AT the Court at Windsor, the 23d day of December 1845,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament holden in the eighth and ninth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to regulate the trade of the British possessions abroad," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, by any Order or Orders in Council, to be issued from time to time, to give such directions and make such regulations, touching the trade and commerce to and from any British possessions on or near the Continent of Europe, or within the Mediterranean Sea, or in Africa, or within the limits of the East India Company's charter (excepting the possessions of the said company), as to Her Majesty in Council shall appear most expedient and salutary, any thing in the said Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and that if any goods shall be imported or exported in any manner contrary to any such Order of Her Majesty in Council, the same shall be forfeited, together with the ship importing or exporting the same :

C. C. Greville.

At the Court at Osborne-House, Isle of Wight,
the 10th day of December 1845,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the third and fourth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to carry into effect, with certain modifications, the fourth report of the Commissioners of Ecclesiastical Duties and Revenues," duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme, bearing date the nineteenth day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty five, in the words following, that is to say :

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the third and fourth years of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to carry into effect, with certain modifications, the fourth report of the Commissioners of Ecclesiastical Duties and Revenues," have prepared, and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council, the following scheme, for constituting each of the three portions of the vicarage of Bampton, in the county and diocese of Oxford, a separate benefice and vicarage.

"Whereas by the said recited Act it is enacted, that with respect to any parish in which both the profits and the spiritual charge are divided between two or more incumbents, each having a mediety or portion of the benefice, a plan may be framed by the bishop of the diocese, with the consent of the patron, and so as not to prejudice the interests of any existing incumbent, for constituting any of such portions separate benefices, or for making such other arrangements as he may judge likely to promote the efficient discharge of pastoral duties in such parishes; and any such plan may be carried into effect by the authority in the said Act provided:

"And whereas the Honourable and Right Reverend Richard late Bishop of Oxford, by virtue of the said recited provision, has duly prepared and submitted to us the plan contained and fully set forth in the schedule hereunto annexed:

"And whereas the arrangement proposed in the said plan appears to us likely to promote the efficient discharge of the pastoral duties of the said parish of Bampton; we, therefore, humbly recommend and propose, that the said plan be carried into effect accordingly.

" SCHEDULE.

"Whereas by an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the third and fourth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to carry into effect, with certain modifications, the fourth report of the Commissioners of Ecclesiastical Duties and Revenues," it is enacted, that with respect to any parish in which both the profits and the spiritual charge are divided between two or more incumbents, each having a mediety or portion of the benefice, a plan may be framed by the bishop of the diocese, with the consent of the patron, and so as not to prejudice the interests of any existing incumbent, for constituting any of such portions separate benefices, and for making such other arrangements as he may judge likely to promote the efficient discharge of pastoral duties in such parishes; and any such plan may be carried into effect by the authority in the said Act provided:

“ And whereas the parish of Bampton, in the county and diocese of Oxford, is a parish in which both the profits and the spiritual charge thereof are divided among three incumbents, each having a portion of the benefice within the intent and meaning of the said Act, there being three vicars separately instituted, each to a portion of the said benefice, such three portions being respectively commonly designated by the names of the first portion, the second portion, and the third portion; and the spiritual charge of the said parish is divided between and among the said three portionists, so as to be a charge upon them jointly and equally:

“ And whereas the said parish of Bampton comprises the township and hamlets following; that is to say, the township of Bampton, with the hamlet of Weald, containing together a population of 1604; the hamlet of Lew, containing a population of 195; the hamlets of Aston and Cote, containing together a population of 727; the parochial chapelry of New and Old Shifford, with the hamlets of Brighthampton and Chimney, containing together a population of 228; the aggregate population of the whole parish (according to the last census) being 2754:

“ And whereas the profits of the said benefice are now divided and enjoyed among and by the said three portionists, in manner following; that is to say;

“ The incumbent of the first portion enjoys separately a house of residence, with its appurtenances and glebe land allotted to that portion under an Act of Parliament, passed in the fifty-second year of His late Majesty King George the Third; the incumbent of the second portion has a house of residence, with its appurtenances and glebe land allotted to that portion under the same Act; and the incumbent of the third portion has a house of residence, with its appurtenances and glebe land allotted to that portion under the same Act;

the said houses of residence being all situated in the said township of Bampton, and the said glebe lands in the same township, and in the said hamlets of Weald and Lew:

“ And whereas the residue of the profits and emoluments arising from the said benefice, consisting of tithes and corn rent, is divided equally among the said three portionists in a certain order and course, so that their incomes arising therefrom are nearly equal:

“ And whereas the emoluments derived from the several sources before mentioned are estimated to be of the net yearly amounts following; that is to say;

The glebe of the first portion	262
The glebe of the second portion.....	210
The glebe of the third portion	228
Tithes in the parish of Clanfield	90
Tithes in the hamlets of Aston and Cote.....	400
Tithes in the hamlet of Brighthampton	100
Tithes in the chapelry of Shifford.....	92
Tithes in the hamlet of Chimney.....	85
Corn rent arising in the lands of Haddon	80
	£1547

And the yearly tenths, pensions, synodals, and other ecclesiastical charges payable out of the said benefice, including an annual pension of ten pounds to the dean and chapter of the cathedral church of Exeter, who are the patrons of the said parish and benefice, are paid by the said three portionists in equal shares:

“ And whereas, besides the parish church of Bampton, situate in the said township of Bampton, which affords accommodation for one thousand one hundred persons, there is a newly-erected and consecrated chapel in the said hamlet of Lew affording accommodation for one hundred and sixty persons, a newly-erected and consecrated chapel in the hamlet of Aston affording accommodation for five hundred persons, and an ancient chapel at Shifford affording accommodation for one hundred and sixty persons;

“ And whereas, upon the separation of the said three portions of the said vicarage, as is hereinafter mentioned, it is proposed to provide a more conveniently situated house of residence for the intended new vicarage of Bampton Aston than that now belonging to the said third portion, by mortgage, under the provisions contained in the Acts in that behalf made and enacted, subject nevertheless to the further provision relating thereto hereinafter contained:

" And whereas it appears to me to be expedient, and likely to promote the efficient discharge of the pastoral duties in the said parish of Bampton, that each of the said three portions of the said parish and benefice should be constituted a separate vicarage and benefice, in conformity with the provisions of the said first-recited Act, and that the most convenient division and arrangement of the said parish and benefice for such purpose would be such as is hereinafter mentioned:

" Now, therefore, I, Richard, Bishop of Oxford, with the consent of the said dean and chapter of Exeter, in testimony whereof they have hereunto set their common seal, do hereby recommend and propose, that upon the next avoidance of the said first portion, and upon the consent in writing, under the hand and seal of the then incumbents of the said second and third portions, or either of them who shall then survive and continue incumbent, or at any previous time upon the like consent of the incumbents for the time being of all the said three portions, or of such of them as are or is now existing, the said three several portions shall respectively become and be separate benefices and vicarages in manner following; that is to say, the said first portion shall become a separate benefice and vicarage by the name of 'The Vicarage of Bampton Proper,' and shall comprise and consist of the said township of Bampton and hamlet of Weald, which lie contiguous to each other, having distinct and known boundaries, and having for its church the present parish church of Bampton, and for the house of residence of its vicar, the house of residence now belonging to the incumbent of the said first portion:

" The said second portion shall become, in like manner, a separate benefice and vicarage by the name of 'The Vicarage of Bampton Lew,' and shall comprise and consist of the said hamlet of Lew, having a distinct and known boundary, and having for its church the present chapel of Lew aforesaid, and for the house of residence of its vicar the house of residence now belonging to the incumbent of the said second portion:

" And the said third portion shall become, in the same manner, a separate benefice and vicarage by the name of 'The Vicarage of Bampton Aston,' and shall comprise all the remaining portion of the said parish, consisting of the said parochial chapelry of New and Old Shifford, and the hamlets of Aston, Cote, Brightampton, and Chimney, and having distinct and known boundaries, and having for its churches the chapels of Aston and Shifford, and for its house of residence the house now belonging to the said third portion, until a more convenient residence shall have been provided as aforesaid.

" And whereas, having reference to the relative parochial charge of the said three vicarages, when so constituted as aforesaid, it appears to me just that the endowments of the said parish and benefice should be divided amongst the incumbents of such vicarages in the manner and proportion hereinafter mentioned: I therefore further recommend and propose, with the like consents, testified as aforesaid, that there be assigned to the Vicar of Bampton Proper, and his successors in perpetuity, the glebe lands at present belonging to the said first and second portions, together with all tithes and tithe rent-charges and income arising from tithes of or within the hamlet of Chimney, and the yearly sum of seventy pounds, part of the said corn rent of Haddon, subject to the appropriation of the yearly sum of sixty pounds, part of the said seventy pounds, towards the liquidation of the charge for building the house of residence for the Vicar of Bampton Aston, and subject also to the payment of the whole of the said pension of ten pounds to the said dean and chapter of Exeter:

" And that there be assigned to the Vicar of Bampton Lew, and his successors in perpetuity, the glebe lands at present belonging to the said third portion, and all tithes, tithe rent-charges, and income arising from tithes of or within the said parish of Clanfield:

" And further, that there be assigned to the Vicar of Bampton Aston, and his successors in perpetuity, all tithes, tithe rent-charges, and income arising from tithes of or within the said hamlets of Aston, Cote, and Brightampton, and chapelry of New and Old Shifford, together with the remaining ten pounds, part of the said corn rent of Haddon.

"And I further recommend and propose, that the vicar of the said vicarage of Bampton Proper shall bear and pay the tenths and all other ecclesiastical charges now appertaining to the vicar of the said first portion, and also such burden of repair of the chancel of the parish church of Bampton as by law may belong to the vicars of the said three portions; that the vicar of the said vicarage of Bampton Lew shall bear and pay the tenths and all other ecclesiastical charges now appertaining to the vicar of the said second portion, except such burden of repairs of the chancel of Bampton church; and that the vicar of the said vicarage of Bampton Aston shall bear and pay the tenths and all other ecclesiastical charges now appertaining to the vicar of the said third portion, except such burden of repair of chancel as aforesaid.

"And further, that the income of the said third portion, until the severance of the said benefices shall come into operation as aforesaid, and that after such severance the income of the said vicarage of Bampton Aston, together with the said yearly sum of sixty pounds, part of the said seventy pounds assigned to the vicarage of Bampton Proper, may and shall be charged with the repayment of all money to be borrowed by mortgage under the provisions of the Act or Acts of Parliament hereinbefore referred to, and that the said yearly sum of sixty pounds shall be the primary fund for that purpose, and, subject to such charge, shall revert to the said vicarage of Bampton Proper.

"And I further recommend and propose, that upon the taking effect of such severance as aforesaid, the Reverend Dacres Adams, the present incumbent of the said second portion, or if he shall not then be the incumbent of such portion, then the Reverend Ralph Barnes, the present incumbent of the said third portion, or if he shall not then be the incumbent of such portion, then the incumbent for the time being of the said second portion, shall become and be the vicar of the new vicarage of Bampton Proper; and the said Ralph Barnes, or the incumbent for the time being of the said third portion, shall become and be the vicar of the new vicarage of Bampton Aston; and the said new vicarage of Bampton Lew shall be the vicarage void.

"In witness whereof I, the said bishop, have hereunto set my hand and seal, this twentieth day of August in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-five. R. OXFORD."

And whereas due notice of the said scheme has been given in accordance with the provisions of the said recited Act, and no objection has been made thereto:

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by Her Majesty in Council; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same, and every part thereof, shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette, pursuant to the said Act; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct, that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the diocese of Oxford.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 23d day of December 1845,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the sixth and seventh years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled "An Act for carrying into effect the reports of the Commissioners appointed to consider the state of the Established Church in England and Wales, with reference to ecclesiastical duties and revenues, so far as they relate to episcopal dioceses, revenues, and patronage," duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme, bearing date the seventeenth day of December, in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, in the words following, that is to say:

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the sixth and seventh years of His late Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for carrying into effect the reports of the Commissioners appointed to consider the state

" of the Established Church in England and Wales, with reference to ecclesiastical duties and revenues, so far as they relate to episcopal dioceses, revenues, and patronage," have prepared, and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council, the following scheme, for settling the ecclesiastical jurisdiction in and over certain parishes locally situate in the diocese of Rochester, but now subject to peculiar jurisdiction.

" Whereas, in and by a scheme prepared by us, and laid before your Majesty in Council, bearing date the eighth day of July, and an Order of your Majesty in Council, ratifying the said scheme, and bearing date the eighth day of August, in this present year, and since duly gazetted, certain provisions are made for abolishing, upon and after the first day of January next, all peculiar jurisdiction in and over certain parishes and places in the present diocese of Rochester, and subjecting such of them as are therein described to be locally situate within the city and deanry of Rochester to the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Rochester, and of the Archdeacon of Rochester, until the archdeaconry of Rochester shall have been suppressed, and then of the Dean of Rochester :

