

they would defend the place but 15 days longer, and that if they were not relieved in that time, they would surrender it upon the best Conditions they could obtain, and that they had sent to acquaint the Serasquier Bassa with this their resolution. The said Serasquier Bassa continues encamped between the Sava and the Drave, having got together about 30000 men. General Leslie remains in his Camp at Turannovitz, where he has so strongly fortified himself that he needs not fear an Army of 50000 men; The Serasquier Bassa had detached 8000 men under the command of two Bassas, who advanced within six miles of Count Leslie's Camp, but durst venture no farther, and so retired again; a Party of Leslie's Army have burnt the Suburbs of Zigorb, after having got a great deal of Booty. The Letters from Upper Hungary tell us, that Count Teckeley continues to ravage the Country, and that he hath forced several Provinces to assist him with Men and Moneys. General Scultz who commands the Emperor's Forces on that side, fearing the Rebels may make an Invasion into Silesia or Moravia, hath posted himself very advantageously to cover those Countries. This day Te Deum was sung here with great Solemnity for the taking of Santa Mauda by the Venetians, of which the Emperor received an account two days agoe from his Ambassador at Venice.

Frankfort, September 4. We have Letters from the Imperial Camp before Buda of the 18th of the last Month, which tell us, that the Turks continued to make strong Saltes, in which many men were killed; That they had had great Rains; and that the Troops were very much harassed through the hard duty they were upon, the Army not being then above 25000 strong; But that they expected the Bavarian and other Troops in 10 or 12 days, and then they should press the Besieged very close, and doubt not but to be quickly Masters of the place. And by Letters of a fresher date we are told, that the second Bassa or Commander in chief at Buda had been likewise killed, and that the Garrison began to be very mutinous, and would surrender the place if they were not relieved in a certain time.

Brussels, September 8. Monsieur Chanlay, who came hither about the Contributions, is gone back without any positive answer, the Marquis de Grana desiring first to know the success of the Baron del Fals Negotiation whom he hath sent to the Court of France about this matter. Our Letters from Vienna tell us the Bavarian Troops are marching with all the diligence possible for Hungary; and we believe our next will give us an account that they have joyned the Imperial Army.

Hague, September 8. The Duties of this State had yesterday a long Conference with the Sieur Norf, the Elector of Cologne's Resident, on the Subject of his late Memorial. The States of Holland re-assembled yesterday. The Prince of Orange is still at Dieren.

Paris, September 9. The Baron del Fal is come hither from the Marquis de Grana, and hath had Audience of the King; His business is to sollicite an abatement of the Contributions which the French demand of the Spanish Netherlands; and we are told he has received an answer to his satisfaction. We have advice from Provence that Monsieur du Quefne was gone with 10 Men of War, towards the Coast of Italy; and that Monsieur de Tourville was sailed with a like Squadron to the Westward. The King has made 27 new Regiments, which will be formed of Companies drawn out of the old Bodies, and are to be called by the names of several Provinces, as the Regiments of Flanders, Hainault, Berry, &c. and his Majesty has named the Colonels. The Court will part the 18th of this Month for Verailles to Chambor.

Bristol, August 29. This day his Grace the Duke of Beaufort was pleased to Honor this City with his Presence, having been Invited some days since by the Mayor, Sheriffs; and some of the Aldermen, who attended his Grace at Badminton to welcome him at his return out of Wales, and to pay their thanks for his continual Favours to this City, and particularly the last in his care of them, in the renewal of their Charter, in which they had found the effect of that continued kindness he had always shewed, and the Right he had done them, in his representation of them to His Majesty, who had been so Gracious to them in it (which they with all Duty acknowledged.) Against his Grace's coming, the Militia Regiment were drawn into Lines on both sides the Street from the outside of the City where his Grace entered, to the Tolsey, where the Mayor, Recorder, Sheriffs, and Aldermen in their Formalities received his Grace with all expressions of Joy, and a repetition of their thanks and acknowledgments. From thence they all attended his Grace, to the Mayors House, where he was very handsomely entertained at Dinner, afterwards he went to the Marsh to view the Militia Regiments, where they were drawn up in a Body, and thence he was conducted by the Mayor to Merchants Hall, where there was a very Noble Collation prepared against his Grace's coming thither, after which he took Coach and returned for Badminton, the Militia being drawn up in Lines for his Grace to pass through as at his coming; all the Bells of the City ringing from the time of his coming to Town, till his return.
