FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1838.

Lord Chamberlain's-Office, July 11, 1838.

NOTICE is hereby given, that Her Majesty will hold a Levee, at St. James's-Palace, on Wednesday next the 18th instant, at two o'clock.

By the QUEEN.

A PROCLAMATION.

VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS We have thought fit to order, that certain pieces of gold money should be coined, which should be called five pound pieces, each of which should be of the value of one hundred shillings, and that each such piece should be of the weight of twenty-five pennyweights, sixteen grains, and $\frac{3700}{10000}$ troy weight, of standard gold; and that certain other pieces of gold money should be coined, which should be called double sovereigns, each of which should be of the value of forty shillings, and that each of such last-mentioned pieces should be of the weight of ten pennyweights, six grains, and $\frac{5480}{10000}$ troy weight, of standard gold; and that certain other pieces of gold money should be coined, which should be called sovereigns, each of which should be of the value of twenty shillings, and that each of such last-mentioned pieces should be of the weight of five pennyweights, three grains, and $\frac{2740}{10000}$ troy weight, of standard gold; and that certain other pieces of gold money should be coined, which should be called half sovereigns, each of which should be of the value of ten shillings, and that each of such last-mentioned pieces should be of the weight of two pennyweights, thirteen grains, $\frac{6370}{10000}$ troy weight, of standard gold: and We have further thought fit to order, that every such five pound piece should have for the obverse impression, Our effigy, with the inscription "Victoria Dei Gratia," and the date of the year; and, for the reverse, the ensigns armorial of the United Kingdom, contained in a plain shield, surmounted by the royal crown, and encircled with a laurel wreath, with the inscription "Britanniarum Regina, Fid. Def." having the united rose, thistle, and shamrock, placed under the shield, and, upon the edge of the piece, the words "Decus et Tutamen," and the words "Anno Regni," and the year of Our reign; and that every such double sovereign should have the same obverse and reverse impression and inscription in all respects as the five pound piece, with the same words on the edge; and that every such sovereign should have the same obverse and reverse impression in all respects as the five pound piece, but (instead of the words), should have a graining on the edge; and that every such half sovereign should have for the obverse impression the aforesaid, effigy, inscription, and date, and for the reverse the ensigns armorial contained in a shield decorated with the same inscription as the five pound piece, but without the wreath, and should have the same graining upon the edge as the sovereign; and We have also thought fit to order that certain pieces of silver money should be coined which should be called crowns, and that every such crown should have the same obverse and reverse impression and inscription in all respects as the five pound piece, with the same words on the edge; and that certain other pieces of silver money should be coined, which should be called half crowns, and that every such half crown should have the same obverse and reverse impression and inscription as the crown, but, instead of the words, a graining upon the edge; and that certain other pieces of silver money should be coined, which should be called shillings, and that every such shilling should have, for the obverse impression, the aforesaid effigy, with the inscription "Victoria Dei Gratia, Britanniar: Reg. F. D." and, for the reverse, the words "One Shilling," placed in the centre of the piece, having an olive branch on one side, and an oak branch on the other, and surmounted by the royal crown, with the date of the year, and a graining on the edge, as used for His late Majesty's coin; and that certain other pieces of silver money should be coined, which should be called sixpences, and that every such sixpence should have the same obverse impression and inscription as the shilling, and, for the reverse, the word "Sixpence," with the olive and oak branch, and date of the year, with a graining upon the edge, the same as the shilling; and that certain other pieces of silver money should be coined, which should be called groats or fourpences, and that every such groat or fourpence should have the same obverse impression and inscription as the shilling, and should have for the reverse a figure of Britannia holding the trident in one hand, and having the other hand placed upon a shield impressed with the union cross, and should have round the figure the words fourpence and the date of the year below, with a graining on the edge as used for His late Majesty's coin; and that certain other pieces of silver money should be coined, which should be called the Queen's Maunday moneys, of fourpence, threepence, twopence, and one penny, each of which should have the same obverse impression and inscription as the shilling, and for the reverse the respective figures 4, 3, 2, 1 (according to the denomination or value of the piece) in the centre, with the date of the year placed across the figure, and encircled by an oak wreath, surmounted by the Royal Crown, with a plain edge as used for His late Majesty's coin: all which said silver coin We have ordered to be of the weight and fineness provided by an Act, passed in fifty-sixth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to provide for a new silver coinage, and to regulate the currency of the gold and silver coin of this realm;" and We have also thought fit to order, that certain pieces of copper money should be coined, which should be called pennies, and that every such copper penny should have for the obverse impression the aforesaid effigy, with the inscription "Victoria Dei Gratia," and the date of the year; and for the reverse, a figure of Britannia holding the trident with one hand, and having the other hand placed upon a shield impressed with the union cross, with the inscription "Britanniar: Reg. Fid. Def.," and below the figure, the united rose, shamrock and thistle, with a plain edge as used for His late Majesty's coin; and that certain other copper money should be coined, which should be called halfpennies, and that every such halfpenny should have the same obverse and reverse impression and inscription, and the same plain edge as the penny; and that certain other copper money should be coined, which should be called farthings, and that every such farthing should have the same obverse and reverse impression and inscription, and the said plain edge as the penny.

