TUESDAY, MAY 9, 1843.

Lord Chamberlain's-Office, April 22, 1843.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Levee, intended to be held by His Royal Highness the Prince Albert, at St. James's-Palace, on Wednesday next, is postponed to Wednesday the 17th of May next, at two o'clock.

India-Board, May 8, 1843.

THE following notifications, published by the Governor-General of India, have been this day received at the East India House :

NOTIFICATION,

By the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India.

Palace of Agra, March 5, 1843.

THE Governor-General had earnestly hoped that the new provisions, to which various acts in contravention of their existing engagements, and various indications of hostility had compelled him to require the assent of the Ameers of Sind, would have been carried into full effect, as they had been agreed to by their Highnesses, without a recurrence to arms.

This hope has been disappointed.

The Ameers having signed the new treaty proposed to them on the 14th of February, attacked on the following day with a large force the residence of the British Commissioner. In this treacherous attack they were repulsed. On the 17th Major-General Sir Charles Napier gained a decisive victory over their whole army, and on the 20th the British troops occupied the city of Hyderabad.

Six of the Ameers delivered their swords to the British General upon the field of battle. All their guns, ammunition, and treasure were taken, together with their camp.

The Beloochees lost 5000 men.

Thus has victory placed at the disposal of the British Government the country on both banks of the Indus from Sukkur to the Sea, with the exception of such portions thereof as may belong to Meer Ali Morad of Khyrpore, and to any other of the Ameers who may have remained faithful to his engagements.

The Governor-General cannot forgive a treacherous attack upon a representative of the British Government, nor can he forgive hostile aggression prepared by those who were in the act of signing a treaty.

It will be the first object of the Governor-General to use the power victory has placed in his hands, in the manner most conducive to the freedom of trade, and to the prosperity of the people of Sind so long misgoverned.

To reward the fidelity of Allies by substantial marks of favour, and so to punish the crime of treachery in Princes, as to deter all from its commission, are further objects which the Governor-General will not fail to effect.

To Major-General Sir Charles Napier, and to the brave troops he commanded, the Governor-General offers the tribute of his own admiration, and of the gratitude of the Government and people of India.

The bravery of the enemy against whom they were engaged, has enhanced their glory—the most decisive victory has been gained upon the best fought field.

In perpetual commemoration of this brilliant achievement, the second company second battalion, and the third company third battalion of Bombay artillery, and the C. company of the Madras stoppers and miners, will bear upon their appointments, and the 9th regiment of Bengal light cavalry, the Poona horse, and the Sinde horse, upon their standards and appointments, and the 12th and 25th regiments of Bombay native infantry, upon their colours and appointments, the word "Hyderabad, 1843."

The regiment of Sinde horse is, on its present establishment, permanently attached to the army of Bombay.

The Governor-General will not further anticipate the measures which the Home Authorities informed, before they can receive his dispatches, of the victory which has been obtained, may think fit to adopt for the purpose of marking their high sense of the merits of those by whom so great a service has been performed.

The Governor-General directs that a salute of twenty-one guns be fired at all the stations of the army.

By order of the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India,

J. THOMASON,

Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, with the Governor-General.

Major-General Sir C. J. Napier, K. C. B., Commanding in Sinde and Beloochistan, to Lord Ellenborough, Governor-General of India, &c.

Meeanee, 6 miles from Hyderabad, February 18, 1843.

MY LORD,

THE forces under my command have gained a decisive victory over the army of the Ameers of Upper and Lower Sinde. A detailed account of the various circumstances which led to this action does not belong to the limited space of a hasty dispatch, I, therefore, begin with the transactions belonging to the battle. On the 14th inst. the whole body of the Ameers assembled in full durbar, formally affixed their seals to the draft Treaty. On leaving the durbar, Major Outram and his companions were in great peril, a plot had been laid to murder them all. They were saved by the guards of the Ameers; but the next day (the 15th) the residence of Major Outram was attacked by eight thousand of the Ameers' troops, headed by one or more of the Ameers. The report of this nefarious transaction I have the honour to enclose. I heard of it at Hala, at which place the fearless and distinguished Major Outram joined me with his brave companions in the stern and extraordinary defence of his residence against so overwhelming a force, accompanied by six pieces of cannon. On the 16th I marched to Muttaree. Having there ascertained that the Ameers were in position at Meeanee (ten miles distance,) to the number of twenty-two thousand men; and well knowing that a delay for reinforcements would both strengthen their confidence and add to their numbers, already seven times that which I commanded, I resolved to attack them, and we marched at 4 A.M., on the morning of the 17th; at 8 o'clock the advanced guard discovered their camp, at 9 o'clock we formed in order of battle, about two thousand eight hundred men of all arms and twelve pieces of artillery. We were now within range of the enemy's guns, and fifteen pieces of artillery opened upon us and were answered by our cannon. The enemy were very strongly posted; woods were on their flanks which I did not think could be turned. These two woods were joined by the dry bed of the river Fulaillee, which had a high bank. The bed of the river was nearly straight, and about 1200 yards in length. Behind this, and in both woods, were the enemy posted. In front of their extreme right, and on the edge of the wood, was a village. Having made the best examination of their position, which so short a time permitted, the artillery was posted on the right of the line, and some skirmishers of infantry, with the Sinde irregular horse, were sent in front, to try and make the enemy shew his force more distinctly; we then advanced from the right in echelon of battalions, refusing the left to save it from the fire of the village. The 9th Bengal light cavalry formed the reserve in rear of the left wing, and the Poona horse, together with four companies of infantry, guarded the baggage. In this order of battle we advanced, as at a review, across a fine plain, swept by the cannon of the enemy. The artillery, and Her Majesty's 22d regiment in line, formed the leading echelon, the 25th native infantry the second, the 12th native infantry the third, and the 1st grenadier native infantry the fourth.

