THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, assigning a chapelry district to Trinity Chapel, in the parish of Darlington, in the county of Durham, under the 16th section of the 59th Geo. 3., cap. 134:

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 3d of April 1843, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS, by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be, within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;” and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, “that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:”

And whereas by an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled “An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes,” it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act, or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act, or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding:”

And whereas by another Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled “An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;” and by another Act, made and passed in the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled “An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled ‘An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;’” and also by another Act, made and passed in the second and third years of His said late Majesty, intituled “An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled ‘An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;’” further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, bearing date the fourteenth day of March one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, in the words following, viz.

“Your Majesty’s Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled “An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, when the last census was taken, the parish of Darlington, in the county and diocese of Durham, contained a population of eleven thousand five hundred and ninety-five persons:

"That, besides the parish church, which affords accommodation to one thousand two hundred and thirty-nine persons, there is only one consecrated chapel, called Trinity Chapel, in the said parish, and divine service is regularly performed therein, and that the said chapel will accommodate one thousand and ten persons, including six hundred free seats appropriated to the use of the poor:

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient, that a chapelry district should be assigned to the said chapel of the Holy Trinity, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be named, "The District of Holy Trinity, Darlington," with boundaries as follow:

"The district is to be formed out of the northernmost part of the parish, and to consist of the townships of Archdeacon Newton and Cockerton, and part of the township of Darlington. The boundary thereof to commence opposite the house at the south west corner of Skinner-gate, and then proceed up the centre of Skinner-gate, including all the houses on the west side thereof, as far as Bond-gate; then east along the centre of Bond-gate, including all the houses on the north side thereof, as far as Commercial-street; then north up the centre of Commercial-street, including all the houses on the west side thereof, as far as Albion-street; when it again proceeds east along the centre of Albion-street, including all the houses on the north side thereof, as far as North-gate; when it proceeds north along the centre of North-gate and the High-road from Darlington to Durham, including all the houses on the west sides thereof, as far as the point where the parishes of Darlington and Haughton le Skerne join, at a field called Lawson's Slack; the boundary then leaves the high road, and proceeds in an easterly, north easterly, and north westerly direction along the line that divides the said parishes of Darlington and Haughton le Skerne to where the said parishes join the parish of Heighington; thence in a southerly direction along the boundary line that divides the said parishes of Darlington and Heighington to where they join the parish of High Coniscliffe; and then along the boundary line that divides the said parishes of Darlington and High Coniscliffe as far as the road leading from Barnard Castle to Darlington; and then east along the centre of that road, including all the houses on the north side thereof, to the point where the boundary commenced in the centre of Skinner-gate, as is more particularly shewn by the map, and thereon tinted yellow, pink, and green.

"That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said chapel; and that the fees arising therefrom should be received by and belong to the Minister of the said chapel:

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Durham has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, beg leave to lay before your Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made, and the recommendations of the said Commissioners, in respect of the solemnization of marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

Church Commissioners' Office, July 29, 1843.

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, assigning district chapelries to the churches or chapels of Saint George and Saint Catherine, in the town of Wigan, and to Saint John's chapel at Abram, all situate in the parish of Wigan, in the county of Lancaster, under the 16th section of the 59th Geo. 3., cap. 134:

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 3d of April 1843, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be, within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:"

And whereas by an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act, or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act, or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding:"

And whereas by another Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the second and third years of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes ;' further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect :

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, bearing date the ninth day of March one thousand eight hundred and forty-three, in the words following, viz.

" Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes ;" continued by an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes ;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches ;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, when the last census was taken, the parish of Wigan, in the county of Lancaster and diocese of Chester, contained a population of fifty-one thousand eight hundred and three persons :

" That, besides the parish church, which affords accommodation to two thousand five hundred persons, there are eight consecrated chapels in the said parish, which together afford accommodation to seven thousand three hundred and sixty-three persons ; that districts have already been assigned by your Majesty's said Commissioners to two of the said chapels, namely, at Haigh cum Aspull and at Pemberton ; that another of the said chapels, called Saint George's Chapel, in the town of Wigan, will accommodate nine hundred persons, including two hundred and sixty free seats appropriated to the use of the poor ; that another, called Saint Catherine's, also in the town of Wigan, built by your Majesty's said Commissioners, will accommodate one thousand one hundred and seventy-three persons, including five hundred and nineteen free seats appropriated to the use of the poor ; and another, called Saint John the Evangelist Chapel, in the township of Abram, will accommodate four hundred and forty persons, including two hundred and twenty free seats appropriated to the use of the poor :

" Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient, that particular districts should be assigned to the said three last-mentioned chapels, respectively, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes ;" and that such districts should be named, respectively, "The Chapelry District, Saint George," "The Chapelry District of Saint Catherine," and "The Chapelry District of Saint John the Evangelist, Abram," with boundaries as follow :