And whereas pieces of money of the above descriptions respectively, have been coined at Our Mint, and will be coined there in pursuance of Orders which We have given for that purpose; We have, therefore, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council, thought fit to issue this Our Royal Proclamation; and We do hereby ordain, declare, and command, that the said pieces of money respectively so coined, and to be coined, as aforesaid, shall be current and lawful money of the Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and that the said gold coins shall be called respectively five pound pieces, double sovereigns, sovereigns, and half sovereigns; and that the said silver coins shall be called respectively crowns, half crowns, shillings, sixpences, groats or fourpences, and the Queen's Maunday moneys; and that the said copper coins shall be called respectively pennies, halfpennies, and farthings, and shall pass and be received as current and lawful money of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland; every such five pound piece as of the value of one hundred shillings of like lawful money, and every such double sovereign as of the value of forty shillings of like lawful money, and every such sovereign as of the value of twenty shillings of like lawful money, and every such half sovereign as of the value of ten shillings of like lawful money, every such crown as of the value of five shillings of like lawful money, every such half crown as of the value of two shillings and sixpence of like lawful money, every such shilling as of the value of twelve pence of like lawful money, every such sixpence as of the value of six pence of like lawful money, every such groat or four penny piece as of the value of four pence of like lawful money, the said Maundy monies of the value of four pence, three pence, two pence, or one penny respectively, as the case may be, and every such penny of copper as of the like value of one penny of like lawful money; and every such halfpenny as of the value of one half penny of like lawful money; and every such farthing as of the value of a farthing of like lawful money, in all payments whatsoever.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham-Palace, this fifth day of July one thousand eight hundred and thirty-eight, in the second year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 5th day of July 1838,

PRESENT.

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act for the appointment of convenient places for the holding of assizes in England and Wales," it was enacted, amongst other things, that His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, should have power, from time to time, to order and direct at what place or places in England and Wales the assizes and sessions under the commissions of gaol delivery, and other commissions, for the dispatch of civil and criminal business shall be holden:

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by Her Order in Council of the twenty-fifth day of April last, to direct, that the assizes and sessions under the commissions of gaol delivery, and other commissions, for the dispatch of civil and criminal business in and for the county of Montgomery, should thenceforth be holden, in the summer, at New Town, and, in the spring, at Welch Pool, in the said county:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order that the said Order in Council of the twenty-fifth day of April last be, and the same is, hereby revoked.

And the Right Honourable the Lord High Chancellor is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 5th day of July 1838,

PRESENT.

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act for the appointment of convenient places for the holding of assizes in England and Wales," it was enacted, amongst other things, that His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, should have power, from time to time, to order and direct at what place or places in England or Wales the assizes and sessions under the commissions of gaol delivery, and other commissions, for the dispatch of civil and criminal business shall be holden:

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased, by Her Order in Council of the twentieth day of June last past, to direct, that the assizes and sessions under the commissions of gaol delivery, and other commissions, for the dispatch of civil and criminal business in and for the county of Suffolk, should be holden, in the summer, in the town of Ipswich, and in the spring, in the town of Bury St. Edmunds, in the said county:

Now, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and doth hereby order, that the said Order of the twentieth of June last shall be, and the same is, hereby revoked.

And the Right Honourable the Lord High Chancellor is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

AT the Court at St. James's-Palace, the 20th day of June 1838.

NOTICE is hereby given, in pursuance of an Act, passed in the first year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for better enabling Her Majesty to confer certain powers and immunities on trading and other companies," that an application has been made to Her Majesty, and now stands referred to the Board of Trade, on behalf of the Joint Stock Company, called the Insurance Company of Scotland, to grant to the said Company a charter of incorporation, by the name and style of "The Insurance Company of Scotland," whereby it is proposed to confer on the said Company a perpetual endurance and succession, power to sue and be sued in the name of the Company, to hold heritable property, to use a common seal, and such other powers and privileges as are usually granted to other bodies corporate and politic of a similar nature; but without limiting the legal responsibility of the individual partners of the said Company.

Richardson and Connell, 21, Fludyer-street, Westminster.

