votes; and immediately after such election made and duly examined, to certify the names of the Sixteen Peers so elected, and to sign and attest the same in the presence of the said Peers the electors, and return such certificate into Our High Court of Chancery of Great Britain. And We do, by this Our Royal Proclamation, strictly command and require the Provost of Edinburgh, and all other the Magistrates of the said city, to take especial care to preserve the peace thereof, during the time of the said election, and to prevent all manner of riots, tumults, disorders, and violence whatsoever. And We strictly charge and command that this Our Royal Proclamation be duly published at the Market-Cross at Edinburgh, and in all the county towns of Scotland, twenty-five days, at least, before the time hereby appointed for the meeting of the said Peers to proceed to such election.

Witness Ourselves at Westminster, this seventeenth day of July one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, and in the first year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 21st day of June 1837.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, intituled "An Act for carrying into effect the reports of the Commissioners appointed to consider the state of the Established Church in England and Wales, with reference to ecclesiastical duties and revenues, so far as they relate to episcopal dioceses, revenues, and patronage," reciting, amongst other things, that His late Majesty was pleased, on the fourth day of February, and on the sixth day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, to issue two several commissions to certain persons therein respectively named, directing them to consider the state of the several dioceses in England and Wales, with reference to the amount of their revenues, and the more equal distribution of episcopal duties, and the prevention of the necessity of attaching, by commendam, to bishoprics, benefices with cure of souls; and to consider also the state of the several cathedral and collegiate churches in England and Wales, with a view to the suggestion of such measures as might render them conducive to the efficiency of the Established Church, and to devise the best mode of providing for the cure of souls, with special reference to the residence of the clergy on their respective benefices; and reciting, that the said Commissioners had, in pursuance of such directions, made four several reports to His late Majesty, bearing date respectively the seventeenth day of March one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, and the fourth day of March, the twentieth day of May, and the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six; and reciting, that the said Commissioners had in their said reports, amongst other things, recommended that commissioners should be appointed by Parliament for the purpose of preparing and laying before His Majesty in Council, such schemes as should appear to them to be best adapted for carrying into effect, amongst other things, the following recommendations; and that His Majesty in Council should be empowered to make Orders ratifying such schemes and having the full force of law; and that, in order to provide for the augmentation of the incomes of the smaller bishoprics, such fixed annual sums should be paid to the Commissioners, out of the revenues of the larger sees respectively, as should, upon due inquiry and consideration, be determined on, so as to leave as an average annual income, to the Archbishop of Canterbury fifteen thousand pounds, to the Archbishop of York ten thousand pounds, to the Bishop of London ten thousand pounds, to the Bishop of Durham eight thousand pounds, to the Bishop of Winchester seven thousand pounds, to the Bishop of Ely five thousand five hundred pounds, to the Bishop of Saint Asaph and Bangor five thousand two hundred pounds, and to the Bishops of Worcester and Bath and Wells, respectively, five thousand pounds; and that none of the proposed alterations affecting the revenues belonging to any see, the bishop of which was in possession on the fourth day of March one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, should take effect until the next avoidance of the see, without the consent of such bishop:

It is enacted, amongst other things, that the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury for the time being, the Lord Archbishop of York, and the Lord Bishop of London for the time being, John Lord Bishop of Lincoln, James Henry Lord Bishop of Gloucester, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain; the Lord President of the Council, the Lord High Treasurer or the First Lord of the Treasury, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer for the time being respectively, and such one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State as shall be for that purpose nominated by His Majesty under His royal sign manual (such Lord Chancellor, Lord President, Lord High Treasurer or First Lord of the Treasury, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Secretary of State being respectively members of the United Church of Great Britain and Ireland), the Right Honourable Dudley Earl of Harrowby, the Right Honourable Henry Hobhouse, and the Right Honourable Sir Herbert Jenner, Knight, should, for the purposes of the said Act, be one body politic and corporate, by the name of "the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England," and by that name should have perpetual succession and a common seal:

And it is further enacted, that when any scheme, prepared under the authority of the said Act, should be approved by His Majesty in Council, it should be lawful for His Majesty in Council to issue an Order or Orders ratifying the same, and specifying the time or times when such scheme, or the several parts thereof, should take effect, and to direct in every such Order that the same should be registered by the registrar of each of the dioceses the bishops whereof might or should be in any respect affected thereby:

