INVESTITURE of His Majesty LOUIS PHILIPPE, KING OF THE FRENCH, with the Ensigns
of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

At the Court at Windsor Castle, October 11, 1844.

A CHAPTER of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, having been summoned for this day, the following Knights Companions, in their mantles and collars, assembled in the Guard Chamber, viz. His Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge; the Duke of Rutland; the Duke of Wellington; the Marquess of Anglesey; the Duke of Devonshire; the Marquess of Exeter; the Duke of Buccleuch; the Marquess of Lansdowne; the Marquess of Westminster; the Duke of Beaufort; the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos; and the Marquess of Salisbury; attended by the undermentioned officers of the Order in their mantles, chains, and badges, viz. the Bishop of Winchester, Prelate; the Lord Bishop of Oxford, Chancellor; the Honourable and Reverend the Dean of Windsor, Register; Sir Charles George Young, Knight, Garter Principal King of Arms; and Sir Augustus William James Clifford, Baronet, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod. Shortly before three o'clock the Knights Companions being called over by Garter, proceeded into the Grand Reception Room, when the Sovereign and His Royal Highness the Prince Albert having passed to the Throne Room, the Knights Companions, with the officers of the Order, proceeded into the presence of the Sovereign, Garter going no further than the door, not having been sworn.

The Chancellor then acquainted the Sovereign that Sir Charles George Young, Knight, Garter, Principal King of Arms, was attending at the door, and humbly prayed to be admitted to take the oath of office as Chief Officer of Arms of this Most Noble Order; whereupon Garter, in his Mantle, wearing the chain and badge of his office (with which he had been duly invested by the Sovereign, on the 27th day of August 1842), and carrying his sceptre, being by the Queen's command introduced, and kneeling on the left hand side, near the Sovereign, and holding the holy gospels in his hand, the oath was administered to him by the Chancellor; Garter rising, then made his obeisance to the Sovereign, and having had the honour to kiss Her Majesty's hand, withdrew to his place at the bottom of the table.

The Chancellor then, by command of Her Majesty, read a new Statute, dispensing with the existing Statutes, in as far as might be required for the especial purpose therein mentioned, and decreeing, ordaining, and enjoining that His Majesty Louis Philippe, King of the French, be declared a Knight of this Most Noble Order, any statute, decree, rule, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

His Royal Highness Prince Albert and His Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge, the two Senior Knights Companions present, thereupon retired from the Chapter, when, by the Sovereign's command, the King of the French was conducted from His Majesty's apartments to the Chapter-room, between their Royal Highnesses, preceded by Garter (bearing the Ensigns of the Order upon a crimson velvet cushion) and by Black Rod.

On entering the Chapter-room, His Majesty was received by the Sovereign and the Knights Companions standing, and seated in a chair of state on the right hand of the Sovereign.

The Sovereign announced to the King of the French that His Majesty had been declared elected a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

Garter, then kneeling, presented the garter to the Sovereign, and Her Majesty, assisted by His Royal Highness Prince Albert and His Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge, buckled it on the left leg of His Majesty the King of the French, the Chancellor pronouncing the admonition.

Garter next presented, in like manner, the ribband with the George, and the Sovereign, assisted as before, put the same over the left shoulder of the King of the French, the Chancellor pronouncing the admonition.

The Sovereign thereupon gave the Accolade to the King of the French; and His Majesty then passing round the table received the congratulations of each of the Knights Companions present, and then resumed his seat.

The Chapter being ended, the Knights Companions were severally called over by Garter, and, with the Officers of the Order, retired from the presence of the Sovereign with the usual reverences.

Their Royal Highnesses the Duchess of Kent, the Duchess of Cambridge, the Hereditary Grand Duchess of Mecklenburgh Strelitz, their Royal Highnesses the Duke de Montpensier and the Hereditary Grand Duke of Mecklenburgh Strelitz, several of the Great Officers of State, Cabinet Ministers, the French Ambassador, and other personages of distinction in the suite of His Majesty the King of the French, with the Officers of the Royal Household, were present at this august ceremony.

In the evening a State Banquet was given in St. George's-Hall, at which the above-named Royal, Noble, and Distinguished Persons, the Knights Companions, with the Officers of the Order, were present. During the Banquet Her Majesty drank to the health of Her Illustrious Visitor the King of the French.

At the Court at Windsor-Castle, October 11, 1844.

