*Church Commissioners'-Office,

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, assigning districts to the Chapels at Haigh and Aspul and Pemberton, in the parish of Wigan, under the provisions of the 16th section of the 59th of George the Third, cap. 134;

At the Court at Buckingham-palace, the 1st day of February 1838, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be within each of such respective divisions, and also of the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and it is, by the 21st section of the said Act, further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish or extra parochial place into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary, for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such districts, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division;" and whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted "that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said herein-before recited Act, or the said Act now in recital, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which might thereafter be built, or required under the powers of the said former Act, or the said Act now in recital; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the Curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and that all such Curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the Bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to Stipendiary Curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such Curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such Curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapel shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the Curate, by any grant or bounty under the provisions of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding;" and whereas by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the 1st and 2d year of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the 2d and 3d year of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her late Majesty in Council, stating that when the last census was taken, the parish of Wigan, in the county palatine of Lancaster, and diocese of Chester, contained a population of 44,486 persons; that, besides the parish church, which affords accommodation to 2033 persons, there are six chapels in the said parish, which together afford accommodation to 5836 persons, two of which chapels have been recently built by Her Majesty's said Commissioners, one in the township of Haigh, and the other in the township of Penberton, the former of which affords accommodation to 796 persons, including 498 free seats, appropriated to the use of the poor; and the latter to 1586 persons, including 1038 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor; that the said two chapels have been consecrated, and divine service is regularly performed therein:

And whereas the said Commissioners have further represented to Her Majesty that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district should be assigned to each of the said two last-mentioned chapels, under the provisions of the 16th section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," and that such districts should respectively be named the "Haigh and Aspall District," and the "Pemberton District;" that the Haigh and Aspall district should comprise the whole of the townships of Haigh and Aspall, and be bounded by the townships of Wigan, Standish, Worthington, Adlington, Blackrod, Westhoughton, Hindley, and Ince, as the same is more particularly delineated in the plan annexed to the said representation, and therein coloured green; and that the Pemberton district should be bounded as follows:

On the north, by the township of Standish and Skevington, in the parish of Standish, running alongside of the river Douglas to Gathurst-bridge, from thence it is divided on the west side, through the township of Orrell, by a certain lane, called Jackson's-lane, to Orrell Post; it then crosses the Wigan and Upholland road, proceeding forward, and is divided by a lane leading to the village of Farnore, keeping its course to the left, to a place called Withington Brook; it then takes the brook, which is the boundary betwixt Winstanley and Orrell, until arriving at the Railway-bridge of the late Mr. Clarke, at which point the division of Orrell and Pemberton comes down. The boundary still follows the brook, or same course, dividing Winstanley and Pemberton, until arriving at Ryland's Mill-bridge, when the boundary then takes up the east side of a certain lane in Winstanley, leading to Billinge, keeping its course in the boundary betwixt the township of Pemberton and the township of Winstanley, until arriving at the boundary of the township of Ashton, in the parish of Winwick, until joining the township of Ince, in the parish of Wigan, where it is bounded on the east side by the aforesaid township of Ince, until joining the township or borough of Wigan, where it continues alongside the borough of Wigan, until arriving again at Martin Mill-bridge, adjoining the parish and township of Standish, as the same is more particularly delineated in the plan annexed to the said representation and therein coloured purple.

That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, should be solemnized and performed in each of the said two chapels, and that the fees arising therefrom should be received by and belong to the respective ministers of the said chapels:

That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Chester has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, in testimony of which, the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed the said representation, and humbly praying that Her Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into Her Royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to Her Majesty should seem meet:

Her Majesty having taken the said representation, together with the plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased by and with the advice of Her

Privy Council to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed divisions be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