The enemy was 1000 yards from our line, which soon traversed the intervening space. Our fire of musketry opened at about 100 yards from the bank, in reply to that of the enemy, and in a few minutes the engagement became general along the bank of the river, on which the combatants fought, for about three hours or more, with great fury, man to man. Then, my Lord, was seen the superiority of the musket and bayonet over the sword and shield and matchlock. The brave Beloochees, first discharging their matchlocks and pistols, dashed over the bank with desperate resolution, but down went these bold and skilful swordsmen under the superior power of the musket and bayonet. At our time, my Lord, the courage and numbers of the enemy against the 22d, the 25th, and the 12th regiments, bore heavily in that part of the battle. There was no time to be lost, and I sent orders to the cavalry to force the right of the enemy's line. This order was very gallantly executed by the 9th Bengal cavalry and the Sinde horse, the details of which shall be afterwards stated to your Lordship, for the struggle on our right and centre was, at that moment, so fierce, that I could not go to the left. In this charge the 9th light cavalry took a standard and several pieces of artillery, and the Sinde horse took the enemy's camp, from which a vast body of their cavalry slowly retired, fighting. Lieutenant FitzGerald gallantly pursued them for two miles, and, I understand, slew three of the enemy in single combat. The brilliant conduct of these two cavalry regiments decided, in my opinion, the crisis of the action, for, from the moment the cavalry were seen in rear of their right flank, the resistance of our opponents slackened; the 22d regiment forced the bank, the 25th and 12th did the same, the latter regiment capturing several guns, and the victory was decided. The artillery made great havoc among the dense masses of the enemy, and dismounted several of their guns. The whole of the enemy's artillery, ammunition, standards, and camp, with considerable stores, and some treasure, were taken.

Meer Roostum Khan, Meer Nusseer Khan, and Meer Wullee Mahomed, of Khyrpore, Meer Nusseer Khan, Meer Shadad Khan, and Meer Hoosein Khan, all of Hyderabad, came into my camp, and surrendered their swords, as prisoners of war. Their misfortunes are of their own creation, but as they are great, I returned to them their swords. They await your Lordship's orders. Their Highnesses have surrendered Hyderabad, and I shall occupy it to-morrow.

It is not to be supposed that so hard fought an engagement could be sustained without considerable loss on both sides. That of the British force is two hundred and fifty-six men killed and wounded. The enemy is generally supposed to have lost five thousand. Major Teasdale, while animating his sepoy, dashed on horseback over the bank amidst the enemy, and was instantly shot and sabred, dying like a glorious soldier.

Major Jackson, in like manner, rushed forward; two brave havildars followed him; too far advanced before their men, they fell under the sabres of the enemy, but it is said not before he killed several.

Captains Meade, Tew, and Cookson, with Lieutenant Wood, all fell honourably, urging on the assault with unmitigated valour.

Lieutenant-Colonel Pennefather was severely wounded, as with the high courage of a soldier he led his regiment up the desperate bank of the Falaillee. Major Wyllie, Captains Tucker and Conway, Lieutenants Harding and Phayre, were all wounded while gloriously animating their men to sustain the shock of numbers. And now, my Lord, I have to say, that British Officers could not shew greater gallantry in leading their men into action, than did the Queen's and Company's Officers on this day, and the troops well maintained their reputation.

From the heads of departments and regiments I have received every assistance throughout the whole campaign, and in the battle.

