besides the London Gazette, containing the names, in alphabetical order, of the several persons appearing in the books of the said Company of Proprietors to be holders of shares therein, who might not have called for or claimed their shares or proportion of the monies in respect of which, respectively, all calls to the amount of £113 should have been duly paid, and by the said Act ordered to be distributed amongst the Shareholders in the said Company of Proprietors, and stating that if such persons, or their representatives, should not make and substantiate their claim to such monies, within a time to be limited in such notice, being six calendar months from the day on which the said sum of £110,000 should have been paid, the amount of such monies would be paid into the Bank of England, and should also cause a copy of such notice as last aforesaid to be given or sent by the post unto or left at the last known usual place of abode in England of the last proprietor appearing in the books of the said Company of Proprietors to have been possessed of such unclaimed shares, at least one calendar month previously to the expiration of the said period of six calendar months, provided that in case the last or usual place of abode in England of any such proprietor could not be ascertained upon enquiry, then the insertion as aforesaid of such notice in the London Gazette, and such newspapers as aforesaid, should be deemed sufficient notice to such proprietor and all persons claiming under him of the matters contained in such notice.

And notice is hereby further given, that by the said Act of Parliament it is further enacted, that at the expiration of six calendar months from the day on which the said sum of £110,000 should have been paid, in pursuance of the said Act, the Committee of the said Company of Proprietors should cause all such sum and sums of money as should not have been distributed amongst the Shareholders in the said Company of Proprietors, or their respective executors, administrators, or assigns, and as should then remain in the hands of the said Committee, either from the same not having been called for by the persons entitled thereto, or from the persons claiming the same not having shown a sufficient title thereto to the satisfaction of the said Committee, or from any other cause (except on account of the existence of adverse claims as therein mentioned), to be paid into the Bank of England in the name and with the privity of the Accountant General of the Court of Chancery, to be placed to his account there to the credit of the party or parties who upon the books of the said Company of Proprietors should appear to have been last entitled thereto, describing him or them as he or they might be described in the said books of the Company of Proprietors, pursuant to the method prescribed by the Act of the 12th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the First, chapter 32, and pursuant to the general orders of the said Court, and without fee or reward, according to the Act of the 12th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Second, chapter 24.
