India Board, April 28, 1853.

THE papers, of which the following is a copy, have been received at the East India House this day:

NOTIFICATION.

Fort William, March 19, 1853.

THE Most Noble the Governor-General in Council has much satisfaction in publishing, for general information, extracts of a despatch from Brigadier-General Steel, C.B., dated the 23rd of February, in which he reports the occupation of Toung-hoo, by the force under his Command, and the expulsion of the Burmese troops from the eastern side of the province.

Although the invariable retreat of the enemy before the force has afforded it little opportunity of proving its superiority in the field, yet its steady discipline, its forbearance from all excesses, and its alacrity in the performance of every duty, have well deserved the applause of the Governor-General in Council, and command his confidence.

His Lordship in Council desires to convey to Brigadier-General Steel his best thanks for the manner in which he has conducted the expedition to its successful issue; as well as to the several officers whom the Brigadier-General has specially named in his despatch.

And to all, officers, non-commissioned officers, and soldiers, the Governor-General in Council has to offer the assurance of his approbation.

By Order of the Most Noble the Governor-General in Council.

C. ALLEN, Officiating Secretary to the Government of India.

Extract of a Despatch from Brigadier-General S. W. Steel, C.B., Commanding the Martaban Column, dated Camp Toung-hoo, February 23, 1853, to C. Allen, Esq.

MY last despatch, dated the 15th instant, reported my having marched that day from Shoee-Gyne. Between that place and Kyouk-Ghee, the villages were entirely deserted, from fear of the Burman forces; a few of the inhabitants stole in from the jungle, to communicate with us; they were supplied with copies of the Proclamation, and encouraged to return to their homes.

The force arrived at Kyouk-Ghee on the 17th instant, apparently before it was expected. No one had come out to meet us; and the few people outside of the stockade, looked in silent wonder on our approach across the fine running stream which nearly surrounds the place. The highest authority left within the town was an officer of inferior rank, called a Goung, who opened the gates and accompanied us around the enclosure, pointing out the guns, and other arms, of which a return is enclosed. The stockade is on the same simple plan, and about the same size as Beeling, but more dilapidated. Safeguards were posted to protect the place, and a fine bazaar was opened, to which the troops and followers were admitted. Captain Clogstoun, an officer of the Quarter-Master-General's Department, had proceeded with an escort of Irregular Horse, to reconnoitre the road in advance, when it was discovered that some of the chiefs who had left Kyouk-Ghee during the previous night, were but a short distance in front: the remainder of the horse were immediately sent on under their Commanding Officer, Lieutenant Lambert, to join the escort in advance. They fell in with the party, and a number of carts loaded with families, women, children, and baggage, about five miles from camp. There were with this party about 100 or more men, armed with muskets, two guns and some jingals; and in the first encounter, before it was discovered that they did not intend to fire, two or three of their men were hurt. Two of the chief officers belonging to Kyouk-Ghee, with two Tseetkays, or assistants to Mounbwa, Ex-Governor of Martaban, were brought in. They had no desire to escape, but asserted that they had been forced by Mounbwa to accompany him. I permitted them all, according to their desire, to return and reside in the town of Kyouk-Ghee. Mounbwa, riding in a cart and commonly dressed, was not recognised, and escaped in the crowd. A company of the 5th Madras Native Infantry, under Captain James, was sent out to escort the families into the town, which was safely effected by the evening. Five elephants and twenty-five ponies were captured on this occasion.

The force marched again the following morning, the 18th, and, coming on without a halt, was able to reach the Sitang river, at Thantabin, by a march of 18½ miles, on the 21st instant. On the opposite bank of the river, attended by a party of thirty men, armed with muskets, a mounted officer was seen, who hailed the first of our advance who entered the bed of the river, asking what we wanted; saying we were both great nations and ought not to be at war! He was informed in reply, that if he had any communication to make, he might come across the river; he declined this proposal very peremptorily, and shortly afterwards the whole party disappeared. I have since learned that he is named Moungray, an officer of some rank, and that he returned direct to this city. The river, about four feet deep at the ford, with a rapid current, was passed yesterday, commencing at day-light. The guns were all over, the troops crossing on the elephants, and the line of march formed on the right bank in order for the advance, by 7 A.M. We were met, not far from the river, by two of the chief officers of this city, attended by a great number of the inhabitants, with offerings of fruits, and expressing in many ways, besides the open avowal in words, their extreme joy at our arrival. Thus accompanied, the troops, at 10 A.M., entered this extraordinary city. It is a large square enclosure, surrounded by a high brick wall, with solid rampart, and outside by a broad wet ditch; each face is considerably upwards of a mile in length. The town occupies but a small portion of the enclosure, temples, kyooms or monasteries, groves of lofty trees, and extensive fruit gardens, are interspersed among large open spaces, in one of which the force is now encamped. There is also a large natural tank. In the arsenal the guns and ammunition were found, of which a return is enclosed. The wall is of very ancient date, and the place is untenable as a fortification, independently of its vast size, from the extensive dilapidation of the wall in many places, and the weak points offered by the exposed position of all the wooden gates: the latter have been newly put up within the last three months, and attempts recently made to repair the fallen wall.

