AT the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 25th day of February 1846,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS Her Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches have, in pursuance of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a representation, bearing date the nineteenth day of February one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances of the parish of Croydon, in the county of Surrey, and within the diocese of Canterbury, it appears to them to be expedient that a particular district should, under and by virtue of the provisions contained in the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," be assigned to the consecrated church of Saint John the Evangelist, situate at Shirley, in the said parish of Croydon; and that such district should be named "The Chapelry District of Shirley," and be bounded as follows, that is to say:

"The boundary commences in Addiscombe-lane, at the south east corner of the estate belonging to the East India Company; and proceeds thence in an easterly direction along the middle of the said Addiscombe-lane to the road leading from Shirley to Woodside; and from thence it proceeds northward along the middle of the said road to the road leading from Croydon-common to the parish of Beckenham, in the county of Kent; and then north eastwards along the middle of that road till it reaches the said parish of Beckenham; thence it proceeds southwards along the boundary between the said parish of Croydon and the respective parishes of Beckenham aforesaid and Addington, in the said county of Surrey, as far as the road leading from Addington aforesaid to Coombe, in the said parish of Croydon; and then in a north westerly direction along the middle of the last-mentioned road as far as the public road leading from Coombe aforesaid to Shirley; and from thence in a straight line in a north westerly direction to the point in Addiscombe-lane aforesaid, where the boundary line of the said chapelry district of Shirley commenced, as the same is more particularly delineated on the map or plan hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured green:

"That banns of marriage should be published, and that marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said church; and that all the fees arising therefrom shall be paid and belong to the incumbent of such church for the time being:

"That the consent of the Most Reverend William Lord Archbishop of Canterbury has been obtained thereto, as required by the Act and section
