TUESDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1851.

AT the Court at Windsor, the 14th day of November 1851,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to make better provision for the spiritual care of populous parishes," and of another Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the seventh and eighth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to explain and amend an Act for making better provision for the spiritual care of populous parishes," and of another Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the thirteenth and fourteenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts relating to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England," duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme, bearing date the sixth day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, in the words following; that is to say:

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of an Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the sixth and seventh years of your Majesty's reign, intituled 'An Act to make better provision for the spiritual care of populous parishes,' and of another Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the seventh and eighth years of your Majesty's reign, intituled 'An Act to explain and amend an Act for making better provision for the spiritual care of populous parishes,' and of another Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the thirteenth and fourteenth years of your Majesty's reign, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts relating to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England,' have prepared, and now humbly lay before your Majesty in Council, the following scheme, for altering the bounds of the district of Saint Paul, Lane-bridge, in the county of Lancaster, and diocese of Manchester.

"Whereas it is by the herein secondly-recited Act enacted, that it shall be lawful, by the authority provided in the herein first-recited Act, at any time or times within twelve months after the date of the licence of the minister first licensed to any separate district constituted under the provisions of the same Act, to alter the bounds of such district, although any alteration be not required with a view to the constituting of another separate district: Provided always, that the scheme for making any such alteration shall be subject to all the provisions relating to schemes for constituting separate districts under the said first-recited Act:

"And whereas it is by the herein thirdly-recited Act enacted, that the powers and authority relating to the alteration of the boundaries of districts contained in the said secondly-recited Act may, as to any such district now existing, notwithstanding the limitation in the same Act contained, be exercised at any time within five years from the passing of the said thirdly-recited Act.

"And whereas the said district of Saint Paul, Lane-bridge, was duly constituted out of the parish of Whalley, in the said county of Lancaster, and diocese of Manchester, under the provisions of the said first-recited Act, by a scheme prepared by us, and ratified by an Order of your Majesty in Council, bearing date the eighth day of August, in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, and duly gazetted:

"And whereas it has been represented to us, and appears to us to be expedient, that the bounds of such district should be altered in the manner herein-after mentioned:

"Now, therefore, we humbly recommend and propose, with the consent of the Right Reverend James Prince, Bishop of Manchester, in testimony whereof he has signed and sealed this scheme, that the bounds of the said district of Saint Paul, Lane-bridge, shall be altered and extended, on the north-eastern side thereof, so as to include within such district, all those portions of the township of Burnley, in the said county of Lancaster, situate and being between the existing north-eastern boundary of such district and the river Calder, and that the said river shall henceforth be the north-eastern boundary of the said district; all of which are delineated and set forth in the map or plan hereunto annexed, and shall henceforth be united to and form part of the said district of Saint Paul, Lane-bridge.

"And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measure relating to the said district, in accordance with the provisions of the said Acts or of any other Act of Parliament."

And whereas the draft of the said scheme has been duly transmitted to the several incumbents and patrons as required by the said Acts, and such incumbents and patrons have respectively consented thereto;

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by Her Majesty in Council; now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same, and every part thereof, shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette, pursuant to the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the diocese of Manchester.

Foreign-Office, December 4, 1851.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to appoint John Augustus Lloyd, Esq. to be Her Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires and Consul-General to the Republic of Bolivia.

MERCHANT SEAMEN'S FUND.

Board of Trade, Naval Department, December 8, 1851.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have, in pursuance of the Act for winding up the Merchant Seamen's Fund, 14 and 15 Vict. c. 102, issued the following rules:—

T. H. Farrer, Secretary.

RULES for contributions to the Merchant Seamen's Fund, and for the granting of Pensions from that Fund.

To come into operation on the 1st January 1852.

Contributions to the Fund.

1. All masters and seamen who have contributed to the fund before the 8th August 1851 may, if they choose so to do, continue to contribute; but those who did not contribute before that day cannot now contribute or establish any claim upon the fund.

2. All future contributions are to be paid to the shipping masters appointed under the Mercantile Marine Act.

3. In the case of men who are discharged before a shipping master, the contributions are to be paid at the time of the discharge, and are to be proportioned to the length of the voyage, reckoning from the day of signing articles to the day of discharge inclusive, and are to be after the following rates, viz.:—

(a.) For a seaman,

1s. for each calendar month of the voyage or engagement, and for any broken period of a month exceeding 20 days;

6d. for any broken period of a month exceeding 10 and not exceeding 20 days;

4d. for any broken period of a month not exceeding 10 days;

(b.) For a master,

Double the above rates.

4. In the case of men who are not discharged before a shipping master, the contributions may be paid to any shipping master before whom the contributors may find it convenient to attend, and may be paid to him at such times as may be fixed by him. These contributions are to be after the following rates, viz.:—

(a.) For a seaman,

8s. for one year;

6s. for nine calendar months;

4s. for six calendar months;

2s. for three calendar months;

(b.) For a master,

Double the above rates.

