Earl Marshal's-Office, July 20, 1837.

IN reference to the Order for a General Mourning for His late Majesty King William the Fourth, of blessed memory, which was announced in the Gazette of the 21st ultimo;

These are to give notice, that it is not desired or expected that the public should appear in Mourning after Thursday the 3d of August next.

NORFOLK, Earl Marshal.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 12th day of July 1837,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HER Majesty having been pleased to appoint the Right Honourable Thomas Henry Lord Foley to be Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of the county of Worcester, his Lordship this day took the Oaths appointed to be taken thereupon, instead of the Oaths of Allegiance and Supremacy.

By the QUEEN.

A PROCLAMATION,

For dissolving the present Parliament, and declaring the calling of another.

VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS We have thought fit, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council, to dissolve this present Parliament, which stands prorogued to Thursday the tenth day of August next: We do for that end publish this Our Royal Proclamation, and do hereby dissolve the said Parliament accordingly; and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, and the Commissioners for shires and burghs, of the House of Commons are discharged from their meeting and attendance on the said Thursday the tenth day of August next: and We, being desirous and resolved, as soon as may be, to meet Our people, and to have their advice in Parliament, do hereby make known to all Our loving subjects Our Royal will and pleasure to call a new Parliament: and do hereby further declare, that, with the advice of Our Privy Council, We have given order that Our Chancellor of that part of Our United Kingdom called Great Britain, and Our Chancellor of Ireland, do respectively, upon notice thereof, forthwith issue out writs in due form, and according to law, for calling a new Parliament: and We do hereby also, by this Our Royal Proclamation under Our Great Seal of Our United Kingdom, require writs forthwith to be issued accordingly by Our said Chancellors respectively, for causing the Lords Spiritual and Temporal and Commons, who are to serve in the said Parliament, to be duly returned to, and give their attendance in, Our said Parliament; which writs are to be returnable on Monday the eleventh day of September next.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham-palace, this seventeenth day of July one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, and in the first year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.

By the QUEEN.

A PROCLAMATION,

In order to the electing and summoning the Sixteen Peers of Scotland.

VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS We have in Our Council thought fit to declare Our pleasure, for summoning and holding a Parliament of Our United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, on Monday the eleventh day of September next ensuing the date hereof; in order, therefore, to the electing and summoning the Sixteen Peers of Scotland, who are to sit in the House of Peers in the said Parliament. We do, by the advice of Our Privy Council, issue forth this Our Royal Proclamation, strictly charging and commanding all the Peers of Scotland to assemble and meet at Holyrood-House, in Edinburgh, on Friday the twenty-fifth day of August next ensuing, between the hours of twelve and two in the afternoon, to nominate and choose the Sixteen Peers, to sit and vote in the House of Peers in the said ensuing Parliament, by open election and plurality of voices of the Peers that shall be then present, and of the proxies of such as shall be absent (such proxies being Peers, and producing a mandate in writing, duly signed before witnesses, and both the constituent and proxy being qualified according to law), and the Lord Clerk Register, or such two of the Principal Clerks of the Session as shall be appointed by him to officiate in his name, are hereby respectively required to attend such meeting, and to administer the oaths required by law to be taken there by the said Peers, and to take their votes; and immediately after such election made and duly examined, to certify the names of the Sixteen Peers so elected, and to sign and attest the same in the presence of the said Peers the electors, and return such certificate into Our High Court of Chancery of Great Britain. And We do, by this Our Royal Proclamation, strictly command and require the Provost of Edinburgh, and all other the Magistrates of the said city, to take especial care to preserve the peace thereof, during the time of the said election, and to prevent all manner of riots, tumults, disorders, and violence whatsoever. And We strictly charge and command that this Our Royal Proclamation be duly published at the Market-Cross at Edinburgh, and in all the county towns of Scotland, twenty-five days, at least, before the time hereby appointed for the meeting of the said Peers to proceed to such election.

Witness Ourself at Westminster, this seventeenth day of July one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, and in the first year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 21st day of June 1837.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, intituled "An Act for carrying into effect the reports of the Commissioners appointed to consider the state of the Established Church in England and Wales, with reference to ecclesiastical duties and revenues, so far as they relate to episcopal dioceses, revenues, and patronage," reciting, amongst other things, that His late Majesty was pleased, on the fourth day of February, and on the sixth day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, to issue two several commissions to certain persons therein respectively named, directing them to consider the state of the several dioceses in England and Wales, with reference to the amount of their revenues, and the more equal distribution of episcopal duties, and the prevention of the necessity of attaching, by commendam, to bishoprics, benefices with cure of souls; and to consider also the state of the several cathedral and collegiate churches in England and Wales, with a view to the suggestion of such measures as might render them conducive to the efficiency of the Established Church, and to devise the best mode of providing for the cure of souls, with special reference to the residence of the clergy on their respective benefices; and reciting, that the said Commissioners had, in pursuance of such directions, made four several reports to His late Majesty, bearing date respectively the seventeenth day of March one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, and the fourth day of March, the twentieth day of May, and the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six; and reciting, that the said Commissioners had in their said reports, amongst other things, recommended that commissioners should be appointed by Parliament for the purpose of preparing and laying before His Majesty in Council, such schemes as should appear to them to be best adapted for carrying into effect, amongst other things, the following recommendations; and that His Majesty in Council should be empowered to make Orders ratifying such schemes and having the full force of law; and that, in order to provide for the augmentation of the incomes of the smaller bishoprics, such fixed annual sums should be paid to the Commissioners, out of the revenues of the larger sees respectively, as should, upon due inquiry and consideration, be determined on, so as to leave as an average annual income, to the Archbishop of Canterbury fifteen thousand pounds, to the Archbishop of York ten thousand pounds, to the Bishop of London ten thousand pounds, to the Bishop of Durham eight thousand pounds, to the Bishop of Winchester seven thousand pounds, to the Bishop of Ely five thousand five hundred pounds, to the Bishop of Saint Asaph and Bangor five thousand two hundred pounds, and to the Bishops of Worcester and Bath and Wells, respectively, five thousand pounds; and that none of the proposed alterations affecting the revenues belonging to any see, the bishop of which was in possession on the fourth day of March one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, should take effect until the next avoidance of the see, without the consent of such bishop:

It is enacted, amongst other things, that the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury for the time being, the Lord Archbishop of York, and the Lord Bishop of London for the time being, John Lord Bishop of Lincoln, James Henry Lord Bishop of Gloucester, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, the Lord President of the Council, the Lord High Treasurer or the First Lord of the Treasury, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer for the time being respectively, and such one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State as shall be for that purpose nominated by His Majesty under His royal sign manual (such Lord Chancellor, Lord President, Lord High Treasurer or First Lord of the Treasury, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Secretary of State being respectively members of the United Church of Great Britain and Ireland), the Right Honourable Dudley Earl of Harrowby, the Right Honourable Henry Hobhouse, and the Right Honourable Sir Herbert Jenner, Knight, should, for the purposes of the said Act, be one body politic and corporate, by the name of "the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England," and by that name should have perpetual succession and a common seal:

And it is further enacted, that when any scheme, prepared under the authority of the said Act, should be approved by His Majesty in Council, it should be lawful for His Majesty in Council to issue an Order or Orders ratifying the same, and specifying the time or times when such scheme, or the several parts thereof, should take effect, and to direct in every such Order that the same should be registered by the registrar of each of the dioceses the bishops whereof might or should be in any respect affected thereby:

And it is further enacted, that every such Order as soon as may be after the making and issuing thereof by His Majesty in Council, be inserted and published in the London Gazette:

And it is further enacted, that, so soon as any such Order in Council should be so registered and gazetted, it should in all respects, and as to all things therein contained, have and be of the same force and effect as if all and every part thereof were included in the said Act, any law, statute, canon, letters patent, grant, usage, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding:

And whereas the said Commissioners, pursuant to the authority vested in them by the said Act, duly prepared, and laid before His late Majesty in Council, a scheme, bearing date the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, and which is in the words and figures following, that is to say:

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, appointed and incorporated by an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, intituled "An Act for carrying into effect the reports of the Commissioners appointed to consider the state of the Established Church in England and Wales, with reference to ecclesiastical duties and revenues, so far as they relate to episcopal dioceses, revenues, and patronage," have, in pursuance thereof, prepared, and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council, the following scheme, for fixing the annual sums to be paid to us out of the revenues of the larger sees, in order to provide for the augmentation of the incomes of the smaller bishoprics.

