HER Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and His Highness the Sultan of Muscat and its dependencies, being desirous to confirm and strengthen the good understanding which now subsists between them, and to promote, by means of a Convention, the commercial intercourse between their respective subjects; and His Highness the Sultan of Muscat being moreover desirous to record in a more formal manner, the engagements entered into by His Highness on the 10th of September 1822, for the perpetual abolition of the Slave Trade between the Dominions of His Highness and all Christian Nations; They have accordingly appointed as their Plenipotentiaries, that is to say:—Robert Cogan, Esq. a Captain in the Naval Service of the East India Company, on behalf of Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. &c. and Hassan Bin Ibrahim, and Mahabat Ali Bin Naser, on behalf of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, &c. &c. who, having communicated their full powers, found to be in due and proper form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles:

ARTICLE I.

The subjects of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat shall be at liberty to enter, reside in, trade with, and pass with their merchandize through, all parts of Her Britannick Majesty's Dominions in Europe and in Asia, and shall enjoy in those Dominions all the privileges and advantages with respect to commerce or otherwise, which are or may be accorded therein to the subjects or citizens of the most favoured nations; and the subjects of Her Britannick Majesty shall, in like manner, have full liberty to enter, reside in, trade with, and pass with their merchandize through, all parts of the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, and shall, in those Dominions, enjoy all the privileges and advantages with respect to commerce or otherwise, which are or may be accorded therein to the subjects or citizens of the most favoured nations.

ARTICLE II.

British subjects shall be at liberty to purchase, sell, or hire land or houses in the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat.

The houses, warehouses, or other premises of British subjects, or of persons actually in the service of British subjects, in the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, shall not be forcibly entered, nor on any pretext searched, without the consent of the occupier, unless with the cognizance of the British Consul or Resident Agent. But such Consul or Resident Agent, on just cause being adduced by the authorities of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, shall send a competent person, who, in concert with the Officers of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, shall conduct the search, and shall prevent the use of unnecessary violence or of improper resistance.

ARTICLE III.

The two High Contracting Parties acknowledge reciprocally to each other the right of appointing Consuls to reside in each other's Dominions, wherever the interests of commerce may require the presence of such Officers. And such Consuls shall at all times be placed, in the country in which they reside, on the footing of the Consuls of the most favoured nations. Each of the High Contracting Parties further agrees to permit his own subjects to be appointed to consular offices by the other Contracting Party; provided always, that the persons so appointed shall not begin to act without the previous approbation of the Sovereign whose subjects they may be.

The Public Functionaries of either Government residing in the Dominions of the other, shall enjoy the same privileges, immunities, and exemptions which are enjoyed, within the same Dominions, by similar Public Functionaries of other Countries.

ARTICLE IV.

Subjects of the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat actually in the service of British subjects in those Dominions, shall enjoy the same protection which is granted to British subjects themselves; but if such subjects of the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat shall be convicted of any crime or infraction of the law requiring punishment, they shall be discharged by the British subject in whose service they may be, and shall be delivered over to the authorities of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat.

ARTICLE V.

The Authorities of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat shall not interfere in disputes between British subjects, or between British subjects and the subjects or citizens of other Christian nations. When differences arise between a subject of the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat and a British subject, if the former is the complainant, the cause shall be heard by the British Consul or Resident Agent, who shall administer justice thereupon. But if the British subject is the complainant against any of the subjects of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, or the subjects of any other Mahometan Power, then the cause shall be decided by the highest authority of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, or by any person nominated by him; but in such case the cause shall not be proceeded in, except in the presence of the British Consul or Resident Agent, or of some person deputed by one or other of them, who shall attend at the Court-house where such matter shall be tried. In causes between a British subject and a native of the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, whether tried before the British Consul or Resident Agent, or before the above-mentioned authority of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, the evidence of a man proved to have given false testimony on a former occasion shall not be received.

ARTICLE VI.

The property of a British subject who may die in the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, or of a subject of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat who may die in the British Dominions, shall be delivered over to the heirs, or executors or administrators of the deceased, or to the respective Consuls or Resident Agents of the Contracting Parties, in default of such heirs, or executors or administrators.

ARTICLE VII.

If a British subject shall become bankrupt in the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, the British Consul or Resident Agent shall take possession of all the property of such bankrupt, and shall give it up to his creditors, to be divided among them. This having been done, the bankrupt shall be entitled to a full discharge from his creditors, and he shall not at any time afterwards be required to make up his deficiency, nor shall any property he may afterwards acquire be considered liable for that purpose. But the British Consul or Resident Agent shall use his endeavours to obtain for the benefit of the creditors, any property of the bankrupt in another country, and to ascertain that every thing possessed by the bankrupt at the time when he became insolvent, has been given up without reserve.

ARTICLE VIII.

If a subject of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat should resist or evade payment of his just debts to a British subject, the authorities of His Highness shall afford to the British subject every aid and facility in recovering the amount due; and, in like manner, the British Consul or Resident Agent shall afford every aid and facility to subjects of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, in recovering debts justly due to them from a British subject.

