

Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes, beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, when the last census was taken, the parish of Ewell, in the county of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, contained a population of . . . persons; and the parish of Banstead, in the same county and diocese, contained a population of 991 persons.

"That the parish church of Ewell affords accommodation for 65 persons, and the parish church of Banstead affords accommodation for 42 persons; that a chapel, called St. Andrew's Chapel, has been recently erected in the liberty of Kingswood, in the said parish of Ewell, and situated at the extremity of the said parish, where it adjoins to the said parish of Banstead, and affords accommodation for 17 persons, all in free seats; that the said chapel is distant four miles and three-quarters from the parish church of Ewell, and three miles and one third from the parish church of Banstead, which are the only places in the said parishes appropriated to the celebration of divine service according to the rites of the Church of England.

"That the said liberty of Kingswood, in the parish of Ewell, and the extremity of the parish of Banstead, which lie contiguous to each other, and are delineated in the accompanying plan, contain a population of 580 persons.

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances above-mentioned, it appears to them to be expedient to unite and consolidate the said contiguous parts of the said parishes of Ewell and Banstead into a separate and distinct district to be assigned to the said Chapel of Saint Andrew for all ecclesiastical purposes, and to constitute such district a consolidated chapelry, under the 1th section of the said Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, for the purpose of affording accommodation for attending divine service to the persons residing in the said district, and for enabling the spiritual person serving such chapel to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the said district, attached to such chapel, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the moral habits of the persons residing therein; and that such district should be named the Consolidated Chapelry of St. Andrew, Kingswood, and that the boundaries thereof should be as follows:

"The boundary to commence at the north eastern corner of the liberty of Kingswood, in the parish of Ewell, where that parish joins the parishes of Banstead and Chipstead, and then to proceed, south, along the boundary that divides the said liberty of Kingswood from the parishes of Chipstead and Gatton, to where the said liberty of Kingswood joins the parishes of Gatton and Reigate; then, west, along the boundary line that divides the liberty of Kingswood and the parish of Reigate, to where they join the parish of Banstead; and then along the boundary line that divides the parishes of Banstead and Reigate to where they join the parish of Walton; and then, north, along the boundary line that divides the parishes of Walton and Banstead, as far as

Preston Manor, in the latter parish; and then, easterly, along the boundary that divides that Manor from the tithing of Tadworth, as far as the turnpike-gate on the high Brighton road; to proceed along that road, in a southerly direction, as far as the turn to Willeter's or Watery-lane; then, east, along the centre of that lane to where it enters the hamlet of Kingswood; and then following, in an easterly direction, the boundary that divides the hamlet of Kingswood from the parish of Banstead, to the point where the boundary commenced, as is more particularly delineated in the accompanying plan, and therein coloured pink and green.

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Winchester has been obtained thereto, as required by the above mentioned section of the said Act of the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, and in testimony of such his approbation, the said Lord Bishop hath signed and sealed this present instrument.

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave, therefore, to lay before your Majesty the above-stated circumstances, and humbly to pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto, as to your Majesty's royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made and effected agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

C. C. Greville.