We humbly recommend and propose, in order to leave to the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, and to the Bishops of London, Winchester, Bath and Wells, and Worcester, respectively, the average annual incomes specified in the said Act, as near as may be, that upon the first avoidance of the several sees named in the first column of the schedule hereunto annexed (which schedule we recommend and propose shall be considered and taken as part of this scheme), the archbishops and bishops succeeding to the said sees respectively, and their respective successors, shall pay, or cause to be paid, to our credit, into the Bank of England, to an account, intituled "Account with the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England," by equal half-yearly payments, the fixed annual sums set opposite to the names of the said sees respectively in the second column of the said schedule, the first payment in each such case to be made at the end of six calendar months from the day of the avoidance of the respective sees, whether the same shall happen by death, translation, or otherwise; and that whenever a vacancy of any of the said sees shall hereafter happen on any other day than the half-yearly day of payment so calculated as aforesaid, then, in each such case, the next half-yearly payment shall be apportioned between the Archbishop or Bishop making the vacancy, or his representatives, and the Archbishop or Bishop succeeding to the see, according to the time which shall have elapsed from the last half-yearly day of payment to the day of the vacancy inclusive, and such proportions shall be paid by the respective parties accordingly: provided, nevertheless, and we further recommend and propose, that if a vacancy of the see of Canterbury shall happen, before the mortgage debt due from the Archbishop of Canterbury, for money borrowed under the provisions of an Act, passed in the tenth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, for repairing, altering, and improving Lambeth palace, and the mansion-house at Addington, shall be fully paid off, or if a vacancy of the see of London shall happen, before the mortgage debt due from the Bishop of London, for money borrowed under the provisions of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, for rebuilding London-house, shall be fully paid off; then in either of the said cases, so long as the annual sums payable by virtue of the said respective Acts shall continue payable, the amount of those sums respectively shall be deducted out of the sums which we hereby recommend and propose to be payable to us by the said archbishop and bishop respectively:

And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing the payment of fixed annual sums out of the revenues of other sees, in order to provide for the augmentation of the smaller bishopricks, nor any other measure relating to the revenues of any of the sees herein-mentioned, or of the said other sees respectively, in conformity with the provisions of the said first recited Act.

All which we humbly recommend and propose your Majesty in Council.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our common seal this first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven.

Schedule.
Canterbury	-	-	£7,300
York	-	-	1,100
London	-	-	5,000
Winchester	-	-	3,600
Bath and Wells	-	-	1,000
Worcester	-	-	2,300

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by Her Majesty in Council; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same, and every part thereof, shall take effect immediately from and after the time when the same shall have been registered as hereinafter directed, and shall have been duly published in the London Gazette, pursuant to the said Act; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct, that this Order be forthwith registered by the several registrars of the dioceses of Canterbury, York, London, Winchester, Bath and Wells, and Worcester, respectively.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 12th day of July 1837.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the seventh year of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act for rendering more easy the taking the poll at county elections," it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, from time to time, on petition from the justices of any county, riding, parts, or division in England or Wales, in quarter sessions assembled, representing, that the number of polling places for such county, riding, parts, or division is insufficient, and praying, that the place or places mentioned in the said petition may be a polling place or polling places for the county, riding, parts, or division of the county within which such place or places is or are situate, to declare that any place or places mentioned in the said petition shall be a polling place or polling places for that county, riding, parts, or division; and that the justices of the peace for such county, riding, parts, or division, in quarter sessions or some special sessions assembled, as mentioned in the Act, passed in the third year of the reign of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to settle and determine the division of counties, and the limits of cities and boroughs, in England and Wales, in so far as respects the election of Members to serve in Parliament," shall, conformably to the said last-mentioned Act, divide such county, riding, parts, or division into convenient polling districts, and assign one of such districts to each polling place.

And whereas the justices of the peace of the county of Monmouth, in quarter sessions, assembled at Usk, in and for the said county, on the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand eight hundred and thirty-seven, have presented their petition to Her Majesty, representing, that the number of polling places for the said county are insufficient, and therefore praying, that the town of Chepstow may be a polling place for the said county:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, having taken the said petition into consideration, doth, pursuant to the said Act of the seventh year of the reign of His said late Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, declare, order, and direct that the town of Chepstow shall be a polling place for the said county; and further, that the justices of the peace for the said county, assembled in quarter sessions or some special sessions, as mentioned in the said Act of the third year of His said late Majesty's reign, shall, conformably to the said last-mentioned Act, divide the said county into convenient polling districts, and assign one of such districts to each polling place.

(An alphabetical and numbered List of the Addresses presented to Her Majesty, is printed at the end of the Addresses.)

St. James's-Palace, July 22, 1837.

THE following Addresses were this day presented to Her Majesty, which Her Majesty was most graciously pleased to receive upon the Throne:

No. 1.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders met in the Commission of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, seize the earliest opportunity of expressing our sincere condolence on account of the loss which your Majesty and the nation have suffered, by the death of our late lamented Sovereign, and our cordial congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the British Throne, which has been occupied by a long and illustrious line of your Royal Progenitors.

We cannot look back to the brief reign of your Majesty's immediate predecessor, without calling to mind the many eminent and honourable qualities which endeared him to his subjects, who, in the experience of his mild and equitable administration, looked up to him with confident attachment. We have a melancholy gratification in reflecting on the strong and just testimonies which men, of every shade of opinion in matters of public policy, have borne to the candour, patience and vigilance with which he turned his attention to the multiplied and arduous duties which devolve on the Head of the Government of this great empire.

It is with deep interest that we recognize in your Majesty the only daughter of an illustrious Prince, who for many years occupied a high place in the hearts and hopes of the nation, and whose premature death, immediately before that of his venerable Father, George the Third, added to the gloom with which that mournful event affected the whole body of the people.

Rejoicing to observe in your Majesty the unequivocal traces of the magnanimous spirit which, both in peace and war, distinguished so many of your Royal Ancestors, we cherish the pleasing anticipation that, under the guidance of Heaven, it will be your Majesty's invariable aim to consult the happiness and improvement of the people, by upholding the cause of true religion in every part of the empire, and by exemplifying those Christian virtues which impart the brightest lustre to a Crown. It is highly gratifying to us to learn with what alacrity your Majesty in your first General Council engaged, under the solemn sanction of an oath, to maintain and preserve inviolably the settlement of the true Protestant religion, with the government, worship, discipline, rights, and privileges of the Church of Scotland, as established by law. Firmly relying, as we do, on the fulfilment of this constitutional pledge, and remembering, with gratitude to God, how long the protection of our liberties, both religious and civil, has been identified with the honour and interest of the family from which your Majesty is descended, we feel ourselves bound to inculcate on the people, of whom we have the oversight, their sacred obligation to yield unshaken loyalty to the youthful Princess now advanced to the Sovereignty, as the Minister of God to them for good, and above all, to cultivate that fear of the Lord, and that love of righteousness, which are the best safeguards of the stability of the Throne, and the prosperity and peace of the kingdom.

That the Almighty God, who is the Governor among the nations, and in whose hand it is to make great, may abundantly bless your Majesty with the treasures of His wisdom and grace; that He may establish your Throne in righteousness; that He may ever place the faithful of the land in your councils; that the power of the Most High may strengthen and encourage your heart amidst all the solitudes of your lofty station, and that after a long and glorious reign on earth you may be exalted, through the merits of the Redeemer, to a blessed immortality, is the earnest prayer of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most faithful, most loyal, and most obedient subjects, the Ministers and Elders of this Commission of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and by our appointment.

Matthew Gardiner, Moderator.

Edinburgh, July 12, 1837.

[Presented by the Moderator, and a Deputation.]

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

"I receive with the most lively satisfaction this Address from the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

"You may securely rely upon my observance of the oath by which I bound myself, upon my accession, to maintain inviolate your rights and privileges. I rely entirely upon your zeal and energy in the discharge of your sacred duties; and I entertain a confident hope that, under your paternal care, religion and morality which are the best safeguards of the stability of the Throne, and of the prosperity and peace of the kingdom, will be strengthened and increased in Scotland."

No. 2.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the Presbyterian Denomination, in and about the cities of London and Westminster, humbly approach your Royal presence, to express our sincere condolence with your Majesty upon the demise of your Royal Uncle, our late revered and beloved Sovereign, together with our heartfelt congratulations upon the happy accession of your Majesty to the Throne of these realms.

We have ever felt devoutly thankful to the Divine Providence that, during several successive generations, these kingdoms have been placed by the Omnipotent Ruler, under the mild and beneficent sway of Princes of your Majesty's august family, by whom the liberties of the people have been enlarged and confirmed, the moral character of the nation has been exalted, and the power and prosperity, the wealth and happiness of the kingdom have been promoted beyond all example. And we are impelled by gratitude to acknowledge, in particular, the blessings enjoyed by the country during the reign of His late lamented Majesty, in the preservation of peace, the wise and timely reform of some of our national institutions, and the extension of religious liberty, by which the condition of your Majesty's Protestant Dissenting subjects especially has been greatly improved.

When we call to remembrance your Majesty's Royal descent; when we reflect upon the character of the Prince, your Majesty's ever-to-be-lamented Father, whose virtues, public and private, endeared him to the British people, and to no portion of them more than the Protestant Dissenters; when we consider that your Majesty's early years were nurtured by the enlightened and patriotic counsels, and the moral and religious instructions of your Illustrious Mother, whom we have been accustomed to regard as a pattern of conjugal and maternal excellence; and when we bear in mind your Majesty's gracious language in your first speech before your Privy Council, which has diffused general satisfaction and joy amongst your subjects, we entertain the firm and cheering persuasion that your Majesty's reign will be just and beneficent, honourable to your Majesty, and glorious to your people.

We have seen, with deep affection and lively sympathy, your Majesty's pious declaration of reliance upon the Divine Providence for support and guidance, and we humbly join our supplications with those of your Majesty and of the whole kingdom, on your Majesty's behalf. May the Supreme Benefactor, the Father of Mercies, grant that on your head the Crown may flourish, and that during your auspicious reign, peace may be preserved with all nations, tranquillity may be enjoyed at home, and equal rights and liberties may knit the hearts of all your Majesty's subjects in love to your Majesty, and to one another. May the King of Kings take your Majesty under his Almighty protection, shield you from dangers, replenish you with all heavenly gifts and graces, and prolong your life and reign to a far distant period, and cause your happiness as a Queen to be constantly growing in the spontaneous loyalty, the cordial affection, and the generous confidence of all classes and denominations of your Majesty's subjects, until, in the course of the Divine Providence, and in fulfilment of the Divine Grace, your Majesty shall be translated from earthly to heavenly felicity and glory.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

"I thank you for your condolence upon the death of the late King, and for your congratulations upon my accession.