The Queen, as Sovereign of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, hath been graciously pleased, by letters patent under Her royal sign manual and the Great Seal of the Order, bearing date this day, to dispense with all the statutes and regulations usually observed in regard to installation, and to grant unto His Majesty Louis Philippe King of the French, Knight of the said Most Noble Order, and duly invested with the ensigns thereof, full power and authority to exercise all rights and privileges belonging to a Knight Companion of the said Most Noble Order of the Garter, in as full and ample a manner as if His Majesty had been formally installed, any decree, rule, or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

Windsor-Castle, October 12, 1844.

THIS day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor and the Deputation of Aldermen and Common Councilmen of the city of London, waited upon His Majesty the King of the French with the following Address, which was read by the Honourable Charles Ewan Law, M.P. the Recorder, and which His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Majesty LOUIS PHILIPPE, King of the French.

The Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen and Commons of the city of London, in Common Council assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the city of London, in Common Council assembled, approach your Majesty to offer our sincere congratulations on your Majesty's auspicious visit to our beloved and gracious Sovereign Queen Victoria.

Deeply interested in every event which is calculated to influence the welfare of Europe and of mankind, we hail with peculiar satisfaction your Majesty's presence in this country as a sure and certain indication of the mutual good-will and the reciprocal sentiments of respect and confidence that subsist between two mighty nations, capable, by their happy union and combined efforts, under Divine Providence, of preserving the blessings of peace to the nations of the earth.

We desire to convey to your Majesty these sentiments towards the free, gallant, and enlightened nation over whom you reign; and we fervently trust that your Majesty's valuable life may long be spared to your people to continue to promote their best interests, and with them to advance the general happiness of mankind.

Sire, you visit a scene where the highest domestic enjoyment is found to be associated with the highest functions of Sovereignty, to return, after a brief space, into the bosom of an illustrious and united family, to dispense the blessings of paternal government, and to communicate and experience the inestimable endearments of social life.

Signed, by Order of Court,
Henry Abworth Merewether.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

My Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London.

I RECEIVE with heartfelt satisfaction the address of congratulation which you have just presented to me by the gracious authorization of your beloved Sovereign. In coming to offer to the Queen of these realms a proof of the sincere and unalterable friendship I bear to Her Majesty, I am happy to find that the city of London, that illustrious city which holds so prominent a place in the world, and which represents interests of such magnitude, are coming to this royal residence to manifest to me sentiments so perfectly congenial to my own feelings, and to the sense I entertain of my duties towards my country, towards Europe, and towards mankind.

I am convinced, as you are, that peace and friendly relations between France and England are for two nations, made to esteem and honour each other, a source of innumerable and equal advantages; the preservation of that good understanding is, at the same time, a pledge of peace to the world at large, and secures the tranquil and regular progress of civilization for the benefit of all nations; I consider my co-operation in this holy work, under the protection of Divine Providence, as the mission and the honour of my reign: such has been the aim and the object of all my efforts, and I trust that the Almighty will crown them with success.

I thank you in the name of France, and in my own, for this manifestation of your sentiments, they will be fully appreciated in my country, coupled as they are with the many tokens of friendship which I have received from your gracious Sovereigns.

I thank you most cordially for your kind feelings towards myself and my family; the impression produced upon me by the presentation of your address will never be effaced from my heart.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 7th day of October 1844,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches have, in pursuance of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a representation, bearing date the second day of September one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;"

continued by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending the parish of Wakefield, in the county of York, and diocese of Ripon, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district should be assigned to Saint John's church, in the said parish, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be named, "Saint John's District," and should consist of parts of the townships of Wakefield and Stanley cum Wrenthorpe, and be bounded as follows, that is to say; the boundary to commence at the point marked A on the map hereunto annexed, where the north-east boundary of the chapelry district of Alverthorpe intersects the middle of Balne-lane; and thence proceeding in an easterly direction along the centre of Balne-lane to the end of the public foot path, leading from Balne-lane by the north-east walls of the New West Riding House of Correction to the back lane; thence in a south-east direction along the centre of the said public path; and by the said walls of the said new prison to the back lane; thence proceeding in a north-easterly direction along the centre of the said back lane, north of the Tammy-hall and the Court-house crossing Wood-street; and proceeding thence along the centre of Rishworth-street till it meets the centre line of Northgate; thence proceeding south along the centre of Northgate till it meets Providence-street-end; and thence proceeding north-east along the centre of and to the upper or northern end of Providence-street; and thence proceeding in an easterly direction along the centre of a road or street called Saxille-street till it meets the centre of a road or lane called New-road; and proceeding by the centre of the said road in a north-easterly direction till it meets the East Moor-road; thence proceeding in a north-westerly direction along the centre of the said East Moor-road, and which is part of the south boundary of the chapelry district of Stanley, till it meets the Pinder-fields-road; thence proceeding in a north-easterly direction along the centre of the said Pinder-fields-road, and which forms part of the west boundary of the said chapelry district of Stanley till it meets the road leading in an easterly direction towards Field-head; thence proceeding westward along part of the south boundary of the said chapelry district of Stanley till it meets the Wakefield and Leeds turnpike road; thence proceeding north along the centre of the said Wakefield and Leeds turnpike road, and which is part of the west boundary of the said chapelry district of Stanley, till it meets the Red-hall-lane; thence proceeding in a westerly direction along the centre of the said Red-hall-lane till it meets the Wakefield and Bradford turnpike road; thence proceeding north along the centre of the said Wakefield and Bradford turnpike road till it crosses the Beck, flowing through the small village of Snow hill; thence proceeding in a south-west direction along the centre of the said Beck, and forming part of the south-east boundary of the chapelry district of Alverthorpe, till it meets the Balne Beck; thence proceeding in a south-east direction along the centre of Balne Beck, and which is part of the north-east boundary of the said chapelry district of Alverthorpe, till it meets the Balne-lane, at the point where the boundary commenced; as is more particularly delineated on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured blue;

