archdeaconry of London, if the archdeacon of Middlesex for the time being shall succeed thereto, and if not, then on the vacancy which shall next thereafter occur in the archdeaconry of Middlesex, the canonry in the cathedral church of St. Paul, in London, now held by the Venerable William Hale Hale, Archdeacon of Middlesex, shall become and be permanently annexed and united to the archdeaconry of London, and the then archdeacon of London (if not then holding the said canonry), and every future archdeacon of London, shall be entitled to installation as canon, with all the rights, privileges, and emoluments of a canon of the said cathedral church, to all intents and purposes, subject only to the provisions of the said recited Act, and the regulations hereinafter mentioned, and shall hold the same canonry so long as he shall continue to hold the archdeaconry of London, and no longer:

"And we further recommend and propose, that, from and after such annexation as aforesaid, all sums of money, whether arising from rents, fines, compositions, dividends, stipends, or other emoluments whatsoever, from time to time payable to such last-mentioned canon, shall, as the same respectively become due and payable, be divided into three equal parts, and two only of such parts shall be paid to such canon, and the remaining one third part shall be paid to the archdeacon of Middlesex for the time being; and that whenever a vacancy shall thereafter occur in the said archdeaconry of Middlesex on any other day than the day on which any such payment as aforesaid shall be made, then on the day of payment next following such vacancy, the one third part so to be paid shall be apportioned between the archdeacon making the vacancy, or his representatives, and the archdeacon succeeding to the archdeaconry, according to the time which shall have elapsed from the last preceding day of payment to the day of the vacancy inclusive, and such proportions shall be paid to the respective parties accordingly:

“ And we further recommend and propose, that after such vacancy in the said archdeaconry of London, and until such annexation as aforesaid, the said canonry shall be held by the archdeacon of Middlesex for the time being, who, if other than the said William Hale Hale, shall, in like manner, be entitled to installation as canon, with all the rights, privileges, and emoluments of a canon of the said cathedral church, to all intents and purposes; and who, as well as the said William Hale Hale, shall be subject to the like provisions of the said recited Act, and the regulations hereinbefore mentioned, and shall hold the same canonry so long as he shall continue to hold the archdeaconry of Middlesex, and no longer; and all sums of money as aforesaid, from time to time payable to the holder of the same canonry, shall be divided into the same number of parts, and shall be paid in the same manner, and subject to the same regulations with respect to apportionment, as hereinbefore provided, mutatis mutandis, the holder of the canonry receiving two third parts, and the archdeacon of London receiving one third part only.
