Arthur Wells,

Nottingham, sixth November, 1845.

NOTICE is hereby given, that application is intended to be made to Parliament in the next session, for one or more Acts to extend the limits of the present borough of Yeovil, in the county of Somerset, to the town of Yeovil, as defined by an Act passed in the eleventh year of the reign of King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act for paving, lighting, watching, watering, cleansing, repairing, widening, and otherwise improving the streets, lanes, and other public passages and places within the town of Yeovil, in the county of Somerset, and for regulating the police thereof," and to the parish of Yeovil, so that the said borough may become co-extensive with the said town and parish, and that the inhabitants of the said town and parish may have, hold, exercise, and enjoy all the franchises, liberties, and privileges belonging to and exercised by the inhabitants of the said borough, and the burgesses thereof. And it is proposed in the said Act or Acts to insert provisions for altering the constitution of the said borough of Yeovil, and the mode of election of the portreeve and burgesses, and other officers thereof. And it is also proposed by the said Act or Acts, to empower the portreeve and burgesses of the said borough of Yeovil to purchase of the custos, wardens, and trustees of Woborne's almshouse at Yeovil, either by way of exchange for other lands, tenements, and hereditaments, or for a consideration in money, or for an annual rent charge, or for other considerations, certain messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, belonging to the said custos, wardens, and trustees, within the said town of Yeovil, or some part thereof. And also to empower the said custos, wardens, and trustees to sell and convey the same. Also to enable the said portreeve and burgesses to sell and dispose of, by way of exchange for other lands, tenements, and hereditaments, or by absolute sale for a consideration in money or other consideration, all or any part of certain houses, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, belonging to the said portreeve and burgesses, in High-street, Vicarage-street, Middle-street, South-street, and other places in the parish of Yeovil. Also to enable the said portreeve and burgesses to purchase and hold lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and to sell, convey, lease, and otherwise deal with the same. And also to purchase, hold, and exercise all existing rights of holding markets and fairs within the said parish of Yeovil, and the tolls receivable in respect thereof, and all franchises, liberties, rights, privileges, and powers connected with or appurtenant thereto, or any part thereof; and to enable any person or persons claiming any such rights as aforesaid to sell or convey the same to the said portreeve and burgesses.

And it is also intended to apply for powers in the said Act or Acts, to enable the said portreeve and burgesses to establish a market within the said town of Yeovil, and to exercise all necessary powers and authorities for the regulation and management thereof; also to erect a town-hall and market-place, and all such other buildings as may be requisite for the public accommodation, and purchase lands, houses, and other property by compulsion or otherwise, for that purpose, within the limits of the said town of Yeovil, and to alter, vary, and extinguish all rights, exemptions, and privileges, in reference to such houses, lands, and property. And it is intended to give powers by the said Act or Acts, to levy tolls, rates, and duties, and to alter existing tolls, rates, and duties, and to confer, vary, or extinguish exemptions from the payment of tolls, rates, and duties, and other rights and privileges.

Dated this tenth day of November, 1845.