“ That marriages, churchings, baptisms, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said church; and that the fees arising therefrom should, in pursuance of the provisions of an Act of Parliament, passed in the thirty-first year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled “ An Act for building a new church in the town of Wakefield, in the west riding of the county of York, and for providing a proper burial ground, and making provision for a minister to officiate in the said church,” be equally divided between the Vicar of the said parish of Wakefield and the Minister of the said church :

“ That the consent of the Lord Bishop of

Ripon has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof, the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument :

“ Your Majesty’s Commissioners, therefore, humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet.”

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order; as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made, and the recommendations of the said Commissioners, in respect of the solemnization of marriages, churchings, baptisms, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Act. C. C. Greville.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 7th day of October 1844.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN’s Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS Her Majesty’s Commissioners for building new churches have, in pursuance of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled “ An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes,” duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a representation, bearing date the fourth day of September one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, in the words following, that is to say :

“ Your Majesty’s Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled “ An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;” continued by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending the parish of Saint Mary, in the town and county of the town of Warwick, in the diocese of Worcester, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district should be assigned to Saint Paul's Chapel, in the said parish, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be named, "The Chapelry District of St. Paul," and be bounded as follows, that is to say :

"The boundary to commence at Saltisford, opposite the middle of Parkes-street, at the point marked A on the plan, down which it proceeds, south westerly, to Wallace-street, and along Wallace-street, to its termination; it then crosses the yard of the Warwick and Leamington Brewery, in a southwardly direction, to the south east angle of that building, where it enters an ancient water-course, and proceeds along the same, in a southwardly direction, to the gate at the entrance from Hampton-street into the Race-course, or commonable land; it then diverges, slightly, to the north west, and takes in the Herdsman's house; from whence it runs, south westerly, in a direct line to the grand stand, which it includes; at the south west end of the grand stand it turns into Hampton-terrace, and proceeds, south westerly, to a certain footpath, leading from Hampton-terrace to West-street, and entering the said footpath pursues the course thereof to West-street, which it crosses to the gates or doors of a certain lodge, belonging to the Earl of Warwick; and, leaving the lodge, on the south side, proceeds along the park palings to their junction with the park wall at the crossing of the water course marked B; it then continues along the park wall to Sander's-row; and thence, in a westerly direction, to the southern corner of West-gate Almshouses, skirting the same, and, entering Bowling-green-street, proceeds, northerly, along that street by Theatre-street and Saltisford Rock, and, leaving the iron bridge on the east, continues to Saltisford, and along the same to the point opposite to Parkes-street, where the boundary commenced, as shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured blue :

"That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said chapel; and that the fees arising therefrom should be received by and belong to the Minister thereof :

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Worcester has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof, the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument :

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made, and the recommendations of the said Commissioners, in respect of the solemnization of marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Act.

C. C. Greville.

Whitehall, October 14, 1844.

The Queen has been pleased to direct letters patent to be passed under the Great Seal, granting the dignities of Viscount and Earl of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland unto the Right Honourable Edward Lord Ellenborough, and the heirs male of his body lawfully begotten, by the names, stiles, and titles of Viscount Southam, of Southam, in the county of Gloucester and Earl of Ellenborough, in the county of Cumberland.

Downing-Street, October 14, 1844.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint William Henry Draper, Esq. to be Her Majesty's Attorney General for that part of the Province of Canada formerly called Upper Canada.

Her Majesty has also been pleased to appoint William Morris, Esq. to be Receiver General for Canada.

Her Majesty has also been pleased to appoint Denis B. Papineau, Esq. to be Commissioner of Crown Lands for Canada.