"I am much gratified by the feelings which you express towards former Sovereigns of my family, and more particularly towards His late Majesty.

"I am actuated by the same principles, and you may always rely upon receiving at my hands that protection which is so justly due to you."

To VICTORIA, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the Dominions thereunto belonging.

May it please the Queen,

WE, thy dutiful and loyal subjects, Members of the religious Society of Friends commonly called Quakers, and representing that body in Great Britain and Ireland, are anxious to take the earliest opportunity of thus expressing our cordial and faithful attachment to our Queen.

We sensibly feel the loss of our late beloved Monarch King William the Fourth. We look back upon his reign as a period of no common importance in the history of our country, marked as it has been by the extension of civil and religious liberty, by mercy and compassion to the guilty, and by the recognition of the rights of our enslaved fellow subjects. We rejoice in these features of his Government as evidences of the increasing sway of Christian principle in the legislation of our country.

Under feelings of thankfulness to Almighty God, we offer to thee, our Queen, on thy accession to the Throne of these realms, our sincere congratulations on the prevalence of peace abroad and tranquillity at home. May nothing be permitted to interrupt these blessings; and may the conviction more and more prevail, that war is alike antichristian and impolitic. Convinced as we are that the religion of Jesus Christ, our Lord and Redeemer, is the only foundation for the true happiness of man and the prosperity of a people, and that it is the surest bulwark to any government, our prayer to God is, that it may be the stability of thy Throne, and may influence all the deliberations of thy Council.

Be pleased, O Queen, to accept our earnest and heartfelt desire, that thou mayest seek for heavenly wisdom to enable thee to fulfil the arduous duties which, in the ordering of Divine Providence, thou art, thus early, called to perform. Mayest thou live in the fear of God, and may he incline thy heart to keep his law, and richly endow thee with the graces of his Holy Spirit; and at length, when the days of thy delegated trust on earth are ended, mayest thou, through the mercy of God in Christ Jesus, enter upon an inheritance incorruptible and undetiled, and that fadeth not away.

Signed by the members of a meeting appointed to represent the said religious Society in Great Britain and Ireland. London, the 12th day of the seventh month, 1837.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

"I thank you for your condolence upon the death of His late Majesty, for the justice which you render to his character, and to the measures of his reign; and for your warm congratulations upon my accession to the Throne.

"I join in your prayers for the prosperity of my reign; the best security for which is to be found in reverence for our holy religion, and in the observance of its duties."

St. James's-Palace, July 19, 1837.

THIS day the following Addresses were presented to Her Majesty, at the Levee, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address; which Her Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To Her Most Gracious Majesty VICTORIA, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland Queen, Defender of the Faith, &c. &c.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the borough of Manchester, in Public Meeting assembled, beg leave to approach your Throne, on an occasion of such deep interest to your Majesty and ourselves, with the mingled expression of our condolence and congratulations.

We deeply sympathize with the bereavement which your Majesty, in common with your loyal subjects, has recently sustained in the lamented death of your Majesty's late revered Uncle, and our most gracious Monarch, King William the Fourth; but we feel convinced that your Majesty will derive consolation from the assurance that his kind-hearted and generous conduct as a man, his constant regard for the rights and liberties of his subjects, and his desire to promote the amelioration of the laws and institutions of the country, will long be remembered by his people with feelings of the deepest gratitude and affection.

To these our expressions of sincere and heartfelt sympathy we beg to add our most cordial and lively congratulations on your Majesty's happy and most auspicious accession to the Throne of these realms. Educated, as your Majesty has condescended to remind your loyal subjects, in England, under the tender and enlightened care of a most affectionate Mother, your Majesty has learned from infancy to respect and love the constitution of your native country; and we feel unspeakable joy in the gracious assurance, which we doubt not it will be the object of your Majesty's life to realize, that you will protect the rights and promote to the utmost of your power the happiness and welfare of all classes of your subjects. From these liberal and encouraging expressions with regard to your Majesty's beneficent designs towards your people, we deduce a confident assurance that your Majesty will be ever mindful of those great principles which originally placed the House of Brunswick on the Throne of these realms.

That it may please Almighty God to strengthen and assist your Majesty in the fulfilment of these most gracious designs. That all your subjects may co-operate, as in duty bound, with your Majesty's zealous endeavours to secure these ends, in which all are so intimately concerned; and that your Majesty's reign may be long, prosperous, and happy; glorious to your name, and beneficial to your people, is our sincere wish and most fervent prayer.

Signed, in pursuance of a Resolution of the Inhabitants of Manchester, in Public Meeting assembled, at the Town-hall, on Wednesday the 28th day of June 1837.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Inhabitants of the county of Cambridge and of the Isle of Ely.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, beg leave to approach your Majesty, and, with expressions of the deepest sorrow, to offer our sincere condolence at the loss which your Majesty has sustained by the death of our late revered Sovereign, King William the Fourth.

Impelled by strong feelings of loyalty and affection, we hasten to tender our allegiance, and to congratulate your Majesty upon your accession to the Crown of these realms, confident, from your Majesty's most gracious declaration, that, under Divine Providence, the high authority of your Majesty will be exercised in the firm and constant maintenance of the reformed religion, as by law established, securing at the same time to all the full enjoyment of religious liberty. And that, while you endeavour to emulate the example of the brightest of your race, you will never swerve from those principles which seated the House of Brunswick upon the British Throne.

In conclusion, we most fervently pray that Almighty God will guide you by His counsel, support you by His strength, and graht unto you a long, a happy, and a peaceful reign.

Signed by order and on behalf of this meeting, duly convened and held on the 10th day of July 1837, at the Shire-hall, in the town of Cambridge, in the county of Cambridge.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral and Metropolitan Church of Christ, Canterbury, beg most humbly to offer to your Majesty our most sincere congratulation on the accession of your Majesty to the Throne of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

Allegiance to the Throne is inseparable from the attachment which we bear to the Established Church, of which your Majesty is the acknowledged head, and the dignities, immunities, and privileges which we have derived from the favour of your royal predecessors, and in which we have been for many centuries secured through their continued protection, have strengthened the tie of loyalty and gratitude which connects us with the Crown.

And we feel deeply grateful to your Majesty for the gracious declaration, that it will be your Majesty's unceasing study to maintain the reformed religion of the land as by law established; a declaration that recognized the only sound principle on which good government can be based, or the favour of the Almighty expected to attend your Majesty's councils.

It will be our fervent prayer that God may give to your Majesty the support of his most powerful aid; length of days, continued peace, and every temporal and eternal blessing.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Saint Andrew in Wells, humbly beg permission to lay before your Majesty the expression of our sincere condolence on the great loss which your Majesty and this nation has sustained, in the decease of our late revered and beloved King; and we at the same time offer to your Majesty, with all loyalty and dutiful affection, our congratulations upon your Majesty's accession to the Throne of the United Kingdom.

We are deeply impressed with the conviction that, under the wise and careful guidance of your illustrious Mother, your Majesty has become intimately acquainted with the nature of the civil and ecclesiastical institutions of this great empire, and with all those duties which Divine Providence has called your Majesty to fulfil; and we implore the Almighty Giver of all Good to grant your Majesty a long and prosperous reign.

Being fully persuaded that, under God's blessing, this nation has been mainly indebted for her continued prosperity to the maintenance of true religion, as professed by our Protestant Established Church, we are anxious to assure your Majesty of our determination to diffuse its blessings among the people by every means within our power; and in order to this great end, we humbly entreat your Majesty to grant us that full measure of your favour and protection, which we, in common with the other Cathedrals of this realm, have enjoyed under your Majesty's Royal predecessors.

We pray God to pour down every blessing upon your Majesty, and to unite the hearts of your subjects in one sentiment of dutiful submission and devoted loyalty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the President, Vice-Presidents, and Council of the Royal College of Surgeons in London, humbly solicit your Majesty graciously to receive our heartfelt condolence on the demise of your august predecessor, our late revered Sovereign.

Turning from the cause of our profound, but unavailing grief, to an occasion of joy and lively expectation, we presume to offer our congratulatory homage on the accession of your Majesty to the Throne of these realms.

Animated by a confident reliance on your Majesty's protection and encouragement, we shall zealously continue our endeavours for the cultivation and improvement of the art and science of surgery, and for the preservation of the health and lives of your Majesty's subjects.

We ardently pray that your Majesty may long reign in the affections of a loyal, happy, and united people.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the President and Council of the Royal Society of Literature, beg leave, in the name of the Society at large, to approach your Majesty with the expression of our condolence upon the loss which your Majesty and the nation have sustained by the death of our late revered Sovereign, and to tender to your Majesty our humble congratulations upon the commencement of a reign, which we devoutly pray may be long and prosperous.

The Society which thus presumes to address your Majesty upon this occasion, was originally founded under the express sanction of his Majesty King George the Fourth, was incorporated by a Royal charter, and was honoured with the constant encouragement and support of his Majesty; and it continued during the reign of your Majesty's immediate predecessor to enjoy the advantage of Royal patronage.