And it is further enacted, that every such Order as soon as may be after the making and issuing thereof by His Majesty in Council, be inserted and published in the London Gazette:

And it is further enacted, that, so soon as any such Order in Council should be so registered and gazetted, it should in all respects, and as to all things therein contained, have and be of the same force and effect as if all and every part thereof were included in the said Act, any law, statute, canon, letters patent, grant, usage, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding:

And whereas the said Commissioners, pursuant to the authority vested in them by the said Act, duly prepared, and laid before His late Majesty in Council, a scheme, bearing date the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, and which is in the words and figures following, that is to say:

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, appointed and incorporated by an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, intituled "An Act for carrying into effect the reports of the Commissioners appointed to consider the state of the Established Church in England and Wales, with reference to ecclesiastical duties and revenues, so far as they relate to episcopal dioceses, revenues, and patronage," have, in pursuance thereof, prepared, and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council, the following scheme, for fixing the annual sums to be paid to us, out of the revenues of the larger sees, in order to provide for the augmentation of the incomes of the smaller bishoprics.

We humbly recommend and propose, in order to leave to the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, and to the Bishops of London, Winchester, Bath and Wells, and Worcester, respectively, the average annual incomes specified in the said Act, as near as may be, that upon the first avoidance of the several sees named in the first column of the schedule hereunto annexed (which schedule we recommend and propose shall be considered and taken as part of this scheme), the archbishops and bishops succeeding to the said sees respectively, and their respective successors, shall pay, or cause to be paid, to our credit, into the Bank of England, to an account, intituled "Account with the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England," by equal half-yearly payments, the fixed annual sums set opposite to the names of the said sees respectively in the second column of the said schedule, the first payment in each such case to be made at the end of six calendar months from the day of the avoidance of the respective sees, whether the same shall happen by death, translation, or otherwise; and that whenever a vacancy of any of the said sees shall hereafter happen on any other day than the half-yearly day of payment so calculated as aforesaid, then, in each such case, the next half-yearly payment shall be apportioned between the Archbishop or Bishop making the vacancy, or his representatives, and the Archbishop or Bishop succeeding to the see, according to the time which shall have elapsed from the last half-yearly day of payment to the day of the vacancy inclusive, and such proportions shall be paid by the respective parties accordingly: provided, nevertheless, and we further recommend and propose, that if a vacancy of the see of Canterbury shall happen, before the mortgage debt due from the Archbishop of Canterbury, for money borrowed under the provisions of an Act, passed in the tenth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, for repairing, altering, and improving Lambeth-palace, and the mansion-house at Addington, shall be fully paid off; or if a vacancy of the see of London shall happen, before the mortgage debt due from the Bishop of London, for money borrowed under the provisions of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, for rebuilding London-house, shall be fully paid off; then in either of the said cases, so long as the annual sums payable by virtue of the said respective Acts shall continue payable, the amount of those sums respectively shall be deducted out of the sums which we hereby recommend and propose to be payable to us by the said archbishop and bishop respectively:

And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing the payment of fixed annual sums out of the revenues of other sees, in order to provide for the augmentation of the smaller bishoprics, nor any other measure relating to the revenues of any of the sees herein-mentioned, or of the said other sees respectively, in conformity with the provisions of the said first recited Act.

All which we humbly recommend and propose to your Majesty in Council.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our common seal this first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven.

London	- - -	5,000
Winchester	- - -	3,600

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by Her Majesty in Council; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same, and every part thereof, shall take effect immediately from and after the time when the same shall have been registered as hereinafter directed, and shall have been duly published in the London Gazette, pursuant to the said Act; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct, that this Order be forthwith registered by the several registrars of the dioceses of Canterbury, York, London, Winchester, Bath and Wells, and Worcester, respectively.

St. James's-Palace, July 14, 1837.

THIS day His Grace the Duke of Wellington, and a Deputation from the University of Oxford, waited on Her Majesty, to present the following Address to Her Majesty, which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive on the Throne:

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford, respectfully approach your royal presence, with the expression of our sincere condolence on the heavy affliction sustained by your Majesty, in common with the whole British Empire, by the decease of our late beloved and lamented King; at the same time humbly tendering our heartfelt congratulations upon your Majesty's accession to the Throne of your ancestors.

