Whitehall, April 23.

THIS Day being the Festival of St. George, the Coronation of their Sacred Majesties King JAMES the Second and Queen MARY, was Performed at Westminster in manner following,

THeir Majesties being come from Whitehall to the Palace at Westminster (where the Nobility and others who were to go into the Proceeding, were assembled) came down in State from the House of Lords in Westminster-Hall, about eleven of the Clock in the Morning, and being seated on the Throne there, the Sword of State, the Sword Curtana, and the two pointed Swords, together with the Gold Spurs, were presented to His Majesty, and laid on a Table before Him.

Then the Dean and Prebends of Westminster, having before brought the Crowns and other Regalia in Solemn Procession from the Collegiate Church there, came up the Hall, and presented them severally to His Majesty, which being likewise laid on the Table, were (together with the four Swords and Spurs) delivered to the Lords appointed to carry them in the Procession, which began in this manner,

First, Drums and Trumpets, then the six Clerks in Chancery, Chaplains having Dignities, Aldermen of London, and Masters in Chancery, four a-breast, (in which Order all the rest of the Proceeding went) then Sergeants at Law, and others of the long Robe, Esquires of the Body, Gentlemen of the Privy Chamber, Judges and Chief Justices.

Then Children of the Kings Chapel, Choir of Westminster, Gentlemen of the Chapel, Prebends and Dean of Westminster, Master of the Jewel House, and Privy Counsellors not Peers.

Next two Officers of Arms, then Baronesses, Barons, Bishops. Two other Officers of Arms; Vicountesses, Vicounts. Two Heralds of Arms; Countesses, Earls, Two Heralds more; a Marchioness. Heralds of Arms; Duchesses, Dukes; Next the two Provincial Kings of Arms, Proceeding the Great Officers and Arch-Bishops. Then two Persons in Robes of State Representing the Dukes of Aquitain and Normandy.

Then the Queens Vice-Chamberlain and Lord Chamberlain, and three Noblemen carrying her Majesties Regalia; viz. The Earl of Dorset the Ivory Rod, the Earl of Rutland the Scepter, and the Duke of Beaufort the Crown. Then the Queens Majesty, assisted by the Bishops of London and Winchester, under a rich Canopy supported by sixteen Barons of the Cinque-Ports; Her Majesties Train born by the Young Duchesses of Norfolk, assisted by four Earls Daughters, followed by two Ladies of the Bedchamber, and two Women of the Bedchamber.

Then the Noblemen who bore the Kings Regalia, viz. The Earl of Ailsbury, St. Edwards Staff, the Lord de Grey the Spurs, the Earl of Peterborough the Scepter with the Cross; Next the Earl of Pembroke the Third Sword, the Earl of Derby the Second Sword, and between them the Earl of Shrewsbury bearing Curtana or the Pointless Sword. Then Garter between the Gentlemen Usher of the Black Rod and the Lord Mayor of London. Then the Lord Great Chamberlain single. Then the Earl of Oxford bearing the Sword of State, between the Duke of Grafton Lord High Constable, and the Duke of Norfolk Lord Earl Marshal. Then the Duke of Ormand Lord High Steward, bearing St. Edwards crown, between the Duke of Somerset bearing the Orb, and the Duke of Albemarle bearing the Scepter with the Dove.

Then the Kings Majesty, assisted by the Bishops of Durham and Bath, under a Rich Canopy born likewise by sixteen Barons of the Cinque Ports, His Majesties Train born by four Earls Eldest Sons, assisted by the Master of the Robes, followed by the Duke of Northumberland, Captain of the Horse Guard, (in waiting) between the Earl of Huntington Captain of the Band of Gentlemen Pensioners, and the Vicount Grandison Captain of the Yeoman of the Guard; then the Lord Churchill Gentleman of the Bedchamber followed by Two Grooms of the Bed-Chamber, the Yeomen of the Guard, closing the Proceeding. The Sergeants of Arms went in two Classes before their Majesties, and the Gentlemen Pensioners on each side the Canopies, in this Manner, their Majesties, Arrayed in their Royal Robes Furred with Ermins, the King with a Velvet Cap, and the Queen a Rich Circle of Gold on Her Head, all the Nobility in Robes of Crimson Velvet with their Caps and Coronets in their Hands, and the rest who formed the proceeding, being Richly Habited, or wearing their proper and peculiar Robes, proceeded on foot upon Blue Cloath, spread from the Steps of the Throne in Westminster-Hall to the Steps of the Theatre in the quire, of the Collegiate Church of St. Peter Westminster, the whole passage being Railed in and Guarded with His Majesties Horse and Foot Guards. Being entred the Church, and the Nobility and others all duly placed, their Majesties ascended the Theatre, and repaired to their Private Devotions on the East part thereof, and then seated themselves in their Chairs of State. Then followed the Recognition; and after an Anthem, the King and Queen came to the Altar and made their first Oblation; and the Lords who carried the Regalia, presented them at the Altar to be there deposited.

Then the Litany was sung by two Bishops, which ended, the Bishop of Ely began the Sermon; After Sermon the King took the accustomed Oath; and Veni Creator being sung, and the King disrobed of his Mantle and Surcoat, he was Anointed and Invested with all the sacred habits in King Edwards Chair; and the Crown being put on just at three of the clock in the afternoon, all the people shouted, the Drums and Trumpets sounded, and the Guns in St. James's Park, and great Guns at the Tower were discharged, and all the Peers put on their Coronets.

