And it is also intended to make further regulations for the maintenance of the navigation of the said river, and for preventing obstructions therein and encroachments thereon, and for preventing the throwing of ballast, mud, or materials into the said river, or into the sea, within certain limits, to be defined by the Bill; and also to regulate the supply, receipt, delivery, and deposit of ballast, and to authorize the purchase or construction of ballast quays and wharfs, and the appropriation of land for the deposit of the same, and to regulate and fix the payments to be made in respect of ballast, and to alter or modify the existing rates or charges, and to levy other rates, or make other charges in lieu thereof; and it is also intended to take powers to make bye-laws, orders, and regulations for the good government of all

To repeal so much of the River Tyne Improvement Act, 1850, as prevents the appointment of constables without the consent of the River Watch Committee. To continue the existing tonnage rate granted by the said Newcastle-upon-Tyne Port Act, 1845. To authorize the justices of the peace acting for the counties or boroughs upon the shores of the river to exercise jurisdiction over the river, and to make further provision for the prosecution, confinement, and conviction, in the counties and places adjoining the river, as well as in the borough and county of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, of persons committing offences upon the river. To repeal all or some of the powers and provisions of the Newcastle-upon-Tyne Port Act, 1845, and in lieu thereof to grant further and more effectual powers to the Tyne Improvement Commissioners for effecting the several purposes hereinbefore specified, or to consolidate into one Act the provisions of such Act, and of the River Tyne Improvement Act, 1850.

And notice is hereby further given, that it is intended, by the said intended Bill, to alter, amend, and enlarge some of the powers and provisions of an Act, passed in the 13th and 14th years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the improvement and regulation of the river Tyne, and the navigation thereof, and for other purposes," and to alter and amend such other Acts of Parliament, and also such charters and grants, and to alter or extinguish such rights and privileges, or exemptions from rates and duties, as may interfere, or be inconsistent with the provisions of the proposed Bill, and the objects hereinbefore specified.

River Tees Conservancy.

(Transfer to Commissioners of the Property, Powers, and Liabilities of The Tees Navigation Company; Repeal or Amendment of Acts, and Dissolution of the Company; Construction of Dock near Stockton, Cuts, and other Works.)

NOTICE is hereby given, that application is intended to be made to Parliament in the ensuing session for an Act to appoint Commissioners, or a Board of Commission, for the conservancy, management, regulation, maintenance, and improvement of the river Tees, and the navigation thereof, and the banks and shores of the same river, from outside the bar at the mouth thereof, and from thence up to a certain point on the said river, known as the High Ford across the said river, in the township of Aislaby, in the parish of Egglecliffe, in the county of Durham, and in the township of High Worsall, or the parish of High Worsall, in the parish of Northallerton, in the North Riding of the county of York, including all cuts, canals, channels, streams, havens, creeks, bays, and inlets in the said river between the points aforesaid, and of all cuts, channels, streams, and watercourses within those limits, so far as the tide flows and reflows in such cuts, channels, streams, and watercourses.

And also to vest in the said Commissioners or Board all buoys, beacons, lighthouses, and other lights, moorings, works, lands, property, powers, rights, and privileges now belonging to or possessed by the Tees Navigation Company, or to which that Company may be entitled as Conservators of the said river or otherwise, or which may attach to them, and to impose on the said Commissioners or Board the liabilities and obligations to which the said Tees Navigation Company, as Conservators of the said river or otherwise, are subject:

And it is also intended by the said Act more particularly to empower the said Commissioners or Board to execute the following works; that is to say: to make a cut and channel from the present channel of the river from the channel or river entrance of the Middlesborough Dock to the ninth buoy anchoring pool in the said river, and to divert the waters of the river Tees through the same cut and channel:

To widen the present channel of the river Tees on the south bank thereof, from the east end of the cut or channel next hereinafter described, along the south bank of the said river, down to a point in the said river near Newport, in the North Riding of said county of York:

To enable the said Commissioners or Board, or some of the Commissioners to be defined in the Act, exclusive of the other Commissioners, to make and maintain a cut or channel from the southern side of the said river, from a point near to the stone bridge over the said river at Stockton, across certain lands in the township of Thornaby, or parish of Thornaby, in the parish of Stainton, in the North Riding of the county of York, and into the present channel of the said river, at a point opposite, or nearly opposite, to a certain island, called Jenny Mill's Island, and to divert through the same cut or channel the waters of the said river Tees, and to vest in the said Commissioners or Board, or some of them, exclusive of the others as aforesaid, the present bed or channel between the said points, and to enable them to purchase, compulsorily or otherwise, the land lying south of the present channel between the points aforesaid and the intended new cut, so as to enable the said Commissioners or Board, or some of them, exclusive of the others as aforesaid, to form a dock or basin on the said lands so to be vested in or purchased by them for the accommodation of the shipping in the said river, with power to appoint a dock-master and other officers, and to make by-laws, rules, and regulations, for the management of the said dock; also to enable the said Commissioners or Board, or some of them, exclusive of the other Commissioners, to construct all necessary wharfs, quays, and landing-places, and erect warehouses thereon, and to embank and fill up the south-west corner of the present channel of the said river to the distance of four hundred feet, or thereabout, up to the commencement of the last-mentioned cut; also to form a road, or to appropriate and make public the existing private road leading out of the high road from or near to the west end of the said stone bridge over the Tees, and to extend the same across the proposed embankment up to the west side of the intended new cut at the south end thereof; also to appropriate and make public a certain private road adjoining to or leading from the high road from Stockton aforesaid to Gisborough, in the said North Riding of the said county of York, at a point about three hundred and thirty feet from the east end of the said stone bridge, and leading thence to the ship-building yard now occupied by Messrs. William Turnbull and Company on the south side of the said intended new cut; also to purchase a slip or strip of land on the north side of the said river, from a point opposite the North Shore Pottery, near Stockton, to or near to the west end of Jenny Mill's Island aforesaid, and all rights and interests in the said lands; and also to enable the Commissioners or Board, or some of them, exclusive of the others as aforesaid, to purchase, by agreement, any quays, landing-places, wharves, and other rights and interests, on the north bank of the said river, between the points where the said last-mentioned cut commences and terminates; and power will be taken in the said Act to enable the Lord High Admiral, or the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral, or the Commissioners or Board to be appointed by the Act, to lay down, form, and construct a breakwater, from or near to Seaton Snook, on the north side of the Tees Estuary, in the county of Durham, extending thence in an eastwardly direction towards the South Gare Bank, with all piers, embankments, and works necessary thereto; which said river Tees so intended to be improved, and also the cuts, channels, breakwater, and other works here-

