(An alphabetical and numbered List of the Addresses presented to Her Majesty, is printed at the end of the Addresses.)

Whitehall, December 1, 1837.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Lord John Russell, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were by him presented to Her Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

No. 1.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Council and Fellows of the Linnean Society.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Council and Fellows of the Linnean Society of London, beg leave to approach your Majesty, humbly to offer our most cordial congratulations on your Majesty's Accession to the Throne of these realms.

In acknowledging our heartfelt satisfaction at this happy event, we are desirous of expressing to your Majesty our profound respect for the memory of our late august Monarch and Patron, whose generous protection of all the sciences and arts will ever be gratefully remembered by an enlightened nation.

From the sympathy which your Majesty has expressed and shewn in the welfare of your people, we humbly hope from your Majesty the same beneficent patronage to our Corporate Body, which it has hitherto experienced, since the date of its Charter, from your Majesty's Royal Predecessors; and we shall ever sincerely and devoutly pray that Divine Providence may, in its mercy and goodness, be pleased to bless your Majesty with health and length of days, that your Majesty's reign over a loyal and grateful people may be long and glorious.

Edward Forster, Vice-President.

No. 2.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Delegates representing the Protestant Dissenters of the Congregational Order, in the North Riding of Yorkshire, assembled at our half-yearly meeting, beg leave humbly to express the delight with which, when painfully bereaved of our late beloved Monarch, we hailed your Majesty's Accession to the Throne.

Remembering with the highest respect, the piety and virtues of your Majesty's illustrious Father, who endeared himself to the people by his cordial and enlightened patronage of Bible Societies, and other useful institutions; cherishing similar sentiments toward your happily surviving Parent, and rejoicing in your Majesty's most promising disposition and character, we find our traditional and steady attachment to the constitutional throne heightened by warm feelings of personal interest and ardent hope, joined with dutiful and loyal reverence.

We account it one of the brightest honours of your Crown, that your Majesty reigns over nations enjoying the inestimable blessing of freedom, civil and religious. It is indelibly engraven on our memories that the accession of the illustrious House of Hanover to the British Throne, delivered our predecessors in non-conformity from the operation of an iniquitous statute, by which they were to have been deprived, from the 1st of August, 1714, of the right of educating their youth. For that legal and zealous protection of the Protestant Dissenters which your Majesty's Royal Predecessors have from that time uniformly exercised, and which has animated our unshaken loyalty, we feel devoutly thankful; and are especially so, for the enlargement of our religious liberties under His late Majesty, whose patriotic character and highly beneficent reign, will ever endear to us his memory; and we rely on your Majesty's gracious declaration, that it will be your "unceasing study to secure to all, the full enjoyment of religious liberty;" for which assurance we entreat your Majesty to accept our most humble and grateful acknowledgements.

Without adverting to other measures for the extension of that great blessing, we crave permission to express our earnest desire for one, requisite especially for the progress of Christian charity; a measure warmly desired both by those who first enjoyed the legal toleration under your Majesty's noble minded predecessors William and Mary and now by numbers within as well as out of the establishment; that object is, that Episcopalian Clergymen may be permitted, by law, to preach, or otherwise officiate, occasionally, in the chapels of protestant dissenters, and Dissenting Ministers, occasionally, in the churches of the establishment, in every case at the voluntary invitation of the stated minister of the congregation, and according to its customary forms.

It is our humble opinion, that of the whole number of your Majesty's protestant subjects attending public worship each Lord's day, in England and Wales, those who do so in congregations not connected with the establishment are the majority. Among the evangelical sects of which that majority is almost entirely composed, a cordial and brotherly feeling generally prevails, which has been cherished principally by such occasional interchanges of public ministerial services. The legal impossibility of any such interchanges between conforming and non-conforming ministers, has contributed greatly to the existing alienation and asperity; which we deplore as contrary both to the will of our God and Saviour, that his people shall be one, and to that cordial union of your Majesty's faithful subjects which will promote the honour of your Crown, and the vigour of your government.

Though it may be long before the necessary alteration of the law can be made, yet considering the importance of the views with which the discharge of any office is begun, especially of one so high; and the great influence of a Sovereign on the sentiments of others, we have thought it not premature humbly to state our wishes, while presenting our dutiful congratulations on the auspicious commencement of your Majesty's reign. Most happy and thankful shall we be, if the breach among protestants in England, made under your Majesty's renowned predecessor, Queen Elizabeth, the glory of whose reign was tarnished by intolerance, shall in this happier age be so far repaired, that your Majesty's Government shall be celebrated as the triumph equally of political wisdom and of Christian charity.

That your reign may be long, peaceful, happy, and glorious; that your Majesty may be strengthened for the weighty cares of empire by the refreshments of genuine piety and devotion; and may, after a protracted life of usefulness and honour, be raised to a throne in the presence of our Redeemer, is the earnest desire of our hearts, and shall be our constant prayer.

Read and voted unanimously, at the Autumnal Meeting of the North Riding Association of Independent Ministers and Congregations at Kirby Moor-side, 1837, and signed on its behalf, by us, Gabriel Croft, Minister at Pickering; William Blackburn, Minister at Whitby, Secretaries of the Association.

No. 3.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the President, Treasurer, Secretary, and acting Committee of the Methodists of the New Connection, established in 1797, on behalf of twenty thousand members of our Churches, and of one hundred thousand others who stately worship with them, beg to approach your Throne with the homage of our dutiful affection, and to assure your Majesty how deeply we participate in the feelings of sympathy and gladness which have filled the hearts of all your Majesty's faithful subjects.

Most sincerely do we regret the demise of His Most Gracious Majesty William the Fourth, a Sovereign endeared to his people by the virtues of his character, the purity of his Court, and the justice and liberality of his Government. With feelings of peculiar pleasure do we recollect, that during his reign the national peace was preserved, and the friendly offices of mediation substituted for the calamities of war; the rights of the Aborigines of Africa were maintained, and the misrepresentations of their oppressors visited with merited rebuke; an additional step was taken towards the extinction of Colonial slavery; the extension of education and science, of commerce and religion, was encouraged; great constitutional and municipal reforms were effected, and some of the grievances removed of which the various classes of Dissenters have so long and so justly complained.

But while we lament the death of a Sovereign whose reign was thus rendered illustrious, we adore that wise and gracious Providence which has raised your Majesty to the Throne of this great empire, and so well qualified you to discharge the duties of your high and responsible situation. Assured, as we are, that your Majesty inherits that enlightened philanthropy, and that love of christian truth by which your honoured Father was so eminently distinguished, we anticipate with the most pleasurable emotions, under your Majesty's auspices, the speedy and entire extinction of Colonial slavery; the removal of all remaining civil disabilities on account of religion; the honourable preservation of peace; the consummation of those great measures of reform which have been so well commenced; the advancement of education, and science, and commerce; and, above all, the wider spread of that pure and undefiled religion, which promises to bestow universal happiness, by the establishment of universal righteousness and charity; thus laying the firmest foundation of national greatness, and supplying the surest pledge of permanent national prosperity.

Most heartily do we offer to your Majesty the assurance of the devoted attachment of ourselves and our people to your Majesty's Person and Government; and fervently shall we pray to that God, who has hitherto so graciously watched over you, that he would preserve you in health, and multiply your days; endue you richly by his Holy Spirit with wisdom and grace; render your reign happy and illustrious; and finally, through the merits of an adorable Redeemer, exalt you to wear an incorruptible crown in that kingdom which shall endure for ever.

Abraham Scott, President of Conference.
