FRIDAY, JULY 3, 1840.

Buckingham-Palace, June 30, 1840.

THIS day the following Address to the Queen, from the Dissenting Ministers of the three denominations, residing in and about the cities of London and Westminster, was presented to Her Majesty; which Address Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive on the Throne:

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the three Denominations in and about the cities of London and Westminster, approach your Majesty with profound respect for your Royal Person, and with devout gratitude to the Supreme Disposer of all events, for the interposition of His providence to save a life so valuable and so endeared to the British nation.

We cannot express our abhorrence of the outrage and treason recently perpetrated against your Majesty; a feeling which can only be surpassed by our joy at the merciful preservation of the life of your Majesty, and that of your Majesty's Royal Consort.

With our thanksgivings, we join our humble and fervent prayers to Almighty God, through the merits of our Divine Redeemer, that He may continue to manifest His goodness to your Majesty and your people, by preserving the health and prolonging the life of your Majesty, and by multiplying the blessings of your Majesty's auspicious reign.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

"It is most acceptable to my feelings to receive this assurance, that, as Ministers of the Gospel, you offer up thanksgivings for my recent preservation, and prayers for my future happiness.

"I shall always retain a lively sense of the special mercy vouchsafed to me, and a deep conviction of the support, under all trials, to be derived from the divine sources of religion."

Buckingham-Palace, June 30, 1840.

THIS day the following Address to the Queen, from the Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the Presbyterian Denomination, in and about the cities of London and Westminster, were presented to Her Majesty; which Address Her Majesty was graciously pleased to receive on the Throne:

May it please your Most Gracious Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the Presbyterian Denomination, in and about the cities of London and Westminster, approach your Royal presence, to express our heartfelt congratulations on the deliverance of your Majesty and your Royal Consort, Prince Albert, from the late wicked and treasonable attack, and our profound gratitude to the Almighty Preserver for thereby saving these kingdoms from calamities that we dare not contemplate.

The occasion calls upon us to renew our pledge of loyal affection to your Majesty's Person and Government; which pledge we humbly offer on the part of ourselves, of the Christian Congregations of which we are the Pastors, and of the whole religious denomination which we virtually represent.

Our happiness, most gracious Queen, is connected indissolubly with your own; and we fervently implore the Supreme Ruler, that He would shield you by His merciful Providence from every danger, that He would enable you to exercise always the same fortitude which, on this occasion, has raised the admiration of all your subjects, and that He would prolong your life and health, make your reign prosperous, and cause your union with the beloved Prince Albert to be a lasting blessing to your Majesty and His Royal Highness, and a cause of rejoicing to the British people for very many generations.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

" I receive with sincere gratitude this renewed pledge of your affectionate attachment to my Person and Government.

" It is to the Divine favour and protection, which you so fervently invoke, that I alone look for the security of my present happiness, and the continued prosperity of my people."