Her Majesty has also been pleased to appoint James Smith, Esq. to be Her Majesty's Attorney General for that part of the Province of Canada formerly called Lower Canada.

Her Majesty has also been pleased to appoint Dominick Daly, Esq. to be Secretary for Canada.

Her Majesty has also been pleased to appoint John Downie, Esq. to be First Puisne Judge for the Colony of British Guiana.

Whitehall, October 15, 1844.

The Queen has been pleased to grant unto James Bellairs, of Haverfordwest, in the county of Pembroke, Esq. Her royal licence and authority, that he and his issue may henceforth (in compliance with a direction in the last will and testament of William Stevenson, late of Stamford, in the county of Lincoln, Esq. deceased), take, use, and bear the surname and arms of Stevenson only; such arms being first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms, and recorded in the Heralds' Office, otherwise Her Majesty's said licence and permission to be void and of none effect:

And also to command, that the said royal concession and declaration be recorded in Her Majesty's College of Arms.

Metropolitan Buildings Act.

Notice to Candidates for District Surveyorships.

Office of Metropolitan Buildings, No. 3, Trafalgar-Square, October 15, 1844.

Notice is hereby given, that the Examiners appointed by and in pursuance of the Metropolitan Buildings Act, are prepared to receive from persons desirous to obtain a certificate of qualification for the office of District Surveyor, applications to be examined.

Such applications must be accompanied by a preliminary statement according to the course of examination prescribed in the rules for that purpose; copies of which, and any other information on the subject, may be had at the Office of Metropolitan Buildings.

Immediately upon the receipt of such statements the Examiners will proceed to consider the same, and, as soon as possible thereafter, proceed with the examination of the parties by whom they may be sent, according to such arrangements as may be found best calculated to enable them to pass their examinations without delay; regard, however, being had to the order in which their respective statements shall have been received.

Notice of such arrangements will be given to the parties, either at their respective places of address, or personally upon application at the Office of Metropolitan Buildings.

The last day for receiving preliminary statements for the present examination will be the 6th day of November next.

Subsequent examinations will be held in the months of January, April, July, and October, or at such other periods as shall be appointed, of which due notice will be given.

Arthur Symonds, Registrar of Metropolitan Buildings.

*Church Commissioners' Office,
October 12, 1844.*

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, assigning chapelry districts, under the 16th section of the Act of the 59th George 3, cap. 134, to the chapels of Saint Andrew, at Netherton, Saint James, at Eve-hill, Saint John, at Kate's-hill, and Saint Edmund, in Castle-street, all situate in the parish of Dudley, in the county and diocese of Worcester, :

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 23d of May 1844, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be, within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesi-ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided; and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division."

And whereas by an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act, or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act, or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate, by any grant or bounty under the provisions of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding."

And whereas by another Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the second and third years of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, bearing date the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending the parish of Dudley, in the county and diocese of Worcester, it appears to them to be expedient, that particular districts should be assigned to each of the consecrated chapels of Saint Andrew at Netherton, Saint James at Eve-hill, Saint John at Kate's-hill, and Saint Edmund in Castle-street, all situate in the said parish of Dudley, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such districts should be respectively named, "The Chapelry District of Saint John, Netherton," "The Chapelry District of Saint James, Eve-hill," "The Chapelry District of Saint John, Kate's-hill," and "The Chapelry District of Saint Edmund, Dudley," with boundaries as follow :

"The chapelry district of Saint Andrew, Netherton, is to consist of the south-easternmost part of the parish of Dudley, the same being bounded on the south-west by the parish of Kingswinford, on the south-east and east by the parish of Rowley, and on the north and west by other part of the parish of Dudley; from which it is separated by a line commencing at the Dam of the Gad's-green reservoir, where the parishes of Dudley and Rowley join at the point marked A on the map, and proceeding in a straight line in a westerly direction to the eastern end of the canal, on the north side of Blower's-green Furnaces, at B; then proceeding along the middle of the said canal to the end of the south-east branch of it, marked on the map C; and thence to the Black-brook, along the course of which it proceeds till it joins the water which divides the parish of Dudley from the parish of Kingswinford at M, all which is shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured blue.