" Saint George's District.—This district includes all such portions of the borough of Wigan situate within a line drawn as follows : it commences at the point in which the centre of Wigan-lane intersects the northern boundary of the said borough, adjoining the township of Standish near the toll bar ; marked A on the plan, and proceeds southward along the centre of Wigan-lane, Standishgate-street, to the point at which the same meets Millgate-street ; thence in a southerly direction along the centre of Millgate-street to a point at which the same meets Chapel-lane ; thence westward along the centre of Chapel-lane, across the Leeds and Liverpool Canal and the river Douglas, to the point at which Chapel-lane meets Pool Stock-lane ; thence along the centre of Pool Stock-lane to a bridge, marked B on the plan, at the southern boundary of the said borough, adjoining the township and chapelry district of Pemberton ; thence eastward along the boundary of the said borough, across the Leigh and Wigan Canal, to the point at which the boundary of the said borough is intersected by the centre of the North Union Railway ; thence northward along the centre of the North Union Railway to the point at which the same intersects (or is over) the centre of the river Douglas ; thence in a north easterly direction along the centre of the river Douglas to the Schole's-bridge ; thence in an easterly direction along the centre of Schole's and the road or lane leading to Blackrod, including all the houses in the northernmost sides thereof, to the point where it intersects the eastern boundary of the borough, marked C in the plan ; it thence proceeds westerly and northerly along the boundary line which divides the townships of Aspull and Haigh from the borough of Wigan to the point at which the same is met by the northern boundary of the said borough, adjoining the township of Standish ; thence westward along the boundary of the said borough, adjoining the township of Standish, to the point A, first described, as shewn on the plan hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured blue :

" Saint Catherine's District is to consist of the southern part of the Schole's ward and the township of Ince, the boundary to commence at the point marked B on the map ; and thence to proceed in an easterly direction along the boundary line of Saint George's ward and the township of Ince to the North Union Railway, up the centre of which it proceeds northward to the river Douglas ; thence, in a northerly direction, up the centre thereof, to Schole's-bridge ; then easterly and northerly along the centre of Schole's and the road leading to Blackrod (including all the south sides thereof) until it enters the township of Aspull, at the point marked C on the plan; it then proceeds in a southerly, westerly, and northerly direction along the boundary lines which separate the several townships of Haigh and Aspull, Hindley, Abram, and Pemberton (all in the parish of Wigan), and part of the parish of Winwick, from the Schole's ward and the township of Ince, to the point B, where it commenced, as shewn on the plan hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured pink:

"The district of Saint John the Evangelist, Abram, is to consist of the township of Abram, and also all that southerly portion of the township of Hindley which is included within a line drawn from the point D on the plan, in the centre of the turnpike road leading from Wigan to Manchester, where a brook crosses it, about thirty yards on the south east of the house lately occupied by Mr. Scowcroft, coal master; thence along the said brook, running south westerly and westward, to a point at which it meets the boundary which divides the townships of Abram and Hindley, marked E on the plan; thence, continuing westward, along the northern boundary of the said township of Abram to the junction of the several townships of Hindley, Abram, and Ince; thence, south westward, along the brook which divides the townships of Abram and Ince, to the point marked F on the plan, where the townships meet the parish of Winwick; and thence, southward and south eastward, along the boundary which divides the said township of Abram and the parish of Winwick, to a point marked G on the plan; thence, north eastward and northward, along the boundary which divides the said township of Abram and the parish of Leigh, to the point of junction of the parish of Leigh and the several townships of Abram and Hindley, marked H on the plan; thence eastward, crossing the road to Leigh, and northward along the boundary which divides the township of Hindley and the parish of Leigh, to a point marked I on the plan, in the centre of the turnpike road leading from Wigan to Manchester; thence, in a north westerly direction, along the centre of the said turnpike road to the point first described, as shewn on the map, and thereon tinted yellow:

"That baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said chapels; and that the fees arising therefrom should be received by and belong to the Ministers of the said chapels respectively:

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Chester has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, beg leave to lay before your Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignments be accordingly made, and the recommendation of the said Commissioners, in respect of the solemnization of baptisms, churchings, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

THE estates of Archibald Cousland, Wire Worker and Wire Cloth Manufacturer, in Glasgow, were sequestrated on the 26th day of July 1843.

The first deliverance is dated the 26th of July 1843.

The meeting to elect an Interim Factor is to be held, at one o'clock afternoon, on Monday the 7th day of August 1843, within the chambers of Thomson and Lawrie, Accountants, No. 48, Queen-street, Glasgow; and the meeting to elect the Trustee and Commissioners is to be held, at one o'clock afternoon, on Friday the 1st day of September 1843, within the same place.

A composition may be offered at this latter meeting; and to entitle creditors to the first dividend, their oaths and grounds of debt must be lodged on or before the 26th day of January 1844.

All future advertisements relating to this sequestration will be published in the Edinburgh Gazette alone.