These contributions must be paid quarterly in advance.

5. In the case of foreign-going ships which arrive after the 1st January 1852, having commenced the voyage before that day, the contribution will be payable for the whole period of the voyage according to Rule 3 above. In the case of home-trade ships, no contribution will be payable for the period intervening between the 8th August 1851 and the 1st January 1852.

6. If a contributor serves for part of any one year in foreign-going ships, and the remainder of the year in home-trade ships, he is to pay as follows: if he contributes 8s. or upwards whilst in foreign-going ships no further contributions will be required. If he contributes less than 8s. whilst in foreign-going ships, the sum which he pays in such ships is to be reckoned as a portion of the 8s. or 16s., as the case may be, which he would, if serving all the year in home-trade ships, have had to contribute, and, upon payment of the balance, his contribution for the year is to be considered complete.

7. Any man who has once contributed as master, or who once contributes as master, after the 1st January 1852, may continue to contribute thenceforth as master, and establish a master's claim on the fund, although acting as a seaman; but if after once contributing as master he ceases so to do, and contributes as a seaman, he will not be entitled to claim as a master.

8. If any master or seaman for three consecutive years previous to the termination of his service at sea fails to pay any contribution to the fund, he will no longer be allowed to contribute, and will forfeit all claim upon the fund, whatever his previous contributions may have been.

9. But if any master or seaman, who has not contravened Rule 8 by failing for three consecutive years previous to the termination of his last service at sea to pay any contribution to the fund, fails to pay the appointed contributions at the proper times, he will be required, before he can be allowed to make another payment, to pay up all arrears; and no claim for a pension can be established until such arrears are paid for the whole period previous to the termination of his last service at sea.

10. No pension can be granted to any master or seaman, or to his widow or children, upon any ground whatever, unless he has contributed for a period of at least sixty months, such contribution to have been made either before the 8th August 1851, or partly before and partly after that date.

11. If a master or seaman who has before the 8th August 1851 paid dues for sixty months or upwards, goes to sea again, and is, within three years from the 31st December 1851, killed or drowned in the merchant service without having in the meantime paid any voluntary contributions to the fund, his widow and children shall not on account of his so failing to become a voluntary contributor, lose their rights to pensions, provided their claims are in all other respects established as required by these rules.

12. Every master and seaman must, on paying his first voluntary contribution, state to the shipping master that he intends to be a voluntary contributor, and must produce his old register ticket to that officer, who will give him directions for procuring a new register ticket in exchange, called a fund ticket. If the master has no register ticket he must procure a fund ticket, for which purpose the shipping master will give him the necessary directions. This fund ticket must, on every occasion on which the contributor pays any contribution, be produced to the shipping master to whom he pays it, and the shipping master will enter on the back of the ticket each amount so paid. Masters and seamen who become voluntary contributors should take especial care to procure fund tickets, and to see that the amount of their contributions is entered on the back thereof, as the ticket will be a proof of the contributions having been paid, and they will be required to produce it upon applying for pensions.

13. Men-of-war's men who have contributed to the fund, and desire to continue their contributions, may do so at the rate herein-before fixed for seamen who are not discharged before a shipping master. Arrangements will be made as to the manner in which these contributions are to be received.

Grant of Pensions.

14. In every case in which a pension is claimed, it must be proved that the master or seaman who, or whose widow or children, make the claim, has contributed to the fund in the manner pointed out in the above rules as to contributions. No claim can be entertained by the trustees or local managers of the fund when the failure mentioned in rule 8 has taken place, or if the conditions contained in rule 10 are not strictly fulfilled. In case of any slight departure from the conditions contained in rules 7 and 9, the trustees or local managers are at liberty to state the circumstances for the consideration of the Board of Trade.

If the pension has not been forfeited under rule 8, but some arrears of contribution are due under rule 9, the pension may be granted; but the time for commencing payment of the pension will be deferred, or the rate will be diminished, so as to cover all arrears.

15. No pensioner is to be considered fully and finally entitled to his or her pension until the claim and the evidence in support of it have been submitted to the Board of Trade and approved by that Board, as noticed in rule 28.

16. The number of pensions granted at one port in one year to each of the different classes of pensioners herein-after mentioned must not exceed the average yearly number of similar pensions granted at the same port during the five years ending with 1851, except by the special direction of the Board of Trade.

When there is danger of exceeding the above-mentioned limit, those of the worn-out seamen who have contributed longest to the fund are to be first provided for.