"The chapelry district of Saint James, Eve-hill, is to consist of the north-westernmost part of the parish of Dudley, and is bounded on the north-west and north by the parish of Sedgley, and on all other sides by the parish of Dudley, from which it is separated by a line commencing at the point marked D on the map, where the parishes of Dudley, Sedgley and Kingswinford meet, and proceeding in an easterly direction (up the watercourse which comes from Dudley through the Pools) till it comes to the western end of the Russell's-hall Estate, at E; thence in the same direction along the boundary between the Russell's-hall Estate and the estate of the trustees of the late Earl of Dudley to the Dock-lane, along the middle of the said lane to the western fence of Mr. Jesson's land, along the western and northern fences to the north eastern corner of the said land; thence in a straight line to the road which passes in front of Victoria-terrace, at a point thirty feet from its junction with Stafford-street, along the said road into Stafford-street, along Stafford-street to the south east of the Lancasterian School, along the eastern side to the north eastern end of the school premises; thence along the boundary of the back premises of the houses on the south side of Rose-hill-street to the eastern end marked on the map F; thence first north east, and thence north in a curved direction, varying at twenty feet at the back of the houses on the eastern side of Gad's-lane, across Wolverhampton-street, along the eastern boundary of Salt's stone-yard, to its north east corner marked G; and thence in a straight line, running north north west, to the boundary of the parish at H, all which is shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and coloured green.

"The chapelry district of Saint John, Kate's-hill, is to consist of the north easternmost part of the parish of Dudley, the same being bounded on the east by the parish of Rowley; on the north by the parish of Tipton; and on the west and south by other parts of the parish of Dudley, from which it is separated by a line commencing at the point marked I on the map, where the footpath from Dudley first enters the parish of Tipton, and proceeding up the middle of that path first in a southerly, and then westerly, direction, obliquely crossing the Birmingham-road to the south or upper end of the street called Porter's-field; then south westerly through the narrow passage, called Campbell's-flight, into Hall-street, along the middle of the said street to Waddam's-pool (street), thence south westerly along the middle of the road leading to Mr. Penn's land, to the lower end of it; thence in a straight line, across Mr. Penn's land, to the north east corner of the buildings called Paradise; and thence in a straight line, running south south west, till it meets the Saint Andrews's District, before described, at K, all which is shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and coloured yellow.

"The chapelry district of Saint Edmund, Dudley, is to consist of the north easternmost part of the parish of Dudley, the same being bounded on the north west by the extra parochial district of Dudley Castle; on the north and north east by the parishes of Sedgley and Tipton; on the east and south by the District of Saint John's, in the parish of Dudley, before described; and on the south and west by other part of the parish of Dudley, from which it is separated by a line commencing at the extreme western point of the District of Saint John's, before described, in the middle of Hall-street, marked on the map J, and proceeding in a line, twenty feet at the back of the houses on the south western side of Hall-street, across New-hall-street and High-street, to Queen-street, up Queen-street, and in a straight line along High-street, to Stone-street, down the middle of Stone-street to Priory-street, along the middle of Priory-street to the boundary wall that separates Priory-house from the premises to the south east of it, along the said wall and its continuation which separates the property of the trustees of the late Earl of Derby, consisting of gardens, and being the upper or south eastern end of the fields called Stockwell fields, from the premises which extend in that direction from Tower-street to the Castle-wall, at L, all which is shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and coloured pink :

“ That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said four chapels ; and that the fees arising therefrom should be received by and belong to the respective Ministers thereof :

“ That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Worcester has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third ; in testimony whereof, the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument :

“ Your Majesty’s said Commissioners, therefore, beg leave to lay before your Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet.”

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made, and the recommendations of the said Commissioners, in respect of the solemnization of marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

*Church Commissioners’ Office
October 12, 1844.*

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, assigning chapelry districts, under the 16th section 59th George 3, cap. 134, to Christ Church Chapel, at Tilstock, and to the chapel, at Ash, in the parish of Whitchurch, in the county of Salop :

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 10th of July 1844, present, the Queen’s Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled “ An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes,” it is, amongst other things, enacted, “ that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto under his hand and seal ; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be, within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions ; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division ; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided ; and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, “ that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described ; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division :”

And whereas by an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled “ An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes,” it is, amongst other things, enacted, “ that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act, or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act, or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding."

And whereas by another Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the second and third years of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect :

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, bearing date the ninth day of July one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending the parish of Whitchurch, in the county of Salop and diocese of Lichfield, it appears to them to be expedient, that particular districts should be assigned to Christ Church Chapel, at Tilstock, and to the chapel at Ash, in the said parish, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such districts should be named, respectively, "The Chapelry District of Tilstock," and "The Chapelry District of Ash:"

"That the chapelry district of Tilstock should consist of the township of Tilstock, and be bounded on the north by the township of Alkington and Edgeley; on the east by the township of Edgeley and the townships of Great Ash and Little Ash, all in the parish of Whitchurch; on the south east and south by the parish of Prees; and on the west by the parish of Hanmer, as shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured yellow :