The Royal Society of Literature venture, therefore, to lay at your Majesty's feet their humble petition that your Majesty may, in like manner, be graciously pleased to countenance, by your favour and protection, their endeavours to extend the knowledge of literature, and to promote, as far as their means may allow, the intellectual improvement of your Majesty's subjects.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Inhabitants of the town of Tunbridge Wells, solicit permission to approach your Majesty, with the expression of our sincere condolence with your Majesty on the loss which the British dominions have sustained, in the death of our late lamented Sovereign.

At the same time we acknowledge thankfully the mercy and bounty of Providence, which has consigned the Government of these realms to a Queen whose mind has been trained, in all its growth, in virtue and wisdom, by the affectionate care of your Royal Mother. We hail your Majesty's accession to the Throne of your Ancestors as an event which adds new strength and interest to the ties which bind our country to the House of Brunswick.

We would further venture to claim a more peculiar interest in our Sovereign, from the distinguished honour which this town has enjoyed frequently of your Royal presence, and the many associations of condescension and beneficence with which your Majesty's visits are connected.

We humbly desire, therefore, to assure your Majesty of our unalterable and affectionate attachment to your Majesty's Person, and of our earnest prayer that your Majesty may reign over us for many years, promoting the welfare of the millions who acknowledge your Majesty's dominion, and reaping that happiness which the consciousness of such an use of power cannot fail to confer.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Inhabitants of the borough of Bideford, in the county of Devon, beg leave most respectfully to approach your Majesty with sincere expressions of our condolence upon the bereavement which you and nation have experienced, by the death of our late much revered Sovereign, King William the Fourth.

We very deeply feel the loss which we have sustained, in common with all others of your Majesty's subjects, but we likewise feel assured that your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these realms will ensure them a continuance of those blessings of peace, liberty, and security which, under Divine Providence and the sway of your Royal House, we have hitherto enjoyed, and we hope and feel confident that the judicious measures which will be adopted under your enlightened auspices will defend and extend them.

We most humbly beg to offer your Majesty our respectful and warm congratulations on your accession to that Throne which your Ancestors have with so much lustre filled; and we humbly pray that, by the assistance of Divine Providence, your Majesty may for a long period be destined to reign over a free, happy, and grateful people.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses, of the ancient town and borough of Ipswich, now assembled in Council, crave leave to approach your Majesty, to offer our honest and affectionate congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these realms.

The Almighty Disposer of all human events has caused us to mourn the loss of our late beloved and lamented Sovereign; but the same All-wise Providence has deigned to mitigate our affliction by the animating hopes and well-founded confidence inspired by his illustrious successor. In your Majesty we behold a Queen born and bred amongst us; a loyal and affectionate people have regarded, with grateful admiration, and with an intense interest, proportioned to the high duties which your Majesty was destined to fulfil, the devotion of your illustrious Parent to the promotion of those attainments, and to the culture and direction of those virtues which would shed a lustre around the Throne, and diffuse happiness amongst your faithful subjects.

The first gracious declaration from your Majesty's lips, "That it would be your Majesty's unceasing study to maintain the reformed religion as by law established, securing at the same time to all the full enjoyment of religious liberty," has been hailed in every part of this great empire with surpassing satisfaction. This prompt and magnanimous recognition of the great leading principle of our admirable constitution is enthusiastically accepted by a loyal and intelligent nation as the harbinger of a wise and beneficent Government, and as an indication of a reign that will fill some of the brightest pages of future history.

That your Majesty, under Divine Providence, may be long spared to us, and that the virtues and happiness of your private life, and the glory and prosperity of your benign rule over a free and grateful people may be the lasting theme of eulogy is the unfeigned prayer and the confident expectation pervading all classes in your Majesty's dominions; in that prayer and expectation no portion of your Majesty's people more ardently and affectionately join than your loyal and devoted subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of your Majesty's ancient town and borough of Ipswich.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, Inhabitants of the town and parish of Kensington, beg most respectfully to approach your Majesty, to offer our condolence upon the recent loss which your Majesty and the country have sustained by the death of our late revered Monarch.

But while we deplore the loss of a King who had devoted himself with the most unwearied zeal to the promotion of the best interests of his country, we cannot fail to look, with every sentiment of hope and confidence, to the reign of another Sovereign, so auspiciously commenced as that of your Majesty.

These sentiments, however, are not peculiar to us; they are deeply seated in the hearts of all your Majesty's subjects; but we, with the utmost deference, venture to assert the dear and special ties which bind us in dutiful affection to your Majesty's person.

It was in the midst of us that your Majesty was born. It was here that your Majesty received the excellent education for which your subjects must ever feel most grateful to your Majesty's illustrious Parent, by whom it was directed and superintended; an education which cannot fail to secure to your Majesty the great object of her Royal Highness's life, the universal respect and affection of your people.

It was in the midst of us that your Majesty's youthful mind was first impressed with the great truths of Christianity, and became imbued with that spirit of charity by which our parochial institutions have been so greatly benefitted.

It was in the midst of us that that mind attained the state of maturity which has enabled your Majesty to acquire and to appreciate that extensive knowledge of the varied interests of this great nation, which affords the fairest hope that your Majesty will enjoy a prosperous and happy reign; and it was here that your Majesty was called, in the Providence of God, to the first exercise of your rights of Sovereignty.

Most humbly, but most earnestly, do we implore from the great Parent of all Good that your Majesty may long sway the Sceptre of these realms, over a united and happy people; that the Throne of England may be more than ever sustained, by the homage and affection of a highly principled loyalty; and that the name of your Majesty may be associated with every thing humane, enlightened, and religious, as to live to the remotest time in the grateful remembrance of the wise and good.

May it please your Majesty,

We, the undersigned Inhabitants of the Parish of New Brentford, in the county of Middlesex, beg to embrace an early opportunity of humbly approaching your Majesty, with sentiments of the most unfeigned loyalty and attachment to your Royal Person on your accession to the Throne of these realms.

At the same time that we offer to your Majesty our most cordial congratulations on this highly important and interesting occasion, we cannot but, in common with our fellow countrymen, sincerely condole with your Majesty, and deeply deplore the severe loss which your Majesty and the whole of the nation have sustained in the death of our universally beloved and revered Monarch, William the Fourth.

We are, however, fully persuaded, that although it has pleased the Wise Disposer of all Events to call your Majesty, at so early an age, to wield the sceptre of these kingdoms, we have just cause, from your Majesty's well known kindness of disposition, firmness of character, and highly cultivated mind, to rejoice at the commencement of a reign which promises to be blessed to all classes of your Majesty's subjects with a continuation of peace, prosperity, and happiness.

Devoutly and fervently, therefore, do we pray that it may please Almighty God, who ruleth over all the kingdoms of the world, and disposeth of them according to his good pleasure, to bless your Majesty with uninterrupted health, to guide you with his unerring wisdom, and to strengthen you with his everlasting arm; so that, after having for many years reigned in the hearts and affections of your people, you may at length exchange an earthly diadem for a more glorious crown in the realms of immortal bliss.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Highland and Agricultural Society of Scotland, incorporated by charters from your Majesty's Royal predecessors, being assembled in a General Meeting, beg leave most humbly to tender to your Majesty the expression of our deep condolence on the loss which your Majesty and the nation have sustained, by the death of your Royal Uncle, our late most gracious Sovereign King William the Fourth. In common with all the faithful subjects of your Majesty, we deplore an event which has deprived the nation of a Sovereign endeared to his subjects by many noble qualities, by an anxious devotion to the duties of his high office, and by an affectionate regard for the happiness of his people.

But, while feeling thus deeply for the loss of a beloved Sovereign, it becomes our grateful duty to present to your Majesty our heartfelt congratulations and most dutiful homage on your Majesty's accession to the Throne. We look with a loyal confidence to the wise and happy discharge of those great duties which your Majesty has thus early in life been called upon to execute. We feel that the high endowments and amiable qualities of your Majesty, cultivated with all the care of a virtuous education, afford a sure guarantee that the happiness of your people will be ever dear to you, and that the constitution of the country, on which their security and liberties depend, will find in your Majesty a faithful guardian. Devoted, as we ourselves are by the objects of our Society, to the cultivation of the useful arts, we entertain a confident hope that, under the beneficent sway of your Majesty, the resources of the country will be called forth, by the extension of your Royal favour to all the arts of peace. To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty:

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Royal Astronomical Society, beg leave to approach your Majesty with our sincere expressions of condolence and regret for the loss of our late revered Sovereign William the Fourth, a Prince endeared, on many accounts, to all classes of his subjects, but to us more especially, by the interest he took in promoting that branch of science with which we are more immediately concerned, and the importance of which no one could more duly appreciate.

At a very early period of our formation, his late Majesty honoured us with his countenance and support; and, on his accession to the Throne, was graciously pleased to grant us a Charter of Incorporation, to admit us to a share of the annual visitation of the Royal Observatory at Greenwich, and to become our Royal Patron.

But, whilst we deplore the loss of so excellent a Sovereign, we hail with the most heartfelt satisfaction and congratulation the accession of your Majesty to the Throne of this mighty empire; being fully assured that, under the auspices of your most gracious Majesty, the civil and religious rights of all classes of your Majesty's subjects will continue to be protected and maintained, and every branch of art and science encouraged and promoted.

