

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

Her Majesty has to lament that the recurrence of a failure in the potatoe crop in an aggravated degree will cause a serious deficiency in the quantity of a material article of food.

Her Majesty has given Her cordial assent to measures by which this calamity may be mitigated in that part of the United Kingdom where the cultivation of the potatoe has hitherto afforded the chief supply for the subsistence of the people.

Her Majesty has seen with pleasure that a considerable diminution of crime and outrage has taken place in those counties of Ireland which had been most disturbed.

Her Majesty is confident that on your return to your several counties you will find a spirit of loyalty generally* prevalent. The extension of works of improvement has increased the demand for labour, and the tranquillity of the country has favoured the pursuits of industry in all its branches.

Her Majesty trusts that by a combination of prudence with enterprise, and of a willing obedience to law, with a desire for social progress, Her people will, through the Divine blessing, enjoy the full advantages of peace.

Then a Commission for proroguing the Parliament was read; after which the Lord Chancellor said :

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

By virtue of Her Majesty's Commission under the Great Seal, to us and other Lords directed, and now read, we do, in Her Majesty's name, and in obedience to Her commands, prorogue this Parliament to Wednesday the fourth day of November next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Wednesday the fourth day of November next.