NOTICE is hereby given, in pursuance of an Act, passed in the first year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for better enabling Her Majesty to confer certain powers and immunities on trading and other companies," that an application has been made to Her Majesty, and now stands referred to the Board of Trade, on behalf of the Joint Stock Company, called the Shotts Iron Company of Scotland, to grant to the said Company a charter of incorporation, by the name and style of "The Shotts Iron Company of Scotland," whereby it is proposed to confer on the said Company a perpetual endurance and succession, power to sue and be sued in the name of the Company, to hold heritable property, to use a common seal, and such other powers and privileges as are usually granted to other bodies corporate and politic of a similar nature; but without limiting the legal responsibility of the individual partners of the said Company.

Richardson and Connell, 21, Fludyer-street, Westminster.

VICTORIA, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, to the Sheriff of Middlesex, greeting, we command you, that by the oath of honest and lawful men of your county, by whom the truth of the matter may be best known, you diligently inquire whether or no it will be to the damage or prejudice of us, or any other, if we should grant to the Master and Wardens of the Ironmongers Company, and David Napier, Charles Augustus Ferguson, William Fairbairn, Benjamin Barnard, George Elliot, and Thomas Carr, and the Reverend James MacDonald, a licence, that they the said Master and Wardens of the Ironmongers Company, David Napier, Charles Augustus Ferguson, William Fairbairn, Benjamin Barnard, George Elliot, and Thomas Carr, and the Reverend James MacDonald, may stop up and destroy a certain footpath, situate on the Mill Wall, in the Isle of Dogs, in the parish of All Saints, Poplar, in the county of Middlesex, leading from the mast-house belonging to Messrs. Ferguson and Carr, to the ferry-house there, of the length of forty-six chains and sixty-five links, and extending over and across certain fields and premises the property of the Worshipful Company of Ironmongers, the devisees in trust of William Mellish, deceased, Charles Augustus Ferguson, David Napier, and William Fairbairn, and now in the several occupations of Messrs. Ferguson and Carr, David Napier, George Elliot, James MacDonald, and Messrs. Fairbairn and Company, a nearer and much more commodious way to the said ferry having been provided for the public by the formation of a road, which runs parallel to the said path, and is of the length of forty-six chains and three links; and if it will be to the damage or prejudice of us, or any other, then to what damage, or to what prejudice of us, and to what damage, or to what prejudice of any other, and of whom, and how, and in what manner, and how much that way to be held doth contain by number of perches, or feet of land, as well in length as breadth; and that you return the inquisition thereof distinctly and plainly, made without delay, unto our Chancery, under your seal, and the seals of those by whom it shall be taken, together with this writ.—Witness ourself at Westminster, the 16th day of June, in the first year of our reign. Bentall.

Notice is hereby given, that it is the intention of the said Sheriff to hold the inquisition, directed by the said writ, on Friday the 27th day of July instant, at eleven of the clock in the forenoon, at the house of Amelia Ingram, called the Ferry-house, on the Mill Wall, in the Isle of Dogs, in the parish of All Saints, Poplar, in the county of Middlesex.—Dated this 2d day of July 1838.

VICE CHANCELLOR.—Thursday the 5th day of July, in the second year of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, 1838, between Charles Telford and Sarah his wife and Charles Telford the younger, by his father and next friend, Plaintiffs; Maximilian Richard Kymer and others, Defendants.

UPON motion this day made unto this Court by Mr. Stevens, of Counsel for the plaintiffs, it was alleged that it appears by the affidavit of Charles Telford, Joseph Leech, and Richard Jones, that the plaintiffs on the 7th day of March 1837, exhibited their bill in this Court, against the defendants, and took out process of subpoena requiring the defendant, Maximilian Richard Kymer, to appear to and answer the same, but that the said defendant has not appeared thereto; that it appears by the affidavit of Charles Telford and Joseph Leech, that upon inquiry after the said defendant at his last known place of abode in England, he is not to be found so as to be served with such process, but it is believed that the said defendant has either withdrawn himself out of the jurisdiction of this Court to avoid being served with process thereof, or that if occasionally within such jurisdiction he withdraws and secretes himself to avoid being served with such process, as by affidavit appears; that the said defendant has been in England within two years next before issuing of the said subpoena as by affidavit also appears:—Whereupon, and upon hearing the said joint and several affidavits of Charles Telford, Joseph Leech, and Richard Jones, and the joint and several affidavits of Charles Talford and Joseph Leech read, it is ordered, that the said defendant, Maximilian Richard Kymmer, do appear to the said bill, on or before the 30th day of July instant.

J. C. S.—Entd. E. R.
