The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Thursday, February 2, 1843.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

WE are commanded by Her Majesty to acquaint you, that Her Majesty receives from all Princes and States assurances of a friendly disposition towards this country, and of an earnest desire to co-operate with Her Majesty in the maintenance of general peace.

By the Treaty which Her Majesty has concluded with the United States of America, and by the adjustment of those differences which, from their long continuance, had endangered the preservation of peace, Her Majesty trusts that the amicable relations of the two countries have been confirmed.

The increased exertions which, by the liberality of Parliament, Her Majesty was enabled to make for the termination of hostilities with China, have been eminently successful.

The skill, valour, and discipline, of the naval and military forces employed upon this service have been most conspicuous, and have led to the conclusion of peace upon the terms proposed by Her Majesty.

Her Majesty rejoices in the prospect that, by the free access which will be opened to the principal marts of that populous and extensive empire, encouragement will be given to the commercial enterprise of Her people.

As soon as the ratifications of the Treaty shall have been exchanged, it will be laid before you.

In concert with Her Allies, Her Majesty has succeeded in obtaining for the Christian population of Syria the establishment of a system of administration which they were entitled to expect from the engagements of the Sultan and from the good faith of this country.

The differences for some time existing between the Turkish and Persian Governments, had recently led to acts of hostility; but as each of these States has accepted the joint mediation of Great Britain and Russia, Her Majesty entertains a confident hope that their mutual relations will be speedily and amicably adjusted.

Her Majesty has concluded with the Emperor of Russia a Treaty of Commerce and Navigation, which will be laid before you. Her Majesty regards this Treaty with great satisfaction, as the foundation for increased intercourse between Her Majesty's subjects and those of the Emperor.

Her Majesty is happy to inform you, that complete success has attended the recent military operations in Affghanistan.

Her Majesty has the greatest satisfaction in recording Her high sense of the ability with which those operations have been directed, and of the constancy and valour which have been manifested by the European and native forces.

The superiority of Her Majesty's arms has been established by decisive victories on the scenes of former disaster; and the complete liberation of Her Majesty's subjects who were held in captivity, and for whom Her Majesty felt the deepest interest, has been effected.

We are commanded by Her Majesty to inform you, that it has not been deemed advisable to continue the occupation by a military force of the countries to the westward of the Indus.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

Her Majesty has directed the estimates for the ensuing year to be laid before you.

Such reductions have been made in the amount of the naval and military force as have been deemed compatible, under present circumstances, with the efficient performance of the public service throughout the extended empire of Her Majesty.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

Her Majesty regrets the diminished receipt from some of the ordinary sources of revenue.

Her Majesty fears that it must be in part attributed to the reduced consumption of many articles caused by that depression of the manufacturing industry of the country which has so long prevailed, and which Her Majesty has so deeply lamented:

In considering, however, the present state of the revenue, Her Majesty is assured that you will bear in mind that it has been materially affected by the extensive reductions in the import duties which received your sanction during the last session of Parliament, and that little progress has been hitherto made in the collection of those taxes which were imposed for the purpose of supplying the deficiency from that and other causes.

Her Majesty feels confident that the future produce of the revenue will be sufficient to meet every exigency of the public service.

Her Majesty commands us to acquaint you, that Her Majesty derived the utmost gratification from the loyalty and affectionate attachment to Her Majesty which were manifested on the occasion of Her Majesty's visit to Scotland.

Her Majesty regrets that in the course of last year the public peace in some of the manufacturing districts was seriously disturbed, and the lives and property of Her Majesty's subjects were endangered by tumultuous assemblages and acts of open violence.

The ordinary law, promptly enforced, was sufficient for the effectual repression of these disorders. Her Majesty confidently relies upon its efficacy, and upon the zealous support of Her loyal and peaceable subjects, for the maintenance of tranquillity.

We are commanded by Her Majesty to acquaint you, that measures connected with the improvement of the law, and with various questions of domestic policy, will be submitted for your consideration.

Her Majesty confidently relies on your zealous endeavours to promote the public welfare, and fervently prays that the favour of Divine Providence may direct and prosper your counsels, and make them conducive to the happiness and contentment of Her people.

