DISPATCHES were this day received at this office from Commodore Sir J. J. G. Bremer, C. B., addressed to R. More O'Ferrall, Esq. of which the following are copies or extracts:

Wellesley, close off Anunghoy,
SIR, January 7, 1841.

MY last hasty dispatch will have informed their Lordships, that it was my intention to commence the attack on the forts of the Bocca Tigris, by the destruction of Chuenpee and Tycocktow this day.

At eight o'clock this morning the Royal Marines of the squadron, the detachments of the 26th and 49th regiment, and the 37th Madras Native Infantry, and Bengal Volunteers, were landed, accompanied by the detachment of Royal Artillery, with one twenty-four pound howitzer, and two six pounder field guns, together with a division of Seamen belonging to the Wellesley, Blenheim, and Melville, in all about fourteen hundred men; the land forces under the command of Major Pratt, of the 26th Camerorians, copy of whose report (which I inclose) will explain the detail of military operations which were admirably executed.

The Queen and Nemesis steamers were placed in position for throwing shells into the upper fort by Commander Belcher, of the Sulphur, and soon made an impression; a division of ships, consisting of Calliope, Hyacinth, and Larne, under Captain Herbert, attacked the lower fort on the sea face, and in less than an hour, silenced the guns, although a number of troops remained within the walls; by tea o'clock the troops had advanced, and carried the entrenchments with their field batteries; Major Pratt himself, and two or three marines, were in possession of the upper fort, and the British colours hoisted; the lower fort was speedily surrounded and stormed, by the entrance as well as the wall, by a party of Royal Marines, and the Union Jack displayed on the ramparts. The management of Tycock-tow I entrusted to Captain Scott, of Her Majesty's ship Samarang, accompanied by the Druid, Modeste, and Columbine, and in one hour it was silenced; but the Chinese remained in it until it was stormed by the boats, in which operation Lieutenant Bower, senior, of Samarang, was severely wounded; the guns in all the forts have been destroyed, the magazines blown up, and the barracks and houses burnt; eleven large war junks were anchored in the shoal water to the eastward of the position; the Nemesis, under Commander Belcher, accompanied by Lieutenant Kellett, of the Starling, attacked them in admirable style, assisted by the boats of the Calliope, under Lieutenant Watson, senior, of that ship; they were all set on fire and blown up, one with all her crew on board, a rocket having gone into her magazine, this ended the operations of the day.

It is now my pleasing duty to express my high admiration of the gallantry and zeal which animated every officer and man in the force; my best thanks are due to Captains Sir Fleming Senhouse, and the Honourable R. S. Dundas, of the Blenheim and Melville; and from Captain Maitland I received his usual valuable assistance; Captains Herbert and Scott carried their divisions into action with their accustomed gallantry, and they were ably seconded by Captains Smith and Blake, and Commanders Warren, Eyres, and Clarke, under their immediate orders.

The Commanders Pritchard, Puget, and Fletcher, of the Blenheim, Melville, and Wellesley, the Commanders of the steam vessels, and every officer and man employed, deserve the highest praise for their zealous exertions on every point.

Major Pratt, of the 26th, conducted the operations on shore in the most able and gallant manner, he speaks in the highest terms of the conduct of every officer and man employed.

I am most happy in being enabled to inform their Lordships, that this service has been performed with trifling loss on the part of Her Majesty's forces, although it is but justice to the Chinese to say, that they defended themselves, especially in the batteries, with the greatest credit and devotion; they have suffered severely, their loss, including that on board the war junks, cannot be estimated at less than from five to six hundred, out of a force calculated at two thousand men; the slaughter in the lower fort, when carried by storm, was considerable.

I have, &c.

(Signed) J. J. GORDON BREMER,
Commodore of the First Class,
Commander-in-Chief.

Wellesley, off Anunghoy,
January 9, 1841.

