AT the Court at Windsor, the 10th day of December 1841.

PRESENT.

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to carry into effect a Convention of Commerce concluded between His Majesty and the United States of America and a Treaty with the Prince Regent of Portugal," divers provisions were made respecting the duties payable, and the bounties and allowances to be granted, upon the importation and exportation of goods, wares, and merchandize into or from the United Kingdom, in vessels of the United States, and in Portuguese vessels, and respecting the repayment of certain corporations, bodies politic and corporate, and sundry other persons, of the amount of the sums of money of which they would be deprived by means of the Act now in recital; and it was, by the said Act now in recital, enacted, that the said Act now in recital should continue in force so long as the Convention, therein recited, between His said Majesty and the United States of America, and the Treaty, therein recited, between His said Majesty and His Royal Highness the Prince Regent of Portugal, and so long as any treaty to be made with any foreign power, with the similar provisions therein-before recited, should respectively continue in force; and whereas by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the first and second year of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the laws of the Customs," after reciting, as herein-before is recited, and also that, subsequently to the enactment of the herein-before recited Act, Her Majesty and Her Royal Predecessors had made and concluded, with divers foreign powers, treaties, containing provisions similar to those recited in the said recited Act, and that doubts had arisen whether, according to the true construction thereof, the said recited Act did apply and extend to the trade and shipping of such other foreign powers, and that it was expedient that such doubts should be removed, it is thereby enacted and declared, that, from and after the ratification of any treaty theretofore made by Her Majesty or any of Her Royal Predecessors, subsequently to the enactment of the said recited Act, or of any treaty which might thereafter be made by Her Majesty, Her heirs and successors, with any such foreign power, in which treaty had been, or should be, contained provisions similar to those contained in the said recited Act, all and every the provisions, clauses, matters, and things, in the said recited Act contained, did and should apply and extend to the trade and shipping of such foreign powers respectively as fully and effectually, to all intents and purposes, as to the trade and shipping of the said United States, and of the said kingdom of Portugal:

And, for the prevention of uncertainty therein, it is enacted, by the said Act now in recital, that it should and might be lawful for Her Majesty, Her heirs and successors, by any Order or Orders to be by Her or them made, with the advice of Her or their Privy Council, and published in the London Gazette, from time to time, to declare what are the foreign powers with which any such treaty or treaties as aforesaid is or are subsisting, and that the Act now in recital, and the said recited Act, should apply and should be deemed, from the time of the ratification of any such treaties, to have been applicable to the trade and shipping of such foreign countries as should be so mentioned in any such Order or Orders in Council as aforesaid, so long as any such Order or Orders should continue unrevoked, and no longer:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, doth, in pursuance and in exercise of the power and authority in Her vested by the Act so passed as aforesaid in the session of Parliament held in the first and second year of Her reign, declare, that such a treaty as aforesaid, that is to say, a treaty, containing provisions similar to those contained in the said recited Act of the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, is now subsisting with His Majesty the King of Sardinia, being a Treaty of Navigation between Her Majesty and the King of Sardinia, signed on the sixth of September last, and ratified on the sixth of November one thousand eight hundred and forty-one:

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, for the assignment of chapelry districts to the chapels of St. Barnabas, King-square, and St. Paul, Finsbury, both in the parish of St. Luke, in the county of Middlesex, under the 16th section of the 59th Geo. 3, cap. 134:

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, on the 21st day of October 1841, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal; to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of tithes, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits, which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary, for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels, to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:" and whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said hereinbefore recited Act, or the said Act now in recital, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which might thereafter be built, or acquired under the powers of the said former Act, or the said Act now in recital; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the Curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such Curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the Bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to Stipendiary Curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such Curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the 1st year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that when the census, in the year 1831, was taken, the parish of St. Luke, in the county of Middlesex and diocese of London, contained a population of 46,642 persons:

"That besides the parish church, which affords accommodation to 1870 persons, there are two chapels in the said parish, called, respectively, St. Barnabas's Chapel, and St Paul's Chapel.

" That St. Barnabas's Chapel, which was built by your Majesty's said Commissioners, affords accommodation to 2088 persons, including 1397 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor; and that St. Paul's Chapel, Bunhill-row, affords accommodation to 821 persons, including 411 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor :

" That the said two chapels have been consecrated, and divine service is regularly performed therein :

" Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient, that chapelry districts should be assigned to each of the said chapels, under the provisions of the 16th section of an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled " An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes ;" and that the said districts should be named, respectively, " The District of St. Barnabas, King-square," and " The District of St. Paul, Finsbury," with boundaries as follows :