Bereaved of the paternal government of a Sovereign whose most anxious wish was the welfare of his people, we are cheered with the consideration that we have a well-founded assurance of the future prosperity of the nation, from the many virtues which adorn your Majesty's character.

With gratitude to the illustrious Princess, your Mother, we reflect, that, under the vigilant and enlightened superintendance of her Royal Highness, your Majesty has been assiduously trained to understand, and, in reliance on God's blessing, to fulfil, the duties of your high and most important office.

In that education it was highly provided that your Majesty, from your earliest years, should learn to know the people over whom you might be called by Divine Providence to reign. We thankfully remember, that we had the happiness of receiving our future Queen in our University, and that your Majesty was then pleased to manifest an interest in the monuments which it contains of the learning and munificence of former ages. Our earnest desire, as we feel it to be our duty, will be to maintain and extend its renown as a seat of true religion and useful learning; and we humbly assure your Majesty, that we shall earnestly endeavour to deserve the continuance of that protection and favour, which our University has enjoyed through a succession of ages, from the reigning Sovereigns of the realm, by inculcating upon the minds of those entrusted to our care, a dutiful attachment to your Majesty's person and government, and thus preparing the rising generation to serve your Majesty in the several departments of Church and State.

Our most fervent prayers will be offered up to Almighty God, that every blessing, both spiritual and temporal, may be abundantly poured forth upon your Majesty and your Royal House—that our ecclesiastical and civil institutions, in which are involved the purity of our religious worship, the rightful supremacy of law, and the liberty and happiness of the subject, may find, under your Majesty's sway, that protection, the enjoyment of which has, for so long a period, endeared the House of Brunswick to the British Nation—that your Majesty's reign may be a conspicuous example of the stability of a Throne founded on the eternal principles of rectitude, and supported by the affection of grateful subjects—that it may be long and prosperous—and that, by the blessing of the same Almighty Being, your Majesty may reap the best earthly reward of your beneficent cares, in the loyalty and devotion of a religious, united, and happy people.

Given at our House of Convocation, under our common seal, this 28th day of June, in the year of our Lord, 1837.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

"The solemn declaration of your attachment to my person and Government demands my warmest acknowledgments.

"I thank you for the justice which you have rendered to the memory of the late King, and the well-founded gratitude which you feel and express towards my beloved Mother.

"I recall, with lively satisfaction, to my recollection the visit which I formerly made to your famous University, the attention with which I was received, and the pleasure which I derived from the contemplation of its ancient and venerable monuments.

"I entirely rely upon your zealous exertions for the promotion of religion and the extension of learning. I have no doubt that you are fully aware of the importance of the charge committed to your care, and that you will make it your study to instil religious principles and virtuous habits.

"It will be my endeavour to secure our ecclesiastical and civil institutions, by the maintenance of their fundamental principles, and the adoption of well-considered improvements; and I join fervently in your prayers to Almighty God for those blessed results which it will be the study of my life to attain."

Mr. Romilly, Registrar of the University; Mr. Gunning, Senior, Beadell; Mr. Leapingwell, Beadell; and Mr. Hopkins, Beadell; waited upon Her Majesty to present to Her Majesty the following Address, which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive on the Throne:

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Cambridge.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Cambridge, humbly approach your Royal presence, to offer our heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of this great Empire, and to tender to your Majesty the assurance of our devoted loyalty and attachment. We feel, however, that we should be wanting in our duty, did we not at the same time express our deep sorrow at the mournful event by which this nation has been deprived of the paternal sway of your Majesty's Royal Predecessor. Were we to omit this testimony of our regret, we should fail, not only in manifesting that sympathy for which your Majesty has a claim upon all your loving subjects, but also in exhibiting that strongest proof of attachment to the Crown, which is afforded by the declaration of affectionate reverence for those who have worn it with equal honour to themselves, and advantage to their people.