Under this assurance we most humbly solicit that your Majesty would be graciously pleased to extend to us, in like manner, your Royal patronage. The knowledge and advancement of astronomy (the most profound and important of the sciences) has, in all ages, tended to exalt a country in the scale of nations; and in a maritime state its cultivation is more especially to be favoured and promoted, since, without its aid, no vessel could venture to cross the trackless ocean. Many are the advantages which this science has received and enjoyed through the munificence and patronage of your Majesty's Royal predecessors; and we confidently trust that your Majesty's reign will be equally distinguished for the advancement of this, as well as of every other branch of science, and for the enjoyment, under Divine Providence, of every earthly blessing.

That your Majesty may long reign over a happy and united empire, is the fervent and ardent prayer of us, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Wisbech, in Council assembled, desire to approach your Majesty on your accession to the Throne of these realms, with every assurance of attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government.

We humbly beg leave to express our sincere condolence upon the demise of his late Majesty, your Royal Uncle, whose memory will long be endeared to us, by the many public and private virtues for which he was distinguished, and the desire which he manifested upon all occasions to ameliorate the institutions of the country, and adapt them to the growing wealth and intelligence of the people.

We rejoice in the opportunities which have been afforded to your Majesty of acquiring an intimate knowledge of the principles of the British constitution, and we hail with delight the prospects which the auspicious commencement of your Majesty's reign opens to us, confidently anticipating that it will be your Majesty's aim, by a wise and impartial Government, to maintain the ancient glory of the country, to extend its commercial relations, and to promote the welfare and prosperity of all classes of your Majesty's subjects.

We are further anxious to offer the tribute of admiration which is so eminently due to your Majesty's illustrious Parent, both on account of the many virtues that adorn her character, and more especially of the unremitting attention she has paid to your Majesty; and we trust that she may many years be spared to witness and partake of the happy results of her maternal solicitude and affection.

We acknowledge with thankfulness and gratitude the manifold and great blessings which have been extended, by Divine Providence, to this nation, during the peaceful reign of our late lamented Monarch, whose constant regards (as your Majesty has well declared), for the rights and liberties of his subjects, and whose desire to promote the amelioration of the laws and institutions of the country, have rendered his name the object of general attachment and veneration.

With emotions of unalterable loyalty we now have the happiness to present to your Majesty our hearty congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these realms.

Educated as your Majesty has been, in those sound principles which characterised the Councils of your Majesty's august predecessors, under whose dominion these kingdoms have risen to a height of splendour and prosperity unexampled in the history of nations, we feel the fullest confidence that your Majesty's Throne is established upon the best and surest foundations: and that, under your Majesty's auspices, our beloved country will continue, as heretofore, to be adorned with every virtue that can exalt a nation.

That Almighty God, who is "the King of Kings, the Lord of Lords, and the only ruler of Princes," may vouchsafe to grant continually to your Majesty every temporal and spiritual blessing, and "a right judgment in all things," and that your Majesty may long reign over this vast empire to His honour and glory, and to the happiness and welfare of all classes of your Majesty's subjects, is our most fervent prayer.

To the QUEEN'S most Excellent Majesty.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the President and Fellows of the Royal College, and Incorporation of Surgeons, of the city of Edinburgh.

May it please you Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the President and Fellows of the Royal College, and Incorporation of Surgeons of Edinburgh, beg leave, most humbly, to offer to your Majesty our sincere and respectful condolence on the death of your gracious Uncle, our late beloved Sovereign, who, by his early devotion to that branch of the public service, in which the safety and glory of this empire are so much involved, by the unostentatious tenor of his private life, previously to his accession to the Throne, and by the kindly interest which, as a Monarch, he manifested in the welfare of all classes of his subjects, had deservedly secured to himself the warm and affectionate regard of his people.

While we have to deplore the calamity which your Royal House and the nation have sustained by the death of our lamented King, permit us, Madam, to express how much we rejoice in the persuasion, that your Majesty, to whom the Crown has now descended, has been trained, in anticipation of your future destiny, under the watchful and affectionate eye of a Mother eminently distinguished for those virtues which embellish the female character in every rank of life, and which, in one of her exalted station, are not less important as an example than estimable in themselves.

We congratulate your Majesty, that your accession to the Throne of these realms has taken place at a time when, under the blessing of Divine Providence, the nation is enjoying peace abroad, and tranquillity at home; when commerce holds out fair prospects of reward to the industry, skill, and judicious enterprise of your people; and when all ranks of society are deeply impressed with the importance to the temporal and eternal happiness of mankind, of religious, moral, and intellectual cultivation.

We anxiously pray to the Almighty that your Majesty may enjoy a long reign, and that it may be your happy lot, by the wisdom of your Councils, to secure the maintenance of peace, and the prosperity of commerce, and to see your people constantly advancing in the blessings of civilization, and above all in piety and virtue; for these we feel assured your Majesty will ever regard as the most grateful recompence of the anxieties attendant on the exalted station which God has been pleased to assign to you.

In name and by appointment of the Royal College, Geo. Ballingau, President.

To Her Most Gracious Majesty the QUEEN of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Magistrates, Aldermen, Councillors, Clergy, and Inhabitants of the antient borough of Tiverton, in the county of Devon, at a meeting duly convened, unanimously beseech your Majesty to accept our unfeigned assurances of regret and sorrow for the loss our country has sustained, by the decease of your Majesty's most excellent Uncle, our late beloved Sovereign, King William the Fourth.

Greatly do we deplore this unhappy event, for the page of history affords not a more brilliant example of a patriot King, of a King whose desire it has ever been to advance, on conviction, every measure which he conceived could operate for the happiness of his subjects; of one, whose assiduity has rarely been equalled, perhaps never surpassed; of a Monarch more distinguished for patient investigation, or more willing to embrace, with firmness and cheerfulness, whatever he esteemed to be conducive to the prosperity, and best interests of our country.

Heavy indeed would have been our anxiety, on so lamentable a bereavement, had it not pleased the Sovereign Disposer of all human events to encourage us with the most exalted hopes, that in His Majesty's successor would be found a Queen who will pursue the same wise and judicious course in the amelioration of our institutions, and prove equally desirous of the advancement of religion and virtue throughout Her Majesty's dominions.

Long may your Majesty live to realize the just expectations of a loyal and grateful people, a people who repose with every confidence on all which your Majesty has already been pleased to assure them will be the great objects of your Majesty's most gracious endeavours; so that when, at a distant period we trust, it may be the good pleasure of the Almighty to release your Majesty from those responsible and important cares, which necessarily will ever accompany your Majesty's earthly career, there may remain in recollection the same affectionate regard, the same degree of sorrow and regret, which, with great truth, we may assert now occupies the breasts of all classes of your Majesty's loyal, dutiful, and obedient subjects.

Signed at the request of, and on behalf of, the meeting. Francis Hole, Mayor.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the county of Glamorgan, in County Meeting assembled, beg leave respectfully to approach your Majesty, with sentiments of devoted loyalty and attachment to your Royal Person and Family. We desire to offer at once to your Majesty, our sincere condolence, and our hearty and zealous congratulation; our condolence on the loss which your Majesty, in common with the nation, has sustained by the demise of your royal Uncle, our late King, a Monarch who lived in the hearts of his people, and whose anxious and earnest desire was, at all times, to promote the national welfare, and happiness, and glory.

We also intreat your Majesty to accept with favour, our loyal congratulations on your own accession to the Throne of your illustrious Ancestors. We rejoice in the recollection, that you were born among us, and that from the earliest period you have been imbued with a reverence for the British constitution; from that reverence, as well as from your Majesty's known disposition and acquirements, we anticipate all the happiness, and liberty, and renown, which can be enjoyed by a great and free nation. It is our sincere prayer, that the great King of Kings may bless and protect your Majesty during a long and prosperous reign, and second all your desires to promote the welfare and happiness of your people.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and devoted subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Councillors, Burgesses, and other Inhabitants of the borough of Truro, in your Majesty's ancient Duchy of Cornwall, beg leave to offer to your Majesty our most humble and sincere condolence on the bereavement with which it hath pleased Divine Providence to afflict your Majesty, and the nation at large, by the demise of your Majesty's most illustrious Uncle, our late much loved and revered King. The loss we have thus sustained, we beg leave, however, most respectfully to assure your Majesty, is softened by the consideration of the many exalted virtues possessed by your Majesty, and by the early display of those great principles in your Majesty's first gracious declaration to your Privy Council, which must more than ever attach us to your Majesty's person, and to the Constitution of this highly favoured country.

We desire to offer our most sincere congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these realms; and we earnestly hope that your Majesty may be blessed with health to enjoy a long and happy reign, over a grateful, free, and prosperous people.

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Councillors of the city and borough of Bath, in Council assembled, desire to approach your Majesty with sentiments of dutiful and devoted attachment, and to congratulate your Majesty on your accession to the Throne of your Ancestors, humbly beseeching Almighty God to grant to your Majesty a long and prosperous reign, and to bless your exertions for the benefit of the people of these realms, which he has committed to your care.