SIR,

IN continuation of the detail of operations, I have the honour to acquaint you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that yesterday morning I moved forward towards the forts of Wangtong and Anunghoy. A Chinese, a civilian, had been saved from drowning by the Louisa cutter, and I liberated him, sending by his hands a letter to the Admiral, in which I explained the usages of war amongst European nations with regard to flags of truce, sparing the lives of prisoners, and of an enemy yielding, and that the striking of flags signified submission, and always led to a cessation of hostility by surrender; and also that I had yesterday liberated upwards of one hundred prisoners who had laid down their arms.

The plan of attack was laid, and would have commenced seriously in a few moments, when I was surprised to see the flags and banners of the forts hauled down, and a boat with a flag of truce coming out; it contained a letter from the Admiral, requesting a suspension of hostilities until a communication could be made to the Imperial Commissioner at Canton. On consulting with Her Majesty's Plenipotentiary, we were of opinion that it would be advisable to comply with this request, in the sincere hope, that negotiations would prevent a further conflict. Three days have, therefore, been given for this purpose.

The Plenipotentiary renewed the offer of terms which he has forwarded to Her Majesty's Government, and it will be a source of infinite gratification to me, to find that they are accepted.

I have, &c.

(Signed) J. J. GORDON BREMER,
Commodore of the First Class,
Commander-in-Chief.

Her Majesty's ship Wellesley, Chuenpee,
January 8, 1841.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report to you, that the troops under my command, consisting of a detachment of royal artillery, having one twenty-four pounder howitzer and two six-pounder field guns, aided by a party of seamen from Her Majesty's ships Wellesley, Blenheim, and Melville, detachments of the 26th and 49th regiments, a battalion of royal marines, the 37th Madras native infantry, and a detachment of Bengal volunteers, in all fourteen hundred men, landed yesterday at nine o'clock, two miles below Chuenpee Point, for the purpose of capturing the several forts and batteries on Chuenpee.

The troops landed without opposition, and having formed them, I sent forward an advance of two companies of royal marines under Captain Ellis; the guns were then moved on, supported by the detachments of the 26th and 49th regiments, followed in column by the marine battalion, the 37th native infantry, and the Bengal volunteers.

After advancing a mile and a half, on reaching the ridge of hill, we came in sight of the upper fort, and of a very strong intrenchment, having a deep ditch outside, and a breastwork round it, which was prolonged upwards, connecting it with the upper fort; it was also flanked by field batteries, having deep trenches in rear of the guns for the purpose of shelter. The whole was strongly lined with Chinese soldiers, who immediately on seeing us cheered, waived their flags in defiance, and opened a fire from their batteries; our guns were promptly placed on the crest of the ridge, and commenced firing; this was duly returned by the Chinese for about twenty minutes, and indeed in this, as well as our other encounters with them, it is but justice to say they behaved with courage. During this time the advance crossed the shoulder of the hill to the right, driving before them the Chinese who had lined it in considerable numbers; then, descending into the valley, took possession of a field battery placed there; I had previously ordered two companies of the 37th native infantry, under Captains Bedingfield and Wardroper, to scour round a hill to the right of the advance, where they encountered the Chinese in some force, and drove them away with much loss. Captain Duff, commanding the corps, speaks highly of the conduct of these companies, which he had supported by another under Lieutenant Hadfield.

Seeing that the fire from our guns was causing the Chinese to fly from the entrenchment and batteries, I moved the column down the slope, causing the two leading companies of marines, under Captain Whitcomb, to clear the wooded hill in front, I took a subdivision of them, got into the entrenchment, and proceeded up inside the breastwork to the upper fort, in which there was still a number of men; these were speedily dislodged by the two marines who first reached it; the fort was entered, and the British ensign hoisted by a royal marine.

The lower fort, which had sixteen guns facing the sea, and was surrounded by a high wall, and a small battery between, was, from this, completely exposed, but the fire of these, as well as of the upper fort, had been silenced by the ships attacking on the sea face; they were still in considerable numbers in the lower part of the fort and had locked the gate; a fire was therefore kept up from the hill, and the advance coming round the lower side to the gate, forced it by musketry. On entering they met with considerable resistance, which was speedily subdued; some men then entering an embrasure on the flank, the fort was taken and our flag hoisted.