The watchful care, and excellent judgment, with which your Majesty's illustrious Mother has uniformly fulfilled her parental duties, induce us to look forward to the future with the most sanguine hopes. In the natural wish to picture to ourselves the blessings which this nation may, under Divine Providence, expect to receive at your Majesty's hands, our minds spontaneously turn to the records of past times, and we call to memory its condition under the rule of former Sovereigns. Among those Sovereigns, no one is more conspicuous than that Queen, by whose prudent government this country rose to an unprecedented pitch of grandeur, and under whose protection the Protestant Religion became the established Religion of the Realm. Gladly then do we persuade ourselves that we are forming no vain anticipations, when we indulge the hope that we are at the dawn of a like illustrious reign; during which our country may still maintain its high pre-eminence among the nations; our religion still live in the hearts of the people; and our Queen obtain for herself, by a gracious regard for the welfare of her subjects, a bright and never-fading renown.

And as our University has ever flourished under the especial favour and patronage of the Rulers of this land (and under none more than that of the gracious Queen to whom allusion has been made), we shall ever feel ourselves bound not only by the ordinary obligations of duty, but also by the additional tie of gratitude, both to cherish in ourselves, and to instil into those who are committed to our care, the principles of loyalty and fidelity to the Throne.

In conclusion, We humbly beg leave to advert to a subject, in which our late lamented Sovereign was pleased to take an interest. His Majesty had expressed a most gracious wish that a copy of the authorised version of the Holy Scriptures should be printed by our University, with the design that it should occupy a permanent place in the Royal Library at Windsor. The recent mournful event, which we deplore, prevented our revered Sovereign from receiving at our hands this offering of our duty. Great therefore is our gratification at being permitted by your Majesty to avail ourselves of this occasion, to present in the most respectful manner which could be devised on our part, these sacred volumes to your Majesty; and we humbly hope that your Majesty will graciously allow them to be placed in the Royal Library for which they were originally destined.

And we have only further to add our earnest prayer, that the Great Author of our being, and of our faith, may ever bless and protect your Majesty.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

"I return you my cordial thanks for this public testimony of your respect for the memory of my beloved Uncle, and of your affectionate attachment to my Person and Government.

"The well deserved tribute which you pay to my beloved Mother is highly grateful to my feelings.

"Your University owes much to the protection and encouragement of former Sovereigns.

"I am actuated by an equal desire to promote its interests and to enlarge the sphere of its utility.

"I entertain no doubt that you will labour to instil into the minds of those who are committed to your care the true principles of loyalty.

"I accept, with much satisfaction, the authorised version of the Holy Scriptures. These sacred volumes will be the more prized by me for the sake of him in whose wishes they originated, and to whom they were intended to be presented. I will direct them to be placed in the Royal Library at Windsor, and I shall ever consider them as the most valuable part of that collection."

St. James's-Palace, July 14, 1837.

THIS day the Lord Bishop of London, and the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, with a Deputation of the Clergy, waited upon Her Majesty, to present the following Address to Her Majesty, which Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive on the Throne:

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the Bishop of London, the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, and the Clergy of London and Westminster, humbly request permission to approach your Majesty, with the expression of our heartfelt condolence upon the death of our late revered Sovereign, and with our sincere congratulations upon your Majesty's accession to the Throne of this realm.

While we deplore the loss of a Monarch, who on all occasions evinced a firm attachment to that Church, of which he was by the Constitution of this country the temporal head, it is impossible for us not to derive consolation and encouragement from reflecting, that he has been succeeded by a Princess, trained up under the watchful care of her Royal Mother in the principles of our Holy Religion, and accustomed to the observance of its duties.

We rely, under Divine Providence, upon your Majesty to support and protect the Church of this nation, as the appointed instrument of diffusing, amongst all classes of your Majesty's subjects, a knowledge of those truths and precepts, which are the only sure basis of individual happiness, and of national prosperity and peace; and we beg leave, with all humility, to assure your Majesty, that we are deeply sensible of the obligation which rests upon us, as Ministers of that Church, to promote, by all the means in our power, the great ends of its institution, and to use our privileges and immunities for the purpose of advancing the highest interests of mankind.

It is our heartfelt wish, and will be the subject of our earnest prayers, that your Majesty may be guided by Divine wisdom, to seek in all things the Glory of God, and the good of His people; and that being protected by His power, and blessed with His grace and favour, your Majesty may long continue before Him, in health, and peace, and honour, and finally exchange an earthly for an immortal crown.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

"I am happy to receive this dutiful Address from so important and venerable a body of the Clergy of the Established Church.