" The district of St. Barnabas, King-square, to consist of the north westernmost part of the parish, the boundaries being as follow, viz. to commence in Goswell-street, opposite to Noble-street, and thence proceed, in a north westerly direction, along the boundary line that divides the parish of St. Luke from the parish of St. James, Clerkenwell, to where those parishes join the parish of St. Mary, Islington; thence, following the boundary line that divides the said parish of St. Luke and the said parish of Saint Mary, Islington, as far as Eagle-street; thence south, crossing the City-road and proceeding down the centre of Bath-street, including all the houses on the west side thereof, as far as Ratcliffe-row; thence, proceeding in a westerly direction along the centre of that row and St. John's-row, including all the houses on the north sides thereof, as far as Bricklane; thence, southerly, down the centre of Bricklane, including all the houses on the west side thereof, as far as Noble-street; thence, westwardly, along the centre of Noble-street, including all the houses on the north side thereof, as far as Goswell-street, where the boundary commenced, as the same is more particularly delineated on the plan hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured red :

" The district of St. Paul, Finsbury, is to consist of parts of the liberties of East and West Finsbury, being the south eastern corner of the parish, and the boundary thereof to commence at the western extremity of Featherstone-street, and to proceed, east, along the centre of that street, including all the houses on the south side thereof, as far as the house at the north east corner of Featherstone-street, numbered 29; then, north; at the back of that and the adjoining houses, as far as the north wall of the Finsbury School; then, east, along that wall to the City-road; then, south, along the centre of the City-road, to Tabernacle-row; then, east, along the centre of that row, and including all the houses on the south side thereof, as far as the boundary line that divides the parish of Saint Luke from the parish of St. Leonard, Shoreditch; then, south, along the said boundary line to the point where those two parishes join the parish of St. Stephen, Coleman-street; then, west, along the boundary line that divides the parishes of St. Luke, and St. Stephen, Coleman-street, as far as the back of the southernmost house in Type-street; then to proceed north, in an imaginary line drawn at the back of that and the adjoining houses, so as to include the whole of Type court as far as Chiswell-street, so as to include the houses on both sides of Type-street, and the houses Nos. 66 and 67, in Chiswell-street, to cross Chiswell-street, and include the house No. 25, in that street, at the south west corner of Bunhill-row; and proceed north, by an imaginary line drawn at the back of the houses in Bunhill-row, so as to include the houses on each side of that row, as far as and including the house No. 81, the same being opposite to Featherstone-street, where the boundary commenced, as the same is shewn by the plan hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured blue :

" That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in both the said chapels; and that the fees for graves, vaults, monuments, and tombstones shall belong to and be received by the Ministers of the said two new chapels, respectively, for their own use; and that, from and after the next avoidance of the parish church of St. Luke, the fees for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall also belong to and be received by the said Ministers, respectively, for their own use :

" That the consent of the Lord Bishop of London has been obtained thereto, as required by the said Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third; and in testimony of which the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument :

" Your Majesty's Commissioners beg leave, therefore, to lay before your Majesty the above-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto, as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignments be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided; and it is, by the 21st section of the said Act, further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish or extra parochial place into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary, for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; and whereas by an Act, passed in the 9th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said

hereinbefore recited Act, or the said Act now in recital, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which might thereafter be built, or acquired under the powers of the said former Act, or the said Act now in recital; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the Curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such Curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the Bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to Stipendiary Curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such Curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such Curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published; and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the main enance of the Curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding;" and whereas by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the 1st and 2d years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the 2d and 3d years of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes,'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the 58th year of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," and continued by an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign intituled "An Act to prolong for ten years Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches," beg leave to represent to your Majesty, that, when the census was taken, in the year 1831, the parish of Eckington, in the county of Derby and diocese of Lichfield, contained a population of 3948 persons :

"That, besides the parish church, which affords accommodation to 800 persons, there is one chapel at the hamlet of Ridgeway, in the township of Troway, in the said parish, called St. John's Chapel, which affords accommodation to 571 persons, including 324 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor :

"That the said chapel has been consecrated and divine service is regularly performed therein :

"Your Majesty's Commissioners beg leave further to represent to your Majesty that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient that a particular district should be assigned to the said chapel, under the provisions of the 16th section of an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be named "Saint John's Chapelry District, Ridgeway," and consist of the township of Troway, such township being the westernmost part of the parish of Eckington, and is bounded on the north by the parishes of Beighton and Handsworth; on the west, partly by the said parish of Handsworth, and by the parish of Dronfield; on the south, by the parishes of Dronfield and Staveley; and on the east, by the townships of Masbrough and Eckington, all in the parish of Eckington, as the same is more particularly shewn by the plan hereunto annexed, and thereon tinted yellow :

"That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said chapel, and that the fees arising therefrom should, from and after the next avoidance of the living, belong to and be received by the Minister of the said chapel :

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Lichfield has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the 59th year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony of which the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument :

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave, therefore, to lay before your Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made and collected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