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

HER Majesty, having been pleased to appoint the Right Honourable Sir Charles Theophilus Metcalfe, Bart. and G.C.B. to be Captain General and Governor in Chief of the provinces of Canada, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia, and of the island of Prince Edward; and Governor General of all Her Majesty's provinces on the Continent of North America, and of the island of Prince Edward; he this day took the usual oaths appointed to be taken by the Governors of Her Majesty's plantations.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 1st day of February 1843,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by a Statute, made at the Parliament holden in the third and fourth years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act for the appointment of convenient places for the holding of assizes in England and Wales," it was declared and enacted, "that His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Most Honourable Privy Council, should have power, from time to time, to order and direct at what place or places, in any county in England or Wales, the assizes and sessions under the commissions of gaol delivery, and other commissions for the dispatch of civil and criminal business, should be holden; and to order and direct such assizes and sessions, for the dispatch of criminal and civil business, to be holden at more than one place in the same county on the same circuit; and to order and direct the assizes and sessions, under such commissions for the dispatch of criminal business, to be holden for the whole county at one place, and, for the dispatch of civil business, at one or more place or places in such county on the same circuit; and further to order and direct any special commissions of oyer and terminer and gaol delivery to be holden at one or more places in any such county:

And it was also further declared and enacted, that in case His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Most Honourable Privy Council, should think fit to order and direct, that the assizes or any such special commissions shall be holden at more than one place in any one county, it should be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, to divide any such county for the purposes of the said Act, and to make rules and regulations touching the venue in all cases, civil and criminal, then pending, or thereafter to be pending, and to be tried within any division of such county so to be made as aforesaid; and touching the liability and attendance of jurors, whether grand jurors, special jurors, or common jurors, at the assizes and sessions as aforesaid, or at any sessions under any special commissions to be holden within any such division; and touching the use of any house of correction or prison as a common gaol, and the government and keeping thereof; and touching the alterations of any commissions, writs, precepts, or other proceedings whatsoever, for carrying into effect the purposes of that Act; and all such rules and regulations should be of the like force and effect as if the same had been made by the authority of Parliament, and should be notified in the London Gazette, or in such other manner as His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Most Honourable Privy Council, should think fit to direct:

And whereas by a Statute, made in the session of Parliament holden in the fifth and sixth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to annex the county of the city of Coventry to Warwickshire, and to define the boundary of the city of Coventry," it was declared and enacted, that "the judges of assize and nisi prius, and others named in Her Majesty's commissions of oyer and terminer and gaol delivery, shall hold their sittings at nisi prius, oyer and terminer, and gaol delivery, within the said city of Coventry for the said city, and for such other parts of the said county of Warwick as Her Majesty, with the advice of Her Privy Council, from time to time shall order, and at Warwick, for so much of the rest of the said county as shall not be included in any such Order; and that the sheriff of the county of Warwick shall give his attendance upon the said judges and commissioners, and shall cause to be summoned to Warwick and Coventry such grand and petty jurors of the county of Warwick as shall be needed for the execution of the said several commissions; and that all proceedings and orders necessary for the execution of the said several commissions at Warwick and Coventry, respectively, shall be of the same force as if the same had been had and taken under the several like commissions heretofore issued for the county of Warwick; provided, that the mayor, aldermen, and burgesses of the city of Coventry shall allow the use of Saint Mary's Hall, within the said city, for holding any of the said sittings therein, when and so often as the same shall be needed by the said

"judges and commissioners:" it is, therefore, ordered, that the said county be divided, for the purpose of carrying the said Acts and this Order into effect, into two divisions, which shall respectively be called "the Warwick division of the said county," and "the Coventry division of the said county;" and that the judges of assize and nisi prius, and others named in Her Majesty's commissions of oyer and terminer and gaol delivery, shall hold their sittings within the said city of Coventry for the said city, and for the Atherstone and Coleshill divisions of the hundred of Hemlingford, and the Kirby and Rugby divisions of the hundred of Knightlow; and that the city of Coventry, and the Atherstone and Coleshill divisions of the hundred of Hemlingford, and the Kirby and Rugby divisions of the hundred of Knightlow, shall be the Coventry division of the said county; and that Warwick, and the rest of the said county of Warwick, shall be the Warwick division of the said county; and that the venue in all criminal proceedings shall be according to the respective divisions as follows, viz. "Warwickshire Warwick division," or "Warwickshire Coventry division," as the case may require:

And it is hereby ordered, that the gaol at Coventry shall and may be used in manner hereinafter mentioned as a common gaol, for the purpose of carrying the said Acts and this Order into effect; and that any justice or justices of the peace, or coroner for the said county, or any liberty therein, may commit any person, duly charged with any offence triable at the assizes, to the said gaol; and such justice or coroner is required to specify in the commitment that the commitment is for trial at the assizes, and that the prisoners in the said gaol, committed for trial at the assizes, shall be in the government, custody, charge, and keeping of the sheriff of the said county; and also the prisoners removed by the said sheriff, pursuant to the directions hereinafter given, from the gaol at Warwick for trial at the assizes to be held at Coventry, shall be kept by the said sheriff in the said gaol; and all such prisoners, so committed or removed as aforesaid, shall continue in the government, custody, charge, and keeping of the said sheriff in the said gaol until the execution of their respective sentences, or until they shall be delivered from thence into the custody in which they ought, by virtue of their respective sentences, to be delivered, or be delivered by due course of law; and it is further ordered, that the governor or keeper of the said gaol at Coventry shall, in all respects, observe and keep the orders and regulations now made and observed by the governor or keeper of the gaol at Warwick, touching and concerning all returns to be made of the persons committed to the said gaol at Coventry for trial as aforesaid, with a statement of their respective offences:

And it is further ordered, in cases of commitment for trial, or recognizance to appear and prosecute, or give evidence at the assize for any offence supposed to have been committed in the said Warwick division, such commitment shall be to the gaol at Warwick, and the recognizances shall be taken to appear and prosecute, or give evidence, or to appear and answer at the assizes at Warwick; and for all offences supposed to have been committed in the said Coventry division, the commitment shall be to the gaol at Coventry aforesaid, and the recognizances shall be taken to appear and prosecute, or give evidence, or to appear and answer at the assizes at Coventry, unless the justice or justices of the peace making any such commitments, or taking such recognizances, shall, under the special circumstances of the case, think fit to make such commitments for trial, or recognizances to appear and prosecute, or give evidence, or to appear and answer at the assizes to be holden in the division other than that in which the offence shall be supposed to have been committed, in which case such commitments shall be made and recognizances taken, and such trial shall take place accordingly; and in such special case such justice or justices shall and may commit prisoners charged with any offence supposed to have been committed in the Warwick division to the gaol at Coventry, for trial at the assizes to be holden at Coventry; and that all prisoners now or hereafter in custody in the gaol at Warwick for trial at the next ensuing assizes, after the date of this Order, for offences appearing by the respective commitments to have been committed in the said Warwick division (other than such prisoners, if any, as may have been committed by such justice or justices as aforesaid, in such special case as aforesaid, or as may have been removed to the said gaol at Warwick from the said gaol at Coventry by a court or judge, as hereinafter provided for), shall be removed by the sheriff of the said county to the said gaol at Coventry for trial at the said next assizes to be held at Coventry, and shall be tried there: provided always, and it is further ordered, that a list of the names of such prisoners, with a short statement of the offences with which they are charged, shall, by the said sheriff, be inserted in one or more of the newspapers published in the said county (so far as the same list can be then made out), ten days before the day fixed for the opening of the commission at the assizes at Coventry, with a notice, that all persons bound by recognizance to appear and prosecute, or give evidence against such prisoners so removed, shall appear and give evidence at the said next assizes to be held at Coventry; and the persons so bound shall so appear and prosecute, and give evidence accordingly: and it is further ordered, that all other prisoners, now or hereafter in custody in the gaol at Warwick for trial at the assizes, shall be tried at the assizes held at Warwick; and all prisoners, hereafter in custody for trial at the assizes in the gaol at Coventry, shall be tried at the assizes held at Coventry; but such prisoners, as shall be in custody in the said gaol at Coventry for trial at the sessions, shall remain therein for trial as heretofore:

And it is further ordered, that all indictments for offences, supposed to have been committed in the Warwick division of the said county, shall be preferred to the grand jury for the said county at Warwick; and for offences, supposed to have been committed in the Coventry division of the said county, shall be preferred to the grand jury for the said county at Coventry, except in the cases of persons committed or held to bail under the special circumstances hereinbefore mentioned, or removed for trial by order of a court or judge, as hereinafter provided, in which case indictments shall be preferred to the grand jury, either at Warwick or Coventry, to or at whichever of the said places the said persons shall be committed or removed, or held to bail to appear; and all issues arising upon or out of any indictment shall be tried at whichever of the said places the said indictment shall have been preferred; and that in all cases, not herein otherwise provided for, an indictment may be preferred either at the assizes held at Warwick, or at the assizes held at Coventry:

And it is further ordered, that any person not in custody, against whom any true bill of indictment shall hereafter be found at Warwick, shall, if committed, be committed to the gaol at Warwick for trial at the assizes to be held at Warwick; or in case such indictment shall be found at Coventry, then such person shall be committed to the said gaol at Coventry for trial at the assizes to be held at Coventry:

And it is further ordered, that issues, now or hereafter to be joined on any indictments already found at the assizes, for offences wherever supposed to have been committed, shall be tried at the assizes held at Warwick:

And it is further ordered, that the sheriff of the said county, or his deputy, and the clerk of the crown for the said county, or his deputy, shall attend at the assizes both at Warwick and Coventry; and all justices of the peace and coroners, bound by law to attend at the assizes, shall attend at the assizes held at Warwick or Coventry; and all mayors, stewards, bailiffs of liberties, hundreds, and wapentakes, in the Warwick division, do attend at the assizes at Warwick, and, in the Coventry division, at the assizes at Coventry:

And it is further ordered, that every such justice of the peace and coroner shall certify his examinations, informations, bailments, and recognizances, in respect of offences which are, pursuant to this Order, to be tried at the assizes at Warwick, to the clerk of the crown at Warwick; and, in respect of those to be tried at the assizes at Coventry, to the clerk of the crown at Coventry, at the usual time and in the like manner heretofore used in the county of Warwick:

And it is further ordered, that no further alteration shall be necessary in the commissions of oyer and terminer and gaol delivery for the said county, other than to extend the same to the two divisions of the said county of Warwick; and that two commissions of assize be issued by the clerk of the crown, one for each of the divisions of the said county of Warwick, in the same manner as one has heretofore issued, directed to the sheriff of the said county; and the sheriff shall return one writ at the assizes at Warwick, and the other at the assizes at Coventry, with the proper schedules or pannels annexed, and a schedule of the nominatorum for the whole county; and it is also ordered, that writs of subpoena do issue as heretofore, with the proper alteration, and do name the assizes either at Warwick or Coventry, as the case may be, where the attendance of the witnesses is to be given; and that all writs of jury process, and all other writs, be altered in like manner; but that no alteration be necessary in any mittimus to the said county of Warwick, for the trial of any issue joined in any of Her Majesty's courts at Westminster; and further, that the assize writs and subpoenas, to be hereafter issued for the next assize, may be vested on the day of the date of this Order, or afterwards, as the case may require, and, for any subsequent assizes, may be tested in manner heretofore used and accustomed:

And it is further ordered, that the sheriff of the said county do summon a grand jury for the body of the said county which shall attend at the assizes at Warwick, and be sworn for the body of the whole county as heretofore; and another grand jury (which may consist in part or in all of the same, or may consist altogether of different persons) which shall attend at the assizes at Coventry, and be sworn in like manner:

And it is further ordered, that the sheriff, or other minister to whom belongs the return of the jurors for the trial of issues to be tried at the said assizes at Warwick or Coventry, either from the superior courts at Westminster, or any criminal issue, shall summon a competent number of men, named in the juror's book, to serve on juries indiscriminately on the civil and criminal side at the said assizes at Warwick, so as such number be not less than forty-eight, nor more than seventy-two; and also a competent number of the like persons to serve on juries, indiscriminately as aforesaid, at the said assizes at Coventry, so as such number be not less than forty-eight, nor more than seventy-two; unless a judge or judges in the commission of oyer and terminer and gaol delivery shall direct a greater or less number; in which case such greater or less number shall be summoned; and in summoning such juries to attend at the said assizes at Warwick and Coventry, respectively, the said sheriff, or other minister, shall have regard to the convenience of the said jurors, as to their place of residence:

And it is further ordered, that all persons who shall have served as jurors, at either of the said assizes, shall have the like privilege and exemption, by virtue of the Statute, passed in the sixth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act for consolidating and amending the laws relative to jurors and juries," as if he had served at the assizes held for the whole county; and that all and every the powers and provisions of the said last-mentioned Statute, touching the summoning of juries, common and special, and the summoning of juries to serve indiscriminately on the criminal and civil side, and all other the powers and provisions of the said last-mentioned Act, shall be in force, with respect to each of the said assizes to be held at Warwick and Coventry, respectively, so far as they may be applicable thereto, in like manner as they were with respect to the assizes held at Warwick only:

And it is further ordered, that every declaration, hereafter to be filed or delivered in any action in which the issue is intended to be tried at the assizes for the county of Warwick, held at Warwick or Coventry, respectively, shall have in the margin, besides the ordinary venue, the words "Warwick division," or "Coventry division," but no other alteration from the ordinary form of such declaration shall be necessary; and issues arising in such actions, if tried at the assizes, shall accordingly be tried at the assizes held at Warwick and Coventry, respectively: provided, nevertheless, and it is further ordered, that in all cases of civil actions in which the venue is by law local, the issues therein shall be tried at Warwick; in cases where the cause of action shall have arisen in the Warwick division, and at Coventry where the cause of action shall have arisen in the Coventry division, in like manner as if the said two divisions were two separate counties, and the declarations in such actions shall have in the margin, in addition to the ordinary venue, the words "Warwick division," or "Coventry division," as the case may require, but no other alteration from the ordinary form shall be necessary; nevertheless, it shall be lawful for the court in which any such issue be joined, or any judge of the superior courts of common law at Westminster, to order such issues to be tried at the assizes held in the division in which the cause of action did not arise, if they or he shall think fit; and also to order the words in the margin to be amended in any other cases, so as to cause the trial to take place at the assizes held in the other division:

And it is further ordered, that in all cases of issues already joined, or hereafter joined, in which the venue is laid in the county of Warwick, without any words in the margin, specifying the division of the county, such issues shall be tried at the assizes at Warwick, unless the court in which such action shall have been commenced, or a judge thereof, or one of the judges of the superior courts at Westminster, shall otherwise order, by directing the proper words to be inserted in the margin, or otherwise, as he shall think fit:

And it is further ordered, that in all cases of indictments removed into the Court of Queen's Bench at Westminster by certiorari, and in all cases of informations triable at the assizes for offences alleged to have been committed, or matters alleged to have arisen in the said county of Warwick, the trial of any issue arising therein shall take place at the assizes held at Warwick, unless the court in which such information shall be filed, or in the case of indictments, the said Court of Queen's Bench, or any judge of the said courts, respectively, shall otherwise order:

And it is further ordered, that Her Majesty's Court of Queen's Bench at Westminster, or any judge thereof, or any judge of the superior courts at Westminster, being a commissioner of oyer and terminer and goal delivery for the said county, shall and may, if such court or judge shall think fit, order and direct the issue upon any indictment found by the grand jury at Coventry to be tried at Warwick, and vice versa; and also order and direct any prisoner, in custody for trial at the assizes in the said gaol at Coventry, to be removed to take his trial at Warwick, and issue a writ of habeas corpus accordingly for such removal, and vice versa:

And it is further ordered, that every recognizance which shall be entered into to appear and prosecute, or give evidence, or appear and answer, as the case may be, at the assizes to be held at Warwick, shall, in case such order shall have been made as last aforesaid, for trial at the assizes at

Coventry, be obligatory on the parties bound by such recognizance to appear and prosecute, or give evidence, or appear and answer, as the case may be, and do all other things therein mentioned, at the assizes to be held at Coventry, in like manner as if such recognizance had been originally entered into for appearing and prosecuting, or giving evidence, or for appearing and answering, or doing such other things at the assizes held at Coventry; provided, that one week's notice shall have been given, either personally or by leaving the same at the place of residence, as of which the parties bound by such recognizances are therein described, to appear at the assizes to be held at Coventry; and that, in like manner, recognizances for appearance at Coventry shall be obligatory on the parties to appear at Warwick; provided also, that it shall be lawful for the court or judge making such order for trial and removal as aforesaid, and they are hereby required to cause the party applying for such order, whether he be the prosecutor or party charged, to enter into a recognizance for such sum, with or without sureties, as such court or judge may direct, and conditioned to give such notice as aforesaid, to the parties bound by such recognizances to appear at the assizes at which the trial of such indictment shall be ordered to take place as aforesaid:

And it is further ordered and declared, that nothing herein contained shall extend to prevent the commissioners of assize and nisi prius, oyer and terminer and gaol delivery, or either or any of them, or any of the persons named in such commissions, or the justices of the peace for the said county of Warwick, or the grand or petty juries, sitting either at Warwick or Coventry, from having and exercising, at either place, such jurisdiction as now belongs to them by law over the whole county of Warwick:

And it is further ordered and declared, that this present Order shall be substituted for and in lieu of a certain Order, of the fourth day of January last, relating to the assizes to be holden for the county of Warwick, from time to time:

And the Right Honourable the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.