" And whereas some of the several parishes and places hereinafter named (all which parishes and places are now subject to peculiar jurisdiction) are locally situate on the borders of the said city and deanry of Rochester, but are not surrounded on all sides by portions of such city and deanry, and doubts have therefore been suggested respecting the intent and meaning of the said scheme and Order, so far as it applies to the future ecclesiastical jurisdiction within and over such parishes and places respectively :

" We, therefore, humbly recommend and propose, that, in order to remove all such doubts, it be declared and provided by this present scheme, according to the true intent and meaning of ourselves, and of the several parties consenting to the said former scheme, that, to all intents, and for all the purposes, and subject to all the provisions in that behalf of the said recited Act and of the said scheme and Order of the eighth day of July and eighth day of August last, the several parishes and places first hereinafter named, that is to say, Cliffe, Dargoth, Gillingham, the Grange otherwise the Grange, Graine, Ifield, Lidsing, Meopham, and Northfleet, shall be held to be and henceforth locally situate within the limits of the said city and deanry of Rochester; and the five several parishes and places next hereinafter named, that is to say, Eynsford, Farningham, Otford, Shoreham, and Stansted, shall be held not to be either now or henceforth locally situate within the same limits, but to be, after the said first day of January next, locally situate within the diocese of Canterbury and the archdeaconry of Maidstone.

" And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measure relating to the matters aforesaid, or any of them, in conformity with the provisions of the said recited Act, or of any other Act of Parliament."

And whereas due notice of the said scheme has been given in accordance with the provisions of the Statute in that behalf, and no objection has been made thereto :

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by Her Majesty in Council; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same, and every part thereof, shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette, pursuant to the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct, that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrars of the several dioceses of Canterbury and Rochester.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches have, in pursuance of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled " An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a representation, bearing date the sixteenth day of December one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches," beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending the parish of Cookham, in the county of Berks, and within the diocese of Oxford, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district should be assigned to the church recently erected and consecrated, called "The Church of Saint John the Baptist," situate at Cookham Dean, in the said parish of Cookham, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His said Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be called, "The Chapelry District of Cookham Dean," with boundaries as follow :

"The district is bounded on the south by the parish of White Waltham; on the west by the parish of Bisham; on the north west by the river Thames; and on the north and east by the remaining part of the said parish of Cookham, from which it is separated by a line which leaves the river Thames at a place known as Stonehouse, and including the house and meadow to the north of the lane leading from the river to Winterhill; then proceeding along the middle of the said lane, and entering the lane to Bowden's-green, proceeds along the middle of the same lane, in an easterly direction, to Bowden's-green; it then proceeds along the middle of Terry's-lane, in a southerly direction, to Swineshead-farm, and enters Bradcotes-lane, along the middle of which lane it then proceeds as far as the Dean-road, and crossing the same proceeds along the Maidenhead-lane into the Upper-road to Cookham Dean-hill; crossing the said road it proceeds in a straight line, drawn in a south westerly direction, across the fields to the stile at the bend of the Mount-lane; and then proceeding down the middle of that lane southerly, turns into the road to Louche's-farm, along the middle of which road it proceeds as far as the said farm; it then proceeds in a southerly direction along the footpath leading to Langton's-farm, and, passing in the front of that farm, proceeds along the footpath to Pinkney's-farm, and, passing through the farm-yard, enters the road from Marlow to Maidenhead; then proceeding for a short distance along the middle of the said road, in a north easterly direction, as far as a stile, and crossing the same, it follows the footpath to Maidenhead to the point marked No. 3 on the map hereto annexed, where a stone is placed; and from that point proceeds in a straight line, in a south westerly direction, across the fields to another point marked No. 4, where the road from Maidenhead to Henley-on-Thames and Reading diverge at the commencement of Maidenhead-thicket; and from thence along the border of the thicket, in a south easterly direction, as far as the parish of White Waltham, as the same is more particularly delineated on the map or plan hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured pink :

"That banns of marriage should be published, and that marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said church; and that all the fees arising therefrom should be paid and belong to the Minister of such church for the time being :

"That the consent of the Right Reverend Samuel Bishop of Oxford has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof, the said Samuel Bishop of Oxford has signed and sealed this representation :

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map or plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made; and the recommendations of the said Commissioners, in respect of the publication of banns of marriage, and of the solemnization of marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials, and the fees arising therefrom, be carried into effect, agreeably to the provisions of the said Act.

WHEREAS Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches have, in pursuance of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a representation, bearing date the seventeenth day of December one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of
