ROYAL COMMISSION OF FINE ARTS.

Whitehall, April 25, 1842.

1. The Commissioners appointed by the Queen for the purpose of enquiring first, whether on the rebuilding of Her Majesty's Palace at Westminster, wherein Her Parliament is wont to assemble, advantage might not be taken of the opportunity thereby afforded of promoting and encouraging the Fine Arts in the United Kingdom; and secondly, in what manner an object of so much importance might be most effectually promoted, have resolved, that it would be expedient for the furthering of the objects of their enquiry, that means should, in the first place, be taken to ascertain whether fresco painting might be applied with advantage to the decoration of the Houses of Parliament.

2. Although some years must elapse before the walls of the new buildings can be in a fit state for paintings of any kind, yet, as fresco painting has not hitherto been much practised in this country, and as, therefore, candidates for employment in that mode of painting, whatever their reputation or general skill may be, will probably find it necessary to make preparatory essays, Her Majesty's Commissioners think it expedient that the plan which they have resolved to adopt, in order to decide on the qualifications of such candidates, should be announced forthwith; with this view, Her Majesty's Commissioners hereby give notice,

3. That three premiums of £300 each, three premiums of £200 each, and five premiums of £100 each, will be given to the artists who shall furnish cartoons, which shall respectively be deemed worthy of one or other of the said premiums, by judges to be appointed to decide on the relative merit of the works.

4. The drawings are to be executed in chalk or in charcoal, or in some similar material, but without colours.

5. The size of the drawings is to be not less than ten, nor more than fifteen, feet in their longest dimension; the figures are to be not less than the size of life.

6. Each artist is at liberty to select his subject from British history, or from the works of Spenser, Shakspeare, or Milton.

7. The finished drawings are to be sent in the course of the first week in May 1843 for exhibition, to a place hereafter to be appointed.

8. Each candidate is required to put a motto or mark on the back of his drawing, and to send, together with his drawing, a sealed letter, containing his name and address, and having on the outside of its cover a motto or mark similar to that at the back of the drawing. The letters belonging to the drawings, to which no premium shall have been awarded, will be returned unopened.

9. If a drawing, for which a premium shall have been awarded, shall have been executed abroad, or shall have been begun before the publication of this notice, the judges appointed to decide on the relative merit of the works may, if they shall think fit, require the artist to execute in this country, and under such conditions as they may think necessary, an additional drawing as a specimen of his ability, and in such case the premium awarded to such artist will not be paid unless his second drawing shall be approved by the judges.

10. The drawings will be returned to the respective artists.

11. The competition will be confined to British artists.

12. The judges, hereafter to be appointed to decide on the relative merit of the works, will consist partly of artists.

13. The competition hereby invited is open to all artists, although it has more immediate reference to fresco painting.

14. The claims of candidates for employment in other methods of painting, in other departments of the art besides historical painting, and in decoration generally, will be duly considered.

15. Her Majesty's Commissioners will announce, at a future period, the plan which they may adopt in order to decide on the merits of candidates for employment as oil painters and as sculptors.

16. The range of choice, in regard to subjects, which has been left, in paragraph 6, to the discretion of the artists, has reference to the present competition only, and is not to be understood as implying the adoption of any particular scheme for the decoration of the Houses of Parliament.

17. The judges to be appointed to decide on the relative merit of the drawings will, it is presumed, be disposed to mark their approbation or works which, with a just conception of the subject, exhibit an attention to those qualities which are more especially the objects of study in a cartoon, namely, precision of drawing, founded on a knowledge of the structure of the human figure; a treatment of drapery, uniting the imitation of nature, with a reference to form, action, and composition; and a style of composition less dependent on chiaro scuro than on effective arrangement.

By command of the Commissioners,
C. L. Eastlake, Secretary.

Gwydyr-House, Whitehall, April 26, 1842.

Whereas by a certain Act of Parliament, made and passed in this present session, intituled "An Act for appointing Commissioners to inquire as to the issue, receipt, circulation, and possession of certain forged Exchequer Bills," it is, amongst other things, provided, that the Commissioners therein named shall give notice of their appointment and of their place or places of meeting in the London Gazette; now we, the undersigned, do hereby give notice, that we have been constituted and appointed by the said Act, Commissioners of Inquiry for the purpose of the said Act, and that we intend to proceed forthwith upon the inquiries which we are thereby directed to make, and shall hold our sittings at Gwydyr-House, Whitehall.

Church Commissioners' Office,
April 26, 1842.

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, for assigning a district to Trinity Church, Margate, in the parish of Saint John, Thanet, in the county of Kent, under the 16th section of the 59th Geo. 3., cap. 131:

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 11th of March 1842, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits, which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary, for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels, to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:" and whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said hereinbefore recited Act, or the said Act now in recital, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which might thereafter be built, or acquired under the powers of the said former Act, or the said Act now in recital; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the Curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such Curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the Bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to Stipendiary Curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such Curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such Curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapel shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the Curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding; and whereas by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the 1st and 2d years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the 2d and 3d years of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect;

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the 1st year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that when the last census was taken the parish of St. John, Thanet, in the county of Kent, and arch diocese of Canterbury, contained a population of 10,946 persons:

"That besides the parish church, which affords accommodation to 1700 persons, there is one chapel in the said parish, called Trinity Church, Margate, built by your Majesty's said Commissioners, which affords accommodation to 2000 persons, including 1200 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor;

"That the said chapel has been consecrated, and divine service is regularly performed therein;

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent to your Majesty, that having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district should be assigned to the said chapel, called Trinity Chapel, Margate, under the provisions of the 16th section of an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be named "The Trinity District Chapelry, Margate, with boundaries as follow;

"The district is to comprise the north easternmost part of the parish, being bounded on the north and north west by the sea, on the east and south east by the parish of St. Peter, and on or towards the west and south west by the following boundary line, videlicet; commencing on the sea shore (at the point marked A on the map) opposite to the upper part of Upper Marine-terrace, which it passes through to High-street; then through Queen-street, Cecil-square, Union-crescent, through the road to the north of Addington-square, down Long Mill-lane to the Dane, and Lower Dane-road to St. Peter's parish, including all the houses on the left or eastern and north easternmost side thereof, as shewn by the map hereunto annexed, and thereon tinted yellow;

"That baptisms and churchings should be performed in the said chapel; and that the fees arising therefrom should forthwith be received by and belong to the Minister of the said chapel;

"That the consent of the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony of which the said Lord Archbishop has signed and sealed this present instrument;

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, beg leave to lay before your Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto, as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