The King being Crowned, and having been farther Invested with the Ring and Scepters, He made His Second Oblation, and being again seated in King Edwards Chair, He vouchsafed to Kiss the Arch Bishops and Bishops; and Te Deum being Sung, He Ascended the Throne, and being Imbronzed, the Arch-Bishops and Bishops did their Homage and kissed the Kings cheek, and after them the Temporal Lords did also their Homage, and severally kissed the Kings cheek and touched his Crown; during which time the Treasurer of the Household threw about the Coronation Medals.

Then followed the Coronation of the Queen, at which the Ladies likewise put on their Coronets, as the Lords had done before at the Kings; and Her Majesty having received into Her Hands the Scepter and Ivory Rod, was conducted to Her Royal Seat upon the Throne.

Thus their Majesties being Imbronzed, after an Anthem was sung; the Arch Bishop ending with the Benediction, at Aton, their Majesties went in State into St. Edwards Chapel, where the King being divested of St. Edwards Robes, and arrayed in His Royal Robes of Purple Velvet, the whole Company (except the Church of Westminster) returned to Westminster-Hall in the same Order they came; their Majesties and all the Nobility wearing their Coronets on their Heads; and being entred into the Hall were conducted to their several Tables to Dinner, which were all ready furnished before their coming in. The first Course for their Majesties Table was served up with the usual Ceremony, the Lord High Steward betwixt the Lord High Constable and the Earl Marshal Riding in before it on Horseback; And before the second Course was served up, Sir Charles Dymoke, the Kings Champion, in Compleat Armour, accompanied with the Lord High Constable, and Earl Marshal, all on Horseback, performed the usual Ceremony of the Challenge; After which the Officers of Arms Proclaimed His Majesties Style in Latin, French, and English, after the accustomed manner.

Dinner being ended, and the whole Solemnity being performed with great Order and Magnificence, and with all the Expressions of an Universal Joy, their Majesties returned to Whitehall, and all the Nobility and others departed.

His Grace the Duke of Beaufort has presented to His Majesty a very Loyal Address from the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Deputy-Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, and the rest of the Gentlemen of the County of Flint, which His Majesty received very Graciously.

Brussels, April 27. The Marquis de Lavergne who hath quitted his Employment in Holland to go and serve in Hungary, is come hither to take his leave of the Marquis de Grana, being a Sergeant-General of Batalia in the Service of his Catholick Majesty who continues to him his Pay during his absence in the War against the Turks. The Letters from Liege of the 25th Instant tell us, that Prince Waldecke was arrived there to make a Visit to the Bishop of Strasbourg, and to press the march of the Elector of Cologne's Troops for Hungary. Our last Letters from Vienna are of the 1th of this month, and give an account that the Imperial Troops are appointed to Rendezvous in Hungary the 20th of May; And that they will begin the Campagne with the Siege of Newboursel, which place, it's confirmed by all hands, is in great distress.

Paris, April 28. This week parted from hence the Train and Baggage of the Prince de Conti to follow him to Hungary; That of the Prince de la Rochefort, is preparing, and will be ready in few days. A Marriage, it's said, is concluded between the Duke de Bourbon and Mademoiselle de Nantes.

Honiton, April 16. This day was brought hither the New Charter, which His Majesty has been Graciously pleased to grant unto this Corporation, having been met by at least 300 Gentlemen of the first quality on Horse-Pack, attended with Drums and Trumpets; the Mayor, Sir Thomas Pitt Baronet, the Recorder Sir Courtney Poole and the Aldermen, and ten other Gentlemen Assistants, being Sworn, they all went to a Splendid Entertainment, the Bells Ringing all the day, and the whole concluding with Bonfires.

Bristol, April 23. The Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, Common Council, and all the Companies of Trades of this City, intending to express in the most Solemn manner their Joy for their Majesties Coronation, met at Nine of the Clock this Morning in their most splendid Habits, and went to the Colledge and heard an excellent Sermon Preached by Mr. Roberts, being in their way thither entertained with the Firing of Great Guns in the Marsh at the Expence of the City, and from all the Ships at the Key, and in the Port, which were adorned in their best manner. Sermon being ended, the Aldermen and Common Council were entertained at Dinner by the Mayor; and 52 Great Guns were again Fired, Four Conduits runing with Wine. The concourse of People as well of Citizens as from the Country was the greatest that has been known, and most part of the Night was spent with Bonfires Ringing of Bells, and all the demonstrations of a general Satisfaction.

His Majesty having been pleased to grant unto John Bellingham Esq; the sole Use and Benefit of his New Invention for making square Window Glasses for Sashes and Coaches, excelling the Normandy for strength and clearness; These are to give notice, That they are to be sold, viz. a 24 Inch-Glass at 12 shillings, and all other sizes proportionable at the Glass-House at Fox-Hall, and at Mr. John Morrice's at the Half-Moon Cabinet-Maker in Cheap-side, and at Mr. Duke at the Green-Artichoke near the Exchange, in the Strand.