The gallant charge of the Bengal cavalry was intrepidly led by Lieutenant-Colonel Pattle, second in command, and Major Story; nor were the Sindh horse, under Captain Jacob, idle. To this able soldier and his regiment I am indebted for the most active services, long previous to, and during the combat. He won the enemy's camp, from which he drove a body of three or four thousand cavalry.

Major Lloyd powerfully worked his artillery, ably seconded by Captains Whittle and Hutt. The destruction caused by their guns is said to have been immense.

Major Waddington, of the engineers, has given me great assistance throughout the campaign, and, in the action, lent me his aid in carrying orders.

Nor is the country less indebted to Major Reid for his gallantry at the head of the 12th native infantry. The grenadiers, under Major Clibborn, owing to a misconception of orders, were but slightly engaged.

Major Poole, of the 22d, and Captain Jackson, of the 25th, who succeeded to the command of those regiments, proved themselves worthy of their dangerous posts. In the medical and commissariat departments, both activity and zeal have been shewn by Dr. Dalrymple and Captain Blenkins.

Major Wyllie, Assistant-Adjutant-General, was wounded while leading up the bank, and I have thereby lost, for a time, his valuable assistance; no man has been more serviceable to me in all our previous operations.

The Acting-Assistant-Quarter-Master-General, Lieutenant M'Murdo, of the 22d regiment, had his horse killed, and, while on foot leading some soldiers in a desperate dash down the enemy's side of the bank, he cut down a Chieftain. He has greatly assisted me by his activity and zeal during the whole of our operations. Allow me to recommend to your Lordship's notice and protection Major M'Pherson, my Aide-de-Camp, an old soldier of the light division, from whom I have received that assistance which was expected from a veteran of the 43d regiment. To my Acting Aide-de-Camp, Lieutenant Pelly, I am much indebted in many ways both during the campaign and in the action; as also to Lieutenant Thompson, 9th light cavalry, who acted as my Orderly Officer during the day, and Lieutenant Younghusband, Staff Officer.

Captain Henderson, of the Madras engineers, took a standard, and did good service with his excellent little band of sappers and miners, not only in this engagement but through the campaign. His Lieutenants, Boileau and Outlaw, have also distinguished themselves.

Innumerable are the individual acts of intrepidity which took place between our soldiers and their opponents, too numerous for detail in this dispatch, yet well meriting a record. I hope that your Lordship will pardon the length of this letter, written in the midst of great interruptions, and at various times.

Finally, I trust for receiving indulgence from one who so well knows how difficult my position has been for the last five months, up to the present moment, and how hard I have laboured, and how much I have risked to avoid a recourse to arms. This sanguinary engagement has been forced upon me by the duplicity of the Ameers, though I must say that, until the attack upon the residency, neither Major Outram, nor myself, believed they were resolved to fight, and against which duplicity, I never ceased to warn them. My conscience acquits me of the blood which has been shed. The tyrannical and deceitful Ameers brought on the battle, the fierce tribe of Beloochee robbers were resolved that it should be so, and bravely did they execute their resolution.

I perceive that I have omitted to mention three Officers, well worthy of being named. To Captain Tait, of the Poona horse, I entrusted charge of the baggage on this day of battle, and I have no doubt that the steadiness, and imposing attitude of the detachment, under his command, held the enemy aloof, for, I assure your Lordship, no post gave me greater anxiety than that of the baggage guard. Lieutenants Leeson and Brennan, have, throughout the whole campaign, been of the greatest use as Baggage Master and Provost Marshal, and, during the action, Lieutenant Brennan was scarcely from my side a moment, except when conveying orders; nor will I omit to mention the Moonshee Alli Akbar, an Arab, who exhibited the coolest courage, and attended me every where.

I ought to have observed in the body of this despatch, that I had, the night before the action, detached Major Outram in the steamers, with two hundred sepoy, to set fire to the wood, in which we understood the enemy's left flank was posted. This was an operation of great difficulty and danger, but would have been most important to the result of the battle. However, the enemy had moved about eight miles to their right, during the night, and Major Outram executed his task without difficulty at the hour appointed, viz., nine o'clock, and from the field we observed the smoke of the burning wood arise. I am strongly inclined to think that this circumstance had some effect on the enemy. But it deprived me of the able services of Major Outram, Captain Green, and Lieutenants Brown and Wells, together with two hundred men, which I much regretted for their sakes and for my own, for I much wanted the Officers; and here I hope your Lordship will pardon me for saying, that the want of European Officers, in the native regiments at one period, endangered the success of the action. The sepoy is a brave and excellent soldier, but, like all soldiers, he expects to be led on in certain moments, and as he looks to his European Officer, if he misses him, the greatest danger arises—three times I saw them retreat, evidently because the Officers had fallen, and, when another appeared and rallied them, they at once followed him boldly. This, my Lord, accounts for the great number of European Officers killed and wounded in proportion to the whole. I am sure that in observing a defect, in the formation of the Company's troops, the effect of which might have been so serious, I shall not be deemed presumptuous or impertinent.