We heartily thank your Majesty for your most gracious declaration to make it your unceasing study to secure to all the full enjoyment of religious liberty, and steadily to protect the rights and promote the happiness and welfare of all classes of your Majesty's subjects; and we humbly assure your Majesty that we will, on all occasions, uphold your Majesty's just and legal prerogatives as an essential and inseparable part of the immemorial laws and constitution of this land.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, most humbly approach your Majesty with the assurance of our sincere condolence on the death of His late Majesty, under whose paternal Government peace has been maintained, the rights and liberties of the people enlarged, the laws and institutions of the country ameliorated, and its general prosperity promoted.

Whilst we are duly sensible of the important acts by which the reign of His late Majesty was distinguished, we look forward with perfect confidence to the continuance of the same blessings by the accession of your Majesty to the Throne of these realms.

With unfeigned satisfaction we have observed the auspicious manner in which the early years of your Majesty have been passed, under the careful superintendence of an enlightened and affectionate Parent, so as to impress your Majesty's mind with virtuous principles and sound knowledge.

With these feelings and sentiments we rejoice most fervently in the first act and declaration of your Majesty's reign, evincing a firm resolution to exercise the high functions and prerogatives of the Crown, in the true spirit of the constitution; to maintain the reformed religion as by law established, securing at the same time to all the full enjoyment of religious liberty, and steadily to protect the rights and promote the happiness and welfare of all classes of your Majesty's subjects.

Your Majesty will be pleased to receive the assurance of our most loyal and devoted attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person, and of entire confidence in your Majesty's Government, which, we trust, is destined to accelerate and complete those measures of salutary reform in the institutions of the country, which time and the increasing intelligence of the age have rendered both safe and expedient.

We pray that your Majesty may long live to rule over a free, prosperous, and united people.

To Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen VICTORIA.

May it please your Majesty,

A few weeks only have elapsed since we, the Inhabitants of your Majesty's town of Barnstaple, offered our congratulations on your having attained the age at which the laws of our country deem its Princes capable of exercising the Sovereign Power. The hidden dispensations of the Divine Providence have now committed to your Majesty's hands, at an early period of your life, that awful and important trust: and you reign over a great, a free, an enlightened, and a religious people.

Under this circumstance we again beg permission to approach your Majesty with assurances of our loyalty to the Throne, and of our dutiful attachment to your Royal Person.

The intimate acquaintance which your Majesty has so happily formed with the character of your people has, we doubt not, deeply impressed your mind with a determination of maintaining those civil and religious liberties, and those wise and free institutions in Church and State for whose defence your august family was called to the Throne of these kingdoms.

In this persuasion we pray that He, who is the King of Kings, will strengthen your Majesty's hands and pour forth upon yourself and upon your Counsellors (as he did upon the wisest of His servants) the spirit of an understanding heart, that your reign may be long and happy, and illustrious through all succeeding ages in the glorious annals of our country.

On behalf of the Inhabitants of the town and borough of Barnstaple, Stephen Bencraft, Mayor of Barnstaple.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of, Liverpool, in special Council assembled, hasten to lay before your Majesty the expressions of our heartfelt loyalty and attachment to your sacred person, on your accession to the Throne of these realms; and of our sincere condolence upon the lamented demise of His Majesty, your Royal Uncle, a Prince whose memory will be endeared to the present generation, and will live in history as the friend of peace, and the supporter of political and religious freedom, and as having conferred on his subjects the blessings of civil institutions, in accordance with that growing intelligence, wealth, and prosperity, in the midst of which it was his great happiness to reign.

We rejoice, that your Majesty, born and brought up in this country, has received an education such as to ingraft on your Royal mind those great truths, that a Monarch's first duty is the welfare of the people, and that an impartial and generous administration of the laws, and a gracious approval of those salutary ameliorations called for by the progress of time, are the surest mode to secure the happiness, and rivet the affections of his subjects.

We hail with joy the prospects which your Majesty's opening reign affords, confidently anticipating the maintenance of true religion, the firm support of our laws, the removal of all impolitic restrictions on our commerce, the extension of those civil privileges hitherto withheld from a portion of our fellow subjects, and the preservation of all that is valuable in our constitution.

We should be ungrateful, and it would be unjust to our own feelings, were we to omit, on this occasion, the expression of our cordial sympathy with your Majesty's illustrious Parent, and of our earnest hope that she may long be spared to receive, in witnessing your Majesty's happiness and glory, the well earned reward of her enlightened and affectionate maternal care.

That your Majesty may reign for many years over a virtuous and happy people, is our sincere and fervent prayer.

Given under the common seal of the said borough this 26th day of June 1837.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Inhabitants of the borough of Leeds, in Public Meeting assembled, humbly approach your Majesty to express our feelings of sympathy and condolence on the loss sustained by your Majesty, and the nation at large, by the demise of your late most excellent and beloved Sovereign, the memory of whose virtues and patriotism will be long and justly cherished by the people.

By this dispensation of Almighty Providence, your Majesty (as your undoubted inheritance) has succeeded to the imperial Crown of these realms, an event on which we pray your Majesty to accept our hearty and loyal congratulations.

Deeply sensible of the invaluable blessings providentially secured to us and our country under our happy constitution, and the paternal communion of our royal house, we most cheerfully tender to your Majesty the sincere homage of devoted subjects, with every sentiment of affectionate attachment to your royal person and office.

We rely with unbounded confidence on your Majesty's Christian and patriotic principles, and the wisdom and energy of your Majesty's character and councils, to cherish the honour and defend the rightful prerogatives of the crown, uphold the laws and constitution of these kingdoms, maintain the just liberties, and to promote the true welfare of your subjects.

We pray that your Majesty may have a long and glorious reign, in the full enjoyment of health and every blessing of this life; and that, governing in righteousness and the fear of God a prosperous and mighty empire, your Majesty may ever happily rule in the hearts of a grateful and loyal people.

To our Sovereign Lady VICTORIA, Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the City of Bristol.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the city of Bristol, in Council specially assembled, humbly crave leave to address your Majesty on the occasion of the demise of our late revered and beloved Sovereign William the Fourth, by which lamented event your Majesty has succeeded to the sovereignty of these realms.

The public and private virtues which adorned his late Majesty, and the principles of justice and moderation which invariably regulated his mild and paternal government, have most justly endeared his memory to all his subjects, and impressed upon their minds sentiments of unfeigned sorrow for the deprivation which the country has sustained by his death; but whilst we most seriously regret this event, our feelings of grief are greatly alleviated by the hope and conviction, that in your Majesty's most gracious person the virtues and amiable qualities of His late Majesty are centered and continued, and that your Majesty will ever support those principles which have characterized the government of your Royal predecessors, by which, under Divine Providence, our liberties, our laws, and our religion have been hitherto preserved inviolate, and this kingdom has been advanced to the lofty and exalted rank which it holds among nations; and we hail with heartfelt satisfaction your Majesty's most gracious declaration, that it will be your unceasing study to maintain the reformed religion as by law established, securing to all your Majesty's subjects the full enjoyment of religious liberty.

Allow us, therefore, most gracious Sovereign, to offer to your Majesty our sentiments of sincere congratulation on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of your illustrious Ancestors, to assure your Majesty that the loyal inhabitants of your ancient city of Bristol are not surpassed by any of the subjects of these realms in feelings of sincere and warm attachment to your Majesty, and all the branches of your Royal House, and to express our ardent prayers that your Majesty may long be permitted to reign in the hearts of a free and united people, and in the enjoyment of health, and all other earthly blessings.

WE, the undersigned Ministers and Laymen, Members of the Presbyterian Denomination of the counties of Lancaster and Chester, assembled in our provincial meeting at Chowbent, in the county of Lancaster, June 22, 1837, beg leave, on the occasion of your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these realms, to express our feelings of loyal attachment to your Majesty's person, and our most fervent wishes that a reign, commenced at so early an age, and under circumstances so interesting to all classes of your Majesty's subjects, may be long continued in health, honour, and prosperity, to the advancement of your Majesty's own and your peoples' happiness, to the promotion of peace, harmony, and friendly feeling among all sects and classes of the community, to the diffusion of knowledge, intelligence, and pure religion, and to the maintenance of those great principles of civil and religious liberty on which the security of your Majesty's Throne, and the happiness of your Majesty's reign, will be most firmly established; and which, under your Majesty's mild and equal sway, it is our devout and earnest prayer that we may long be permitted to enjoy.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

Madam,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Deputies from the several congregations of Protestant Dissenters in the Metropolis and its vicinity, beg leave to approach your Royal person to express our regret at the loss which this country has sustained by the decease of our late beloved Sovereign King William the Fourth.

His reign will be memorable in the British annals as one of uninterrupted peace and amity with foreign countries, and of beneficent administration at home, and a grateful people will cherish the memory of their patriotic Monarch, who gave his sanction to those important measures for the amelioration of the laws and institutions of this country which have occupied the attention of the legislature.

The Protestant Dissenters of these realms would be justly chargeable with ingratitude, did they not more especially acknowledge the further concessions made during the late reign to the great principles of religious liberty, by the removal of several of those grievances of which they have had reason to complain.

In presenting our dutiful congratulations on your Majesty's happy accession to the Royal seat of your Ancestors, we beg permission to express our unabated attachment to the principles of civil and religious freedom which placed your august family on the Throne of these realms. We indulge with pleasure the recollection that the Protestant Dissenters have ever been among the most loyal and dutiful subjects of the successive Sovereigns of the House of Brunswick; and we rely with confidence upon your Majesty's gracious avowal of a determination to secure to all the full enjoyment of religious liberty, assured that we shall find the same protection in the exercise of our most cherished rights and privileges under your Majesty's reign that we have enjoyed under your royal predecessors.