"That the chapelry district of Ash should consist of the townships of Great Ash, Little Ash, Old Woodhouses, and New Woodhouses, and be bounded, on or towards the west, by the townships of Tilstock and Edgeley; on or towards the north west by the townships of Broughall, Whitchurch, Holyhurst, and Chimmell, all in the parish of Whitchurch; on or towards the north and north east by the parish of Wrenbury; and on or towards the south east and south by the parishes of Ightfield and Prees, as shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured pink :

"That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in both the said chapels; and that the fees arising therefrom should be received by and belong to the respective Ministers thereof :

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Lichfield has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof, the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignments be accordingly made, and the recommendations of the said Commissioners, in respect of the solemnization of marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, assigning a chapelry district, under the 16th section of the 59th George 3, cap. 134, to Christ Church Chapel, at Woodhouse, in the parish of Huddersfield, in the county of York:

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 10th of July 1844, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be, within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and it is by the twenty-first section of the said Act further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:"

And whereas by an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner, and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act, or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act, or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate, and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding :”

And whereas by another Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled “An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;” and by another Act, made and passed in the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled “An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled ‘An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;’” and also by another Act, made and passed in the second and third years of His said late Majesty, intituled “An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled ‘An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;’” further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect :

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, bearing date the nineteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, in the words following, viz.

“Your Majesty’s Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled “An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;” continued by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled “An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;” and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty’s reign, intituled “An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty’s Commission for building new churches;” beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending the parish of Huddersfield, in the county of York, and diocese of Ripon, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district should be assigned to the consecrated church or chapel called Christ Church, at Woodhouse, in the said parish, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled “An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;” and that such district should be named, “The Chapelry District of Christ Church, Woodhouse,” and be bounded as follows, that is to say :

“On the north-west by the parish of Halifax, on the north and north-east by the river Calder to its junction with the river Colne, on the east and south-east by the river Colne as far as the lane leading from that river to Bradley-mill, on the south by proceeding from the river Colne along the middle of the said lane, in a direct line in a north-westerly direction, and crossing the road from Huddersfield to Leeds, and Sir John Ramsden’s Canal, as far as the toll bar on the road leading from Huddersfield to Bradford, to Fartown, and on the south-west and west by proceeding in a north-westerly direction from the said toll bar, up the middle of the said road, till it enters the parish of Halifax, as shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured red :

“That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said chapel; and that the fees arising therefrom should, in pursuance of the provisions contained in an Act, passed in the fourth year of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled “An Act for building a church or chapel of ease in the hamlet of Fartown and parish of Huddersfield, and west riding of the county of York,” be equally divided between the Vicar of the said parish of Huddersfield, and the Minister of the said chapel for the time being :

“That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Ripon has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof, the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument :

“Your Majesty’s Commissioners, therefore, humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet.”

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made, and the recommendations of the said Commissioners, in respect of the solemnization of marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

*Church Commissioners' Office,
October 12, 1844.*

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, assigning chapelry districts, under the 16th section of the 59th Geo. 3., cap. 134, to the chapel at Laith Kirk, in the parish of Romald Kirk, in the county of York :

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 23d day of May 1844, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be, within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:"

And whereas by an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act, or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act, or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding."

And whereas by another Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the second and third years of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, bearing date the twenty-fourth day of April one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending the parish of Romald Kirk, in the county of York and diocese of Ripon, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district should be assigned to the consecrated chapel at Laith Kirk, in the said parish, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be named, "The Chapelry District of Lune," and should consist of the townships of Lune, Holwick, and Mickleton, with the hamlets of Crossthwaite and Lowton, with boundaries as follow:

"The district is bounded on the north and north east by the parish of Middleton in Teasdale, in the county of Durham; on the south east and south by the townships of Romald Kirk and Hunderthwaite, in the said parish of Romald Kirk; and on the south west and west by the parish of Borough under Stainmoor, in the county of Westmoreland, as is more particularly shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured pink:

"That marriages, churchings, baptisms, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said chapel; and that the fees arising therefrom should be received by and belong to the Minister of the said chapel:

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Ripon has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof, the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take your Majesty's premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof; and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made, and the recommendations of the said Commissioners, in respect of the solemnization of marriages, churchings, baptisms, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

*Church Commissioners' Office,
October 12, 1844.*

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, assigning a chapelry district, under the 16th section of the 59th Geo. 3, cap. 134, to the chapel at Rhyll, in the parish of Rhuddlan, in the county of Flint:

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 23d of May 1844, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be, within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:"

And whereas by an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act, or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act, or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and control of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding:"