The whole of the forts and batteries being now in our possession, we proceeded to render the guns un-serviceable and dismantle the fort, setting their encampments on fire, and on re-embarking the magazine in the lower fort was blown up.

I am happy to say that the loss on our side has been small, and would have been less but for the explosion of an extensive magazine in the fort after the capture. The Chinese, however, suffered severely; between three hundred and four hundred were killed and wounded, including amongst the killed the Heptae, an officer with rank equivalent to our Brigadier-General. About one hundred prisoners were taken, who were released at the close of the day.

I have great pleasure in stating to your Excellency the admirable manner in which the whole force behaved, and I beg to recommend to your notice Major Johnson, of the 26th regiment, commanding a detachment of the 26th and 49th regiments. I must particularly mention Captain Ellis, commanding the marine battalion, an old and previously distinguished officer, who conducted the advance during the whole day with the greatest gallantry and judgment, and he speaks in the highest terms of the men forming the advance. Captain Knowles, R. A. who placed his guns admirably, and dismantled the forts after their capture; Captain Duff, commanding the 37th native infantry; and Captain Bolton, commanding the detachment of Bengal volunteers. From Lieutenant Stransham, Adjutant of the royal marines, who acted as Brigade-Major, I received most valuable assistance during the day, and gladly availed myself of the services of your military secretary, Lieutenant Stewart Mackenzie, 96th regiment, who volunteered to act on my Staff, and took charge of a party of skirmishers of the advance the better part of the day.

Lieutenant Wilson, Her Majesty's ship Blenheim, commanded the seamen, and the guns were dragged forward in good style, and the disembarkation and re-embarkation of the troops were ably managed by Lieutenant Symons, of Her Majesty's ship Wellesley.

I enclose the list of guns captured and destroyed, and also the return of casualties.

I have, &c.

Her Majesty's ship Samarang, Canton River, Jan. 8, 1841.

SIR,

IN obedience to your instruction of yesterday I proceeded with the ships placed under my orders off Tycocktow. The fort commenced its fire upon us at twenty minutes past ten o'clock, which I did not reply to until I took up my anchorage, ten minutes after, abreast of it, about two hundred yards distance, which was as near as the depth of water would permit of our approach. The Modeste, Druid, and Columbine anchored in succession, and in a few minutes so destructive and well-directed was the fire of the ships, that that of the enemy was silenced, with the exception of an occasional gun or two. At twenty minutes after eleven A.M., observing that we had effected a practicable breach in the southern end of the fort, I directed the boats manned and armed to proceed to storm it. Lieutenant Bower (first of this ship) immediately landed, supported by the boats of the Modeste; those of the Druid and Columbine, under the command of Lieutenant Goldsmith (first of the former ship), proceeded to the north end.

An attempt at resistance was made by the enemy at the breach against Lieutenant Bower and his party, but was instantly overcome by the gallant and determined rush onwards of our men, which so appalled the garrison that they instantly made a hasty retreat over the hill-wall, leaving us masters of the fort.

The guns, amounting to twenty-five longs, of different calibre, were then spiked, the trunnions knocked off, a shot wrapped round with wet canvass driven hard home in each, and they were then thrown into the sea, their carriages burnt, as well as the whole of the buildings and magazines blown up, previous to which latter operation all the wounded of the enemy were carried away clear of the fort; their loss, judging from the number of killed, laying in every direction, must have been most severe.

My best thanks are due to Captain Smith and Commanders Eyres and Clarke, for the efficient and able support they have afforded me. It is impossible to say too much in favour of all those under my command—their conduct merits my warmest approbation. Of Lieutenant Bower (first of this ship) I cannot speak too highly. In the attack of the breach he received a severe sabre wound across the knee, which I fear will deprive me for some time of his services. I beg leave to recommend him most strongly to your favourable consideration, as well as Mr. Luard, mate, who behaved most gallantly in the breach. The zealous conduct of this promising young officer has repeatedly drawn forth my commendations.

Our damages are very trifling, being merely some of the standing rigging cut away and a shot through our hull, the fire of the enemy passing all over us.

Enclosed I beg leave to return a list of the wounded on board the Samarang.

I have, &c.