The defence of the residency by Major Outram, and the small force with him, against such numbers of the enemy, was so admirable, that I have scarcely mentioned it in the foregoing despatch, because I propose to send your Lordship a detailed account of it, as a brilliant example of defending a military post.

I have, &c.

C. J. NAPIER, Major-General,

Commanding in Sinde and Beloochistan.

This action was fought at Meeanee, within sight of the towers of Hyderabad.

[N.B. The list of killed and wounded has already appeared, in the London Gazette of April 11th 1843.]

Major J. Outram, Commissioner, to Major-General Sir C. J. Napier, K. C. B., Commanding in Sinde and Beloochistan.

On board the Planet Steamer, fifteen miles above Hyderabad.

SIR, 6 P. M. February 15, 1843.

MY despatches of the last few days will have led you to expect that my earnest endeavours to effect an amicable arrangement with the Ameers of Sinde would fail, and it is with much regret I have now to report that their Highnesses have commenced hostilities by attacking my residence this morning; which after four hours' most gallant defence by my honorary escort, the light company of Her Majesty's 22d regiment, commanded by Captain Conway, I was compelled to evacuate in consequence of our ammunition running short.

At 9 A. M. this morning, a dense body of cavalry and infantry * took post on three sides of the Agency compound (the fourth being defended by the Planet steamer, about 500 yards distant) in the gardens and houses which immediately command the enclosure, and which it was impossible to hold with our limited numbers, a hot fire was opened by the enemy, and continued incessantly for four hours, but all their attempts to enter the Agency enclosure, although merely surrounded by a wall, varying from four to five feet high, were frustrated by Captain Conway's able distribution of his small band, and the admirable conduct of every individual soldier composing it, under the gallant example of their Commanding Officer and his Subalterns, Lieutenant Harding and Ensign Pennefather, Her Majesty's 22d regiment, also Captains Green, of the 21st regiment native infantry, and Wells, of the 15th regiment, who volunteered their services, to each of whom was assigned the charge of a separate quarter, also to your A. D. C., Captain Brown, Bengal engineers, who carried my orders to the steamer, and assisted in working her guns and directing her flanking fire. Our ammunition being limited to forty rounds per man, the Officers directed their whole attention to reserving their fire, and keeping their men close under cover, never showing themselves or returning a shot, except when the enemy attempted to rush, or shewed themselves in great numbers, consequently great execution was done with trifling expenditure of ammunition, and with little loss. Our hope of receiving a reinforcement, and a supply of ammunition by the Satellite steamer, (hourly expected) being disappointed, on the arrival of that vessel, without either, shortly after the commencement of the attack, it was decided at 12 A. M., after being three hours under fire, to retire to the steamer, while still we had sufficient ammunition left to fight the vessel up the river. Accordingly I requested Captain Conway to keep the enemy at bay for one hour, while the property was removed; for which that time was ample, could the camp followers be induced to exert themselves; after delivering their first loads on board, however, they were so terrified at the enemy's cross fire on the clear space between the compound and the vessel, that none could be persuaded to return, except a few of the Officers' servants, with whose assistance but little could be removed during the limited time we could afford, consequently much had to be abandoned, and I am sorry to find that the loss chiefly fell upon the Officers and men, who were too much occupied in keeping off the enemy to be able to attend to their own interests. Accordingly, after the expiration of another hour, (during which the enemy, despairing of otherwise effecting their object, had brought up six guns to bear upon us), we took measures to evacuate the Agency; Captain Conway called in his posts, and all being united, retired in a body, covered by a few skirmishers, as deliberately as on parade, (carrying off our slain and wounded), which, and the fire from the steam boats, deterred the enemy from pressing us as they might have done. All being embarked, I then directed Mr. Acting Commander Miller, commanding the Satellite steamer, to proceed with his vessel to the wood station, three miles up the river on the opposite bank, to secure a sufficiency of fuel for our purposes ere it should be destroyed by the enemy, while I remained with the Planet to take off the barge that was moored to the shore. This being a work of some time, during which a hot fire was opened on the vessel from three guns which the enemy brought to bear on her, besides small arms, and requiring much personal exposure of the crew, (especially of Mr. Cole, the Commander of the vessel), I deem it my duty to bring to your favourable notice their zealous exertions on the occasion, and also to express my obligations to Messrs. Miller and Cole for the flanking fire they maintained on the enemy during their attack on the Agency, and for their support during the retirement and embarkation of the troops. The Satellite was also exposed to three guns in her progress up to the woods and station, one of which she dismounted by her fire. The vessels were followed by large bodies of the enemy for about three miles, occasionally opening their guns upon us to no purpose; since then we have pursued our voyage up the Indus about fifteen miles without molestation; and purpose to-morrow morning anchoring off Muttarie, where I expect to find your camp. Our casualties amount to two men of Her Majesty's 22d regiment, and one camp follower killed; and Mr. Conductor Kiely, Mr. Carlisle, Agency Clerk, two of the steamer's crew, four of Her Majesty's 22d regiment, and two camp followers wounded, and four camp followers missing.