And whereas by another Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and also by another Act, made and passed in the second and third years of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, bearing date the seventeenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending the parish of Rhuddlan, in the county of Flint and diocese of St. Asaph, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district should be assigned to the consecrated chapel at Rhyl, in the said parish, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be named, "The Chapelry District of Rhyl," and be bounded as follows, that is to say:

"On the north by the sea; on the west by the river Clwyd; on the south by a brook or drain called the Cut, until opposite the gate leading out of the high road to Morta Cwybyr; thence, a straight line is made to the said gate, which is only a few rods distant from this gate by the high road (marked on the map), to the turning to Rhuddlan; then by the high road leading to

Kenafon unto the south east corner of Ty Moelfield; and from the opposite corner of this field to the sea by the Ty Newydd-road or lane, as shewn in the map hereunto annexed:

"That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said chapel; and that the fees arising therefrom should be received by and belong to the Minister thereof:

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of St. Asaph has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof, the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, beg leave to lay before your Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made, and the recommendations of the said Commissioners, in respect of the solemnization of marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

Wm. L. Bathurst.

Witness my hand this 4th day of October 1844;
James Echerstley, Superintendent Registrar.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

East India House, October 9, 1844.

NOTICE is hereby given, that a light is now exhibited on the New Lighthouse erected on the Great Savage-rock at the entrance of the Arracan River, in Lat. $20^{\circ} 5' N.$, Long. $92^{\circ} 55' 38'' E.$ The light is elevated 106 feet above the level of the sea, and may be seen from the deck of a ship in clear weather at a distance of fifteen miles. The following directions for entering the port of Akyab at night, by the aid of this light, and one intended to be placed on a lighthouse now erecting on Mosque-point, within the river, are published for general information.

Sailing directions for the port of Akyab, in the Arracan River.

Ships sailing for Akyab during the south west monsoon should steer for the south end of the Western Bolongo, in Lat. $19^{\circ} 50' N.$, Long. $93^{\circ} 3' E.$, then standing along the coast to the northward and westward about five or six miles off shore until the light is sighted on the Great Savage, at the entrance of the Arracan River, then steer so as to bring it to bear N. by E. or N. N. E., and if they intend to run in during the night, with either of these bearings they will cross the bar in the best water, in three fathoms low water spring tides.

After deepening across it, the course should be altered to N. by W. or even N. N. W., according to the state of the tide and sea at the time, to avoid the Western-rocks (above water), bearing from the light S. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ S., distant nearly half a mile; the flood tide sets in on these rocks.

When the light bears E. in six to nine fathoms on the edge of the flat to the westward, the course must be altered to N. N. E. and N. E. by N., having brought the light to bear S. E. by S. $\frac{1}{2}$ S., the ship will be inside of Passage-rock, which is five to seven feet above water, and bears from the Savage light N. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ N., distant a quarter of a mile, and should then steer N. E. easterly, to avoid the reef projecting from Mosque-point a mile in extent to the south; some of the rocks are above water at half ebb. There is a red buoy placed on the southern entrance in about nine fathoms, which, with attention, may be seen in a clear night without the moon, and after bringing Mosque-point to bear N. W. by N. to N. W. the ship should anchor.

On Mosque-point a small lighthouse is nearly finished, the light of which will be a deep red, and will be seen about six miles, or three miles beyond the bar, as a leading mark to clear the Western-rocks, keeping it a little open to the westward of the Savage light when steering in or out, also to point out when the ship is inside of the reef off Mosque-point. With this light bearing N. W. by N. to N. W. is good anchorage, having excellent holding ground, and perfectly sheltered from the sea.

A stranger should not attempt to run in at night, particularly in the rains, except at high or low water, as the ebb tide runs very rapidly in strong eddies off the Passage-rock, over the dangerous flat to the westward, and the flood in strong eddies upon the rocks.

During the N. E. monsoon ships bound to Akyab from the northward, should endeavour to make the Table-land of the Western Bolongo in Lat. $20^{\circ} 1' N.$, then steering due E. they will avoid the Oyster Reef in Lat. $20^{\circ} 5' N.$, Long. $92^{\circ} 40' E.$, which is distant from the Savage light fifteen miles due W. This course is recommended, as, although in favourable weather the Savage light is seen outside the reef in sixteen to seventeen fathoms water, the depth suddenly decreases, and the probability of hazy or rainy weather would prevent the light being seen, and steering boldly in to sight it, to the northward of Lat. $20^{\circ} 1'$, would endanger the safety of the vessel, by suddenly falling upon the Oyster rock or reef before sighting the lighthouse.

Strangers are advised not to make use of the channel inside of the Oyster rock or reef on any occasion.

James C. Melvill, Secretary.