Called, as your Majesty is by Divine Providence, at an early age, and at a most eventful period, to sway the sceptre over a great and intelligent people, we cannot but rejoice that the example of your august Father, too early lost to this country, and the counsels of that illustrious parent by whom your Majesty's education has been directed, have so well prepared your Majesty to sustain the high and awful trust: and we earnestly pray the Supreme Disposer of all events, by whom Kings reign and Princes decree justice, to grant that the reign so auspiciously commenced may be long, glorious, and happy, attended by uninterrupted peace, and a steady progress in national improvement. May your Royal counsels continue to be guided by those enlightened principles which have for their aim to promote the happiness and welfare of all classes, and may your Majesty's reign be signalized by a removal of whatever vestige remains of the intolerant or mistaken legislation of former ages. H. Haymouth, Chairman.

To Her Most Excellent Majesty Queen VICTORIA,

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Principal and Professors of the University of Edinburgh, would, on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these realms approach your Royal Person with the expression of our devoted loyalty and attachment.

We humbly tender to your Majesty our sincere condolence on the great loss which your Majesty and the nation have sustained, in the death of our lamented Sovereign. But, while we reflect with gratitude on the course of peace and prosperity, which, by Divine mercy, we have been permitted to enjoy during his paternal reign, we look forward with humble reliance to the continuance and extension of the same blessings under the sway of your most gracious Majesty. And it is our earnest hope, that your Majesty will accord to literature and science that protection and encouragement which are indispensable to their well being, and without which all higher learning must decline.

As administrators of the ancient and national seminary over which we have been called to preside, we shall make it our care that the youth entrusted to our superintendence in our various faculties of Arts, Theology, Medicine, and Law, shall be reared in sound principles; and that, placed as our University is, in intimate relation with the church established in this part of the kingdom, the future instructors of the great body of the people shall, under the tuition of their proper and constituted guardians within these walls, become the qualified dispensers of right, scientific, moral, and Christian education to the community at large.

It is our prayer to Almighty God, the great and sovereign Ruler among the nations of the earth, that the Throne of these kingdoms may be ever established in righteousness, and that, surrounded by the wise and faithful of the land, your Majesty may have a long, a peaceful, and prosperous reign over a loyal and religious people.

Department of the Comptroller for Victualling and Transport Services, Somerset-Place, July 21, 1837.

THE Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland do hereby give notice, that on Thursday the 3d of August next, at one o'clock, they will be ready to treat, under conditions which may be seen at the above Office, or upon application to Commander Chappell, of the Royal Navy, Agent for Her Majesty's Packets at Liverpool, or to the Collector and Comptroller of Customs at Glasgow or Bristol, or to Lieutenant Wentworth, R. N., at Leith,

For the immediate Hire of a Steam Vessel, to be employed in Her Majesty's Home Packet Service, for one year certain, and for such further time as the Vessel may be required. The Vessel must be from about 200 to 250 tons burthen, of not less than 100 horse power, capable of being propelled at not less than $9\frac{1}{2}$ knots per hour in a dead calm, in smooth water, and not drawing more water when quite ready for sea than 8 feet 6 inches, and to be hired at the rate of per annum, and to be ready by the 20th of August at the latest.

All tenders are to be made upon the printed form provided for the purpose, which may be had upon application as above, and they are to be addressed to the Secretary of the Admiralty, at Somerset-place, with the words "Tender for a Steam Vessel," and "Comptroller of Victualling," in the left hand corner of the envelope.

No tender will be received after one o'clock on the day of treaty, nor will any be noticed, unless the party, or an agent for him, attends.

Every tender must be delivered at the above Office, and be accompanied by the owner's authority for letting the vessel; and it must not only express when she will be ready for survey, but when she will be completely ready for sea, and also state the address of the party tendering.

As the vessel is required for immediate service, a preference will be given to such as will be ready in the shortest time; and the parties tendering will be required to bind themselves to pay a penalty, as specified in the form of tender, for every day the vessel offered shall be delayed beyond that named in the tender as the day on which she will be ready for sea.

COCKBURN'S BANKRUPTCY.

TO be sold by in public sale, on Wednesday the 2d of August, at seven o'clock in the evening, at the Coffee-house, Carlisle, by Mr. William Browne, all that very desirable and valuable estate, situate at Outhwaite, in the parish of Renwick, and county of Cumberland, consisting of an excellent dwelling-house, with numerous and convenient out-buildings, all in complete repair, and 172A., more or less, of rich arable, meadow, pasture, and wood land, very compact, well fenced and watered, and tithe-free, with the exception of lamb and wool. Now in the occupation of T. Waugh, as tenant.

The out-buildings comprise good stabling for horses, a commodious granary, two spacious barns, and excellent byers below, sheds, and suitable out-houses of every description. There is plenty of coal and lime on the above premises.

Also all that estate, situate at or called Harescough, in the parish of Kirkoswald, in the said county; consisting of a dwelling-house and out-offices, and several closes of rich arable and meadow land, containing together, by estimation, twenty-five acres, more or less, lying within a ring-fence, well watered and fenced, and only separated from the estate at Outhwaite by the rivulet Raven, and now in the occupation of the said Thomas Waugh and William Ion, as tenants.

Also all that messuage or tenement, situate at Fell-gate, in the said parish of Kirkoswald, consisting of a dwelling-house and out-offices, and about ten acres of meadow and pasture land, well fenced, and now in the occupation of the said Thomas Waugh, as tenant.

And also all that desirable estate, situate at Busk, in the parish of Kirkoswald aforesaid, consisting of a good dwelling-house, new barn, byer, and other necessary out-buildings, and several closes of rich arable, meadow, and pasture land, containing together, by estimation, forty-seven acres, more or less, well watered and fenced, and now in the occupation of George Robinson, as farmer.

These estates are in a high state of cultivation, are well adapted either for corn or grazing, and all, except Outhwaite, have unlimited rights on Harescough-fell adjoining. They are also situated in a fine sporting part of the country, and abound with black game, grouse, partridge, &c.; and there is excellent trout fishing in the rivulet Raven. They are very convenient for markets, being only four miles from Kirkoswald, twelve from Penrith, and nine from Alston. There is a considerable quantity of oak, ash, larch, and other timber, in the most thriving condition, on the above premises. The greatest part of these estates is of customary tenure, and the remainder freehold. The respective tenants will show the premises, and further particulars may be had on application to Messrs. Marston and Weir, assignees of Alexander Cockburn, a bankrupt, or at the office of Messrs. Law and Bendle, Solicitors, Carlisle.

or otherwise agreeing to any matter or thing relating thereto or allowing time for payment of any debt or debts, claims or demands due, or to become due, to the said bankrupts, or their or either of the estates; and also to assent to or dissent from the said assignees employing the said bankrupts, or either of them, as an accountant, or other person or persons, for the purpose of making out the accounts of and relating to, and collecting and getting in the debts due and effects belonging to, the estate of the said bankrupts, or either of them, and otherwise winding up their affairs; and to the assignees paying and allowing to the bankrupts, or either of them, and the said accountant, and such other person or persons as aforesaid, such sums of money for their respective services, before and after the date of the said meeting, as the said assignees shall think proper; and generally to authorise and empower the said assignees to act for the benefit and protection of the said estate, in such way as they shall, from time to time, think proper; and on other special affairs.

THE creditors who have proved their debts under a Fiat in Bankruptcy awarded and issued forth against William Barnby, now or late of Pudsey, near Leeds, in the county of York, Tallow Chandler, Grocer, Dealer and Chapman, are requested to meet the assignees of the estate and effects of the said bankrupt, on Wednesday the 16th day of August next, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, to determine on the propriety of having a new assignee appointed, in the place and stead of Mr. Samuel Clough, now a bankrupt; and to give full powers to the assignee or assignees, for the time being, to enter into any compromise or reference between the representatives of the estates of the two bankrupts William Barnby and Charles Ellicott.

