Admiralty, August 6, 1852.

DESPATCHES have been received at this Office, from Commodore Lambert, of Her Majesty's ship Fox, of which the following are copies :

OPERATIONS IN BURMAH.

No. 27.

SIR,

Fox, at Rangoon, May 11, 1852.

I HAVE the honour to request you may be pleased to inform the Lords of the Admiralty that, on the 2nd instant, I despatched the Honourable East India Company's steamer Phlegethon, commanded by Mr. G. T. Niblett, and the barge of Her Majesty's ship Fox, in charge of Acting Lieutenant John R. Lawrence, to the great entrance of the Irrawaddy, to try and effect a passage through the Panlang branch.

2. On the morning of the 11th, the barge returned; and Mr. Lawrence reported that they had advanced as far as Yangernsiah, where the water shoaled so considerably that the Phlegethon could not cross into the Panlang branch; the barge, however, was enabled to do so, and proceeded down into the Rangoon river, in order that I might be acquainted with the result, and the cause of the steamer's long absence.

It is with much satisfaction I learn that the object of the expedition has been accomplished.

3. I have further to request you may be pleased to inform their Lordships that, on the Phlegethon and the Fox's barge arriving off Yangernsiah, they discovered the Governor at Dalla, retreating with eight armed boats; chase was immediately given, and, on coming up with them, the enemy ran on shore, leaving their boats, in one of which was the Governor's wife, with her attendants; they also abandoned a quantity of treasure, and most of their arms.

The treasure captured amounted to eleven thousand rupees; the arms, which consisted of muskets and swords, were destroyed; and the boats, with the women, were allowed to proceed.

I have, &c.

(Signed) GEORGE LAMBERT.

Capture of the City of Bassein.

No. 28.

SIR,

Her Majesty's Ship Fox's Boat, at Bassein, 20th May 1852.

I REQUEST you may be pleased to inform the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty that the Lieutenant-General commanding the forces in Burmah, having communicated his wish to make an attack on the city of Bassein, I placed a squadron of four steamers at his disposal for the service.

2. On the morning of the 17th instant, Lieutenant-General Godwin, C.B. the Commander of the Forces, embarked in a squadron, with four hundred of Her Majesty's 51st Regiment, three hundred of the 9th Regiment Madras Native Infantry, sixty Sappers and Miners, the Royal Marines, and a detachment of seamen, with a field gun from Her Majesty's ship Fox.

3. I left the naval force at Rangoon in charge of Commander Tarleton, with the Fox, and went with my boat to the Tenasserim, in which steamer I hoisted my broad pendant, and put to sea at two o'clock in the afternoon with the steamers named in the enclosure marked A. The Lieutenant-General accompanied me in the Tenasserim.

4. On the evening of the 18th, we anchored off the island of Negrais, at the entrance of the Bassein River, where the Pluto joined us. I had sent her on from Rangoon a day previously, as her small power could not have enabled her to keep up with the steam frigates.

5. At daylight on the 19th, the squadron weighed, and proceeded up the river; the Pluto, from her light draught, being ahead, showing the soundings. The Tenasserim led, followed by the Sesostris and Mozuffer at half a cable's length distant.

6. At a few minutes after four o'clock in the afternoon, the fortifications of Bassein appeared in sight, consisting of a very extensive mud fort and a long line of stockade, on the left bank, on which the city stands, and a strong stockade round the pagoda, with a brick parapet fronting the river. Then, in an admirable position on the right bank, stood a very large stockade, mounting several cannon.

The enemy permitted the squadron to approach unmolested.

7. At half past four, when abreast the stockades, I made the signal to anchor; immediately afterwards Lieutenant-General Godwin expressed his wish to land the troops, which was effected in perfect order in a very short period. They had scarcely formed under the Lieutenant-General's directions, when a heavy fire was opened both with cannon and musketry from the various stockades, which was instantly answered by a cheer from the party landed, who stormed and carried the Pagoda.

As soon as the enemy commenced firing, the ships opened their fire on the different batteries.

Observing the stockade opposite the town had been silenced, I directed Commander Campbell, of the Sesostris, to land with the boats of his own ship, and the Mozuffer's, and to storm it, which he effected in gallant style, driving the Burmese from their guns, with considerable loss to them in killed and wounded.

Commander Campbell has called my special attention to the zeal and activity displayed on this occasion by Lieutenants Robinson and Lewis, of the Indian Navy.

At half past five I had the satisfaction of hearing that the last and most formidable of the stockades had been carried; but not without considerable loss on our part from the great resistance shewn by the enemy. Amongst those I have to enumerate as sufferers on this occasion, I have to name Lieutenant George W. Rice, of Her Majesty's ship Fox, who received a severe and painful wound through the right hand, whilst gallantly leading his party of seamen into the stockade; and as this officer has been specially named by the Commander-in-Chief at the taking of Rangoon, I beg to recommend him most strongly to their Lordships' consideration for promotion.

I feel it my duty, also, to mention the steady conduct of the Royal Marines under the command of First Lieutenant John Elliott; and I cannot conclude without expressing my best thanks to Commanders Campbell and Hewett, of the Indian Navy, for the skill and ability with which they brought their ships up a river, which has hitherto been but imperfectly surveyed for a distance of more than sixty miles. Nor can I refrain from expressing how much I am indebted to Commanders Dicey and Burbank, of the Bengal Marine, for the assistance I received from them; and I attribute our being able to perform this service without accident, to the careful and judicious manner with which the commander of the Pluto went in advance and communicated the soundings.

