AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 10th day of June 1843,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

THIS day the Right Honourable James Earl of Dalhousie, the Right Honourable Sir Edward Ryan, Knight, and the Right Honourable Thomas Pemberton Leigh, were, by Her Majesty's command, sworn of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took their respective places at the Board accordingly.

Her Majesty in Council was this day pleased to appoint the Right Honourable William Ewart Gladstone, and, in his absence, the Right Honourable James Earl of Dalhousie, to be President of the Committee of Council appointed for the consideration of all matters relating to trade and foreign plantations.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 10th day of June 1843,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the third and fourth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to carry into effect, with certain modifications, the fourth report of the Commissioners of Ecclesiastical Duties and Revenues;" and of an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, intituled "An Act to alter and amend the law relating to ecclesiastical houses of residence," duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme, bearing date the fourth day of April one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, in the words and figures following, viz.:

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the third and fourth years of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to carry into effect, with certain modifications, the fourth report of the Commissioners of Ecclesiastical Duties and Revenues;" and of an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, intituled "An Act to alter and amend the law relating to ecclesiastical houses of residence," have prepared, and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council, the following scheme, for improving the demesne lands belonging to the see of Hereford.

"Whereas it is by the first-recited Act enacted, that, by the authority therein provided, and for the purpose of fully carrying into effect any of the provisions of the same Act, or of another Act therein recited, any sum of money which shall have been invested in the public funds, or in other security or securities, in trust, for any ecclesiastical body corporate, aggregate, or sole, may, upon an application, in writing, to us, under the hand and seal of such body corporate, be directed to be sold, and the same shall be sold accordingly, and the produce of such sale shall be applied to such purpose and in such manner as shall appear most conducive to the permanent benefit of such body corporate:

"And whereas by the secondly-recited Act it is, amongst other things, enacted, that whenever it shall appear to be expedient to improve any episcopal house of residence, or the demesnes thereof, it shall be lawful, with the consent, under the hand and episcopal seal of the Bishop, to make such arrangements as may be deemed most expedient for improving any episcopal house of residence, or for improving the demesnes adjoining to any such house, by the purchase of any land, tenement, or hereditament in the immediate neighbourhood, or within the view thereof:

“ And whereas it is by the same Act declared and enacted, that the provisions of the first-recited Act, relating to the sale and application of any sum of money invested, in trust, for any ecclesiastical body corporate, do and shall include and apply to all monies and securities for money, and to all stock in the Government funds or elsewhere, standing in the name of the Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery or in the name or names of any other public officer, or of any individual or individuals, for or to the credit, or for the benefit of or in trust for, any bishop, whether for the purpose of being laid out in land or otherwise, and that the same provisions do and shall extend and may be applied to any of the purposes of the Act now in recital:

“ And whereas certain estates, belonging to or held under the see of Hereford, were sometime since sold and enfranchised under the provisions of certain Acts of Parliament relating to the redemption of the land tax, made and passed in the forty-second and fifty-fourth years respectively of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, and the monies arising from such sale and enfranchisement were invested in the purchase of twenty-three thousand three hundred and twelve pounds, seven shillings, and ten pence, Three Pounds per Centum Reduced Annuities, in the names of the Commissioners for the Reduction of the National Debt, to the account of the sale of the land tax, for the purpose of being applied to the redemption of the land tax charged on the estates and livings belonging to the said see of Hereford:

“ And whereas several sums, amounting altogether to the sum of sixteen thousand two hundred and ninety-four pounds, one shilling, and four pence, part of the said sum of twenty-three thousand three hundred and twelve pounds, seven shillings, and ten pence, have been, from time to time, applied in and for the redemption of such land tax, and such land tax has accordingly been redeemed; and there was lately standing in the books of the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, in the names of the said Commissioners for the Reduction of the National Debt, ‘the account of the sale of the land tax,’ the sum of seven thousand and eighteen pounds, six shillings, and six pence, like Annuities, in trust for the said see of Hereford, being the surplus remaining after such redemption, and the dividends thereof have been, from time to time, paid to the Bishop of Hereford for the time being:

And whereas by a certificate, bearing date the twenty-sixth day of January one thousand eight hundred and forty three, under the hands and seals of three of the Commissioners of your Majesty’s Treasury, it was certified, in pursuance of the said Act of the fifty-fourth year of His Majesty King George the Third, that it had been satisfactorily made to appear to them the said Commissioners, that so much of the land tax charged on the estates of the see of Hereford, or on livings in the gift or patronage of the see, had been redeemed, as under the circumstances of the case they the said Commissioners thought reasonable:

“ And whereas, in pursuance of the said several Acts of Parliament, passed in the forty-second and fifty-fourth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, and in pursuance of the said certificate, the said Commissioners for the Reduction of the National Debt have caused to be transferred to the Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery, with his privity, the sum of seven thousand and eighteen pounds, six shillings, and six pence, Three Pounds per Cent. Reduced Annuities, and the same is now standing in his name in the books of the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, ‘the account of the Right Reverend Thomas Lord Bishop of Hereford.’

“ And whereas the lands, tenements, and hereditaments, particularly described in the schedule hereto annexed, are situate on the south bank of the river Wye, and within view of the episcopal house of residence belonging to the said see of Hereford, and it appears to us to be expedient, for the purpose of improving the said house and the demesnes adjoining thereto, which come down to the north bank of the said river, opposite the lands described in the said schedule, that the said lands, tenements, and hereditaments should be purchased and added to the demesne lands of the said episcopal house, so as to become the permanent property of the said see of Hereford:

“ And whereas the said lands, tenements, and hereditaments were sometime since purchased by the Right Reverend Thomas Lord Bishop of Hereford, at and for the price and cost to the said Bishop of two thousand five hundred and ninety-seven pounds, seven shillings, and three pence, and the sum of one hundred and thirty-four pounds and sixteen shillings hath since been expended by the said Bishop in levelling the same lands, and making good the banks of the river, whereby the value of the said lands have been improved to that amount; and application in writing has been lately made to us, under the hand and episcopal seal of the said Bishop, that the same lands, tenements, and hereditaments may be conveyed to the said see for the sum of two thousand seven hundred and thirty-two pounds, three shillings, and three pence, being the aggregate amount of the said several sums of two thousand five hundred and ninety-seven pounds, seven shillings, and three pence, and one hundred and thirty-four pounds and sixteen shillings, expended by the said Bishop as aforesaid; and that a competent part of the said last-mentioned Annuities may be directed to be sold, for the purpose of paying the said sum of two thousand seven hundred and thirty-two pounds, three shillings, and three pence, and the costs, charges, and expences of and attending the transfer of the said sum of seven thousand and eighteen pounds, six shillings, and six pence to the Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery, and of and attending the sale and purchase of the said lands, tenements, and hereditaments; and after due enquiry we have satisfied ourselves, that the said sum of two thousand seven hundred and thirty-two pounds, three shillings, and three pence is a fair and reasonable price for the said lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and we are of opinion that it would be most conducive to the permanent benefit of the said see so to apply the proceeds of such sale :

“ And whereas we have duly investigated and do approve of the title to the said lands, tenements, and hereditaments :

“ Now, therefore, we humbly recommend and propose, that the said lands, tenements, and hereditaments, so described in the said schedule hereto annexed, may be purchased for or on account of the said see of Hereford, and be added to the demesne lands belonging to the said episcopal house of residence, at or for the sum of two thousand seven hundred and thirty-two pounds, three shillings, and three pence; and that the said purchase money, together with the costs, charges, and expences of and attending the said transfer of the said seven thousand and eighteen pounds, six shillings, and six pence to the Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery, and of and attending the sale and purchase of the said lands, tenements, and hereditaments, may be provided in the manner hereinafter stated :