17. Subject to the foregoing general conditions, pensions may be granted to the following classes of applicants:

- (a.) Masters and seamen who can prove that they are rendered permanently incapable of service by sickness, wounds, or other accidental misfortune.
- (b.) Masters and seamen who have become decrepit or worn-out by age.
- (c.) Widows whose husbands have lost their lives in the merchant service, either by casualty, or by sickness incident to the nature of the service, or by drowning.

(d.) Widows whose husbands have contributed to the fund for twenty-one years, provided they were married before the time at which their husbands would have been entitled to receive pensions, in other words, before they became worn-out or decrepit, or incapable of service.

(e.) Widows whose husbands are at the time of their deaths receiving or entitled to receive a pension, provided they were married before the time at which the husbands were entitled to receive pensions, in other words, before they became worn-out, decrepit, or incapable of service.

(f.) Children whose fathers lose their lives in the merchant service, either by casualty, or by sickness incident to the nature of the service, or by drowning, provided such children are under fourteen years of age, or are from infirmity incapable of getting a livelihood.

(g.) Children whose fathers die after contributing for twenty-one years to the fund, provided that such children are under fourteen years of age, or are from infirmity incapable of getting a livelihood, and provided their mothers are, or if living would be, entitled to pensions.

(h.) Children whose fathers at the time of their deaths are in receipt of or entitled to receive pensions, provided that such children are under fourteen years of age, or are from infirmity incapable of getting a livelihood, and provided their mothers are, or if living would be, entitled to pensions.

18. The amount of pensions to be granted to each of the above classes will be as follows:

Masters . . . . .	6	16	0	a year.
Seamen . . . . .	3	8	0	"
Widows of Masters . . . . .	4	8	0	"
Widows of Seamen . . . . .	2	4	0	"
Children of Masters, each child . . . . .	2	4	0	"
Children of Seamen, each child . . . . .	1	2	0	"

But pensions are not to be granted to more than four children in one family, unless they are orphans.

19. Pensions may be granted to the above, notwithstanding that the pensioner is in receipt of other income derived from either wages, or public or private charity, or private property, or from a benefit society.

20. If men, after remaining in the service for the better part of their lives, quit the sea at an advanced age, but before becoming actually worn-out, and then earn a subsistence for a few years on shore, they are not on this account to be considered as forfeiting any claim on the fund for themselves, their widows or children, to which they would otherwise be entitled.

If, however, men quit the sea service when still of age and strength sufficient to turn permanently to some other work or business, they are to be considered to have ceased to be seamen, and no pension is to be granted to them when worn-out or decrepit, or to their widows or children.

Commutation of Claims.

21. Pensions already granted may be commuted, and gross sums of money may be granted in lieu of pensions in any special cases in which the money is wanted for purposes of emigration, or for other pressing purposes. The reason for the commutation must, however, be stated to the Board of Trade, and approved by that Board. The amount of such commutations and gratuities will be fixed by the Board of Trade.

Form and Nature of Claim, and of Evidence to support it.

22. The London Corporation and the Trustees of Outports will (unless their functions are suspended in consequence of their failing to be duly chosen, or resigning, or refusing or neglecting to act), select the persons who are to receive pensions, subject to the general rules, and to the tests hereby required, and to approval by the Board of Trade, and the muster rolls and books necessary for this purpose at their respective ports will remain in their possession. If any of these bodies are suspended, provision will be made for the performance of their duties, either by the Local Marine Board of the port, or if there is no Local Marine Board, or if that Board is unable or unwilling to undertake them, by the shipping master, to whom the muster rolls and books will in that case be transferred.

23. Pensions are to be granted at the port at which the claimants reside, without reference to the question whether the claimants, or their husbands or fathers, have contributed at that port.

24. Claims for pensions must be lodged with the president and governors, or the trustees, or with other the board or officers to whom the duty of inquiring into claims is committed.

The shipping master will, in all cases, inform claimants with whom to lodge their claims.

25. Claims must be made in printed forms which will be furnished for the purpose by all shipping masters. These forms will contain directions as to the manner in which they are to be filled up and used.

26. The claims of a widow and her children must not be on the same form, but one form must be used for the widow, and a separate one for each child.

27. Satisfactory evidence will be required of the various circumstances requisite to support claims; and for that purpose the following rules are to be observed:—

- (a.) Contributions to the fund prior to the 8th August 1851, having been universal and compulsory, will be considered as proved by the fact of service at sea in British vessels trading from ports in the United Kingdom. This service must be proved as follows:—If and so far as the service is stated to have been in vessels belonging to the port at which the claim is made, it must be verified by reference to the muster rolls there kept, and a statement of such verification must be made on the form of claim by the officer to whom the duty of examining claims is committed, and the claim must then be forwarded to the Registrar of Seamen. If this service is stated to have been partly or wholly in vessels belonging to other ports, the claim must be sent to the Registrar of Seamen for verification, who will either verify it by the records kept at his office, or will transmit it for verification to the port where the muster rolls in which such service is recorded are kept; from that port it will be returned to the Registrar.