* Ascertained, after the action on the 17th, to have amounted to 8000 men, under the command of Meer Shahdad Khan, one of the principal Ameers, his cousin, Meer Mahomed Khan, Nawab Ahmed Khan Lungarrie, and many principal Chiefs. It was also ascertained that the enemy lost upwards of 60 killed, and more wounded in the affair, among the latter Meer Mahomed Khan.

Total, three killed, ten wounded, and four missing.

I have, &c.

J. OUTRAM, Commissioner.

Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, with the Governor-General.

NOTIFICATION,

By the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India.

Agra, March 15, 1843.

THE Governor-General has the highest satisfaction in making known to the army, the names of the several officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates, recorded in the reports made to His Excellency Major-General Sir Charles Napier, K. C. B., as having most distinguished themselves in the battle of Meeanee.

The Governor-General directs, that the unserviceable guns, taken at Hyderabad, shall be sent to Bombay, and there cast into a triumphal column, whereon shall be inscribed in the English, and two native languages, the names of, Major-General Sir Charles Napier, K. C. B., and of the several officers mentioned by His Excellency in his despatch, and likewise the names of the several officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates mentioned in the reports, that thus the names may be for ever recorded of those who, at Meeanee, obtained for themselves that glory in the field, which is the reward dearest to a true soldier.

Meeance in order, that the Government may award the Order of Merit to all who may be entitled to it by their conduct.

By order of the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India,

J. THOMASON,
Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, with the Governor-General.

Major-General Sir C. J. Napier, K. C. B. to Lord Ellenborough, Governor-General of India.

MY LORD, Hyderabad, March 2, 1843.

I BEG leave to send to your Lordship reports made by my order; that, while the memory is fresh, distinguished deeds may be put on record. The great results of this battle have made me anxious that those who were so conspicuous in the hour of trial should be known to your Lordship. Their devotion to their duty was very honorable to them.

In the case of the brave drivers of the two batteries, I am sure your Lordship will do them justice, and I beg especially to recommend them to your Lordship's protection.

I have, &c.
C. J. NAPIER, Major-General.

Captain G. Hutt, Commanding Field Battery, to the Adjutant of Artillery in Sindh.

Camp, near Hyderabad, February 23, 1843.
SIR,

WITH reference to Division Orders of yesterday, I beg permission to bring to the notice of the Major-General, the general steadiness and good conduct of the drivers of the battery under my command, throughout the action of the 17th, particularly of three men* who brought up the howitzer that was first in action on the right of the line, (when formed on the bank of the nullah,) under a very heavy and destructive fire, with a degree of coolness and steadiness that could not be surpassed, though two of their horses were dangerously wounded.

I would not presume to bring these men to notice were they enlisted, or treated as fighting men, but as they are still considered as mere followers, men whose families receive no pension in the event of their death, or themselves if disabled by wounds, I beg to submit the case to the Major-General, as a strong argument in favor of those, on whose courage and conduct the very existence of the battery must often depend.

I have, &c.
GEO. HUTT, Captain,
Commanding Field Battery.

* Drivers—Uggar Khan, Bahador, Mahadoo.

Major P. F. Story, Commanding 9th Light Cavalry, to Lieut. Pelly, Assistant-Adjutant-General.

Camp, Hyderabad, February 26, 1843.

SIR,

In forwarding the accompanying roll, for the information of the Major-General, I have the honor to request you will inform him, that I have had the greatest difficulty in selecting these men, where all behaved so gallantly, and nearly equally well.

I have, &c.
P. F. STORY, Major,
Commanding 9th Light Cavalry.

Roll of Native Commissioned and Non-Commissioned Officers and Privates of the 9th Regiment Light Cavalry, who particularly distinguished themselves in Action with the Enemy, on the 15th February 1843.