"Trained up in the principles of our Religion, I consider the Established Church of these realms an efficient instrument appointed for the holy purposes which you describe.

"I entirely appreciate the high motives by which its members are actuated, and the great ends which they propose to themselves. In the discharge of their sacred duties, they may securely depend upon my protection and support."

At the Court at St. James's, July 14, 1837.

A CHAPTER of the Most Noble Order of the Garter having been summoned for this day, the following Knights Companions, in their mantles and collars, assembled in the Entrée-room, viz.:

His Royal Highness the Duke of Sussex, His Royal Highness Prince George of Cambridge, His Serene Highness the reigning Duke of Saxe-Meiningen, the Marquess Camden, the Duke of Newcastle, the Duke of Wellington, the Duke of Northumberland, the Marquess of Hertford, the Duke of Dorset, the Duke of Leeds, the Duke of Devonshire, the Marquess of Exeter, the Duke of Richmond, Earl Grey, the Duke of Norfolk, the Duke of Grafton, the Duke of Buccleuch, the Marquess of Lansdowne, and the Duke of Somerset, attended by the under-named Officers of the Order, in their mantles, chains, and badges, viz. the Lord Bishop of Winchester, Prelate of the Order; the Lord Bishop of Oxford, Chancellor of the Order; the Honourable and Reverend the Dean of Windsor, Registrar of the Order; Sir William Woods, Knt. (Clarenceux King of Arms), Deputy to Garter Principal King of Arms; and Sir Augustus-William-James Clifford, Knt. Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod.

At three o'clock, the Knights Companions were called over by Deputy Garter, and, with the Officers of the Order, proceeded into the presence of the Sovereign, in the Throne-room.

The Sovereign, being seated in the chair of state, the Knights Companions, by Her Majesty's command, took their respective seats at the table, and the Officers of the Order stood in their accustomed places.

By command of the Sovereign, His Serene Highness Charles-William-Frederic-Emicon Prince of Leiningen (brother to Her Most Excellent Majesty the Queen), was then introduced into the Royal Presence, preceded by Deputy Garter and Black Rod, and was knighted by Her Majesty, with the sword of state, after which His Serene Highness had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, and retired.

The Chancellor, then, by command of Her Majesty, read a new statute, dispensing with the existing statutes in as far as may be required for the especial purpose therein mentioned, and decreeing, ordaining, and enjoining that His Serene Highness Charles-William-Frederic-Emicon Prince of Leiningen, &c. &c. &c. be declared a Knight of this Most Noble Order, any statute, decree, rule, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

His Serene Highness was then, by command of the Sovereign, conducted into the Chapter-room between the Marquess of Lansdowne and the Duke of Somerset, the two junior Knights present, preceded by Deputy Garter (bearing the ensigns of the Order upon a crimson velvet cushion), and by Black Rod.

The Prince kneeling near the right hand of Her Majesty, and Deputy Garter, presenting on his knee the Garter, the Sovereign, assisted by their Royal Highnesses the Duke of Sussex and Prince George of Cambridge, the two senior Knights present, buckled it on His Serene Highness's left leg, the Chancellor pronouncing the usual admonition.

Deputy Garter next presented, in like manner, the ribband with the George, and Her Majesty, assisted as before, put the same over the Prince's left shoulder, the Chancellor pronouncing the admonition; after which His Serene Highness had again the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand.

The Prince of Leiningen thereupon received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions, and withdrew.

The Chapter being ended, Deputy Garter, by command of the Sovereign, again called over the Knights Companions, who, with the Officers of the Order, retired from the presence of Her Majesty, with the usual reverences.

At the Court at St. James's, July 14, 1837.

The Queen, as Sovereign of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, has been graciously pleased, by letters patent under Her royal sign manual and the great seal of the Order, bearing date this day, to dispense with all the statutes and regulations usually observed in regard to installation, and to grant unto His Serene Highness Charles-William-Frederic-Emicon Prince of Leiningen, &c. &c. &c. Knight of the said Most Noble Order, and duly invested with the ensigns thereof, full power and authority to exercise all rights and privileges belonging to a Knight Companion of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, in as full and ample a manner as if His Serene Highness had been formally installed, any decree, rule, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.