And powers will be applied for in the said Act to enable the said Commissioners or Board to widen, deepen, straighten, dredge, protect, and otherwise improve the bed, channel, and banks of the said river, as shall be necessary for maintaining and improving the navigation thereof from High Ford aforesaid to the outside of the bar at the mouth of the said river, and to purchase and employ steam engines, piling engines, dredging machines, punts, steam-tug vessels, diving bells, and other machinery, implements, and apparatus for that purpose, and to prevent and remove all obstructions to the navigation of the said river, and all encroachments therein, likewise to prevent the erection of piers, quays, jetties, wharves, and other works in the said river:

And it is also intended by the said Act to empower the Commissioners or Board to appoint and remove port and harbour masters and other officers, and to provide, place, and maintain, or remove, buoys, beacons, moorings, steam engines, dredges, and other works and machinery, lights, light-ships, and light-houses, in the said river Tees, within the limits aforesaid; and to prevent the throwing or casting of ballast, stones, or other matter into the said river or into the sea at or near the mouth of the said river; to regulate the supply, receipt, delivery, and deposit of ballast, and to authorise the purchase and establishment of ballast wharves and quays, and the appropriation of land for the deposit of ballast; and also to remove or compel the removal of all wrecks, encroachments, and obstructions which may in any way prejudice or obstruct the free navigation of the said river; and powers will be conferred on the said Commissioners or Board to make bye-laws, rules, and regulations for the general management of the navigation of the said river and the ships and vessels resorting thereto:

And by the said Act, the Commissioners or Board will be empowered to purchase, by compulsion or otherwise, or take on lease, all lands, houses, quarries, rocks, waters, sand, foreshore, wharves, piers, quays (either public or private), and other property required for the purposes of the said Act and works, and to vary or extinguish all rights and privileges therein, or connected therewith, which would interfere with the execution of such purposes:

And by the said Act, the Commissioners or Board will be empowered to purchase, by compulsion or otherwise, the shares, rights, interests, and property of the Tees Navigation Company, and provision will be made for the dissolution of the said Company, and for winding up the affairs thereof:

And for the purposes of the said Act, power will be taken to levy tolls, rates, and duties, and also rates and duties in respect of vessels entering into and using the said intended dock, and to alter existing tolls, rates, and duties, and to purchase, compulsorily or otherwise, any existing leases or agreements for leases of the present tolls, rates, and duties, and any interests therein, and to confer, vary, or extinguish exemptions from payment of tolls, rates, and duties, and to confer, vary, or extinguish other rights and privileges, and to raise money for the purposes of carrying the objects of the intended Act into execution, in one or more sums, upon the credit of the tolls, rates, and duties, by the said Act authorised to be taken, and of the other property to become vested in the said Board or Commissioners, or in some of the Commissioners, exclusive of the others of them:

And it is also intended by the said Act to alter, amend, or repeal an Act, passed in the forty-eighth year of the reign of King George the Third, intituled "An Act for making a navigable Cut from the east side of the river Tees, near Stockton, into the said river near Portrack, in the county of Durham, and making various other Improvements in the navigation of the said river between the town of Stockton and the sea;" and an Act, passed in the ninth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to enable the Tees Navigation Company to make a navigable Cut from the east side of the river Tees, near Portrack, in the county of Durham, into the said river near Newport, in the township and parish of Acklam, in the North Riding of the county of York," or one of them, or some of the provisions thereof; and all such other Acts, charters, grants, customs, rights, and privileges, as may be inconsistent with or which would interfere with the exercise of the powers aforesaid and the provisions of the intended Act:

And notice is hereby further given, that on or before the twenty-ninth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, duplicate plans and sections of the said river Tees, within the limits aforesaid, and of the said proposed works, together with a book of reference to such plans, containing the names of the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, and occupiers of the lands and hereditaments intended to be taken for the proposed new works, and duplicate sections, specifying the level of both banks of the said river, and a copy of this notice as published in the London Gazette, will be deposited for public inspection with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Durham, at his office, at Durham, in the same county, and with the Clerk of the Peace for the North Riding of the county of York, at his office, at Northallerton, in the same riding; and that on or before the same day, a copy of so much of the said plans, sections, and book of reference, as relates to each of the parishes before mentioned in which the said river is situate, or the new works are intended to be made, together with a copy of this notice as published in the London Gazette, will be deposited with the parish clerk of each such parish at his place of abode; and in the case of any extra-parochial place, a copy