Rochdale Improvement.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, intituled "An Act for better lighting, paving, cleansing, watching, regulating, and improving the town of Rochdale, and the environs thereof, in the county palatine of Lancaster," it is (amongst other things) enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Rochdale Gas Light and Coke Company, and they are hereby required, to sell, and for the Commissioners acting in execution of the said Act, and they are thereby required, to purchase from the said Company all the estate and interest of the said Company of and in the whole of the land, buildings, gasometers, retorts, mains, and service pipes, and other works and stock in trade of the said Company, at or for the price of sum of £26,500; and that from the time of passing that Act, until payment of the said sum of £26,500, the same should carry interest at the rate therein mentioned; and that the said sum of £26,500 and interest should be paid to the Directors for the time being of the said Company, upon such notice and in such manner as therein mentioned, with power for the Commissioners, in case the Directors of the said Company should refuse or decline to receive the said purchase money and interest, to pay the same into the Bank of England, in manner therein mentioned; and whereas it is by the said Act further enacted, that, immediately on such payment of the said purchase money of £26,500, and the interest thereof, or on such deposit of the same in the Bank of England as therein mentioned, and upon publication of a notice thereof in two successive London Gazettes, and in some newspaper usually printed or circulated in Manchester, the said Rochdale Gas Light and Coke Company shall be, and the same is, thereby dissolved; and that an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act for lighting with gas the town of Rochdale and the neighbourhood thereof, in the parish of Rochdale, in the county palatine of Lancaster," and also an Act, passed in the then present session of Parliament, intituled "An Act for more effectually lighting with gas the town and environs of Rochdale, in the county of Lancaster," shall be, and they are thereby, repealed, save as to the Acts therein mentioned:

Now notice is hereby given, that, pursuant to the directions of the said first-mentioned Act, the said purchase money of £26,500, and interest, were duly paid by the said Commissioners to the Directors of the said Rochdale Gas Light and Coke Company, on the 1st day of October now instant.—Dated this 4th day of October 1844.

Willm. Heaton, Clerk to the said Commissioners.

Notice to Holders of Caledonian Railway Scrip.

London, October 10, 1844.

THE Provisional Committee of the Caledonian Railway Company hereby intimate, that the subscription contract required by the Standing Orders of Parliament to be entered into preparatory to an application for an Act, is now ready to be executed, and that copies of it will be for the signatures of the Scripholders, from Wednesday the 16th till Wednesday the 30th of October current, both included, at the following places:

In London, at the Office of Henry Francis, Esq. 57, Threadneedle-street.
 Liverpool, at the Office of Messrs. Clay and Swift, Union-court.
 Carlisle, at the Office of G. G. Motancey, Esq. Solicitor.
 Edinburgh, at the Office of Messrs. Hope and Oliphant, W. S.
 Glasgow, at the Office of Messrs. Mitchell and Co. 36, Miller-street.
 Lockerby, at the Office of James Davidson, Esq. Writer.

And the Provisional Committee require the Scripholders to subscribe such contract, before the expiration of the above mentioned period, and give notice that the shares and deposits of such as fail to do so will be liable to forfeiture, in terms of the provision in that behalf contained in the Subscribers' agreement.

It will be necessary for Scripholders to produce their scrip certificates, in order that the same may be registered and stamped, in reference to the Parliamentary contract, as no person can be allowed to subscribe the same who does not exhibit scrip for the amount of stock for which he is a subscriber; and certificates will not be afterwards recognized by the Company which have not been so produced, registered, and stamped.

By order,

D. Rankine, Secretary.

Extract referred to from the Subscribers' Agreement.

"And the several Subscribers hereto do further promise and agree and bind themselves, severally and respectively, and their respective heirs, executors, and administrators, when so required, from time to time, to subscribe and execute all such Parliamentary contracts as are or may be required by the Standing Orders of Parliament, to be entered into previously to applying for the said intended Act or Acts of Parliament, and also all such further and other deeds, documents, and assurances, as shall, from time to time, be required by the Committee of Management for the time being; and in the event of any of such Subscribers failing to execute such Parliamentary contract or contracts, deeds, documents, or other assurances, for fourteen days after notice given by or on behalf of the Committee of Management, in the London and Edinburgh Gazettes, they do hereby agree, each of them, for himself, his heirs, executors, and administrators, that the sums severally paid up or deposited by them, previously to such failure, shall, in the opinion of the Committee of Management, be absolutely forfeited to or for the use of the other Subscribers to, or parties interested in, the undertaking, together with their several rights to the shares on which such deposits have been paid, and all their rights of account, and other rights whatsoever at law and in equity in anywise relating to the premises."