Camp, Hyderabad, February 1843

Subadar, Shaik Baker Ally—had his horse severely wounded in the chest, led his men in a most gallant manner, and was very active in re-forming them for a second attack.

Subadar, Shaik Emam Bux—engaged with two troopers in taking a standard planted near some guns, and which was most bravely defended by the enemy.

Jemadar, Khoman Sing—carried the standard of the 1st squadron, (Queen's colours), and was very zealous and active during the whole action.

Havildar, Shaik Eman Bux—saved the life of his officer, Shaik Emam Bux, (subadar), and his conduct was conspicuous during the day.

Havildar, Shaik Golam Hussain—strongly recommended for great gallantry during the charge.

Naick, Bucktawer Sing—behaved most gallantly during the whole day.

Troopers, Birma Deen, Golam Russool—these two men were equally engaged with the Subadar in taking the standard which was so nobly defended.

Trooper, Sewdial Sing—singly rushed into a walled enclosure and killed one of the enemy, who had several times fired from it with effect.

Trooper, Mootee Sing—saved the life of his officer, Captain Garrett.

Trooper, Gungah Sing—killed after a long and severe personal conflict with one of the enemy, when no assistance was at hand.

Trooper, Beharee Sing—after being severely wounded in the wrist, and his horse also in two places, cut down his adversary.

Trooper, Fyzoolla Khan—behaved gallantly throughout, and cut down his enemy after a severe personal conflict.

Trooper, Hussain Ally—strongly recommended for great gallantry during the charge.

Trooper, Nasser Ally—behaved with great gallantry during the charge, and was severely wounded.

P. F. STORY, Major,
Commanding 9th Light Cavalry.

Major J. H. Poole, Commanding H. M. 22d Regiment, to the Assistant-Adjutant-General, Sinde Field Force.

Camp, Hyderabad, February 24, 1843.

SIR,

IN reference to No. 2, Division Orders of the 22d instant, I called upon the captains and officers commanding companies, to furnish me with the names and acts of individuals of the regiment under my command, who had especially distinguished themselves in the action of the 17th instant. The officers generally assert that they feel difficulty in making selections, where the conduct of every man of their companies was so satisfactory. In so general a field of action and persevering exertion, I equally feel at a loss where to draw a distinction; but it may be proper to mention the names of private James O'Neill, of the light company, who took a standard whilst we were actively engaged with the enemy, and drummer Martin Delaney, who shot, bayoneted, and captured the arms of Meer Whullee Mahomed Khan, who was mounted, and directing the enemy in the hottest part of the engagement, when all the regiment behaved with enduring coolness and intrepidity. I hope the particular circumstances of these two cases will exonerate me from the imputation of doing injustice to all the brave soldiers of the regiment, by particularizing them.

I have, &c.

J. H. POOLE, Major,
Commanding 22d Regiment.

Major T. Clibborn, Commanding 1st Grenadier Regiment, N. I., to Lieutenant Pelly, Acting-Assistant-Adjutant-General, Hyderabad.

*Camp, near Hyderabad,
February 24th, 1843.*

SIR,

AGREEABLY to Division Orders of the 22d instant, I beg to bring to the especial notice of Major-General Sir C. Napier, K.C.B., the names of the following officers and men of the 1st grenadiers, who distinguished themselves by zeal and gallantry in the action of the 17th February.

Lieutenant Johnstone, who cut down a Beloochee, and saved the life of a sepoy, who had bayoneted this Belooch, but was overpowered in the life struggle.

Subadar Major Cooshall Sing, and Subadar Esserec Pursaud, likewise privates Sunker Misser and Kadaree Powar, who were conspicuous throughout the day for their zeal and gallantry.

I have, &c.

T. CLIBBORN, Major,
Commanding 1st Grenadier Regiment, N. I.

Major A. T. Reid, commanding 12th regiment, to the Acting-Assistant-Adjutant-General, Sinde and Beloochistan.

Hyderabad Fort, February 25, 1843.

SIR,

WITH reference to No. 3 of the Division Orders, dated the 22d instant, I have the honor to transmit, for the purpose of being laid before the Major-General, a nominal roll of non-commissioned officers, naicks, and privates, in the 12th regiment N. I., who have been reported to me by the officers in command, and in charge of the companies to which they belong, as having particularly distinguished themselves in the action of the 17th instant.