THE creditors who have proved their debts under a Fiat in Bankruptcy awarded and issued forth against Henry Kilshaw, of Edenfield, in the county of Lancaster, Cotton-Spinner, are requested to meet the assignees of the said bankrupt's estate and effects, on Tuesday the 15th day of August next, at two o'clock in the afternoon precisely, at the office of Messrs. Slater and Heelis, Solicitors, No. 49, Princess-street, in Manchester, in the said county, in order to assent to or dissent from the said assignees relinquishing and abandoning the agreement for a lease under which the said bankrupt held a mill and other premises, at or near Edenfield aforesaid, and to their sanctioning or opposing the re-entry of the landlord of the said mill and premises, pursuant to a clause in the said agreement, and to their taking a new lease of such premises, or agreeing to occupy the same for the purposes of the bankrupt's estate, on such terms and for such period as may be agreed upon; and also to assent to or dissent from the said assignees continuing the trade and business of the said bankrupt, at the said mill and premises, for the benefit and at the risk of the said bankrupt's estate, and in case the said creditors of the said bankrupt shall assent to such trade being so carried on, to invest the said assignees with all necessary powers and authorities for that purpose; and also to assent to or dissent from the said assignees selling and disposing of all or any part of the machinery, stock in trade, fixtures, household goods, furniture, and other property and effects of the said bankrupt, either by public auction or private contract, or at a valuation, to the bankrupt or any other person or persons whomsoever willing to purchase the same, or to the said assignees accepting or rejecting any offers which have been or may be made to them for the purchase of the said estate, machinery, stock in trade, fixtures, household goods, furniture, and other property and estate, or any part or parts thereof, and to the said assignees giving such time or credit for the payment of the price thereof, with or without security, as the said assignees in their discretion may think fit, and at the risk of the bankrupt's estate; and also to the said assignees buying in the said estate, stock, and effects, or any part or parts thereof, at any auction, and reselling the same at any future auction, or by private contract, without being liable for any loss or diminution in price to arise on such resale; and also to assent to or dissent from the said assignees compounding for or taking less than the whole of any debt or debts owing to the said bankrupt's estate, which they may think bad or doubtful, in full satisfaction and discharge of the amount of such debts, and releasing any such debtor or debtors therefrom, and giving time to any debtor or debtors by agreeing to receive the same by instalments, or otherwise, and with or without taking security for the same; and also to the said assignees employing the said bankrupt, and any agents, accountants, and other assistants, to manage the said bankrupt's property, and to investigate his books, papers, accounts, and affairs, and to make up and adjust, and to collect and get in, the debts due and owing to the said bankrupt's estate; and to the said assignees making to the person or persons, to be so employed as aforesaid, such allowance and remuneration for his or their time and trouble therein, as they shall think fit; and also to assent to or dissent from the said assignees commencing, prosecuting, or defending any suit or suits at law or in equity, or any other proceedings, for the protection, recovery, or defence of the estate and effects of the said bankrupts, or any part or parts thereof; or to their submitting to arbitration, or otherwise agreeing to any matter or thing relating thereto; and generally to authorise the said assignees to act for the said bankrupt's creditors, in such manner as shall seem to the said assignees most beneficial; and on other special affairs.

THE creditors who have proved their debts under a Fiat in Bankruptcy awarded and issued forth against John Walmsley and William Walmsley, of Heaton Norris, in the parish of Manchester, in the county of Lancaster, Cotton-Spinners, Dealers and Chapmen, are requested to meet the assignees of the said bankrupts' estate and effects, on Tuesday the 15th day of August 1837, at ten of the clock in the forenoon precisely, at the office of Messrs. Slater and Heelis, Solicitors, No. 49, Princess street, Manchester aforesaid, in order to sanction the carrying on of the trade and business of the said bankrupts, by the provisional assignee of their estate and effects, and by the said assignees, from the time of their appointment, and to confirm and adopt the payments, purchases, and sales, and other dealings and transactions made and effected by them respectively; and to assent to or dissent from the said assignees continuing the trade and business of the said bankrupts at the mill and premises lately occupied by them at Heaton Norris aforesaid, for the benefit and at the risk of the said bankrupts' estate; and in case the creditors of the said bankrupts shall assent to such trade being so carried on, to invest the said assignees with all necessary powers and authorities for that purpose; and also to sanction the supply of power from the engine belonging to the said mill, which may, previous to the said meeting, have been afforded to the tenants of the rooms in the said mill, let off by the said bankrupts, for the turning and working of the gearing and machinery therein; and to assent to or dissent from the said assignees continuing such supply of power to the same, or any other tenants or tenant, on such terms and for such periods respectively as the said assignees may think proper; and also to assent to or dissent from the said assignees selling and disposing of all or any part of the real estate, machinery, stock in trade, fixtures, household goods, furniture, and other property and estate of the said bankrupts, either by public auction or private contract, or at a valuation, to any person or persons whomsoever (including the said bankrupts), willing to purchase the same; or to the said assignees accepting or rejecting any offers which have been or which may be made to them for the purchase of the said real estate, machinery, stock in trade, fixtures, household goods, furniture, and other property and estate, or any part or parts thereof, in one or more lot or lots, and to the said assignees giving such time or credit for the payment of the price thereof, with or without security, as the said assignees in their discretion may think fit, and at the risk of the bankrupts' estate; and also to the said assignees buying in the said real estate, stock, and effects, or any part or parts thereof, at any auction, and reselling the same at any future auction, or by private contract, without being liable for any loss or diminution in price to arise on such resale; and also to assent to or dissent from the said assignees compounding for, or taking less than the whole of any debt or debts owing to the said bankrupts' estate, which they may think bad or doubtful, in full satisfaction and discharge of the amount of such debts, and releasing any such debtor or debtors therefrom, and giving time to any debtor or debtors, by agreeing to receive the same by instalments, or otherwise, and with or without taking security for the same; and also to the said assignees employing the said bankrupts, and any agents, accountant, and other assistants, to manage the said bankrupts' property, and to investigate their books, papers, accounts, and affairs, and to make up and adjust, and to collect and get in, the debts due and owing to the said bankrupts' estate; and to the said assignees making to the person or persons to be so employed as aforesaid, such allowance and remuneration for his or their time and trouble therein, as they shall think fit; and also to assent to or dissent from the said assignees commencing, prosecuting, or defending any suit or suits at law or in equity, or any other proceedings against or at the suit of a certain person or persons, to be named at such meeting, for the protection, recovery, or defence of the estate and effects of the said bankrupts, or any part or parts thereof; or to their submitting to arbitration, or otherwise agreeing to any matter or thing relating thereto; and generally to authorise the said assignees to act for the said bankrupts' creditors in such manner as shall seem to the said assignees most beneficial; and on other special affairs.

THE creditors who have proved their debts under a Fiat in Bankruptcy awarded and issued forth against Simon Kinsey, of Badwell-Ash, in the county of Suffolk, Innkeeper, are requested to meet the assignees of the estate and effects of the said bankrupt, on Wednesday the 16th day of August next, at twelve of the clock at noon precisely, at the Angel Inn, Bury Saint Edmunds, in the said county, in order to assent to or dissent from the said assignees releasing the equity of redemption of and in the real estate of the said bankrupt to the mortgagee thereof, without any consideration for the same, or otherwise compounding or arranging with such mortgagee as to the said assignees shall seem most proper; and to assent to or dissent from the said assignees paying, in the mean time, and until such release or composition, as aforesaid, shall be made, the interest of the principal money due on mortgage of such real estate from the 24th day of December last; and also to sanction and approve the carrying on the trade of the said bankrupt by the assignees since the bankruptcy of the said Simon Kinsey, under his superintendence, and confirm and adopt the purchases and sales made and effected by them, or under their direction, or by the said Simon Kinsey during the said period; and further to assent to or dissent from the said assignees continuing the trade and business of the said bankrupt (and employing him in the management and superintendence thereof, and the payment and receipt of monies therein), at the public house now occupied by him at Badwell-Ash aforesaid, until and so long as they in their discretion shall think fit and beneficial to the estate of the said bankrupt, and buying such wines, spirits, and other articles and things requisite for that purpose, and to their defraying, out of the said bankrupt's estate, all the charges, outgoings, and loss (if any) which hath been since the said bankruptcy, or may hereafter be incurred in carrying on the said trade and business; and to assent to or dissent from the said assignees selling and disposing of the whole or any part of the stock and personal effects of the said bankrupt, at such time or times, either by public auction or private contract, or at a valuation (either to him the said Simon Kinsey, or to any other person or persons); and together or in lots, as the said assignees shall think fit; and further to assent to or dissent from the said assignees paying or allowing to the said bankrupt and his family, or such other person or persons as the said assignees may think fit to employ in the carrying on of the said trade, and in the sale and disposition of the estate and effects of the said bankrupt, or in the investigation of the accounts and effects of the said bankrupt, a reasonable compensation for his and their trouble and service; and further to assent to or dissent from the said assignees commencing, prosecuting, and defending any action or actions, suit or suits, at law or in equity, for the recovery or protection of any part of the estate and effects of the said bankrupt, or to the compounding (as well any debt or debts, and taking part thereof, in lieu of the whole, or otherwise), submitting to arbitration, or otherwise agreeing any matter or thing relating thereto; and to generally authorise the said assignees to act for the benefit of the said estate as to them shall seem proper; and on other special affairs.

THE creditors who have proved their debts under a Fiat in Bankruptcy awarded and issued forth against William Ellam, of Ashborne, in the county of Derby, Tobacco and Colour Manufacturer, Dealer and Chapman, are requested to meet the assignees of the estate and effects of the said bankrupt, on Wednesday the 23d day of August next, at two o'clock in the afternoon, at the Wheat Sheaf Inn, in Ashborne aforesaid, in order to assent to or dissent from the said assignees selling or disposing of the whole of the stock in trade, household furniture, fixtures, book debts, and other effects of the said bankrupt, or any part thereof, either by public auction or private contract, or otherwise, as the said assignees may think proper; and also to assent to or dissent from the said assignees employing the said bankrupt, or any other person or persons, at the expense of the said bankrupt's estate, for the purpose of making out the accounts and collecting the outstanding debts due to the estate of the said bankrupt; and also to assent to or dissent from the said assignees commencing, prosecuting, or defending any action or actions at law, or suit or suits in equity, for the recovery or protection of any part of the said bankrupt's effects; or submitting to arbitration or otherwise settling such action or actions, suit or suits, or any other matter or thing relating to the said bankrupt's estate and effects; and generally to take such measures in the management of the affairs, estate, and effects of the said bankrupt, as the said assignees shall, from time to time, consider reasonable and beneficial for the creditors of the said bankrupt; and on other special affairs.