ARTICLE IX.

No duty exceeding five per cent. shall be levied at the place of entry in the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, on any goods the growth, produce, or manufacture of the Dominions of Her Britannick Majesty, imported by British vessels; and this duty shall be deemed to be a full payment of all import and export and tonnage duties, of licence to trade, of pilotage and anchorage, and of any other charge by Government whatever, upon the vessels or upon the goods so imported or exported. Nor shall any charge be made on that part of the cargo which may remain on board unsold; and no additional or higher duty shall be levied upon these goods when afterwards transported from one place to another in the Dominions of His Highness; but the above-mentioned duty having once been paid, the goods may be sold by wholesale or retail without any further duty. No charge whatever shall be made on British vessels which may enter any of the ports of His Highness for the purpose of refitting, or for refreshments, or to inquire about the state of the market.

ARTICLE X.

No article whatever shall be prohibited from being imported into, or exported from, the territories of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat; but the Trade between the Dominions of Her Britannick Majesty, and those of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat shall be perfectly free, subject to the above-mentioned duty upon goods imported, and to no other. And His Highness the Sultan of Muscat hereby engages not to permit the establishment of any monopoly or exclusive privilege of sale, within his Dominions, except in the articles of ivory and gum copal, on that part of the East coast of Africa, from the Port of Tangate, situated in about five and half degrees of south latitude, to the Port of Quila lying in about seven degrees south of the equator, both ports inclusive; but in all other ports and places in His Highness's Dominions there shall be no monopoly whatever; but the subjects of Her Britannick Majesty shall be at liberty to buy and sell with perfect freedom, from whomsoever and to whomsoever they choose, subject to no other duty by Government than that before mentioned.

ARTICLE XI.

If any disputes should arise in the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, as to the value of goods which shall be imported by British merchants, and on which the duty of five per cent. is to be levied, the Custom-Master, or other authorized Officer acting on the part of the Government of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, shall be entitled to demand one twentieth part of the goods in lieu of the payment of five per cent.; and the merchant shall be bound to surrender the twentieth part so demanded, whenever, from the nature of the articles, it may be practicable to do so; but the merchant having done so, shall be subject to no further demand on account of customs, on the other nineteen twentieths of those goods, in any part of the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, to which he may transport them. But if the Custom-Master should object to levy the duty in the manner aforesaid, by taking one twentieth part of the goods, or if the goods should not admit of being so divided, then the point in dispute shall be referred to two competent persons, one chosen by the Custom-Master and the other by the importer; and a valuation of the goods shall be made; and if the referees shall differ in opinion, they shall appoint an arbitrator, whose decision shall be final; and the duty shall be levied according to the value thus established.

ARTICLE XII.

It shall not be lawful for any British merchant to expose his goods for sale for the space of three days after the arrival of such goods, unless, before the expiration of such three days, the importer and Custom-Master shall have agreed as to the value of such goods. If the Custom-Master shall not, within three days, have accepted one of the two modes proposed for ascertaining the value of the goods, the authorities of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, on application being made to them to that effect, shall compel the Custom-Master to choose one of the two modes by which the amount of the customs to be levied, is to be determined.

ARTICLE XIII.

If it shall happen that either the Queen of England or His Highness the Sultan of Muscat should be at war with another country, the subjects of Her Britannick Majesty, and the subjects of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, shall nevertheless be allowed to pass to such country through the Dominions of either Power, with merchandize of every description, except warlike stores; but they shall not be allowed to enter any port or place actually blockaded or besieged.

ARTICLE XIV.

Should a vessel under the British flag enter a port in the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat in distress, the local authorities at such port shall afford all necessary aid to enable the vessel to refit and to prosecute her voyage; and if any such vessel should be wrecked on the coasts of the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, the authorities of His Highness shall give all the assistance in their power to recover and to deliver over to the owners, all the property that can be saved from such vessel. The same assistance and protection shall be afforded to vessels of the Dominions of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat, and property saved therefrom under similar circumstances, in the ports, and on the coasts of the British Dominions.

ARTICLE XV.

His Highness the Sultan of Muscat hereby renews and confirms the engagements entered into by His Highness with Great Britain on the 10th of September 1822, for the entire suppression of Slave Trade between his dominions and all Christian countries; and His Highness further engages that the ships and vessels of war belonging to the East India Company, shall be allowed to give full force and effect to the stipulations of the said Treaty, agreeably with the conditions prescribed therein, and in the same manner as the ships and vessels of Her Britannick Majesty.

ARTICLE XVI.

It is further acknowledged and declared by the High Contracting Parties, that nothing in this Convention is intended in any way to interfere with or rescind any of the rights or privileges now enjoyed by the subjects of His Highness the Sultan of Muscat in respect to commerce and navigation, within the limits of the East India Company's Charter.

ARTICLE XVII.

The present Convention shall be ratified, and the ratifications thereof shall be exchanged at Muscat or Zanzibar as soon as possible, and in any case within the space of fifteen months from the date hereof.