I take this opportunity of recording the gallant conduct of the late Captain and Brevet Major Jackson, who fell at the head of the grenadier company, in a personal conflict with several of the enemy. The other officers, Lieutenant and Brevet Captain Meade, and Lieutenant Wood, who were killed, were also most conspicuous when they fell, in cheering on their men at one of the most critical periods of the action. To the other European officers I am also much indebted for their gallant conduct and example throughout the day; but to Lieutenant and Brevet Captain Brown, the only mounted officer with me in the battle, in a particular degree I beg to place on record, the deep gratitude I must ever feel for the assistance he afforded me, as well as my admiration at the gallantry he displayed in cheering the men, throughout the conflict, at every part of the line, where the resistance was most hot and determined.

I have, &c.

A. T. REID, Major,
Commanding 12th Regiment N. I.

Nominal Roll of those men in the 12th regiment N. I. who distinguished themselves in the action of the 17th February 1843.

Fort, Hyderabad, February 25, 1843.

SIR,

AGREEABLY to Division Orders of the 22d instant, I beg to bring to the especial notice of Major-General Sir C. J. Napier, K. C. B. the following officers of the 25th regiment N. I., who particularly distinguished themselves, by zeal and gallantry, in the action of the 17th of February 1843.

The whole of the sepoy behaved so well, that I consider it would be invidious to make any distinction.

Lieutenant Marston, grenadier company, who cut down two of the enemy single-handed in front of the line.

Subadar Major Nund Ram, who, though wounded, remained with his company throughout the action.

Subadar Russall Sing, grenadier company, who shot three men and cut down one, and showed great zeal in encouraging and leading on his men.

Jemadar Bappoo Sawunt, light company, who cut down one man.

I have, &c.

JOHN JACKSON,

Captain, Commanding 25th Regt. N. I.

Captain J. Jacob, Commanding Sinde Irregular Horse, to the Acting Assistant-Adjutant-General, Sinde and Beloochistan.

Camp, near Hyderabad, February 23, 1843.

SIR,

WITH reference to Division Orders of the 22d instant, I have the honour to request, that you will bring to the notice of Major-General Sir Charles Napier, K. C. B., commanding in Sinde and Beloochistan, that, throughout the battle fought on the 17th instant, I received the most essential service from my Acting Adjutant, Lieutenant Russell, whose steady, cool, and daring conduct on the occasion, mainly contributed to the good behaviour of the corps I have the honour to command, especially while it was exposed alone for nearly two hours to a heavy fire of artillery, in a most trying position for an irregular sepoy corps, which, until a few months before that day, had, since it was raised, been always dispersed in small detachments, and the men of which had, with few exceptions, never been engaged in any but skirmishing fights. I am also greatly indebted to this officer for the promptness with which he assisted me in the very difficult task of re-forming, after charging through the enemy's camp, when the men were excited to the highest pitch, and when their services were required to repel an expected attack on the rear guard.

I also request, that you will have the kindness to bring to the notice of the Major-General, the excellent conduct of Russuldar Surferay Khan, Jemadar Alladad Khan Nawab, and Duffadar Mhobut Khan. The good conduct of these three native officers was most conspicuous throughout the day, and particularly on one occasion, when the regiment was moving over ground rendered nearly impassable by water-courses, hedges, and deep cuts filled with thorns and lined by matchlock men; in advancing at the gallop over these obstacles so many falls took place, that more than fifty of our horses were lying on the ground at once; this occurred under a very heavy fire from the village and nullahs on the right of the enemy's line, and on this occasion the native officers above mentioned, reformed their men and restored order in a style which was deserving of my highest admiration. I do not mention Lieutenant Fitzgerald, my second in command, as I have already brought that officer's services to the notice of the General.

I have, &c.

J. JACOB, Captain Artillery,
Commanding Sinde Irregular Horse.

NOTIFICATION,

By the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India.

Palace of Agra, March 20, 1843.

THE Governor-General directs the publication of the following extract from a letter, dated the 5th instant, addressed to His Lordship by His Excellency the Governor of Sinde :

"I have received the enclosed account of one of the most gallant actions I ever read of. The damage to the boat is estimated at 200 rupees; but I imagine your Lordship will order the boatmen more than a mere remuneration."

The Governor-General directs, that one hundred rupees, in addition to the estimated amount of the damage done to the boat, be paid to the Tindal.

The Governor-General will be gratified if His Excellency the Governor in Council of Bombay should see fit to grant one step of rank to the jemadar, Mookunjee Naick, of the 15th regiment of Bombay native infantry, who commanded on the occasion of this gallant defence made for three days and nights, by a small party of sepoy, against large numbers of Beloochees, and likewise to the havildar, the two naicks, and the six sepoy named by the jemadar, as having particularly distinguished themselves.

The Governor-General requests, that His Excellency the Governor of Sinde will cause the jemadar, and the several non-commissioned officers and sepoy, who composed the detachment engaged, to be informed, that their very brave conduct has been brought to his notice, and receives his especial thanks.