- (b.) Contributions to the fund subsequent to the 8th August 1851, not being universal or compulsory, must be proved to have been actually made. This must be done as follows:—The fund register ticket, upon which the receipt for each contribution will be marked, must, when practicable, be attached to the claim. The claim, with this fund ticket attached, will be sent to the Registrar of Seamen, who will verify it by the records of contributions kept in his office.

- (c.) Claimants should also annex to their claims all certificates of discharge or other documents they may possess which can assist in proving their service to be such as is stated in the claim, whether such service has been prior or subsequent to the 8th August 1851.

- (d.) Claims founded on permanent incapacity, arising from sickness, wounds, or accident, must be supported by a certificate, to be signed by two respectable inhabitants of the place, and to be confirmed by one or more of the trustees or local managers or officers acting at the port, after personal inspection, and also by the certificate of a medical man.

- (e.) Claims founded on decrepitude or incapacity arising from age must be supported by the like evidence.

- (f.) In the case of claims by widows and children, the death of the husband or father, if happening in this country, must be proved by burial certificate.

In the like cases, death, if happening during a voyage, and the causes thereof (if essential), will be shown, by reference to the muster rolls or to the lists kept by the Registrar of Seamen, or by a certificate from the Consul or other proper authority at the place where it happened.

- (g.) In the case of claims made by widows, the marriage must always be proved, and this must be done by the production of the marriage certificate. In such cases it must also be shown that the marriage was contracted at a period of the husband's life before he became entitled to a pension, or, in other words, before he was worn-out, decrepit, or incapable of service.

- (h.) In the cases of claims made by children, the marriage of their parents must be proved by the production of the marriage certificate; and their age must be shown to be under fourteen, by certificates of their birth or baptism.

- (i.) For the purpose of proving, in the case of children above fourteen, that they are incapable from infirmity of obtaining a livelihood, medical certificates must be produced, and for the continuance of the pension, similar proof will from time to time be required.

- (k.) Evidence which has been produced to establish one claim need not again be produced to establish another founded on the same circumstances; but a reference may be made to the claim already established.

28. When a claim has been established to the satisfaction of the trustees or local managers of the fund by the production of the evidence above required, and has been verified so far as is in their power by reference to the documents in their possession, it should be signed by them or by their officer, and forwarded, with all the necessary certificates or other documents annexed, to the Registrar of Seamen, Custom House, London. That officer will complete the verification as pointed out in rule 27, sections a and b, and return it to the trustees or local managers. If the trustees or local managers consider that the pension ought to be granted, the claim is then to be forwarded to the Board of Trade, with the resolution of the trustees and other necessary documents attached; and the Board of Trade, if satisfied that it is established, will, subject to the rules herein contained, place the name on the pension list, cause a pension ticket to be issued to the pensioner, and give directions for the payment of the pension.

29. Notice of the arrangements made for the payment of pensions will be given at the shipping master's offices, as well as at the places where pensions have hitherto been paid.

Suspension or Forfeiture of Pensions.

30. If a pensioner goes to sea after having had a pension granted to him, he is to report the same to the officer who pays his pension, and his pension is to cease: but he may apply to be restored to the pension list in the usual manner should he again become disabled, or be obliged to quit the service on account of age or infirmities. If, however, when he goes to sea he continues to receive his pension, or if he fails to report his going to sea as above required, his pension will not be restored.

31. If a pensioner enters the workhouse, his pension is to be suspended.

32. If a widow re-marries, her pension is to cease.

33. When children attain the age of fourteen, their pensions are to cease, except in the special cases of infirmity above noticed.

34. If a pensioner becomes a pauper lunatic, and is supported in a county asylum, his or her pension is to be suspended.

35. If a claimant or pensioner is convicted of felony, or is guilty of an attempt at fraudulent personation, or makes any fraudulent representation for the purpose of obtaining relief, his or her pension is to be forfeited.

36. If a pensioner changes his residence, he must within one month report the change to the officer who pays his pension; and if he does not do so, his pension is to be forfeited either in whole or in part.

37. If any pensioner is guilty of violent, insolent, or insubordinate conduct towards the persons employed in payment of the pensions, or appears in a state of intoxication at the time of payment, or when assembled by order of the person appointed to pay him, or is guilty of giving a false address, or enters a poor-house or hospital under a name different to that by which he is borne on the pension list, or is guilty of any other offence of a fraudulent or disgraceful nature, or tending to create disorder or confusion at the time of payment or assembly, he will be liable to be punished by the suspension either of a part or the whole of his pension, as the offence may appear to deserve, in addition to any other punishment which the law may inflict for the offence.