My thanks are general to the officers and men who served under my orders on this occasion for the steady, gallant, and cheerful conduct with which they performed the duty, neither can I omit remarking that the most perfect unanimity prevailed between the two services.

8. Since my last visit to Negrais, the old Governor of Bassein has been removed, and the Government intrusted to another officer, who arrived here from Ava, with four thousand regular troops, which increased the strength of the garrison to six thousand men.

9. I have the honour to forward herewith a list of killed and wounded in the squadron. The casualties among the troops amounted to three men killed and five officers, and seventeen men wounded.

I also enclose a return of the number of cannon captured from the enemy.

10. And I beg permission to bring to their Lordships' notice, Mr. Frederick Morgan, Assistant-Surgeon of Her Majesty's ship Fox, who attended with the storming party, and whose kindness to the wounded on this occasion, as well as his unremitting attention to the numerous sick, during the protracted stay of the Fox in the Rangoon River, is deserving of every praise.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) GEORGE R. LAMBERT,
Commodore.

No. 29. Her Majesty's Ship Fox's Boat,
Sir, Bassein, 21st May 1852.

REFERRING to my despatch, No. 28, of yesterday's date, I request you will inform their lordships that after we had obtained possession of Bassein, I sent the Pluto a short distance up the river to endeavour to intercept the retreating army. She returned this morning, and Com. Burbank acquaints me that he proceeded up the river above Bassein, about 40 miles, that he communicated with the village of Mammoon, from which the inhabitants came off, and who informed him that one of the party then on board was a person in high command at Bassein during the attack, that he then arrested this person, and he has delivered him over to me, together with another officer of high rank.

Commander Burbank having been informed that a party of the retreating force, in two boats, had that night left the village, he proceeded in chase, and succeeded in capturing one of the boats, in which he found a quantity of arms and ammunition, which he destroyed; the troops landed, and fled into the jungle.

The Pluto afterwards fell in with another portion of the defeated Burmese, encamped, but who fled on being observed, leaving their arms, all which have been destroyed, as well as their barracks. The party of seamen from the Fox embarked in the Pluto to assist in these operations, under Mr. Lisboa, Midshipman.

The Proserpine steam-vessel having joined me from Moulmein, I dispatched her with the Fox's marines to destroy some unoccupied stockades in the neighbourhood of the village of Naputa, which was accomplished without any opposition, assisted by the villagers.

The Lieutenant-General intends leaving two hundred men of Her Majesty's 51st, and three hundred of the 9th Regiment of Madras Native Infantry, to garrison Bassein, to which I have added the Sesostris steam-frigate. The remainder of the troops embarked to-day, and to-morrow the squadron will return to Rangoon.

I have, &c.

OPERATIONS IN THE IRRAWADY.

No. 31.

Sir, Fox, at Rangoon, May 24, 1852.

IN continuance of my letter, No. 27, I have the honour to request you will inform their lordships that the Phlegethon returned here to-day, having made a most successful expedition in conjunction with the barge of this ship, in charge of Acting Lieutenant Lawrence, which I had despatched to rejoin him on the 11th instant.

While Commodore Niblett was waiting for sufficient water to get into Rangoon River, I directed him to reconnoitre Donabew; he accordingly proceeded to that place and found that the Governor of Dallah had fled, and that this once famous stronghold was unoccupied and defenceless. The inhabitants seemed desirous of affording every assistance, and informed him that a considerable force was collected further up the river, to which spot he also proceeded; and, at about ten miles above Donabew, near the tower of Sagadjee, he fell in with them.

The Phlegethon opened fire upon this force, consisting of about 5000 men, which retreated and fell back upon Sarawah, a town thirty miles higher up the river. He afterwards ascertained that a portion of them crossed over to Hewsada, at the junction of the Bassein river.

Commander Niblett informs me that, wherever the Phlegethon made her appearance, he was received by the natives with every demonstration of friendship; and an anxiety for him to remain and afford them protection from the marauders and Burmese troops.

I have, &c.

(Signed) GEO. LAMBERT.

P. DEANS, Registrar of Bank Returns.

Thursday, the 29th July 1852.

In the Matter of the Joint Stock Companies' Winding-up Acts, 1848 and 1849, and of the British and American Steam Navigation Company.

I THE Honourable Sir George Rose, the Master of the High Court of Chancery charged with the winding up of this Company, do peremptorily order that a call of sixty-five pounds per share be made on all the contributories of this Company as to or on those contributories only who have not already paid sixty-five pounds per share on their respective shares, and as to those contributories who have already paid less than sixty-five pounds per share, such call to be limited to so much per share as with what they have already paid on their respective shares will make sixty-five pounds per share, the amounts respectively to be verified by the affidavit of the Official Manager.

And I do peremptorily order each contributory, on or before the fifteenth day of September next, to pay the amount which will be due from him in respect of such call (to be verified as aforesaid), to Mr. James Hutton, the Official Manager of this Company, at his office, number 46, Moorgate-street, in the city of London.

And I order that the monies to be received in respect of such call shall, from time to time, as they amount to £100, be paid into the Bank of England to the account of this Company, subject to further order, and without prejudice to any question depending in this matter, and with liberty to any party to apply. G. Rose.