“ And we recommend and propose, that so much of the said sum of seven thousand and eighteen pounds, six shillings, and six pence, Three Pounds per Cent. Reduced Annuities, so standing in the name of the Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery in the books of the Governor and Company of the Bank of England, the account of the Bishop of Hereford, as will be sufficient to raise the said sum of two thousand seven hundred and thirty-two pounds, three shillings, and three pence, and such further sum of money as our Treasurer shall certify, in writing under his hand, to be necessary for defraying the said costs, charges, and expences, may be sold by the said Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery, and that, out of the proceeds thereof, the sum of two thousand seven hundred and thirty-two pounds, three shillings, and three pence may be paid unto the said Thomas Bishop of Hereford, as and for the purchase money for the said lands, tenements, and hereditaments, upon his executing a proper conveyance thereof as hereinafter mentioned, and that the residue thereof may be paid into the hands of our Treasurer, to be by him applied in satisfaction of such costs, charges, and expences; and that the said Thomas Bishop of Hereford, his heirs or assigns, and all other proper and necessary parties, upon payment of the said sum of two thousand seven hundred and thirty-two pounds, three shillings, and three pence, as aforesaid, do and shall, by some proper and sufficient deed or assurance in the law, convey and assure the said lands, tenements, and hereditaments so and in such manner that the same may be effectually vested in him, the said Thomas Lord Bishop of Hereford, as such Bishop, and in his successors, Bishops of Hereford, for ever :

“ And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measure relating to the said see of Hereford, in conformity with the provisions of the said Acts."

The Schedule referred to in the foregoing Scheme.

AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 10th day of June 1843,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the third and fourth years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to regulate the trade of the British possessions abroad," it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, by any Order or Orders in Council, to be issued from time to time, to give such directions and make such regulations touching the trade and commerce to and from any British possessions in or near the Continent of Europe as to His Majesty in Council shall appear most expedient and salutary, any thing in the said Act to the contrary notwithstanding :

*Church Commissioners' Office,
June 10, 1843.*

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, assigning a chapelry district to the Church or Chapel at Pelton, in the parish of Chester-le-Street, in the county of Durham, under the 16th section of the 59th Geo. 3., cap. 134 :

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 3d of April 1843, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King

George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be, within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:"

And whereas by an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act, or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act, or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding:"

And whereas by another Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and also by another Act, made and passed in the second and third years of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, bearing date the twenty-eighth day of February one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, when the last census was taken, the parish of Chester-le-Street, in the county and diocese of Durham, contained a population of eighteen thousand and thirty-one persons:

"That, besides the parish church, which affords accommodation to eight hundred persons, there are three consecrated churches or chapels in the said parish, one of which, lately erected at Pelton, partly by a grant in aid from your Majesty's said Commissioners, affords accommodation to four hundred and fifty persons, including two hundred and fifty-one free seats appropriated to the use of the poor, and that divine service is regularly performed in the said chapel:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners beg leave further to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district should be assigned to the said chapel at Pelton, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be named, "The Chapelry District of Pelton," with boundaries as follow:

"The district is to consist of the townships of Pelton and Ouston, and parts of the townships of Edmonsley, Urpeth, Lamesley, and Chester-le-Street, and is bounded on the north by Urpeth Burn; on the north east by the Rowledge Burn, which separates the townships of Birtley and Ouston; and on the south east by the boundary line which separates the townships of Harraton and Chester-le-Street from the townships of Ouston and Pelton; on the south by the Chester Burn, which separates the township of Chester-le-Street, and part of the township of Edmonsley, from the township of Pelton, as far its junction with the Chester Coal-road, about half a mile to the east of Craighead, along the centre of which road the boundary proceeds westerly as far as the point where it meets the parish of Lanchester, and then continues in a westerly direction along the boundary line of the said last-mentioned parish and the parish of Chester-le-Street as far as the south western extremity of the township of Edmonsley, near to Shafto-house; and on the west by the boundary line which separates part of the townships of Edmonsley and Urpeth from the chapelry of Tanfield, as shewn on the map, and thereon tinted yellow:

"That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said chapel; and that the fees arising therefrom should be received by and belong to the Minister of the said chapel, from and after the next avoidance of the parish church:

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Durham has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, beg leave to lay before your Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation; together with the plan thereunto annexed; into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made, and the recommendations of the said Commissioners, in respect to the solemnization of marriages, baptisms; churchings, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
