CHARLES GOBLE and JAMES EADE.

WHEREAS there is reason to believe that Charles Goble, who died on the 1st day of March 1842, at Boxley, in the county of Kent, and who, prior to going to reside at that place, resided at Ightham, in the same county, made a will some years since, and by such will appointed James Eade, described as of Brighton, in the county of Sussex, Gentleman, executor; this is therefore to give notice to the said James Eade, that if he will apply to Messrs. Shephard, Isherwood, and Shephard, of No. 3, Godliman-street, Doctors'-commons, in the city of London, and produce the original will above referred to, he will bear of something to his advantage; or if any other person, having the custody of the said will, will produce the same, or afford the necessary information so as to lead to its discovery, and the discovery of the said James Eade, he will be rewarded for the trouble, on application to the said Messrs. Shephard, Isherwood, and Shephard.

Mr. WILLIAM LAW PHELPS, deceased.

ALL persons having any unsatisfied claims or demands on the estate of the said William Law Phelps, late of Puckrup, in the parish of Twynning, in the county of Gloucester, and of Evesham, in the county of Worcester, Gentleman, who died in the month of March 1834, are requested, on or before the 1st day of April 1843, to send the particulars thereof to Anthony Sproule, of Tewkesbury, in the said county of Gloucester, the Solicitor to the trustees of the will of the deceased, that the same may be examined, preparatory to the final winding up of the estate; and all persons indebted to the estate are also requested to pay such debts to the said Anthony Sproule, on or before the last-mentioned day.