The information given on my arrival here was, that Mounbwa and other chiefs were probably still within reach of a forced march, as they had only commenced their retreat by the high road to Ava, on the report brought by "Moungray" at noon the previous day, of our being then within nine miles of them. I was therefore induced to permit the detachment of Ramghur Irregular Cavalry, under Lieutenant Lambert, to proceed on their track, accompanied, as volunteers, by Captain Fanshawe, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, Captain Clogstoun, and Lieutenant Maxwell, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General, and by my A.-D.-C. Captain Travers. A very energetic pursuit was undertaken, and continued for more than twenty miles; it was given up on finding that the flying chiefs were then nearly ten miles in advance, and the horses unfit for farther rapid movement: they returned to camp at 10 P.M. I may therefore venture to state, that that part of the proclamation promulgated on the 20th of December last, which asserted that "such Burman troops as may still remain within the province, shall be driven out," had been executed to the very letter by the 22nd instant, as on that day the last of the broken forces of the Burman Army was driven beyond the utmost limit contemplated. The establishment of Civil Government will immediately follow; the Commissioner appointed to these provinces having been expected at Shoee-Gyne by the 20th instant.

The instructions which I received on being honoured with the command of the force, to advance from Martaban, having been fully carried out, I trust I may be permitted to bring to the favourable notice of the Most Noble the Governor-General of India in Council, the exemplary conduct of the troops employed on that service: passing through a country never before traversed by a disciplined army, by a difficult route, imperfectly known, and obliged, in all difficulties, to depend upon their own resources, I hope that the successful occupation of the country thus far, will be considered creditable to the Army of the East India Company. The enemy, by uniformly retreating before the force, has given it no opportunity of gaining those honours which are only won by brilliant deeds of arms, and every soldier so ardently covets; but the perfect state of discipline evinced by the whole of the troops; their kind treatment of the people, which inspired perfect confidence wherever they advanced; their forbearance from all excesses, and their high military bearing on all occasions, may well be taken as proof that the opportunity alone was wanting to add to the fame of their former fields. The victory which they have achieved, is that difficult one of self-control, and to them is due the success of the campaign.

The Officers in Command, and on the Staff, have by their zealous cooperation, rendered my share of the service performed comparatively easy: the efficiency of the small park of Madras Artillery, commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Anstruther, C.B., has been always conspicuous. Lieutenant A. Fraser, of the Bengal Engineers, Assistant Field Engineer, has been indefatigable in his exertions, both in the higher professional duties of an Engineer, and at the head of the company of Madras Sappers and Miners, who have maintained their well-earned name, in overcoming the many difficulties of the route of march. To Lieutenant-Colonel Poole, 5th Regiment Madras Native Infantry, commanding the Line of Infantry; Major Gerrard, commanding the 1st Bengal Fusiliers; Captain Geils, commanding the detachment 1st Madras Fusiliers; Major Shubrick, commanding the 5th Madras Native Infantry; Major Welchman, commanding the 10th Bengal Native Infantry; Major Forster, commanding the details from Martaban; and to Lieutenant Lambert, commanding the detachment of Ramghur Irregular Cavalry; to each and all of them, I am indebted for their ready and untiring aid on all emergencies. Of the European troops it is impossible to speak too highly. The sepoys of all the regiments of infantry have cheerfully turned out whenever required, to assist in working parties on all occasions of difficulty, each vieing with the other to forward the service. In the departments of the Assistant Adjutant-General under Major Neill, and of the Assistant Quartermaster-General under Captain Dallas, the duties have always been zealously and efficiently performed; Major Bayly, Deputy Judge Advocate-General, from the general good conduct of the force, has happily had but little to do in his own department, and I am indebted to him for willing assistance on all occasions. From my personal Staff, Captain Travers, Aide-de-Camp, I have ever received the most active service; Captain Dallas, as extra Aide-de-Camp, has given to me all the time not taken up by his own department; Captain Hamilton, Deputy Baggage-Master, has performed the laborious duties of that office with exemplary zeal and patience. Staff-Surgeon Davidson has given unremitting attention to the care and comfort of those requiring the assistance of the Medical Department. To the most efficient arrangements of the Commissariat Department, made under the orders of Major Budd, Deputy Commissary-General at Rangoon, and at Moulmein by Acting Head-Overseer Norris, the Force is entirely indebted for having been enabled to continue its progress unchecked by want of supplies. I am very grateful to Major Hill, commanding at Pegu, for his ready assistance in passing on the convoys from Rangoon. Lieutenant Brander, Sub-Assistant Commissary-General in the Bengal Commissariat, and Lieutenant Chapman, of the Madras Commissariat, have exerted themselves in every way during the march of the column, and the result has been that the troops have been as well provisioned as if in garrison. I would apologize for this long detail, but I feel that when the State has been served so ably, it becomes the duty of him who has to report the result, to bring prominently forward the names of those who have had the good fortune to be employed during the service.
