VICE CHANCELLOR.—Monday the 22d day of February, in the fourth year of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, 1841. Between William Tuckwell and John Brent Cross, assignees of the estate and effects of Hugh Mussy, a bankrupt, plaintiffs, Hugh Nelson Massy, defendant.

UPON motion this day made unto this Court by Mr. Simpson, of counsel for the plaintiffs, it was alleged that the plaintiffs, on the 4th day of November 1840, filed their bill in this Court against the defendant, as by the Six Clerks' certificate, now read, appears; that it appears by the affidavit of William Wiggins, that deponent, on the 9th of November 1840, duly served the defendant with a writ of subpoena to appear to the said bill; that it appears by the affidavit of John Hatch, that in consequence of the above-named defendant having called at the dwelling house of deponent, in the city of Bath, he, deponent, went to the dwelling house of the said defendant, situate in Comb Down, near the said city, on the 2d day of January last, for the purpose of seeing the said defendant, when deponent was informed that the said defendant was not at home, and deponent was then introduced to Mrs. Massy, the wife of the said defendant, with whom deponent entered into conversation respecting this suit, and deponent requested to see the said defendant with a view of bringing the same to an amicable arrangement, when the said Mrs. Massy said to deponent, "I may as well tell you the truth," and added, "the fact is, Mr. Massy (meaning the above-named defendant), under the advice of his professional friend, has left the country and has taken the whole of his deeds with him, and will not return to England until this matter is settled; his daughter is gone to him, and if we cannot get this business settled, I shall get rid of the house and join him abroad;" that deponent had not been able to learn that the said defendant had since returned to England, and verily believes that he remains abroad, for the purpose of avoiding this suit; it was therefore prayed, that the defendant may be ordered to appear to the plaintiff's bill, on or before the 20th day of March now next, whereupon, and upon hearing the said affidavit of William Wagons and the affidavit of John Hatch read, it is ordered, that the defendant do appear to the said bill, on or before the 1st day of April next.