By order of the Right Honourable the Governor-General of India,

J. THOMASON,

Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, with the Governor-General.

Evidence of Jemadar Mookunjee Naich, 15th Regiment N. I., relative to the Attack on his Detachment, Strength as below, by a party of Beloochees, estimated at from 800 to 1000 Men, on the 19th, 20th and 21st of February, 1843.*

ON the morning of the 19th February 1843, about 11 A. M., a party of Beloochees, consisting of about 25 horse and 50 foot, fell suddenly upon my party, when we were quietly cooking our dinners, without the slightest suspicion of any attack, or of any enemy being near us. The enemy rushed into the lines with loud shout of "Deen," "Deen," "Alli," "Alli," and at once killed Mr. Barnes, the sub-conductor, and his wife, who were in their house close to the lines. On hearing the shouts and seeing the enemy, I called out to my men as there was no possibility of "falling them in" to fire away from their houses, and that now was the time to acquit themselves like men.

The sepoy immediately obeyed my orders and killed nine of the enemy at the first discharge; two of whom were chiefs, and one of whom I shot myself. The enemy upon this retreated from both sides of the huts, having killed two of my sepoy and wounded five others. As soon as they had retreated to a short distance, I fell in the detachment, and looked about for some defensible position, but seeing none, I ordered my men to take up the wounded, and with our arms and ammunition only, we marched to a large boat which was moored to the bank, about thirty paces from our huts, of which we took possession with the consent of the Tindel, "Buskoo," who was on board, and rendered us every assistance. Immediately we were all on board, I cut the cable and pushed off into deep water under a very heavy fire of matchlocks. The enemy by this time amounted to at least 300, and their number was every moment increasing. In getting on board the boat I had three more of my men wounded, and, but for the high sides of the boat, which sheltered us from the storm of bullets, we could not possibly have escaped. After leaving the bank, we floated up the river about half a coss as the tide was rising, and anchored the boat in deep water, the Beloochees keeping a heavy fire upon us from both banks. On seeing us get on board the boat, the Beloochees seized another large cotra which had just arrived from Cutch, and having embarked about 200 men, pushed off in pursuit of us, but the cotra, after proceeding about 100 yards, grounded; the enemy then procured a smaller boat, similar to the one we were in, and pursued us in that; on seeing them coming, we weighed anchor and floated up in the Tatta direction, occasionally returning the enemy's fire, which was very heavy, both from the boat and the banks. When the tide turned we cast anchor, upon which the Beloochees put out men to tow their boat up to us, upon which we fired upon the men who were towing, and thus prevented their boat approaching nearer to ours.

* 1 Jemadar, 1 Havildar, 2 Naicks, 23 Sepoy.

The enemy then got out six jinjals from the cotra, and tried to sink us with them, but these had no effect, as they did not know how to use them. In this manner advancing, when the tide rose, and anchoring in deep water when it receded, we continued to fight incessantly for three days and nights. On the morning of the 22d, the enemy fled, and a banyan came on board our boat and informed us, that the English had taken possession of Hyderabad, and that the whole country had become ours. We thereupon returned to Vikkur, and, on the 23d, we proceeded to Annee Bunder, where we found the boat sent from Kurachee by Lieutenant Preedy, on the 17th, and which had arrived on the morning the fight commenced, and had been seized by the enemy. The Tindel of the river boat rendered us the greatest assistance, gave us food, and behaved most nobly. The whole of the detachment behaved most bravely, but the following six men particularly distinguished themselves:

Lixman Sing,	5th Company.
Man Sing,	6th Do.
Lalla Ayn,	7th Do.
Narain Urgee,	7th Do.
Ktojee Naggerie,	7th Do.
Ramjee Salwee,	7th Do.

The jemadar reports that he had, for two or three days previous to the attack, observed bodies of men coming down the river and landing at Vikkur, and that he had enquired who they were, and was informed that they had come down by order of the Ameers, to collect the grain which is collected annually on account of Government; that he had doubted the truth of this, and had brought the assembly of these men to the notice of Mr. Barnes, but he had replied, that there was no danger to be apprehended. On the morning of the attack, the jemadar had again drawn Mr. Barnes's attention to the people collecting around the village; but the conductor had again assured him, that he need not be under any apprehension. The jemadar states, that the river boat, in which he and his party fought, was much injured by the enemy; the Tindel should, therefore, be reimbursed for the loss sustained.

The following articles were broken or thrown overboard by the sepoy, to make a clear deck fore-and-aft, in which to fight, viz.:

	Rupces.
