

passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, when the last census was taken, the parish of Keighley, in the county of York, and diocese of Ripon, contained a population of thirteen thousand four hundred and twelve persons, and the adjoining parish of Bingley, in the same county and diocese, contained a population of eleven thousand eight hundred and sixty persons:

"That the parish church of Keighley affords accommodation to eight hundred and eighteen persons, and that of Bingley to five hundred persons:

"That there is a consecrated chapel, called Saint John's Chapel, near Paper Mill Bridge (at the extremity of and situate in the said parish of Keighley, near to where it adjoins the said parish of Bingley), which affords accommodation to seven hundred and fifty persons, including four hundred and fifty free seats appropriated to the use of the poor:

"That the said chapel is distant one mile from the parish church of Keighley, and four miles from the parish church of Bingley, which are the places nearest to the said chapel appropriated to the celebration of divine service according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland:

"That the extremities of the said parishes of Keighley and Bingley, which lie contiguous to each other at Paper Mill Bridge aforesaid, contain an estimated population of two thousand seven hundred persons:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners beg leave further to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances above mentioned, it appears to them to be expedient to unite and consolidate the said contiguous parts of the said parishes of Keighley and Bingley into a separate and distinct district to be assigned to the said chapel at Paper Mill Bridge, for all ecclesiastical purposes, and to constitute such district a consolidated chapel, under the provisions of the sixth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" for the purpose of affording accommodation for attending divine service to the persons residing in the said district, and for enabling the spiritual person serving such chapel to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the said district attached to such chapel, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the moral habits of the persons residing therein; and that such district should be named, "The Consolidated Chapelry District of Ingrow with Hainworth," and consist of parts of the parishes of Keighley and Bingley, with boundaries as follow, that is say:

"The boundary commences at Woodhouse-bridge, and proceeds in a northerly direction, along the road to Keighley and Halifax, as far as the plot of ground numbered in the plan 1133, along the south eastern and northern fence of which it proceeds to number 1131, and proceeds, in a northerly direction, along the eastern fences of numbers 1131, 1136, 1207, to 1209; then turning westward, along the northern fences of 1209 and 1210, till it enters Exley Head-road, along the middle of which road it proceeds westerly till it reaches the plot number 1111; it then proceeds, in a northerly, north westerly, and westerly direction, along the eastern and north eastern fences of plots numbers 1111, 1106, 1236, 1237, 1268, 1269, 1277, 1278, 1276, 1284, 1287, to 1292; it then proceeds, in a south westerly direction, along the north westerly fences of numbers 1292 and 1294, to 1316; it then proceeds, in a north westerly and south westerly direction, along the north easterly and north westerly fences of numbers 1316, 1331, 1333, 1335, 1336, to number 1544; then, in a westerly direction, along the southern fences of 1544 and 1545, as far as Oakworth liberty; it then proceeds, in a south westerly direction, along the fence of that liberty and the small stream, to its junction with South Beck, along which river it proceeds westerly as far as a small stream, forming the eastern boundary of the township of Haworth, in the parish of Bradford; the boundary then enters the parish of Bingley, and proceeds, in a southerly direction, down the said stream, till it meets the south western fence of Lees-moor, along which fence it proceeds, in a south easterly and easterly direction, to certain posts on Hainworth-moor, and following such posts till it is met by a stone fence, along which fence it proceeds, in a north easterly direction, to a stream at the west of Longlee; it then proceeds, in a north westerly direction, along that stream, to its junction with the Beck river; and from thence, in a westerly direction, to Woodhouse-bridge, where the boundary commenced, as is shewn on the plan hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured pink and yellow:

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Ripon has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof, the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, beg leave to lay before your Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the
